LYMAN HINCKLEY

My address is 1590 Broadway.
Occupation: (Retired).
My qualifications for office are as follows:

Born in Maine; educated (with honors) in Massachusetts; in U.S. civil service 20 years. Since then, living and working in San Francisco 20 years. I am a radical with unshakable loyalty to the United States Constitution. Education largely in political subjects. San Francisco needs a people’s-utterance charter of peaceful revolution, to provide three kinds of genuine rights/responsibilities — political, economic-environmental, communication-education — as the only justification for any government. Every senior, educator, and environmentalist should vote for me to represent them, our chief assets and resources. Away prejudice, immaturity with its experts, alienation, exploitation! Money power or people power?

THOMAS L. ISENBERG

My address is 3316 — 16th St.
Occupation: Business person.
My qualifications for office are as follows:

As a long time San Francisco resident and a small business-person involved in community affairs, I feel that the city charter has neglected the plight of the single worker, middle class family and the small business-person. Among my top priorities will be the introduction of new ideas. My volunteer experience in local government will enable me to work with the commissions other members. The endorsements provided by a broad collation representing our city’s varied lifestyles prove this.

PAT JACKSON

My address is 1158 Sanchez St.
Occupation: Training Director.
My qualifications for office are as follows:

My name is Pat Jackson.
My occupation is Training Director for SEIU, Local 400.
Married to Dan Jackson, Teacher, S.F.U.S.D — Suzie, 18 — Clare 13.
Graduated from San Francisco State, 1950.

Worked as child development and parent education specialist in the Mission, Visitation Valley and Oceanview. Active in community reform — lower taxes, senior citizens rights, efficient delivery of city services.

I feel that we need a simple flexible charter that establishes accountability, outlines policy and clarifies the power of implementation. The Charter should serve the City, instead of the City serving the Charter.

CANDIDATES FOR CHARTER COMMISSION

LEO JED

My address is 3972 19th Street. Occupation: Financial Manager, Office of the Chief Administrative Officer.

My qualifications for office are as follows:

The Charter is San Francisco's Constitution; it must embody who we are and how we want to be governed. Much has changed since the 1932 Charter was written; our needs are very different now. We must be able to effectively respond to changing circumstances. Proposition 13 poses this clear challenge. We have no choice.

As the Financial Manager of the City's three (3) largest public projects, I understand the need for Charter reform to fix responsibility and accountability for meeting the public's trust.

I will listen to all who have a stake in how our City is governed — this includes you.

My address is 400 College Avenue. Occupation: Government Intern., S.F. Board of Supervisors. My qualifications for office are as follows:

Member, Commonwealth Club of California, Ad-Hoc Committee on Proposition 13. AB Political Science, U.C. Berkeley.

On various occasions, my duties with the Board required that I decipher the Charter's meaning in relation to governmental activities. This experience taught me that the numerous piecemeal amendments attempting to clarify the document's meaning have left it an unintelligible bundle of words.

Today, the electorate of San Francisco must realize the historical necessity to select a representative body willing to correct the present situation. I enthusiastically offer myself as an educated and experienced person willing to seek a better government for San Francisco.

1. — Reasonably intelligent.
2. — Honest.
3. — A very, very hard worker.

I believe that the people of all San Franciscans need to be protected through responsible charter review and recommendation. Only through the fair and full exchange of differing views and opinions can the will of the people be realized.

CANDIDATES FOR CHARTER COMMISSION

TODD S. J. LAWSON
My address is 1140 Sutter Street. Occupation: Writer. My qualifications for office are as follows:
As a journalist and small-press editor for 15 years, I am conscious of the need for clear, concise language in our city charter so that all the people, not just special-interest groups and bureaucrats, can understand it. I am the author of four books including "The Empire of Howard Hughes" and "The 69 Days of Easter." My work has appeared in over 250 journals worldwide. A strong advocate of human rights, I am the recipient of four national journalism awards and a writer-in-residence grant from the California Arts Commission. We need a San Francisco writer on the Charter Commission.

Leslie G. Lewis
My address is 1001 Chenery Street. Occupation: Administrative Officer. My qualifications for office are as follows:
My duties require that I work with the Charter and I am aware of its limitations on effective management of City and County business. At best the present Charter is a patchwork relic of the 1930s with many special interest clauses. San Francisco needs a streamlined, efficient Charter and government organization. Unlike the Administrative Code (ordinances of the Board of Supervisors), the Charter is very rigid and difficult to amend as the demands upon its change. It should contain principles of organization and purpose like the United States Constitution, not a collection of trivia. I support public hearings and input.

MARJORIE D. MARTIN

My address is 182 Diamond Street.
Occupation: Real Estate.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
I am straight! I have a great love for the City of San Francisco. As a property owner I believe that every tax dollar collected should be used to provide needed services; that a new charter should eliminate "Fat" in City Gov't not "Vital" Departments.

S.F. Hotel Tax funded Magic Theater (1977) $8,000.00.
Magic Theater at Fort Mason was little more than a "strip" show with a naked actress on stage.

S.F. Hotel Tax funded A.C.T. (1077) $200,000.00. A.C.T. production of Equus and This is an Entertainment also featured nude performers. Such misuse of public funds is inexcusable.

THOMAS F. McDonough
My address is 1562-38th Ave.
Occupation: Retired — San Francisco Fire Dept.
My qualifications for office are as follows:

I was born and raised in San Francisco, am a retired city employee, (Fireman), and have owned a home in the Sunset District for 38 years.

My concern is that a new or revised charter must be workable, one that prevents any take over by power blocs or special interests. The charter must maintain proper balance of authority to guarantee fiscal stability; fair treatment, stable relations with city employees. Taxes and assessment practices must be equitable and fair to all citizens and business.

My 36 years as taxpayer and city employee gives me unique perspective of the need for charter reform.

Individuals and neighborhoods must be better enabled to affect policy decisions. I pledge hard work, independent judgment, and fairness to all.

My address is 1547-21st Avenue. Occupation: Union Retail Clerk. My qualifications for office are as follows: I am a native San Francisco, graduate of Riordan High School and the University of San Francisco with a Bachelor of Art's degree in Government. The city charter is the legal instrument of governmental authority to the city; it is also a determination of the instrument's type and function of rule that you the local voters will accept. As an elected Charter Commissioner I will be directly responsible to you the voters, and not to the Board of Supervisors nor the Mayor.

THOMAS R. SWANEY
My address is 1223 Kearney, #4. Occupation: Systems/Financial Analyst. My qualifications for office are as follows: My background in Cost Accounting and Financial Analysis is needed for the Charter revision. I have worked for a large financial institution and also for the City and County of San Francisco. Strict financial controls should be implemented so scandals such as "Metergate" cannot happen again. The new Charter should make government responsive to the community. Too many times high government officials are insulated from the public and act against the best interest of citizens. Working men and women should have the opportunity to influence how their tax dollars are spent. Good government results when citizens are encouraged to become involved.

My occupation is Homemaker.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
As a homemaker, part time aide to my husband in his business, and resident of this beautiful city of San Francisco for forty years, I have decided I would try and do my part in making it a better city. There are many aspects of the City Charter that require a concerned approach.

ROBT. M. TEETS, JR.
My address is 2903 Harrison Street.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
San Francisco is my adopted home (10 years). As a tenant (6 years) and a homeowner (4 years), I have been frustrated by the effects of our Charter. The frustration of low-income citizens with city, state, and federal bureaucracies has been my professional preoccupation as an advocate in the highest courts of this state and nation. This, I believe, is a solid starting point for the searching public inquiry which this Commission should undertake. I am eager to serve my neighbors and City in striving for reform of the maze of boards, commissions, and unaccountable decision-makers.

TRANSPORTATION COMMISSION

PROPOSITION A
Shall City government be partially reorganized by consolidating all transportation functions under a commission including the municipal railway, street traffic, motor vehicles for hire and coordination of parking functions; consolidating all waste water, water and power functions in the public utilities commission; consolidating street lighting functions in the department of public works, establishing and adjusting compensation of commissions; protecting civil service rights and providing for certain exempt positions; and providing for legal services and other related changes?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City has no Transportation Commission. The San Francisco Municipal Railway is under the Public Utilities Commission. Street traffic design and traffic control devices are under the Department of Public Works. The licensing, regulation and control of motor vehicles for hire such as taxis and jitneys, are under the Police Department. Also, street lighting is under the Public Utilities Commission and waste water disposal is under the Public Works Department.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition A would reorganize the functions of the present departments and create a new Transportation Commission. The Transportation Commission, made up of five members appointed by the Mayor, would manage the Municipal Railway, street traffic planning, and regulation of vehicles for hire. It would also coordinate all City parking functions. At the same time, the Public Utilities Commission would manage waste water disposal and the Department of Public Works would manage street lighting.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want a new Transportation Commission created to manage transportation functions within the city.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want management of city Transportation to remain under the Public Utilities Commission, Department of Public Works and Police Department.

Controller's Statement on "A"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition A:

If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, the increase in the cost of government would be a minimum of $130,000. Additional cost increases, if any, would depend on future legislative action increasing the budget of said commission.

How Supervisors Voted on "A"
On August 7th the Board of Supervisors voted 8-1 on the question of placing Proposition A on the ballot. The Supervisors voted as follows:

YES: Supervisors Dianne Feinstein (District 2), John Molinari (District 3), Ella Hill Hutch (District 4), Harvey Milk (District 5), Carol Ruth Silver (District 6), Robert Gonzales (District 7), Dan White (District 8) and Ron Pelosi (District 11).

NO: Supervisor Quentin Kopp (District 10).

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Yes on Proposition A

Improve government efficiency and effectiveness in transportation and utilities!

Proposition A consolidates all utilities under the city's Public Utilities Commission and all transportation activities under the Transportation Commission. Proposition A is the kind of reform which can work. It will reduce duplication in personnel and facilities.

Give Muni the leadership it needs!

Proposition A insures clear accountability for making our transportation system responsive to current needs and the City's Transit First policy. The Transportation Commission will be responsible for Muni, as well as parking and traffic.

Increase public participation in the sewer program!

Proposition A gives the city's Public Utilities Commission responsibility for establishing sewer rates, after adequate public notice and hearings. Consolidation of water, power and waste water under one commission creates new opportunities for reclamation and recycling, with long-range financial savings for residents.

We join with numerous City and neighborhood organizations in supporting this long overdue and badly-needed reform.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Muni and our entire transportation system need management help. The modest initial cost required for new management under Proposition A will be more than off-set by future savings from consolidation of duplicated planning, engineering and operations bureaus.

Under Proposition A management of the Wastewater construction project will remain with the Chief Administrative Officer. Continuing operations and sewer rate-setting will be overseen by the Public Utilities Commission, as with water rates and operations. Rate-setting is properly lodged with a citizen commission — not a single administrator.

Submitted By:
Mayor George R. Moscone
Supervisor John L. Molinari
ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

Vote “No” on Proposition A

Maybe there should be a Transit Department but not where it means more bureaucracy and more city employees, especially high paid ones. That’s what this amendment does. Not only would there still be a General Manager of Muni, (at $45,000 per year) we’d now be saddled with a “Director of Transportation” over him, at a higher salary, with an unspecified number of assistant directors and no limit on the number of other new employees. That’s one reason the Controller estimated this will cost AT LEAST $125,000 in additional taxpayers’ monies.

Having removed Muni and set up another bureaucracy of mammoth proportion, they had to add to the Public Utilities Commission’s jurisdiction to justify its continued existence. The entire Wastewater Management program and Department of Sanitary Engineering would be shuffled to the PUC from the direct supervision of the Chief Administrative Officer.

A recent audit of the PUC illustrated major deficiencies in its oversight of both Hetch Hetchy and the Water Department. Adding Wastewater and Sanitary Engineering to the Commission’s jurisdiction before the deficiencies in their present bureaus are rectified is unwise and untimely.

The Chief Administrative Officer, by Charter, is San Francisco’s principal fiduciary administrator. He is non-partisan, independent and free from politics. Removing projects which will expend a billion and a half dollars in taxpayer’s money from the CAO’s direct supervision when he has both the expertise and mechanisms to coordinate these programs would be tremendously disruptive and foolish. It would lead to further postponements and disorganization within such departments and would require the PUC overnight to develop comparable expertise. It could also lead to politics in San Francisco’s largest public works project in history which the Charter has prevented since 1932.

Vote “No” on Proposition A.

This isn’t consolidation; THIS IS EXPANSION OF BUREAUCRACY. It will increase costs, and further complicate the present administration of all affected departments. San Francisco taxpayers have too much at stake in terms of delivery of services to support more city employees and higher salaries.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

Vote “No” on Proposition A

In light of “Prop 13” and runaway inflation, if there is one thing San Francisco does not need it is the creation of yet another commission.

Proposition A is another attempt to end the merit system in San Francisco, by creating “certain exempt positions”. It would be another step in returning City departments to the spoil system.

Under the existing rule of three, department heads are able to choose any one of the top three qualified candidates; The creation of “exempt positions” would further erode our Civil Service System and be very detrimental to our City services.

PROPOSITION B
Shall the powers and duties of the Civil Service Commission be expanded to establish procedures relating to discrimination in employment, examination evaluation, combining entrance and promotional examinations, probationary periods, dismissals and leaves?

Analysis

By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Civil Service Commission regulates the hiring, promotion and dismissal of city employees. Among the rules are the following: Ordinarily, only existing city employees are allowed to take promotional tests. Tests cannot be scored, nor eligible candidates appointed to jobs, while tests are being protested. Probation periods are six months for all city employees, except firefighters and peace officers. A hearing officer's decision on charges against employees can be appealed to the commission. There is no anti-discrimination policy statement in the Charter.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition B would allow outside applicants to take promotional tests with city employees, but would give extra consideration to city employees. Tests could be scored and eligible employees appointed while protests are being heard. Probation periods for all city employees could be increased up to 12 months and to 24 months for executives. A hearing officer's decision on charges against an employee would be final. A policy statement to prohibit discrimination would be added to the Charter, and the Civil Service Commission would have to establish procedures for enforcing it.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to make these changes in civil service procedures.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want civil service procedures to remain as they are now.

Controller's Statement on "B"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition B:

If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, it would have no effect in the cost of government.

How Proposition B Got On The Ballot

Proposition B is a consolidation of what were originally two separate charter amendments, both relating to the Civil Service Commission's powers, functions and duties.

The two charter amendments were passed by the Board of Supervisors at different times and by different votes. On August 14 the Supervisors voted unanimously to combine the two in the interest of economy. The combined measure became Proposition B.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

Vote “Yes” on Proposition B

This is a civil service reform measure which will give us improved procedures within the merit system and enable the Civil Service Commission to conduct a modern personnel program. Performance evaluation will be a factor in promotion. These amendments also clarify several Charter changes to provide equitable treatment of employees in disciplinary hearings and set forth procedures to insure equal employment opportunities. This amendment also:

— provides for the use of apprenticeship rosters to hire qualified apprentices for city employment;

— allows examination procedures to continue while any relevant objections are reviewed;

— permits qualified eligibles to receive appointments while protests that would have no effect on such appointments are being investigated;

— allows different probationary periods following hearings before the Civil Service Commission;

— clarifies language as to due process hearings for employees;

— updates and corrects language on military leaves of absence;

— provides that promotive and entrance candidates who compete in the same examination will be ranked on one eligible list in order of examination standing thus allowing more equitable consideration to be given all competitors while providing for service credits to promotive eligibles;

— provides due process appeal rights on any allegations of discrimination; and

— includes a policy statement as to equal employment opportunities in Civil Service Commission operations.

Adopt this amendment for a more effective, equitable civil service personnel program.

PROPOSITION C

Shall Tax Collector and Treasurer be consolidated under Treasurer, who shall appoint and remove Tax Collector at Treasurer's pleasure; with present Tax Collector retaining civil service status to said position; and providing that the office of County Clerk shall be placed under direction of the Superior Court?

Analysis

By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The city's Department of Finance & Records includes the offices of tax collector, registrar of voters, recorder, county clerk and public administrator. The director of the department is appointed by the chief administrative officer.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition C would place the tax collector under the direction of the city treasurer and place the county clerk under the direction of the Superior Court. The Department of Finance and Records would become the Department of Governmental Services, under the chief administrative officer.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to move the tax collector into the office of treasurer and place the county clerk under the direction of the Superior Court.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the Department of Finance and Records to remain as it is now.

Controller's Statement on "C"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition C:

If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, the cost of government would be decreased by approximately $45,000.

How Supervisors Voted on "C"

On August 7th the Board of Supervisors voted 9-0 on the question of placing Proposition C on the ballot. The Supervisors voted as follows:

YES: Supervisors Dianne Feinstein (District 2), John Molinari (District 3), Ella Hill Hutch (District 4), Harvey Milk (District 5), Carol Ruth Silver (District 6), Robert Gonzales (District 7), Dan White (District 8), Quentin Kopp (District 10), Ron Pelosi (District 11).

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION C APPEARS ON PAGE 128
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Vote Yes on Proposition C

Proposition C consolidates the office of tax collector under the treasurer, places the county clerk under the Superior Court and eliminates the director of finance and records. It is designed to end duplication, increase efficiency and streamline the department of finance and records. It is a significant reorganization measure in the spirit of better management of city government and less bureaucracy.

Presently, 52 out of 58 counties in California have consolidated their treasurer and tax collector. Five of the remaining six have comparable pending legislation. Merging tax collections with the treasurer's office will produce a more efficient collection of funds, speed the cash flow process, reduce delays in deposits and earn taxpayers more interest income on City funds. Instead of the tax collector transmitting revenue to the treasurer, the treasurer will be collecting and depositing himself, gaining at least one day in the deposit and investment of City money.

It is estimated that approximately 99% of the county clerk's time is now spent on court-related matters. Placing the county clerk under the Superior Court is a logical step to provide a more cohesive unit.

In the past, the Director of Finance and Records has been vacant for as long as two years. The authors of the Charter clearly intended that one of the department heads under the CAO should be assigned as director of finance and records in conjunction with his other responsibilities. They did not intend a separate position to be developed at unnecessary expense to the taxpayers. We can save over $50,000 per year eliminating the position.

The recent Metergate scandal in the Tax Collector's office, overseen by the Director of Finance and Records, calls for reform of our entire department of finance and records. Proposition C is consistent with this goal.

Eliminating the tax collector and county clerk from the department of finance and records leaves only the public administrator and recorder. There is no good reason why the CAO cannot directly oversee these offices.

REMOVAL OF COMMISSION MEMBERS

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION D

When the people vote for a new administration at City Hall, they expect that administration to carry out its promises about new policies and new directions in San Francisco.

They expect that administration to implement new policies at all levels of government — and this includes the many Boards and Commissions of our City.

That’s the only way an administration can begin to make headway on the crucial problems of delivering better services and cutting the cost of government.

But presently in San Francisco, this is almost impossible to achieve.

When a new Mayor takes office, the Boards and Commissions set up to carry out administration policies have holdover members appointed by previous Mayors . . . lame duck appointees who may not represent the new directions which San Francisco voters have approved.

Presently a handful of holdover commission appointees can — in key instances — frustrate the policies of a new administration at City Hall, and prevent the will of the people from being expressed in local government.

Proposition D would end this intolerable situation.

It would guarantee that voters get a clean sweep at City Hall when they vote for a new administration. It would mean that the appointments of all Commission and Board members made by a previous Mayor would terminate at the inauguration of a new administration.

When you vote for a change at City Hall you expect that change to be reflected at all levels of government, and fast. That’s why your approval of Proposition D is so important.

Let’s make sure that our votes are heard loud and clear at City Hall. The lame-duck appointees of previous administration must not stand in the way of changes which voters demand.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION D

DO WE WANT INDEPENDENT COMMISSIONERS . . . OR A RUBBER STAMP?

The commission form of government was an attempt to insure maximum citizen participation long before the Washington bureaucrats ever invented the term.

Because of their politically sensitive nature certain commissions specify fixed terms to be served by those appointed. These include the Airports and Civil Service Commissions and the Board of Permit Appeals.

Commissioners who cannot be removed from office if they offend the Mayor who appointed them are in a better position to exercise independent judgment on the matters that come before them. Removing this protection in favor of having all commissioners serve at the pleasure of the Mayor will necessarily turn them into rubber stamps for that Mayor, whomever he or she be.

• If there can be no independent citizen participation why have commissioners at all?

• Why settle for inefficiency AND a rubber stamp with no accountability, the worst of both possible worlds?

Vote “No” on Proposition D

Perhaps in these days of governmental economizing we can no longer afford the luxury of democracy. As long as we have the commission form of government, let’s give these citizen participants the opportunity to do the job they’re appointed to do.

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION E APPEARS ON PAGE 130
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

Charter amendment pertaining to absence of officers from the state.

Proposition E would eliminate a time-consuming, outdated and unnecessary section of the City Charter.

Currently, city officials who travel out of the state must first secure permission from the Board of Supervisors.

At the time the Charter was written, in the 1930's, this made sense. But today, it does not.

Travel and communication was difficult then. Today, travel is fast and communication is easy. It takes the same amount of time to telephone any city in the country as it does any neighborhood in San Francisco or any other California city. And even the farthest distance in the country is within a few hours flying time of San Francisco.

There is little reason to keep this outdated requirement in our City Charter.

It takes up the time of the Board of Supervisors and other city officials, time which could be used to deal with more important matters. It costs the taxpayers money in staff time and paper shuffling.

Proposition E would change this.

Many things have changed since the 1930's. This Charter section should, too.

We urge you to vote YES on Proposition E.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION E

Vote "No" on Proposition E

Proposition "E" eliminates the Charter provision requiring all public officials, members of boards and commissions, and department heads to notify and receive approval from the Board of Supervisors and the Mayor before taking leaves of absence from the State. While the granting of these leaves of absence is usually a routine matter, it does serve a vital purpose during times of emergency when a full component of public officials would be required for the operation of all City services. By eliminating this provision from the Charter, there would no longer be any accountability for out-of-state travel by public officials.

In the past, on several occasions the Board of Supervisors has investigated the questionable use of taxpayers money for travel purposes by public officials. The Board became aware of these travel plans through this Charter provision. Further, the Board has been able to insure that a quorum for boards and commissions has been maintained by the routine notification of proposed leaves of absence. This would no longer be possible with the passage of Proposition "E".

Proposition "E" does not infringe upon the privacy of individuals nor does it impose an undue hardship on top level public officials. It does maintain a level of accountability which is vital to the responsible operation of City departments, agencies, commissions and boards. It should be maintained.

SICK LEAVE PAYMENTS

PROPOSITION F
Shall present officers and employees receive cash payment only for unused sick leave accumulated prior to effective date herein and remaining unused at retirement; and persons who become officers or employees after effective date herein shall not be entitled to cash payment for accumulated unused sick leave?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: City employees can save unused sick leave up to a total of six months. They can receive cash payment for this time when they retire from city service.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition F would let present city employees get paid only for past unused sick leave. New employees will not receive any payment for unused sick leave.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you do not want city employees to be paid for sick leave they do not use.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want city employees to continue to be paid for sick leave they do not use.

Controller’s Statement on “F”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition F:
If the proposed Charter Amendment is adopted, in my opinion, there would be a future decrease in the cost of government, the amount of which will be substantial, the actual amount of which can not be determined.

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION F APPEARS ON PAGE 130
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote Yes on Proposition F

Giving employees sick leave pay when they're ill is fair and just. Paying cash to employees for sick leave accumulated because he or she wasn't ill is neither fair nor just.

Presently, employees are allowed 13 days a year of paid sick leave and up to six months of sick leave. Permissive rules have allowed cash payments to employees for sick leave when they weren't even sick. Employees are able to take as much as six months' salary in cash with them upon retirement over and above regular retirement benefits.

It is prohibitively expensive. This year approximately $4.5 million will be paid in cash to retiring city employees for sick leave they did not need while regularly employed. In August alone, almost $1,000,000 cash-for-unused-sick-leave benefits was paid to 139 recently retired employees. Some received as much as $25,000 in cash upon retirement. THIS MUST STOP.

The Controller has estimated that as of June 9, 1978, the cash amount of unpaid sick leave accumulated by present employees was $84,375,000.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote Yes on Proposition F

Proposition F allows present employees to keep the cash value of accumulated sick pay which they accrued thus far. However, in the future, they would be no longer entitled to more cash for unused sick leave and new employees would not be entitled to cash for accumulated unused sick leave. Sick leave would continue to accrue for up to six months and when an employee's illness actually kept him from work he'd be paid for his time off due to illness up to a maximum of six months. This is what's done in private industry.

The Budget Analyst for the Board of Supervisors estimates that we will save over $1.125 million annually during the next 15-20 years and $4.5 million annually afterwards with the passage of Proposition F.

Submitted By:

Supervisor Quentin L. Kopp

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote Yes on Proposition F

Proposition F provides for leaves of absence due to illness or disability for every employee of the City of San Francisco. This policy is consistent with that found in private industry. A yes vote on Proposition F will assure that this practice continues.

It will, however, eliminate the provision that allows city employees to receive cash payment for unused sick leave upon retirement. This practice cost taxpayers in excess of $4 million last year. A yes vote on Proposition F will end this needless expenditure of your tax dollars.

Sick leave provides financial security during periods of bona fide illness. It is not meant to be a bonus for retiring city employees. Vote Yes on Proposition F and give city employees a fair benefit.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION F

The current sick leave rule provides an incentive for workers of all classifications not to use sick leave unless absolutely necessary. All occupations experience absenteeism, which is very destructive to the normal flow of work and work schedules. This usually requires hiring a non-experienced person or an experienced person at time and a half, causing additional COST to the City. The current sick leave rule also provides for payment of unused sick leave (maximum 6 months) upon retirement, which has worked very well for the purposes intended.

In most City departments the incentive provided by the current sick leave rule has proven to outweigh its cost to the City many times over. Most City departments have experienced that after an employee has accumulated 6 months in unused sick leave, their employment records show LESS time lost for sickness than the average worker.

The current sick leave rule has worked well for the City in the past. Let’s defeat Proposition F.

ELIMINATES MANDATORY RETIREMENT

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

Proposition G is a charter amendment designed to bring San Francisco's Retirement System into compliance with recently enacted Federal and State laws eliminating mandatory retirement ages for employees in private industry and public service.

Public Law 95-256, signed by President Carter on April 6, 1978, eliminated the age 70 mandatory retirement provision for all Federal employees, effective September 30, 1978. This law also provides that, effective January 1, 1979, private employees and state and local governments are prohibited from requiring an employee to retire before 70 solely because of age.

On July 11, 1978, Governor Brown signed Senate Bill 130, which prohibits any public retirement system in the State of California from requiring any employee to retire prior to age 70, except active law enforcement and firefighting personnel. In addition, the new law, effective January 1, 1979, allows these public employees the right to continue in employment beyond age 70 upon certification of the employees' competence in his/her position.

Proposition G, therefore, will bring the San Francisco City Employees Retirement System into compliance with Federal and State law as it pertains to Miscellaneous Employees. Failure to enact this charter amendment would invite costly law suits compelling San Francisco to abide by the Federal and State laws.

From a fiscal standpoint, Proposition G would reduce the overall costs of the Retirement System to the taxpayers. The longer an employee works beyond age 65, the less is the Retirement System's financial liability based on current and projected mortality tables.

In the final analysis, Proposition G will achieve equity and fairness by eliminating discrimination in employment on account of age.

PROPOSITION H

Shall City contracts for printing provide that persons performing the labor be paid not less than the highest general prevailing rate of wages in private employment?

Analysis

By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: City printing contracts are now awarded to the low bidder, who can pay any wage rate to his workers.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition H would require that city printing contracts go only to printing companies that pay at least the highest wage rate to printers in San Francisco.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want all city printing contracts to be performed by contractors paying at least the highest wage rate for printers in San Francisco.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want to allow city printing contracts to be awarded to the lowest bidder, regardless of the wage rate.

Controller's Statement on "H"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition H:

If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, there would be a considerable increase in the cost of government, the amount of which cannot be determined.

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION H APPEARS ON PAGE 130
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

What Proposition H really means is JOBS for San Franciscans. The issue is whether the City of San Francisco will continue to employ printers from out-of-town and out-of-state while our own printing trades craftspeople go unemployed.

The re-binding of San Francisco's library books serves to illustrate the severity of this situation. Instead of San Francisco firms and their employees doing the re-binding of our own library books, the contract has been awarded to a firm in the State of Washington. This policy has deprived San Franciscans of salaries and jobs. People in the printing trades will continue to be unemployed if this situation persists.

Opponents of Proposition H have cited an increase in the cost of government as a reason to reject this Proposition. We feel that such a cost increase should not deprive people of deserved employment.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

San Francisco is a major center of the printing industry in the United States. Owners and operators of printing firms located in San Francisco pay taxes for the services rendered by the City and County of San Francisco. These same printing firms hire San Francisco workers who, in turn, live and pay taxes in San Francisco. Why should the City and County go out of San Francisco for printing services, even as far as Washington State? San Francisco citizens and workers can gain a return of their tax monies paid by having the printing of the City and County of San Francisco done by local printing enterprises. Proposition H will create jobs for San Franciscans. We urge a YES vote on Proposition H.

Submitted By:
John F. Crowley, Secretary-Treasurer

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

We are printing trades crafts workers who live, work, and pay taxes in San Francisco. When the City of San Francisco sends its printing work out of town to be done, we lose jobs and wages. Money earned and spent in San Francisco stimulates the city's economy.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION H

Vote "No" on Proposition H

In 1972, the voters by a resounding 2 to 1 vote, defeated Proposition "P", which is almost identical to Proposition "H". It is clear that the voters have spoken on this issue. In 1972, the Controller stated that there would be an annual increase in the cost of government through passage of this proposition of at least $7,400 or an increase of .03 in the tax rate. This year the Controller has stated there will be a "considerable increase in the cost of government."

Proposition H requires that the contractor pay not less than the highest general prevailing wages in private employment or similar work. That sounds simple enough, but the City Purchaser says it is administratively unenforceable. The Purchasing Department would have no resources, facilities, or manpower to determine whether a contractor has complied with the provision. Attempts at enforcement would further complicate and delay the bid awarding process.

Proposition H would add provisions to the Charter which would, supposedly, impose working conditions and pricing preferences in contracts for printing supplies or printed products. However, it misses its objectives because it is detrimental to the general economy of San Francisco and is contrary to the objective of minimizing the cost of government by getting the most for each taxpayer's dollar spent.

If this proposition becomes law, other business groups will request like consideration and there is reason to believe that retaliatory measures by other governmental jurisdictions in this area will be enacted and result in a substantial loss to San Francisco's economy.

The current policy followed by the Purchasing Department is a workable, effective system. All things being equal, bids are awarded to the San Francisco bidder. Bids are not sought from out-of-town firms for commodities or services when suitable competition is available locally.

Vote "No" on Proposition H.

Proposition H should be soundly defeated if we are to preserve lower costs, better returns for City tax monies and the general economy.

REAL PROPERTY LEASES

PROPOSITION I
Shall all contracts and real property leases in excess of ten years and/or having anticipated revenue of one million dollars or more be subject to approval by the Board of Supervisors?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Certain city contracts and leases are now entered into by city departments, boards and commissions without approval by the Board of Supervisors.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition I would give the Board of Supervisors the power to approve or reject contracts and leases entered into by city departments, boards and commissions when the leases would last more than ten years or would produce more than one million dollars revenue for the city.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to give the Board of Supervisors authority over major city contracts and leases.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the Board of Supervisors to have more control over city contracts and leases than it has now.

Controller’s Statement on “I”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition I:

If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, it would have no appreciable effect in the cost of government.

How Supervisors Voted on “I”

On July 24th the Board of Supervisors voted 11-0 on the question of placing Proposition I on the ballot. The Supervisors voted as follows:

YES: Supervisors Gordon Lau (District 1), Dianne Feinstein (District 2), John Molinari (District 3), Ella Hill Hutch (District 4), Harvey Milk (District 5), Carol Ruth Silver (District 6), Robert Gonzales (District 7), Dan White (District 8), Lee Dolson (District 9), Quentin Kopp (District 10), Ron Pelosi (District 11).

REAL PROPERTY LEASES

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION 1

Vote “Yes” on Proposition “I”

With an annual budget for the City and County of San Francisco which exceeds $824 million, there is presently no provision in the Charter which gives the Board of Supervisors power to review contracts which will net $1 million to the City, or real property leases which will provide income of $1 million or more in revenue or exceed ten years in duration. Thus, while the Board of Supervisors is held accountable by all San Franciscans for the setting of the annual budget and fiscal priorities, the approval of revenue producing contractual arrangements is not within its purview. Proposition “I” gives this power to the Board.

Vote “Yes” on Proposition “I”

Proposition “I” will include the Board of Supervisors in the decision-making process concerning prudent, fiscally responsible obligations of taxpayers’ assets.

For example, as the Charter presently is written, the Board of Supervisors has no authority over the important, sometimes controversial, long-term leases at Candlestick Park, Fishermen’s Wharf or Sunol Golf Club. Thus, while, for example, the Board of Supervisors must approve stadium admissions taxes and similar charges which result from commitments in the Candlestick leases, the Board has no part in the establishment or modifications of such leases. Similarly, the Board was powerless in the Sunol Golf Club lease.

Vote “Yes” on Proposition “I”

By voting “Yes”, you will place the elected representatives of all San Franciscans in a position to approve or disapprove major obligations of public assets.

STREET ARTISTS ORDINANCE

PROPOSITION J
Shall Street Artists and Craftpersons be subject to regulation by an Advisory Committee, prescribing certification procedures and designated sales areas and establish a revenue fund for program and repeal present Street Artist Ordinance?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: People who sell their crafts on San Francisco's streets are regulated by a Street Artists Ordinance passed by the voters in 1975. Approximately 756 street artists now have certification permitting them to sell their wares at 520 spaces set aside by the Board of Supervisors.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition J would allow the Art Commission to issue 100 new conditional street artists' certificates. Holder of a conditional certificate could occupy unused selling spaces if none holding a regular certificate is there by 12 noon.

Proposition J would permit the Art Commission to establish a limit on the total number of street artist certificates, provided the limit is never less than existed January 1, 1978. It would also require the supervisors to keep the present ratio of spaces to permits, with the supervisors providing five spaces for every seven licensed street artists.

Proposition J would require street artists to renew their certificates every three months in person within 10 days of the expiration date or lose the certificates. It would be somewhat more specific than the present ordinance in defining street art.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want a new ordinance regulating street artists.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, it means you want to keep the present regulations on street artists in effect.

Controller's Statement on "J"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition J:
If the proposed proposition is approved, in my opinion, the cost of government would be increased by approximately $50,000.

How Supervisors Voted on "J"
On July 31st the Board of Supervisors voted 6-4 on the question of placing Proposition J on the ballot. The Supervisors voted as follows:
YES: Supervisors Gordon Lau (District 1), Dianne Feinstein (District 2), John Molinari (District 3), Harvey Milk (District 5), Carol Ruth Silver (District 6), and Dan White (District 8).
NO: Supervisors Ella Hill Hutch (District 4), Robert Gonzales (District 7), Quentin Kopp (District 10) and Ron Pelosi (District 11).

STREET ARTISTS ORDINANCE

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

This ordinance is based on the Art Commission's six years of experience as the agency certifying the street artists of San Francisco. For the first time, the voters are offered street artist legislation which reflects a genuine compromise and acceptance by all major parties concerned.

For the first time, a limitation of the number of certified street artists shall be established in accordance with a 7 to 5 ratio of artists to spaces. The number of artists cannot be increased except when the Board of Supervisors increases them. The existing ordinance gives no limitation; it allows the Art Commission to issue an unlimited number of permits. At present, there are over 1300 applicants.

Proposition J incorporates all of the major provisions of the present ordinance but goes farther by incorporating the necessary by-laws and regulations implemented by the Art Commission over the years, notably the procedures for renewal, revocation and appeal.

Proposition J represents no cost to the taxpayers. It legally strengthens the Art Commission, which is responsible for collecting over $60,000 in certification fees annually for the General Fund. The Art Commission's Street Artist Program is one of the few regulatory agencies that pays for itself and generates revenue for the City.

It is undeniable that the street artists are an important and colorful part of the tourist industry of the city. The Street Artists Program continues to receive compliments from tourists who claim the artists are one of the major highpoints of their interests.

San Franciscans, in previous elections, have repeatedly demonstrated their support of the street artists. Your support is needed now for Proposition J, which finally addresses the problem directly and which is being supported by artists, businesspersons, neighborhood groups and many other San Franciscans.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Vote "No" on Proposition J

Just three short years ago, the Board of Supervisors submitted to the voters a carefully drafted initiative ordinance to govern street artists. The voters adopted the ordinance overwhelmingly. Now, special interests want even more.

Proposition J compels the Board of Supervisors to set an unknown minimum number of spaces for certificate-holding street artists. It sets a complex ratio of at least five spaces to seven certificate-holders. Proposition J requires the provision of spaces for street artists, regardless of changing conditions in our city or a finding that less than such number would be advisable. No ordinance passed by the electorate should lock public officials into a system of providing a minimum of street spaces irrespective of contemporary conditions.

No other permit system in San Francisco, even those licenses for convenience and necessity, such as taxicab permits, forces a minimum. No other permit system creates a mechanism which would require the Board of Supervisors, the legislative branch of government, actively to seek more areas for the acquisition of new locations for street artists sites. Proposition J puts such obligation on the Board, along with the Art Commission, and binds them to it.

Proposition J:
— doesn't define street artists; some merchant groups may be included in it;
— contains no provision for payment of rent to the City or public liability insurance by street artists. Who will be liable if a pedestrian is injured by street artist activity?
— is incapable of being enforced by the Art Commission since there are no policing powers. The Art Commission does not have adequate inspection capability and there is no provision to require funding by street artists for proper inspection;
— contains no provision for the Planning Department or the Police to approve locations or the number of street artists at any one location.

Proposition J will be difficult, if not impossible to enforce. We just voted in 1975. There's no need to impose new and ambiguous requirements.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Vote No on Proposition "J"

Remember when street selling in San Francisco was a chaotic mess?

Peddlers were lined up corner-to-corner on street-after-street, badgering and harassing our tourist guests with their products. They overflowed the sidewalks, blocked pedestrians, hampered traffic, endangered people's lives. The Fire Department complained that they couldn't get to the hydrants.

What's more, a lot of these peddlers weren't selling their own products at all, which is what street artists are supposed to do. They were pushing phonies, imports, which they were buying wholesale.

So, the legitimate street artists and the business community got together in support of a Proposition to regulate the business of street selling. It provided locations for legitimate street artists; it insisted that the products be genuinely home-made and not a rip-off import. It assured that there would be no interference with pedestrians and traffic. That Proposition cleaned up the situation. You voted for it. Things became a lot better.

But the phonies are trying to open the floodgates once again, with Proposition "J".

Proposition "J" says that for every seven permits the Art Commission issues to street artists, the City must provide five selling spaces. Since the Commission can issue as many permits as it likes, this actually means: almost unlimited use of the streets — and the City has to provide the spaces — checking on the legitimacy of the products would be practically impossible. There'll be peddlers everywhere.

Don't take this nonsense. Keep the sidewalk selling situation under control. Don't let them roll the clock back to chaos.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Proposition J makes the Art Commission responsible for control of street artists. This will not work, because the Commission does not have enough manpower to enforce regulations. And the Art Commission is not equipped to decide how public sidewalks and open space should be used. This is the Planning Commission's job, yet Planning is left out of Proposition J. "J" also opens the door to peddlers of cheap, mass-produced goods, because it does not clearly define "street artist." And it does nothing to correct the situation where neighborhood store owners have to carry liability insurance to cover street artists' activities in front of their premises. So-called street art has become a big business in San Francisco. It needs regulation, but Proposition J is the wrong way.

PROPOSITION K
Ordinance: Shall increased rates for existing Business, Payroll and Real Property Transfer Taxes which were repealed by Board of Supervisors be re-enacted and allowing for offsetting Rebates in the form of credits for this year with authority of Board of Supervisors to extend credits?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Statement Proposition 13, which passed on June 6, limited the amount of money local government could raise from property taxes. After it passed, the San Francisco Board of Supervisors, at the request of the Mayor, approved higher tax rates for business and property transfer taxes. These new rates began June 30. However, when it became clear that the state surplus would supply enough money to San Francisco to operate for this fiscal year, the Board of Supervisors repealed the increases in these taxes.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition K, which was placed on the ballot by the Mayor, would restore the increases in the business and property transfer taxes. This would overturn the Board of Supervisors’ repeal and put the tax rates back up to the June 30 level. Because the state is providing funds to San Francisco for this fiscal year, Proposition K would provide for rebates on these taxes for this year only.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want business and property taxes in San Francisco to be raised back to the June 30 rates, with rebates this year.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want to keep business and property transfer taxes where they are now.

Controller’s Statement on "K"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition K:
If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, there is a potential for future revenue of approximately $26,200,000 per annum from the business, payroll and real property transfer taxes. However, for fiscal year ending June 30, 1979 tax credits will be subtracted from the total tax due which will eliminate any additional revenues. For subsequent years, the tax credits can be modified by legislative action by the Board of Supervisors.

How Proposition K Got On The Ballot
Proposition K was placed on the ballot by a City Charter provision which allows the Mayor to place an Ordinance or Declaration of Policy on the ballot.
On August 3rd the Registrar received a request signed by Mayor George Moscone directing that an ordinance reinstating the increased rates for business, payroll and property transfer taxes be placed on the November ballot.

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION K APPEARS ON PAGE 134
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION K

Proposition K, the Home Rule Preservation Ordinance, is nothing more than an insurance policy for San Francisco. It will protect the City against the day the State's budget surplus diminishes and San Francisco must once again provide for itself.

It means no new taxes. It enables the Board of Supervisors, the City's policy-making body, to reimpose a 1.5 percent property transfer tax, a 1.5 percent payroll tax paid by major businesses and not by wage earners, and a modest increase in the City's gross receipt tax, by a simple majority vote. Reestablishing these tax rates — which were reduced after the State gave San Francisco more than $110 million in bailout money, on a one-time-only basis — would bring in some $30-million. Like any insurance policy, it won't be collected unless it is absolutely necessary.

Dependence on the State for handouts means San Francisco cannot determine its own future. Nobody knows how long the State will continue to have a surplus, and nobody knows how large that surplus will be in years to come. The only thing we can be sure of is that the surplus will decrease year by year, and whatever money San Francisco accepts will have strings attached to it.

By accepting the $110-million this year, San Francisco had to agree to give no cost of living wage adjustments to deserving city employees. The City also had to agree to continue funding programs at higher levels than may have been desirable, given the fiscal emergency created by passage of Proposition 13.

The fact of the matter is, San Francisco lost a significant degree of home rule. Decisions that should have been made by San Franciscans were made in Sacramento, because Sacramento was paying the bills.

Proposition K, the Home Rule Preservation Ordinance, keeps control at home, where it belongs. It's an insurance policy we can't afford to drop. K is OKAY. Vote Yes on K.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

Vote "No" on Proposition K

On June 6th, the voters thought that passage of Proposition 13 meant the elimination of the capricious raising of their local taxes. The voters thought they had told their public officials that they wanted government reform through streamlined municipal operations. Some of our San Francisco public officials have not gotten the message.

Proposition K is a direct attempt to circumvent the will of the people by raising the Real Estate Transfer Tax by 200%, the Payroll Expense Tax by 40%, and the Business Tax by 40%. The San Francisco Chronicle called these increased taxes "inappropriate and unnecessary." The Board of Supervisors agreed and voted to reject these new taxes. Yet Proposition K was placed on the ballot.

Proposition K does not just affect business. These are consumer taxes. The payroll and business taxes will mean higher prices to consumers. The real property transfer tax will be passed on to every family purchasing a home in San Francisco, acting as yet another deterrent to middle income families remaining in San Francisco. It contains a complicated credit system requiring taxpayer vigilance to avoid payment of these new taxes during its first year of implementation.

Most important, Proposition K is totally unnecessary. The budget passed by the Board of Supervisors is only .8 percent lower than last year's $831 million budget. It contains the largest surplus in San Francisco's history. Therefore, these increased taxes are unnecessary.

In the past, politicians have decided how much money they wanted and presented the bill to taxpayers, through the property tax rate. Prop 13 changed this by giving the politicians a set amount and telling them to make the hard decisions about spending priorities. The voters want politicians to meet City needs by eliminating duplication and slothful spending. Proposition K flies in the face of this mandate and will further delay imperative governmental reforms.

VOTE "NO" ON PROPOSITION K and once again tell your public officials that government reorganization, not increased taxes, is the way to run San Francisco.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

With the passage of Proposition 13 in June, the voters made a statement in no uncertain terms that taxes were too high and that government had become too large. Proposition K is clearly an effort to increase taxes to a level above that which was in effect prior to Proposition 13 and will add to the growth of government.

Although two of the proposed increases are applied to business, they have a major impact on the general public and are considered consumer taxes.

The gross receipts tax is an excess cost of doing business in the city and a major reason why hundreds of businesses and jobs have left the city in the past seven years. This tax is also reflected in the cost of goods and services.

The payroll tax is a penalty that must be paid by an employer every time he creates a new job or gives an employee a raise.

The real estate transfer tax has a major impact on the cost of residential property and is a penalty that must be paid by everyone who purchases a home in the city.

By voting no on Proposition K you will keep these taxes at their present level and help reduce the size of government.

SUBMITTED BY THE SAN FRANCISCO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
Gregory P. Hurst
Manager Public Affairs

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

VOTE NO on "K". This is a tax increase. Proposition, no matter what it's called. A tax increase is a tax increase, no matter who pays it first. In the long run, you pay it, of course. Putting more taxes on business is putting more taxes on you. That's what Proposition "K" does to you.

Right after Jarvis-Gann, the politicians panicked. How were they going to make up the lost funds? So these tax increases on business were hurried through. Then the air cleared. The panic passed. The Supervisors wisely voted to repeal the increases. They know that business taxes hurt the whole City, not just business. The Mayor decided to let the repeal go through.

But now he's asking to boost your own taxes... They are your taxes, even if they do call them business taxes. You may not have to do the paperwork, but these taxes add up to the costs of doing business here in San Francisco. When business costs go up, so do prices. So do rents. And a few more businesses move out of San Francisco; many more jobs are lost.

These are stand-by taxes. They are not needed now. "We won't use the money unless we need it," they say. (Where have you heard that before? Can you picture them leaving any money in the till, once you fill it up for them?)

If there's one thing we don't need right now, it's more taxes, or more power for the politicians to impose them.

Let the politicians feel the pinch, not you. MAKE THEM ECONOMIZE, not just find a roundabout way to tax you further.

Don't give them the money. Vote for your job. Vote for your pocketbook.

LABORERS’ SALARY DEMANDS

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION M

Only 36 of the 283 persons employed as general laborers are assigned to work with the processing of raw human sewage on a daily basis. Such work requires an extra level of dedication and skill to ensure that the water quality control process is properly and efficiently completed.

This proposition would award these few workers additional compensation when performing such odious duties, and requires that proper uniforms be provided by the City. It is only human and decent that the voters approve this measure. Our members should not be reduced to the level of poverty and degradation of untouchables merely because they are employed in the City’s sanitary waste facilities. San Francisco employs fewer than 15 qualified Glaziers who are responsible for replacement and repair of tens and thousands of windows and skylights, all over the City and County, including such critical and unusual installations as the City Hall Dome, the Conservatory, the Aquarium Fish Tanks and the San Francisco General Hospital. Much of this work requires costly specialized tools and duties on boom trucks which call for greater experience and skill.

Passage of this proposition will ensure that modern and proper tools are always available. The City does not make its clerks furnish their own typewriters, nor the janitors their own mops and pails and should not require the Glaziers to provide their own tools either.

This measure will also provide premium pay for higher skill boom work. Actually, very few hours of boom work is done on an annual basis and the cost to the taxpayer will be negligible.

How Prop. O Got On The Ballot

Propositions L, M, N, O, P, Q, R and S are a result of a provision in the City Charter which was adopted by the voters in November 1976. This provision requires that unsettled contract disputes between city officials and city employees be put before the voters to decide.

In this proposition the voters will grant or reject the last demands of city workers represented by the Bricklayers, Stone Masons, Terrazzo Mechanics, Marble Masons, Pointers, Caulkers, and Cleaners Union.

Even if Propositions L through S are approved by the voters they will not necessarily go into effect because the ordinance they amend was repealed earlier this year as a result of Proposition 13.
THE WAY IT IS NOW: Hod carriers employed by the city receive certain working conditions and benefits in addition to their wages. Their union asked for certain improvements in the contract for this year, but was turned down by city officials. A partial comparison of the demands with the present conditions and benefits is provided below.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition P would provide the improved working conditions and benefits listed below to hod carriers employed by the city.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to provide the improved benefits listed below.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want to keep the present working conditions and benefits for this group of city workers.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION Q

San Francisco employs hundreds of qualified electrical workers of every race, ancestry and religion, in every vital public service it renders, including police communications, fire alarms, street lighting, MUNI transit, traffic signals and hospital operating room lighting and power. Many of these electricians are assigned to the Hetch Hetchy Power Generation System, which is a revenue producing City operation that competes with privately owned and operated utilities. Much of the work requires high levels of skill due to exposure to high voltage, climbing up transmission towers, and exposure to the elements and human wastes.

This measure provides that such workers will be furnished proper tools and clothing to perform their jobs in an efficient and workmanlike manner. It also provides that all those who repair MUNI transit vehicles work the same hours and enjoy the same conditions. This measure only works to increase the efficiency of the City's electrical workers, and to bring equity to and improve the morale of these employees at a minimal cost to the taxpayer.

RENT REBATE

PROPOSITION U
Initiative Ordinance: Shall there be a one month rent stabilization for December 1978 (calculated on basis of June 6, 1978 rent) and a rental reduction for calendar year 1979 (calculated on June 6, 1978 rent minus the property tax saving on the rental unit)?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Rents in San Francisco are now set according to an agreement between what a landlord wants to charge and what a tenant is willing to pay.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition U would require that a landlord pass on to his or her tenants the total tax reduction received for that property from the passage of State Proposition 13. Proposition U would also prevent any rent increase through December, 1979, unless the landlord can prove that the costs on the rental unit have gone up. Rents could be raised for inflation or other increased costs, but not both. Proposition U requires that every landlord notify every tenant of how the rent reduction from Proposition 13 was calculated, and to make available for tenants a list of rents for all units in the property as well as books, records and receipts to document any reasons for a proposed rent increase.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want rents controlled in San Francisco through December, 1979 and you want to require landlords to pass on to both commercial and residential renters the full rebates mandated by Proposition 13.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want things to stay the way they are, with market conditions setting rent levels in San Francisco.

Controller’s Statement on “U”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition U:
If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, it would not, of itself, affect the cost of government.

How Proposition U Got On The Ballot

On August 17th, City Registrar of Voters Thomas Kearney certified that the initiative petition containing Proposition U had qualified for the November ballot. Proposition U is an ordinance that calls for landlords to rebate to renters all of the savings attributable to Proposition 13.

San Franciscans for Renters Property Tax Relief, the proponents of the initiative, filed 24,805 signatures with Kearney on August 9th. After checking the signatures, Kearney determined that there were 18,353 valid signatures, which is more than the 10,562 names needed to put an initiative ordinance on the ballot.

10,562 represents 5% of the number of people who voted for Mayor in 1975.

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION U APPEARS ON PAGE 140
RENT REBATE

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION U

Over 25,000 San Franciscans signed the petition that put Proposition U on the ballot. They were renters, homeowners, neighborhood merchants, and landlords.

Renters support Proposition U because they now pay 100% of their landlords’ property taxes; and if Prop. 13 results in a property tax reduction, that reduction ought to go back to the tenants who really pay these taxes, not to their landlords as windfall profits.

Homeowners support Proposition U, because it extends to their renter friends, relatives and neighbors the same benefits they have gotten under Prop. 13, without costing homeowners a penny.

Neighborhood merchants support Proposition U, because they want to remain serving their neighbors, rather than being forced out by higher rents.

And fair-minded landlords support Proposition U, because they know tenants will be guaranteed Prop. 13 benefits only if a law is passed, rather than relying on the illusion of “voluntary rebates”. In order to prevent landlords from offsetting through rent increases the rebate required under Proposition U, rents are set at the June 6, 1978 level, and increases are allowed only to cover legitimate operating cost increases.

This is not rent control.

Voters also should be warned that sometime before Election Day the Supervisors may pass an ordinance designed to give the appearance of meeting renters’ needs, but which in actuality is not a rent rebate ordinance. Don’t be fooled!

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION U

We are San Francisco homeowners. We fully support Proposition U. We think renters ought to get the same property tax benefits owners have just gotten under Prop. 13. We have friends, relatives and neighbors who are renters, and they need these breaks as much as we do. And besides, giving them tax justice won’t cost homeowners a penny.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

MEASURE U IS RENT CONTROL FOR VIRTUALLY ALL SAN FRANCISCO RENTAL HOMES, FLATS, APARTMENTS AND COMMERCIAL BUILDINGS, plain and simple. It will have the same devastating social and economic impact on our City that such laws have had virtually everywhere they have been tried. To convince you Measure U doesn’t mean rent control, proponents deliberately combined their rent control scheme with Proposition 13 issues — a clear case of deceptive packaging.

You should be aware of what rent control will do to our City. Measure U will:

1. Reduce the amount of available rental housing by forcing many owners into condominium conversion; to live there, you will have to buy — at skyrocketing prices.
2. Reduce owners’ incentives to keep up their buildings.
3. Impose more laws and more government interference.
4. Congest already crowded courts by potentially making every renter/owner dispute a lawsuit.
5. Cause residential and commercial rental property assessments to drop, thus shrinking the tax base. This will cause a shift to increased homeowner taxes.

Rent control historically hurts most those who can afford it least: minorities, seniors and low-income people. Rent control reduces apartment services and maintenance. With the rental housing supply diminished, many people will be squeezed out by those with more cash and credit who are less affected by shifts in the job market.

Measure U applies the same rent control formula to highrise office buildings as to residential units, which is absurd. Because of the problems this ordinance would create, jobs and business will be driven from San Francisco.

We all have experienced “temporary” government measures. Nearly every rent control measure now in existence originally was “temporary”, and Measure U will be no exception. Measure U will end the possibility of meaningful solutions to our housing problems. It is the wrong approach to tax relief. Don’t be fooled by deceptive packaging.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

Let us be fair. Landlords are not Shylocks — they have monetary problems too. In any event, why penalize all for the conduct of a few? We stand only to lose by allowing rent control to pit landlords against tenants.

Rent control — Proposition U style — is a gigantic first step toward destroying San Francisco’s housing market by removing the investment incentive. Without this inducement, our housing stock is certain to dwindle and deteriorate.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

In the myriad of things done in the name of Proposition 13, Rent Control is the most diabolical. Under the guise of tax rebate sharing, this proposition deprives owners of rental property ANY tax relief. Thereby corporations, homeowners and large utilities benefit but not the owner who supplies apartment living for a large part of our City’s population. The man who paid taxes even when he had vacancies must now turn over to tenants ALL of his tax rebate. This is not justice San Francisco style.

San Francisco is a rare major City, not only for its natural beauty, but because it is so loved by its residents that they have restored and rehabilitated its gracious older buildings with their own sweat and small savings, while other cities like New York, Boston and Washington worried about blocks of slums with empty, falling down buildings, broken windows and rat infesting populations. These are results of owner’s default or simple abandonment because it made economic sense to try to hold on under rent control.

Senator Proxmire summed it up well when he spoke against Federal funding to New York City because rent control caused the problem and he wanted it repealed. Undersecretary of HUD Janis underlined this on national television stating that he opposed rent control because it never works, only creates problems.

The Citizens Housing Forum, after much study, finds that the effects of rent control while devastating 10 other cities are suicidal for San Francisco. In our compact City where single family homes are almost always adjacent to or close to under control, the deterioration or abandonment of rental units, inevitable under rent control, will not only adversely affect the value of the homeowner’s property but even more importantly, his safety.

We are a proud City. Let us take the chance of reducing ourselves to the humiliation of New York or the devastation of the South Bronx. We strongly urge you to vote No on this initiative and preserve our unique environment.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

Disastrous! Misguided! Legalized Theft!

These terms describe some effects of rent control. If you find them comforting and appealing, then Proposition U deserves your vote. But, if you believe, as a noted economist has stated, that rent control is "the most efficient technique presently known to destroy a city — except for bombing," Proposition U demands your NO vote.

Proposition U threatens San Francisco with all the ill effects rent control has produced in other communities where introduced. Intended as a cure, it is more deadly than the ailment it purports to treat. There is no need for speculative thinking on this. Hard experience testifies to the facts. Under rent control, 260,000 rental units have been lost through abandonment in New York City since 1964. Is New York’s example to be followed here? San Francisco deserves a better fate.

Rent control has also wrought havoc in Washington, D.C. Senator Eagleton (Democrat, Missouri) — not known for his conservatism — concluded, after a study of Washington rent controls, that they provide "an incentive for decay... (Enacted for the best of motives to protect middle and low-income tenants, (they) actually work against the very people they were designed to aid.)" The Washington Star Post, also viewing the Washington scene first-hand, has likened rent control to hard drugs: "Starting is euphoric. Trying to stop is painful. Continuing is disaster."

We are not opposed to landlords sharing tax benefits with tenants. We encourage it whenever the facts justify, and expect it to occur when the time comes. But how can benefits be shared before realized or be evaluated before tax bills are received? Who can predict whether Proposition 13 will survive current legal attacks or when a decision will be forthcoming? Untimely actions often result in regret. Proposition U, if approved, would fit this mold.

California’s legislature recently disapproved rent rollbacks and rebates statewide. How can what was rejected for Californians serve the best interests of San Franciscans? Don’t be misled by false promises.

Spare San Francisco the ravages of rent control. Vote NO on Proposition U.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

Arguments Against Rent Control

Vote No for any rent controls.

Rent Control in any form is not needed for tenants to share in Proposition 13 savings.

Rent Control would discourage new construction, and as a result, many people in the Building Trades would be out of jobs (and this might be you.)

Rent Control is not in the best interest of tenants nor landlords, because between both parties there is a contractual relationship.

The tenant has the right to accept the rental or reject it. The landlord has the right to set a price on his rental unit. It is a fundamental right of contract between the parties.

If the Rent Control Bill is passed, landlords would not be inclined to keep up the quality of their rental units. This would accelerate the deterioration of rental units.

If we want to increase the availability and upgrade the quality of rental units. Rent Control in any form is not the answer.

MILITARY EXPENDITURES

PROPOSITION V
Declaration of Policy: Shall the People of the City and County of San Francisco demand that the Federal Government cease spending our tax money for wasteful military purposes and instead use it to provide the jobs and services that our people so desperately need, thereby creating jobs with peace by cutting the military budget?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: There is no city policy declaration which demands the end of "wasteful" military spending in order to provide more money for jobs and services.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition V would declare that the voters of San Francisco demand that the federal government stop spending tax money for wasteful military purposes and use it instead to provide needed jobs and services.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want it to be the policy of San Francisco to publicly oppose military spending identified as "wasteful" and use the money saved to provide jobs and services for people in this country.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want San Francisco to declare a policy against that military spending.

Controller's Statement on "V"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition V:
If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, it would have no effect in the cost of government.

How Proposition V Got On The Ballot
On August 17th, City Registrar of Voters Thomas Kearney certified that the initiative petition containing Proposition V had qualified for the November ballot. Proposition V is a declaration of policy that calls for a decrease in U.S. Military spending.
Michael C. Miller, the proponent of the initiative, filed 19,397 signatures with Kearney on August 8th. After checking the signatures, Kearney determined that there were 13,760 valid signatures, which is more than 10,562 names needed to put an initiative ordinance on the ballot.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION V

The Federal Government spends almost $200 billion for military and related purposes, up 10% from last year. In contrast, $38 billion is spent on housing and $10 billion on education.

The people of this country suffer under an intolerable tax burden. San Franciscans will pay $789 million in federal income taxes this year of which $435 million will go to the military. This is more than the City's total property taxes before Proposition 13.

The Proposition 13 savings went mostly to business, some to homeowners and none to tenants. The cost has been drastic cuts in schools and other cuts averted only by the State surplus, the continuation of which is tenuous at best.

The real solution to the tax burden is not Proposition 13, layoffs, cutbacks or new taxes, but to change our nation's priorities. Current military spending greatly exceeds any conceivable defensive need. The military is the greatest threat to world peace by exporting $16.3 billion in arms this year and by stationing troops around the world.

Military spending creates fewer jobs than spending in the civilian economy. The Vietnam war and foreign aid show that our tax money has been used to support dictators who suppress political and human rights. The resulting low wages in those countries has caused industry to relocate there and deprive our people of jobs. Military spending has been the major cause of deficit spending, thereby causing inflation.

JOBS WITH PEACE IS THE STRONGEST STATEMENT WE CAN NOW MAKE THAT OUR COUNTRY MOVE TOWARDS PEACE AND REDUCE THE INCREASING WAR PREPARATION AND THE POSSIBILITY OF WAR ITSELF. OUR CHILDREN NEED SCHOOLS. OUR PEOPLE NEED HEALTH CARE, HOUSING, FOOD AND JOBS. OUR NATIONAL SECURITY LIES IN THE WELL-BEING OF OUR PEOPLE. WE DEMAND JOBS WITH PEACE. YES ON V.

Submitted By:
Michael C. Miller

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION V

The labor movement stands for real national security, but it recognizes that the 130 billion military budget contains much waste and fat; it is the only source for adequate funding of jobs programs, housing, health insurance, education, environmental protection and aid to cities. Furthermore, military spending creates only half as many private industry jobs as spending on people's programs. Also military spending is the most inflationary type of government spending. Even large defense unions (Auto workers, Machinists) favor cutting the military budget, along with many other large unions, the Industrial Union Department of AFL-CIO and sixty Bay Area local unions.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION V

"Do you really want your taxes cut? Does inflation rob you of your buying power? Then vote for Proposition V (for the transfer amendment initiative). The big tax rip off is not local but federal. High taxes and inflation, are, in the main, caused by the billions spent on a military machine that creates no consumer goods while eating up America's basic resources. Funds should be transferred from the swollen military budget to provide money for jobs, housing and necessary services to the people."

PROPOSITION W

Declaration of Policy: We, the people of San Francisco, demand that the District Attorney, along with the Chief of Police, cease the arrest and prosecution of individuals involved in the cultivation, transfer, or possession of marijuana.

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Law enforcement officials may arrest and prosecute any individuals they find who are involved in the cultivation, transfer or possession of marijuana.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition W would declare that it is the policy of the people of San Francisco to demand that law enforcement officials stop arresting and prosecuting people who cultivate, transfer or possess marijuana.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want law enforcement officials in San Francisco to stop arresting and prosecuting people who cultivate, transfer or possess marijuana.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want law enforcement officials to continue their present policy of arresting and prosecuting people for marijuana cultivation, transfer or possession.

Controller’s Statement on "W"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition W:
If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, it would not, of itself, affect the cost of government.

How Proposition W Got On The Ballot

On August 17th, City Registrar of Voters Thomas Kearney certified that the initiative petition containing Proposition W had qualified for the November ballot. Proposition W is a declaration of policy that declares it to be City and County policy that persons not be arrested for Marijuana offenses.

Dennis Peron and Rick Ames, the proponents of the initiative, filed 20,800 signatures with Kearney on August 9th. After checking the signatures, Kearney determined that there were 11,840 valid signatures, which is more than the 10,562 names needed to put an initiative ordinance on the ballot.

10,562 represents 5% of the number of people who voted for Mayor in 1973.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION W

In 1972, the voters of San Francisco approved a statewide initiative to decriminalize marijuana possession and cultivation. In 1975, San Francisco voters elected a mayor and district attorney who had campaigned against marijuana law enforcement. For several years, San Francisco voters have been electing state legislators who are strong advocates of marijuana reform.

Yet today, in 1978, the archaic marijuana laws are still being vigorously enforced in San Francisco. Violent crime has dramatically increased, yet the police still enforce a set of laws which most San Francisco voters are opposed to.

Since the passage of Proposition 13 (Jarvis-Gann) millions of dollars have been cut from city services. But no cuts have been made in the non-essential "service" of the arrest and harassment of innocent individuals.

Proposition W does not change the laws.

Proposition W is a message to the elected officials of San Francisco that the voters want to see the campaign promises of the last six years fulfilled. It leaves it up to the elected officials how to do it; but the message is clear to CHANGE OUR PRIORITIES. While marijuana laws can't be ignored without a change in state laws, they can be put at the lowest priority.

The voters of San Francisco have this chance to tell their elected officials what they see as the proper role of city government: to protect your morals, or to protect your rights?

Vote YES on Proposition W.

Dennis Peron,

Eric Garris,

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION W

Proposition W is a policy statement submitted to determine the views of San Francisco voters regarding enforcement of the marijuana laws.

Proposition W calls upon the San Francisco Police Chief and District Attorney to concentrate on the enforcement and prosecution of serious and violent crimes by deemphasizing marijuana offenses. It would help establish a rational and sensible set of law enforcement priorities.

Proposition W would neither legalize nor decriminalize marijuana in San Francisco, as such statutory changes can only be made at the state and federal levels. As a policy statement, Proposition W does not conflict with the constitutional authority of the state legislature to establish penalties and procedures for enforcement of the marijuana laws, but rather serves as an expression of the views of San Francisco voters on appropriate local guidelines.

Because of fiscal restraints imposed on all public agencies — including law enforcement — by Proposition 13 in June, it is essential that our limited law enforcement resources be concentrated on combatting truly serious crimes and not wasted on enforcement of laws against consensual conduct. Police and court time are too valuable to be needlessly expended on marijuana offenses at a time when serious crime is a real problem in San Francisco.

Proposition W is not only right; it makes fiscal sense. Vote "YES" on Proposition W.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION W

(Marijuana Initiative)

A great deal of money and time went into the enforcement of laws against alcohol during Prohibition. Many lives were ruined and many families put through troubled times. The laws were unenforceable, despite the expensive attempts of the government.

Eventually, the majority of people saw better and repealed the Prohibition laws.

Now, we have laws on the books against marijuana. Again, we see millions of dollars spent each year trying to control people from doing what they will do anyway. Each year, we see more states easing the penalties against the use of marijuana. Health experts are coming to the conclusion that smoking marijuana is not harmful or certainly less harmful than alcohol.

Yet we still carry on the books laws against marijuana because of political reasons. Year after year, money is wasted trying to enforce unenforceable laws, money that could be used to deal with far more important problems. Year after year, more people, especially young people, waste their lives in jail for offenses which can hardly be considered criminal.

Proposition W does not stop their enforcement.

All this policy statement is meant to do is to tell the city leaders that San Franciscans don’t want to see valuable police time and money spent enforcing marijuana laws. It will tell city leaders that they should work to change them.

This is a policy statement and nothing more. It says that too many lives have been wasted already because of these laws. It says that too much money has been spent on their enforcement. It says that there is no real crime or hazard in smoking marijuana.

We know from history that allowing people to drink alcohol didn’t turn the entire nation into drunks. The time has come for the same sensibility to be applied to marijuana.

Vote Yes on W.

PROPOSITION X
Shall a Charter Commission be elected to propose a new charter or to revise the charter?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The present City Charter of San Francisco went into effect in 1932. Since then it has been amended many times, but not rewritten in its entirety.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition X would declare that it is the policy of the people of San Francisco to elect a Charter Commission which would meet to write a new or revised Charter for the City.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to have a Charter Commission elected to write a new or revised Charter for San Francisco.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want to create a Charter Commission elected for that purpose.

Controller's Statement on "X"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition X:
If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, the cost of government would be increased by approximately $375,500.

How Proposition X Got On The Ballot
Please note that the Board of Supervisors was mandated by State law to place the above measure on the ballot. The vote by the Supervisors on placing this matter on the ballot was:
"Aye" — Supervisors Dolson, Hutch, Lau, Milk, Molinari, Silver, White,
"No" — Supervisors Feinstein, Gonzales, Kopp, Pelosi.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION X

Many among us believe that San Francisco's government is expensive, inefficient and wasteful. A major cause of this is the City Charter.

The present Charter fragments the responsibility and authority of the Mayor and Board of Supervisors and grants powers to numerous boards and commissions not responsible to the voters. It makes it difficult for citizens to be heard. Most importantly, it requires obsolete budget practices which make it difficult to manage government efficiently. It is estimated that over $20,000,000 could be saved each year by improved data processing, employment practices and related reforms that are not now possible because of the present charter.

The Charter is lengthy and deals with many trivial matters that could be dealt with more effectively through ordinances. Witness the large number of charter amendments in this election.

The Charter was written to handle the problems of the 1930's, not those of today and tomorrow. It is now 47 years old and has been amended over 500 times. The amendments are expensive to print, mail and implement, costing taxpayers much more in the long run than charter modernization would. They have left us with a Charter so confusing that few people understand it.

A YES vote on Proposition X will allow the election of a Charter Commission which will write a new Charter, hold public hearings and submit it to the voters in a future election. If Proposition X passes, voters will elect 15 Charter Commissioners from among the candidates whose names appear elsewhere on this ballot.

The voters, by passing Proposition L last June, showed that they feel it is time to modernize the Charter.

Certain special interests are now saying that the people shouldn't have this opportunity to elect a Commission.

We think it is the time to bring our city government into line with the times and to make it as efficient and effective as the people demand and deserve.

We urge you to vote YES on Proposition X.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION X

It is unconscionable to obligate possibly millions of dollars for this project after Proposition 13. Every extra penny should go to child-care, health services, senior citizens' or handicapped needs, education, parks and libraries. Hopefully, the Controller will now state exact figures. Not only will costs double, but the entire Charter and revisions must be communicated in three languages. There are more satisfactory and economical ways to update our Charter. I urge your emphatic NO vote on Proposition "X".

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION X

Vote "No" on Proposition X

When things go badly in government, the easiest answer is to blame it on the system, instead of the administrators. Our Charter is a sound constitution. It separates powers between the executive (mayor) and the legislative (Board of Supervisors) branches. It contains successful fiscal restraints and checks and procedures to prevent the purloining of the public purse.

The Charter has worked well and can continue to do so, given proper administrators.

Moreover, the establishment, of yet another Charter Commission to redraft the Charter would be time consuming and expensive. You, the voter, should be aware of the costs. They will include money for research, staff salaries, office expenses, materials, printing, postage, and even transportation of witnesses. There will also be the costs of mailing any redrafted Charter PLUS the existing Charter to all voters, in at least three languages, before it is voted on. And, there is no assurance that any redrafted Charter will be approved by the voters. Regardless of the outcome, the Board of Supervisors will be asked to appropriate an undetermined amount of taxpayer's monies for this purpose. The costs will exceed $750,000.

The 1968-72 Charter Revision Commission spent over $160,000 for salaries, office supplies, transportation, repairs and Commissioners' meals. It spent over $400,000 for mailing its proposal to voters. These expenses, over $560,000, were paid by the taxpayers of San Francisco, although the end product, a revised Charter, was disapproved by the electorate.

There have been several committees to revise the Charter. All have failed. The establishment of a new charter revision commission at a time when there is a crying need for fiscal restraint is untimely and unjustified. There are budget cuts in health, education, recreation and other government services. There are sharp increases in fees and charges like the sewer service charge. Approving a proposal to expend upwards of perhaps one million dollars for an unnecessary commission with no determined end result is simply wrong.

((3.595 Regulation of Street Railways

(a) The public utilities commission, subject to the provisions, limitations and restrictions in this chapter contained, shall have power to regulate street railroads, cars and tracks; to permit two or more lines of street railroads operating under different management to use the same street, each paying an equal portion for the construction and repair of the tracks and appurtenances used by the said railways jointly for such number of blocks consecutively, not exceeding ten blocks; to regulate rates of speed and propose such ordinances to the board of supervisors as are necessary to protect the public from danger or inconvenience in the operation of such roads.

No person, firm or corporation shall ever be granted the exclusive right to operate a street or other railroad through, in or under any tunnel, subway or viaduct constructed or acquired by the levy, in whole or in part, of special assessment upon private property for such construction or acquisition. Two or more lines of street railroads operated under different management may use such tunnel, subway or viaduct for the entire length thereof and for five consecutive blocks approaching each end thereof, each management paying an equal portion of the expense for the construction, maintenance and repairs of the tracks and appurtenances used by said railways jointly. The city and county in the operation of a municipal railway may use any such tunnel, subway or viaduct either singly or jointly with any privately operated railway for the entire length thereof and for any number of blocks approaching each end thereof; and in case of joint use of tracks, shall pay an equal portion of the expense for the construction, maintenance and repairs of the tracks and appurtenances used by said railways jointly.

(b) In the conduct of the municipal railway there shall be maintained and operated cable car lines as follows:

(1) A line commencing at Powell and Market Streets; thence along Powell Street to Jackson Street; thence along Jackson Street to Mason Street; thence along Mason Street to Columbus Avenue; thence along Columbus Avenue to Taylor Street; thence along Taylor Street to a terminal at Bay Street; returning from Bay and Taylor Streets along Taylor Street to Columbus Avenue; thence along Columbus Avenue to Market Street; thence along Mason Street to Washington Street; thence along Washington Street to Powell Street; and thence along Powell Street to Market Street, the point of commencement.

(3) A line commencing at Market and California Street to a terminal at Van Ness Avenue; returning from Van Ness Avenue along California Street to Market Street, the point of commencement.

To fully effectuate the intent of this section respecting the cable car lines designated in 1, 2 and 3 above, the public utilities commission shall maintain and operate said lines at the normal levels of scheduling and service in effect on July 1, 1971; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the commission from increasing at any time the said levels of scheduling and service.

The fare on any cable car line shall not exceed the local fare established under the provisions of section 3.598 of this charter for other types of carrier equipment employed in the operation of the San Francisco-Municipal Railway.

(c) In the event of the unification, consolidation or merger of the San Francisco Municipal Railway with any privately owned street railway system or with any portion or facility thereof, no line of street railway, bus line, trolley bus line or cable car line, or any portion thereof, which is now or will be owned by the City and County of San Francisco and is now or will be operated by the agency responsible for public transit, shall be abandoned nor shall the service be discontinued thereon except upon recommendation by such agency in writing, to the board of supervisors. The recommendation of such agency shall be acted upon by the board of supervisors within thirty days from the receipt thereof. For the purpose of hearing such recommendation a public hearing shall be held. If the said recommendation is disapproved by at least nine votes it shall not become effective and such services shall be continued. If said recommendation is not disapproved by nine votes of said board the recommendation shall become effective forthwith. Failure of the board of supervisors to act on said recommendation within thirty days shall be deemed as the approval of said recommendation provided that the agency responsible for public transit may without reference or recommendation to the board of supervisors, abandon or discontinue service on any line of street railway, bus line, trolley bus line, or cable car line, or any portion thereof, which has been in operation for less than one year next immediately preceding such order of abandonment or discontinuance.)

3.596 Utility Accounting

Subject to the provisions of section 3.301, the public utilities commission shall maintain separate accounts for each utility in such manner as to exhibit exact and complete financial results of ownership, management and operation; the actual cost of each utility; all costs of maintenance, extension and improvement; all operating expenses of every description; the general expenses of the commission (and bureaus thereof) apportioned to each such utility; the amount paid or set aside for depreciation, insurance, interest and sinking fund; and estimates of the amount of taxes that would be chargeable against such property and the revenue thereof if privately owned and operated. All accounts shall be maintained in accordance with forms and requirements of the state (railroad) public utilities commission for public utilities engaged in like character of service, in so far as these shall be applicable to publicly owned and operated utilities.

Part Twenty-One: Transportation Commission

3.695 Commission; Composition

There is hereby established a transportation commission which shall consist of five members, to be appointed by the mayor. The term of each commissioner shall expire at twelve o'clock noon on the fifteenth day of January four years after appointment, provided that the first five commissioners to be appointed by the mayor to take office at twelve o'clock noon on January 15, 1979 shall, by lot, classify their terms so that the term of one commissioner shall expire at twelve o'clock noon on each of the first, second and third anniversaries of such date, respectively, and the terms of the remaining two commissioners shall expire at twelve o'clock noon on the fifteenth day of January on the fourth anniversary of said effective date; and on the expiration of these and successive terms of office, the mayor shall appoint commissioners for four-year terms. The mayor may appoint commissioners to serve during the interim between the operative date of this charter amendment and twelve o'clock noon January 15, 1979. The compensation of each commissioner shall be one hundred dollars ($100.00) per month.

All rights, claims, actions, orders, obligations, proceedings and contracts relating to the San Francisco municipal railway under the public utilities commission, street traffic under the department of public works and motor vehicles for hire heretofore regulated by the police department existing prior to the effective date of these amendments shall not be affected by the adoption thereof, and all such rights, claims, actions, orders, obligations, proceedings and contracts shall hereafter be under the jurisdiction of the transportation commission.

3.696 Powers and Duties

The transportation commission shall have the power and duty to provide for an integrated city transportation system, including management and operation of the city's public transit system, regulation of such private transit services as jitneys and taxicabs, street design and traffic operations and regulation of on-street parking and loading, and development of city-owned or operated off-street parking facilities. In furtherance of this intention the parking authority shall, as of the effective date of this amendment, consider only those proposed new parking facilities which have been reviewed and approved by the transportation commission and referred by it to the parking authority.

The transportation commission shall have charge of the department of transportation and succeed to and have all powers and duties with respect to: the management and control of the municipal railway heretofore vested in the public utilities commission; street traffic heretofore vested in the department of public works; and the regulation, control and licensing of motor vehicles for hire heretofore vested in the police commission and department. The commission shall have regulatory powers over such other transportation matters as may hereafter come within the regulatory jurisdiction of the city and county.

The commission shall have charge of the construction, management, operational planning, supervision, maintenance, extension, operation and control of all facilities and other properties used, owned, acquired, leased or constructed by the city and county for the purpose of supplying mass transit service to the city and county and to territory outside the city and county.

The commission shall have powers and duties relating to street traffic, subject to the laws relating thereto, as follows: (a) to cooperate with and assist the chief of police in the promotion of traffic safety education; (b) to receive, study and give prompt attention to complaints relating to street design or traffic devices or the absence thereof; (c) to collect, compile, analyze and interpret traffic and parking data and to analyze and interpret traffic accident information; (d) to engage in traffic research and traffic planning; and (e) to cooperate for the best performance of these functions with any department and agency of the city and county, the state and the federal government as may be necessary.

All proposed plans relating to street traffic control devices shall be submitted to the chief of police for his review and recommendation. Failure of the chief of police to submit to the commission recommendation on any proposed plan within fifteen (15) days after receipt shall be considered an automatic approval of said chief of police.

3.661 General Powers and Duties
(a) The civil service commission shall be the employment and personnel department of the city and county and shall determine appointments on the basis of merit and fitness, as shown by appropriate tests. The commission shall classify and, from time to time may reclassify, in accordance with duties and responsibilities of the employment, and training and experience required, all places of employment in the departments and offices of the city and county not specifically exempted by this charter from the civil service provisions thereof, or which may be created hereafter by general law and not specifically exempted from said civil service provisions. The commission shall likewise classify all other positions or other places of employment in the city and county service specifically exempted from the civil service provisions of this charter, but which, by the provisions of section 8.401, thereof, are made subject to classification for salary standardization purposes on the basis of duties and responsibilities of the employment and training and experience required. The civil service commission shall be the judge of such classification.

The commission shall also, in accordance with duties and responsibilities, allocate, and from time to time may reallocate, the positions to the various classes of the classification. The allocation or re-allocation of a position shall not adversely affect the civil service rights of an occupant regularly holding such position. No person shall hold a position outside of the classification to which he has been appointed, provided that every employee of any department or office shall discharge any of the duties pertaining to such department or office to which his chief may temporarily assign him.

The class titles and class numbers assigned to positions by the commission shall be used in all records, reports, statements and communications, including the compensation schedule, annual budget and salary ordinance, payrolls, and appropriation ordinances.

The commission shall adopt rules to carry out the civil service provisions of this charter and, except as otherwise provided in this charter, such rules shall govern applications; examinations; eligibility; duration of eligible lists; certification of eligibles; appointments; promotions; transfers; resignations; lay-offs or reduction in force, both permanent and temporary, due to lack of work or funds, retirement, or completion of work; the filling of positions, temporary, seasonal and permanent; classification; approval of payrolls; and such other matters as are not in conflict with this charter. The commission may, upon one week's notice, make changes in the rules, which change shall thereafter be printed, and be in force; provided that no such changes in rules shall affect a case pending before the commission. The secretary may certify eligibles and payrolls and conduct examinations under the rules of the commission.

The commissioners shall have power to institute and prosecute legal proceedings for violations of any of the civil service provisions of this charter.

(b) The civil service commission shall establish an inspection service for the purpose of investigating the conduct of and action of appointees in all positions and of securing records of service for promotion and other purposes. All departments shall cooperate with the commission in making its investigations and any person hindering the commission or its agents shall be subject to suspension.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Charter, the civil service commission shall by rule establish procedures to review and resolve allegations of discrimination on the basis of race, religion, sex, national origin, ethnicity, age, physical handicap, political affiliation, sexual orientation, ancestry, marital status, color, medical condition or other non-merit factors. The determination reached under civil service commission procedures shall be final and shall forthwith be enforced by every employee and officer.

8.310, Declaration of Personnel Policy
CONTINUATION OF TEXT PROPOSITION B

(a) All appointments in the public service shall be made for the good of the public service and solely upon merit and fitness, as established by appropriate tests, without regard to partisan, political, social or other considerations. No person shall in any way be favored or discriminated against in employment or opportunity for employment because of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, political affiliation, age, religion, national origin or other non-merit factors.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in subsection (a) or any other provisions of the charter, it shall be the policy of the City and County of San Francisco, consistent with a policy of acquiring qualified personnel for the service of the city and county, to encourage the hiring of blind persons. It shall further be the policy of the City and County of San Francisco that no otherwise qualified blind person shall be discriminated against in examination, re-examination, appointment, reappointment, waiver of eligibility for appointment or reappointment, promotion or demotion in any class, subclass or position in the civil service unless eyesight is indispensable for the performance of the duties and responsibilities of the class, subclass or position. It shall be the duty of the commission to classify, and from time to time it may reclassify, places of employment in the civil service the duties of which may be efficiently performed by qualified blind persons and to conduct appropriate examinations which will fairly test the capacity of blind persons as well as sighted persons to perform such duties.

8.321. Examination of Applicants

All applicants for places in the classified service shall submit to ((tests)) examinations which shall be competitive provided, however, that no ((test)) examination ((in either entrance or promotional examinations)) shall be deemed to be competitive unless two or more persons shall participate, except that any such examination may be held for one qualified applicant on recommendation of the civil service commission and approval by resolution of the board of supervisors, after a finding by the board that reasonable publicity of the proposed examination has been given ((by the civil service commission)). Such ((tests)) examinations shall be without charge to the applicants. The ((tests may be written, oral, mechanical or physical, or any combination of them, practical in character and related to matters)) examinations used shall measure the relative capacities of the persons examined to perform the functions, duties and responsibilities of the classification to which they seek appointment. Examinations shall consist of selection techniques which, evaluated fairly ((to test)) the relative (capacity) qualifications, merit and fitness of the applicants for the position to be filled.

Examinations may include written tests to determine job-related aptitude, knowledge, or achievements and oral tests by qualifications appraisal boards. The civil service commission shall establish rules governing the size and composition of qualifications appraisal board. Qualification appraisal boards may consider, in the case of employees of the City and County of San Francisco, all prior performance evaluations completed on civil service forms and in the case of all applicants may consider prior work experience, assessment center evaluations, and work samples as a part of their evaluation of candidates for employment to any position. Appropriate rosters of eligibles established by a trade, craft or occupation joint apprenticeship committee recognized by the State of California Department of Industrial Relations, Division of Apprenticeship Standards, may be utilized to fill apprenticeship positions or as the basis for establishing apprenticeship eligibility lists. The commission shall be the sole judge of the adequacy of the tests to rate the capacity of the applicants to perform service for the city and county. The commission may, for each examination, establish a passing mark or may determine the total number of persons who shall constitute the list of eligibles. The commission shall prepare from the returns of the examiners the list of eligibles, arranged in order of relative (excellence) performance. No question submitted to applicants shall refer to political or religious opinions or fraternal affiliations.

((Applicants for positions in the mechanical trades and occupations may, in the discretion of the commission, be rated solely on experience and physical qualifications which may be demonstrated by such evidence and in such manner as the commission may direct, and such applicants may be submitted to such further tests as the commission may require.))

8.322. Protest of Written Questions and Answers

After the written portion of a civil service examination has been held, ((and prior to the scoring thereof,)) the questions used and the answers thereto shall be available for review by the participants. This review period shall not apply to questions and answers on any continuous or standardized entrance or concurrent entrance and promotional written test. During the review period, participants shall have an opportunity to protest questions or answers they believe to be incorrect or improper. ((The written portion of the examination shall not be scored until all protested items have been acted on and an official rating key has been adopted.)) After all protested items have been acted on and after the official rating key has been adopted, and the identification sheets have been opened, ((no)) further changes in the rating key shall not be made.

8.323. Protest of Tentative List of Eligibles

Following the completion of any examination, a tentative list of eligibles shall be posted for the inspection of the public and of participants. The posting period shall be for a minimum of three (3) working days for entrance examinations or five (5) working days for promotional or combined entrance and promotional examinations. During this period a fee for the inspection of the papers of each eligible shall be charged by the civil service commission. The amount of such fee shall be established by ordinance of the board of supervisors. The fee shall be waived for eligibles who wish to inspect their own papers. Inspection of papers shall include all documents supporting the eligible's rank and score, except neither the identity of the examiner giving any mark or grade in an oral examination nor the questions and answers on any continuous or standardized entrance or concurrent entrance and promotive written test, shall be provided. Only participants in the examination may review the questions used in the examination. (The civil service commission shall receive any protests concerning rating during the posting period for the purpose of correcting errors.) If no protests are received during the posting period, the eligible list is automatically adopted. If protests are received during the posting period, the investigation and action of the (civil service commission) general manager, personnel, shall be expedited so that final adoption of the eligible list is not delayed beyond sixty (60) days after the date of posting. Eligibles who, as a result of their ranking, would receive a notice of appointment regardless of the outcome of the protest(s) may be offered employment from adopted lists pending the resolution of any protest(s) and amendment to the adopted eligible list.

8.326 Promotions in General

Except as specifically provided for in section 8.327, ((whenever it does it to be practicable, the civil service commission shall provide for promotion in the service on the basis of such examinations and tests as the commission may deem appropriate, and shall, in addition, give consideration to ascertained merit and records of city and county service of applicants. The commission shall announce in the examination scope circular the next lower rank or ranks from which the promotion will be made.) The Civil Service Commission shall provide for examinations on an entrance, promotive or combination entrance and promotive basis. Consideration shall be given to permanent employees in separate promotive examinations and in promotive examinations which are combined with entrance examinations for city and county service when the passing mark has been attained and may include evaluation of work performance and other credits. When an examination announcement is issued for a class on both a promotive and entrance basis, there shall be one resulting list of eligibles which shall include all successful candidates both promotive and entrance in order of relative performance.

8.340 Dismissal During Probation Period

Any person appointed to a permanent position shall ((be on probation for a period of six months)) serve a probationary period. The civil service commission shall by rule establish a probationary period of not less than six months service and up to a maximum of twelve months service for each classification, provided that the probationary period for entrance positions in the uniform rank of the police department, fire department, sheriff's department and San Francisco International Airport Police Force shall be for one year. Probationary periods of twelve months and up to a maximum of twenty-four months may be established for executive and management classifications. At any time during the probationary period the appointing officer may terminate the appointment upon giving written notice of such termination to the employee and to the civil service commission specifying the reasons for such termination. Except in the case of ((uniformed)) members of the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments the civil service commission shall ((inquire into)) review the ((circumstances)) termination. The civil service commission shall by rule establish the procedures for such review. If the appointment resulted from an entrance examination the commission may declare such person dismissed or may return the name to the list of eligibles under such conditions for further appointment as the commission may deem just. If the appointment resulted from a promotional examination the employee shall have the right of appeal and hearing before the civil service commission. The commission shall render a decision within thirty days after receipt of the notice of termination and (a) may declare such person dismissed; or (b) order such person reinstated in his position without prejudice, and the commission may in its discretion order that the employee be paid salary from time of the termination of his appointment; or (c) order the return of such person to ((the)) a position in the classification from which he was promoted and may reestablish the employee's eligibility to a list of eligibles for the same promotive classification under such conditions as the commission may deem just. The decision of the commission shall be final. Immediately prior to the expiration of the probationary period the appointing officer shall report to the civil service commission as to the competence of the probationer for the position, and if competent, shall recommend permanent appointment. Nothing in this section shall preclude the civil service commission from reviewing terminations for the purpose of future employability including terminations in the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments.

8.341. Dismissal for Cause

No person employed under the civil service provisions of this charter, exclusive of members of the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments as provided under section 8.343 hereof, in a position defined by the commission as "permanent" shall be removed or discharged except for cause, upon written charges, and after an opportunity to be heard in his own defense. Pending such hearing, the appointing officer may suspend the person so accused if the accusation against the accused person involves misappropriation of public funds or property, misuse or destruction of public property, drug addiction or habitual intemperance, mistreatment of persons, immorality, acts which would constitute a felony or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or acts which present an immediate danger to the public health and safety; but such suspension shall not be valid for more than thirty days, unless hearing upon the charges shall be delayed beyond such time by the act of the accused person. When charges are made, the appointing officer shall, in writing, notify the person accused of the time and place when the charges will be heard, by mailing such statement to his last known address. The hearing shall be conducted forthwith by a qualified and unbiased hearing officer employed under contract by the city and county and selected by procedures set forth in the rules of the civil service commission. The hearing officer shall publicly hear and determine the charges, and may exonerate, suspend or dismiss the accused.

If the employee is exonerated the hearing officer may, at his discretion, remit the full period of the suspension or any portion thereof and may order payment of salary to the employee for the prescribed period of time under suspension, and the report of such period of suspension shall thereupon be expunged from the record of service of such employee.

The civil service commission shall immediately be notified of the charges when made, of the hearing, and of the finding thereon. The finding of the hearing officer shall be final, unless within thirty days therefrom the dismissed employee appeals to the civil service commission. The appeal shall be in writing and shall briefly state the grounds therefor. The civil service commission shall examine into the case and may require the hearing officer to furnish a record of the hearing and may require any additional evidence it deems material under conditions established by rule of the civil service commission, and may, thereupon, make such decision as it deems just. The order or decision of the commission upon such appeal shall be final and shall forthwith be enforced by the appointing officer. If the civil service commission shall reverse or alter the finding of the hearing officer, it may, in its discretion, order that the employee affected be paid salary from the time of his discharge or suspension.

The civil service commission may hear and determine any charge filed by a citizen or by any member of or ((the)) authorized agent(s) of the commission when the appointing officer neglects or refuses to ((act)) bring such charge against the employee within thirty days of notification to the department head of the occurrence or event given rise to the charge. Removal or discharge may be made for any ((of the following causes: incompetence, habitual intemperance, immoral conduct, insubordination, discourteous treatment of the public, dishonesty, inattention to duties, or engaging in prohibited political activities)) cause upon written charges and after the employee has had the opportunity to be heard in his own defense.

Nothing in this section shall limit or restrict rules adopted by the commission governing lay-offs or reduction in force or providing for the removal of any appointee who has abandoned his position as defined by civil service commission rule.

8.343. Fine, Suspension and Dismissal in Police and Fire Departments

Members of the uniformed ranks of the fire or the police department guilty of any offense or violation of the rules and regulations of their respective departments, shall be liable to be punished by reprimand, or by fine not exceeding one month's salary for any offense, or by suspension for not to exceed three months, or by dismissal, after trial and hearing by the commissioners of their respective departments; provided, however, that the chief of each respective department for disciplinary purposes may suspend (a) such member for a period not to exceed ten days for violation of the rules and regulations of his department. Any such member so suspended shall have the right to appeal such suspension to the fire commission or to the police commission, as the case may be, and have a trial and hearing on such suspension. Written notice of appeal must be filed within 10 days after such suspension and the hearing of said appeal must be held within 30 days after the filing of said notice of appeal. If the commission shall reverse or alter the finding of the chief, it shall in the case of a reversal and in other cases it may in its discretion, order that the member affected be paid salary for the time of his suspension. In the event the chief should exercise such power of suspension, the member involved shall not be subject to any further disciplinary action for the same offense.

Subject to the foregoing members of the uniformed ranks of either department shall not be subject to dismissal, nor to punishment for any breach of duty or misconduct, except for cause, nor until after a fair and impartial trial before the commissioners of their respective departments, upon a verified complaint filed with such commission setting forth specifically the acts complained of, and after such reasonable notice to them as to time and place of hearings as such commission may, by rule, prescribe. The accused shall be entitled, upon hearing, to appear personally and by counsel; to have a public trial; and to secure and enforce, free of expense, the attendance of all witnesses necessary for his defense.

8.344. Exoneration of Charges

If, as provided for in section 8.343 a member of the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments is suspended by the chief of ((police)) the respective department pending hearing before the police or fire commission for charges filed against him and subsequently takes a leave of absence without pay pending his trial before the commission, and, if after such trial he is exonerated of the charges filed against him, the commission may, at its discretion, remit the suspension and leave of absence without pay and may order payment of salary to ((the)) such member for the time under suspension and on leave of absence without pay, and the report of such suspension and leave of absence without pay shall thereupon be expunged from the record of service of such member.

8.361. Military and War Effort Leaves of Absence

Leaves of absence shall be granted to officers and employees of the City and County of San Francisco and non-certificated officers and employees of the San Francisco Unified School District for service in the armed forces of the United States or the State of California or for service on ships operated by or for the United States government in time of war and for such time thereafter as may be provided by rule of the civil service commission, but not to exceed two (2) years after the ((proclamation of peace)) cessation of hostilities, except in case of disability incurred while in active service with the armed forces of the merchant marine when such disability shall extend beyond such period.

The phrase "time of war", wherever it occurs in this section, is defined in Section 8.324 of this Charter.
Whenever any officer or employee of the City and County of San Francisco, or any non-certificated officer or employee of the San Francisco Unified School District shall, by order of the government of the United States or by lawful order of any of its departments or officers, or by lawful order of the State of California, or any of its departments or officers, be directed in time of peace to report and serve in the armed forces of the United States, or in the armed forces of the State of California, said officer or employee shall be entitled to a leave of absence from his office or position during the time of such service and for a period not to exceed three (3) months after the expiration thereof. Officers and employees entering or being inducted into any of the services requiring military leave as provided in this section shall file with the civil service commission a copy of the orders necessitating such service prior to the effective date of the leave of absence. Leaves granted pursuant to the provisions of this and the preceding paragraph of this section shall be designated "military leaves."

The board of supervisors may, on the recommendation of the civil service commission, provide by ordinance that leaves of absence shall be granted to officers and employees during time of war (or during any emergency declared by the President of the United States) for other service directly connected with the prosecution of the war or national defense or preparedness. Leaves granted under authority of ordinances enacted pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph shall be designated "war effort leaves."

In time of war (or emergency declared by the President of the United States or by the Congress), or while any act authorizing compulsory military service or training is in effect, the board of supervisors, upon recommendation of the civil service commission, may provide by ordinance that subject to rules of the civil service commission leaves of absence shall be granted to officers and employees of the City and County of San Francisco and non-certificated officers and employees of the San Francisco Unified School District for sea duty as licensed officers aboard ships operated by or for the United States government.

Any officer or employee on military leave, who, prior to such leave, has been appointed to a permanent position in the city and county service, shall be entitled to resume such position at the expiration of his leave, and in determining and fixing rights, seniority, salary and otherwise, which have accrued and shall inure to the benefit of such officer or employee, the term of military leave shall be considered and accounted a part of his service under the city and county.

Persons serving on active duty, not including reserve service, in the armed forces of the United States or the State of California during time of war (or during any emergency lawfully declared by the President of the United States), who have standing on an eligible list, shall retain their places thereon, and upon presenting an honorable discharge or certificate of honorable active service from such military service within the period of time and subject to the conditions as prescribed by rules of the civil service commission, shall be preferred for appointment for a period of four (4) years after the ((proclamation of peace or the termination of said emergency) cessation of hostilities in the order of standing upon such register at the time of entering such military service and before candidates procuring standing through an examination held subsequent to the entrance of such eligibles into the military service. If while in said military service the names of such persons are reached for certification to permanent positions, appointments shall be made to serve until such persons in the military service shall present to the civil service commission an honorable discharge or certificate of honorable active service within the period of time and subject to the conditions as prescribed by rules of the civil service commission, but not more than one (1) year after the date of discharge of each such eligible, when they shall be certified and assume the duties of positions in said class and their certification to said position for all purposes of seniority shall be deemed to be the date when their names on such eligible lists were reached for certification, provided that each appointee to a position shall serve such probationary period as is required in section 8.340 of this charter, and provided that such employee while serving on such probation shall be permitted to participate in any promotional examination to which his classification is eligible but shall not be entitled to certification by virtue of such promotional examination prior to satisfactory completion of said probationary period and provided further that no such persons shall be certified to entrance positions in the uniformed ranks of the police department ((and fire departments under this provision)) who are more than thirty-five (35) years of age or in the fire department who are more than thirty-two (32) years of age unless the names of such persons were reached for certification to such positions before such persons reached said age.

Persons who participate in a regular written civil service examination and who by reason of their active services in time of war in the ((Army, Navy or Marine Corps)) United States Army, United States Navy, United States Marine Corps, United States Air Force, or United States Coast Guard are unable to complete all parts of the examination and who present their orders or other competent proof of service in the same manner as is required of eligibles, shall acquire standing on eligible lists in accordance with the relative excellence attained by participation in the part or parts of the examinations already completed; provided that upon presenting their honorable discharges or certificates of honorable active service within the time limits specified in this section covering eligibles, they must qualify in the remainder of the examinations. When qualified they shall be certified as of the date they would have been reached for certification in accordance with the relative excellence attained by their participation in the entire examination.

The civil service commission shall adopt rules to govern the administration of leaves as herein provided and to govern lay-offs occasioned by the return of officers, employees, or eligibles who have been appointed and granted leave or certified as provided in this section.

The provisions of this section 8.517 do not and shall not entitle any person retired under the retirement system to be re-employed.

SEC. 4. Examination. Upon receipt of an application filed pursuant to this ordinance, the Executive Director of the Art Commission shall transmit the same to the Advisory Committee. Such examination shall take place first at the regular screening meeting of the Advisory Committee, and, for the purposes of further investigation, the Advisory Committee may designate one or more of its members to visit a studio or workshop of the applicant. unit in accordance with the Screening Guidelines established by the Art Commission and referred to in paragraph (g) of Section 1 of this Ordinance. Upon completion of such review and examination, the Advisory Committee shall make a report and recommendation to the Executive Director of the Art Commission who shall fix a date for Art Commission consideration and action upon said application and shall notify the applicant of said date.

SEC. 5. Issuance of Certificate; Establishment of Waiting List; Nontransferability of Certificate. If the applicant's examination is satisfactory, the Art Commission, if it shall have no good cause for denying approval of an application, shall direct the Executive Director of the Art Commission (a) to issue a Street Artist Certificate to the applicant upon payment of the certificate fee fixed by this Ordinance or (b) to place such applicant's name on a waiting list for such a certificate. The Art Commission, within the limits provided by Section 12 of this Ordinance, is authorized to establish, if it shall deem such action appropriate, a maximum number of Street Artist Certificates which shall be outstanding at any time, provided, however, that any such maximum number shall never be less than that number of such certificates outstanding on the 1st day of January, 1978. In the event that such maximum number of certificates shall be outstanding, the Art Commission shall establish a waiting list of applicants whose works shall have been examined, by order of the date on which applications shall have been submitted. Whenever there is less than such maximum number of certificates outstanding, the Art Commission, if it shall have no good cause to do otherwise, shall direct the Executive Director of the Art Commission to issue a certificate to the next eligible applicant on the waiting list.

The Street Artist Certificate shall be duly signed by the Executive Director of the Art Commission and by the artist (or in the case of a Handicapped Rehabilitation Group, by a coordinator thereof) and shall show thereon that the person named therein (or the Handicapped Rehabilitation Group) passed the examination and is entitled to engage in the display and sale of the specific art or craft items set forth in said certificate in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance. Such certificate shall contain a photograph of the street artist (except in the case of a certificate issued to a Handicapped Rehabilitation Group) with the number of the certificate in figures plainly discernible. The Art Commission, or its designee, shall determine the manner and form of any other information that may be placed upon this certification card. The certification card shall be displayed in a prominent location by the Street Artist at all times when said Street Artist is selling or soliciting offers to purchase any art or craft work. The photograph shall be furnished by the street artist.

Any Street Artist Certificate issued pursuant to the terms of this Ordinance cannot be transferred to any other person as defined in this Ordinance.

SEC. 6. Conditional Street Artist Certificate. The Art Commission is authorized to establish, if it shall deem such action advisable and appropriate, no more than 100 hundred (100) Conditional Street Artist Certificates which shall entitle holders to exercise the rights, privileges and powers of Street Artists subject to the same duties, restrictions and responsibilities as those imposed on Street Artists, except that holders of the Conditional Street Artist Certificates may exercise such rights, privileges and powers on selling spaces allotted by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors for use by Street Artists only where such spaces are unoccupied by a holder of a Street Artist Certificate up to the hour of 12:00 o'clock noon of any day. After 12:00 o'clock noon of any day, no Street Artist may validly claim a selling space against a holder of a Conditional Street Artist Certificate who has earlier begun to set up his or her display. The Art Commission shall have the authority to establish whatever rules and regulations it shall deem necessary and reasonable to allot available selling areas for use by holders of Conditional Street Artist Certificates.

A Conditional Street Artist Certificate shall be substantially the same in form as the Street Artist Certificate with the insertion of the word “Conditional” appearing on the face before the word “Certificate”.

The Conditional Street Artist Certificate shall require payment of the same certificate fee required for the Street Artist Certificate and shall be issued to applicants for the Street Artist Certificate in the order that applications shall or would be assigned to the Street Artist Waiting List, and the holder of a Conditional Street Artist Certificate and a person who refuses a Conditional Street Artist Certificate maintains, for all purposes, his or her position on such waiting list.

SEC. 7. Certificate Fee; Period. The fee for any certificate issued pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance shall be twenty dollars ($20), and said certificate shall be valid for a period of three months from the date of issuance. The Board of Supervisors is authorized to increase this fee by ordinance, upon receiving competent information that such increase is necessary and proper. With the passage of this ordinance, the certificates of all Street Artists and Craftpersons duly certified by the Art Commission, in accordance with the provisions of Ordinance 483-75, shall remain valid until the date of expiration listed therein.

SEC. 8. Renewal of Certificate. All certificate renewals shall be made automatically upon payment of the fee, unless the Art Commission determines in its discretion that additional examination is warranted, in which case the Street Artist's Certificate in issue shall continue in full force and effect pending the outcome of such examination. All Street Artists or Craftpersons must renew certificates in person, within ten (10) office work days prior to or after the certificate's date of expiration. Failure to renew results in forfeiture of the certificate. A Street Artist or Craftperson who has forfeited his certificate in this manner and wishes to obtain a new certificate must reapply, and the application shall be placed at the end of the list of applicants waiting to be examined.

SEC. 9. Revocation or Denial of Certificates; Appeal. Any certificate issued pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance may be revoked by the Art Commission for good cause shown; any application for a certificate to be issued pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance may be denied by the Art Commission for good cause shown. The Street Artists Program shall advise the certificate holder or the certificate applicant of the revocation or the denial, in writing, which writing shall clearly set forth the grounds for the revocation or denial.

A Street Artist or Craftperson aggrieved by the Advisory Committee’s action shall have the right to appeal the decision to the Art Commission. An appeal may be taken by filing with the Commission a written statement setting forth in full the grounds for appeal. The Commission is authorized to issue such regulations as may be reasonable and necessary to hear and determine such appeals. Such regulations, which shall be in writing, shall be available to any person so requesting them. A Street Artist or Craftperson aggrieved by action of the Art Commission shall have the right to appeal to the Board of Permit Appeals.

SEC. 10. Regulating Street Artists and Craftpersons.

It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, offer for sale, expose for sale, or solicit offers to purchase, any art or craft work of his own creation on any public street or public place in a space where such activities are permitted, unless duly certified as a Street Artist or Craftperson pursuant to the provisions of this Ordinance.

(a) The Art Commission shall establish procedures for monitoring and regulating certificate-holders pursuant to Section 10 of this ordinance and shall have the duty to enforce those regulations.

SEC. 12. Designation of Sales Areas.

(a) The Board of Supervisors, by resolution after public hearings thereon, shall designate areas in or on any public street or public place where any Street Artist or Craftperson certified pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance may sell, offer for sale, expose for sale, or solicit offers to purchase any art or craft item of the street artist’s own creation; provided, however, that any designation of an area in a public place under the jurisdiction of an officer, board, or commission of the City and County shall be subject to the approval of such officer, board, or commission. In designating such areas, the Board of Supervisors may, by ordinance, impose such conditions and limitations as, in its discretion, are reasonable, proper and necessary to prevent any undue interference with normal pedestrian or vehicular traffic or any damage to surrounding property, including interference with use, view, or enjoyment of public parks.

(b) The Board of Supervisors shall establish a reasonable number of individual spaces for certificate-holders, not less than the number of spaces available on January 1, 1978, assuring that there is at all times a ratio of at least five spaces to seven certificate-holders. The spaces designated by the Board shall remain fixed unless altered by resolution by said Board.

In the event that the maximum number of certificates have been issued, no additional certificates shall be issued until either a certificate-holder forfeits his certificate or the Board of Supervisors designates additional sales spaces or areas, at which time the number of available certificates shall be issued to persons on the basis of their position on the waiting list and then, if there are fewer names on the waiting list than there are certificates available, to applicants satisfying the examination requirements of Section 4 of this Ordinance and whom the Art Commission shall approve.

SEC. 13. Repeal. The ordinance relative to certificates for Street Artists and Craftpersons, approved by the electorate as Proposition “L” on the ballot for the election held in the City and County of San Francisco on November 4, 1975, is hereby repealed.

TEXT OF PROPOSED ORDINANCE

AMENDING ORDINANCE NO. 245-68 (BUSINESS TAX ORDINANCE) BY REPEALING ORDINANCE NO. 371-78, WHICH REPEALED ORDINANCE NO. 298-78 ESTABLISHING BUSINESS TAX RATES ON JUNE 30, 1978, AND BY ADDING SECTION 4.16 THERETO; PROVIDING FOR TAX CREDITS; AMENDING ORDINANCE NO. 275-78 (PAYROLL EXPENSE TAX ORDINANCE) BY REPEALING ORDINANCE NO. 369-78, WHICH REPEALED ORDINANCE NO. 297-78 ESTABLISHING THE PAYROLL TAX RATE ON JUNE 30, 1978, AND BY ADDING SECTION 3.1 THERETO, PROVIDING FOR TAX CREDITS; AMENDING ORDINANCE TO 315-67 (REAL PROPERTY TRANSFER TAX ORDINANCE) BY REPEALING ORDINANCE NO. 370-78 WHICH REPEALED ORDINANCE NO. 296-78, ESTABLISHING THE REAL PROPERTY TRANSFER RATE ON JUNE 30, 1978, AND BY ADDING SECTION 2.8 PROVIDING FOR TAX CREDITS; PROVIDING PROCEDURES FOR AMENDMENT.

Be it ordained by the people of the City and County of San Francisco:

Section 1. This ordinance shall be known as the “San Francisco Home Rule Preservation Ordinance.”

Section 2. Findings: The adoption of Proposition 13 by the voters of the State of California at the June 6, 1978 primary election, placed severe limitation on the power of local governmental entities to levy and collect taxes sufficient to fund the cost of necessary municipal services. The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco has adopted various tax measures to raise revenues from non-property tax sources. In 1967 the Board of Supervisors instituted a tax on the sale of real property; in 1968 a business tax based on gross receipts was enacted; and, in 1970 a business tax based on total payroll was adopted which provided that a business pay either a tax based on gross receipts or payroll. To insure adequate income during the post-Proposition 13 adjustment period, the Board of Supervisors adopted amendments to said tax ordinances, effective June 30, 1978. However, the tax measures (Ordinances 296-78, 297-78, and 298-78) were repealed, effective August 7, 1978.

The people of the City and County of San Francisco hereby find that additional revenues may be required by the City and County of San Francisco to provide necessary municipal services during this period of national and international monetary inflation. Therefore, the rate of tax set forth in the ordinances which became effective on June 30, 1978 should be imposed. The people of the City and County of San Francisco further find that because the relief acts adopted by the State of California for the fiscal year 1978-1979 will insure sufficient levels of funding for municipal services for this fiscal year, a portion of the tax previously imposed by said tax ordinances should not be collected by the City and County of San Francisco during the 1978-1979 fiscal year and therefore taxpayers should be permitted to subtract a tax credit from their total tax liability pursuant to said ordinances.

Section 3. Incorporation By Reference: The provisions of Ordinance No. 245-68 as amended (Business Tax Ordinance), Ordinance No. 275-70 as amended (Payroll Tax Ordinances) and Ordinance No. 315-67 as amended (Real Property Transfer Tax Ordinance) are incorporated by reference herein as if fully set forth.

Section 4. Ordinance No. 245-68 (Business Tax Ordinance) is hereby amended by repealing Ordinance No. 371-78. Sections 4.01, 4.02, 4.03, 4.04, 4.05, 4.06, 4.07, 4.08, 4.09, 4.10, 4.11, 4.12, 4.13 and 4.15 as set forth in Ordinance No. 245-68 as amended, on the 30th day of June, 1978 are hereby reinstated.

Section 5. Ordinance No. 245-68 (the Business Tax Ordinance) is hereby amended by adding Section 4.16 thereto, to read as follows:

Sec. 4.16. Tax Credits. Any person paying a tax imposed by sections 4.01, 4.02, 4.03, 4.04, 4.05, 4.06, 4.07, 4.08, 4.09, 4.10, 4.11, 4.12, 4.13 and 4.15 of this ordinance shall be entitled to a tax credit, which may be subtracted from the total tax due only at the time of filing, pursuant to Section 9 hereof. Said credit shall be computed except for those persons taxed pursuant to Sections 4.05, 4.08, 4.10, 4.12 and 4.13 by subtracting twenty-six and sixty-seven hundredths (26.7%) of the tax due pursuant to this ordinance on gross receipts received on or after the 30th day of June, 1978 through the 30th day of June, 1979, from that portion of the annual tax liability computed at the tax rates imposed on the 30th day of June, 1978.

For those persons taxed pursuant to Section 4.05 hereof the tax credit shall be computed by subtracting twenty-five percent (25%) of the tax due pursuant to this ordinance on gross receipts received on or after the 30th day of June, 1978 through the 30th day of June, 1979 from that portion of the annual tax liability computed at the tax rate imposed on the 30th day of June, 1978.

For those persons taxed pursuant to Section 4.10 or 4.13 hereof the tax credit shall be computed by subtracting twenty-five percent (25%) of the minimum tax due and twenty-six and sixty-seven hundredths percent (26.67%) of the tax due on additional gross receipts pursuant to this ordinance on gross receipts received on or after the 30th day of June 1978 through the 30th day of June 1979 from that portion of the annual tax liability computed at the tax rates imposed on the 30th day of June 1978.

For those persons taxed pursuant to Section 4.12(c) (1) hereof, the tax credit shall be computed as follows:

Where the unladen weight is 4,000 pounds or less subtract twenty-eight and six-tenths percent (28.6%) of the tax due pursuant to this ordinance for days of use on or after the 30th day of June 1978 through the 30th day of June 1979 from that portion of the annual tax liability computed at the tax rate imposed on the 30th day of June 1978.

Where the unladen weight is over 4,000 pounds and not more than 8,000 pounds, subtract twenty-six and sixty-seven hundredths percent (26.67%) of the tax due pursuant to this ordinance for days of use on or after the 30th day of June 1978 through 30th day of June 1979 from that portion of the annual tax liability computed at the tax rate imposed on the 30th day of June 1978.

Where the unladen weight is over 8,000 pounds subtract twenty-five percent (25%) of the tax pursuant to this ordinance for days of use on or after the 30th day of June 1978 through the 30th day of June 1979 from that portion of the annual tax liability computed at the tax rate imposed on the 30th day of June 1978.

For those persons taxed pursuant to Section 4.12(c) (2) hereof, the tax credit shall be computed by subtracting twenty-five percent (25%) of the tax due pursuant to this ordinance for days of use on or after the 30th day of June 1978 through the 30th day of June 1979 from that portion of the annual tax liability computed at the tax rate imposed on the 30th day of June 1978.

Section 6. Ordinance No. 275-70 (Payroll Expense Tax Ordinance) is hereby amended by repealing Ordinance No. 369-78. Section 3 as set forth in Ordinance 275-70 as amended, on the 30th day of June 1978 is hereby reinstated.

Section 8. Ordinance No. 315-67 (Real Property Transfer Tax Ordinance) is hereby amended by repealing Ordinance No. 370-78. Sections 2 and 3 as set forth in Ordinance No. 315-67 as amended, on the 30th day of June, 1978 are hereby reinstated.

Said credit shall be computed by subtracting sixty-six and six-tenths percent (66.6%) of the tax due pursuant to this ordinance from said tax liability.

Any person who paid a tax imposed by this ordinance on or after June 30, 1978 at the rate of seven dollars and fifty cents ($7.50) for each five hundred dollars ($500) or fractional part thereof, and who did not compute a tax credit when making payment may file a claim for said credit with the Recorder's Office within thirty days of the enactment of this ordinance and said credit shall be paid when approved by the authorized representatives of Recorder and Controller.

TEXT OF PROPOSED ORDINANCE

PROPOSITION 5

AMENDING ORDINANCE NO. 155-78, SALARY STANDARDIZATION ORDINANCE, FISCAL YEAR 1978-79, CHARTER SECTIONS 8.400, 8.401 AND 8.407, MISCELLANEOUS EMPLOYEES, PURSUANT TO CHARTER SECTION 9.108(b), TO REFLECT ADDITIONAL RATES AND WORKING CONDITIONS FOR EMPLOYEES REPRESENTED BY THE SHEET METAL WORKERS INTERNATIONAL UNION, LOCAL NO. 104, BASED UPON THE LAST DEMANDS OF SAID EMPLOYEES.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco:

Section I. Pursuant to the provisions of Charter Section 9.108(b), Ordinance No. 155-78, Salary Standardization Ordinance, Fiscal Year 1978-79, Charter Sections 8.400, 8.401 and 8.407, Miscellaneous Employees, is hereby amended by adding Section XIX thereto, reading as follows:

Section XIX

Notwithstanding any provisions of this ordinance to the contrary, and based upon the last demand of employees represented by the Sheet Metal Workers International Union, Local No. 104, said employees shall be entitled to additional working conditions as follows:

Five (5) consecutive days Monday to Friday inclusive, a normal work day is a tour of eight (8) hours completed within eight-and-one-half (8½) hours.

A regular tour of duty may commence at a time not earlier than 6:00 a.m. and all regular tours of duty shall conclude not later than 4:30 p.m.
The people of the City and County of San Francisco do ordain as follows:

Section 1. Title. This ordinance shall be called the San Francisco Renters' Property Tax Rebate Ordinance of 1978.

Section 2. Statement of Purpose. The People of the City and County of San Francisco find that there currently exists in San Francisco a growing shortage of rental housing units, a critically low vacancy rate, rapidly rising and exorbitant rents resulting from this shortage, and a significant percentage of residential tenants paying excessive portions of their income for rent. The People also find that landlords are presently making a just and reasonable return on their property investment and that landlords receive substantial benefits from ownership of rental property through state and federal tax savings, appreciation in property values and/or rental income. The People also find that high rents constitute a serious problem affecting the health, welfare, lives and businesses of a substantial proportion of residential and commercial occupants of rental property in San Francisco. In order to alleviate this serious problem, to guarantee that both residential and commercial tenants receive their fair share of the benefits resulting from the enactment of Article XIII A of the California Constitution, to protect tenants against evictions designed to circumvent this ordinance, and to further guarantee that landlords receive a fair return on investment and charge fair rents, landlords will be required to pass on to residential and commercial tenants the reduction in real property taxes established by Article XIII A of the California Constitution.

Section 3. Definitions. In this ordinance, the following words have the meanings indicated:

(a) Improvement means a valuable addition or change in a property's condition, amounting to more than mere repairs or replacement of waste, which necessitates the expenditure of labor or capital, and which is intended to enhance the value, beauty, utility or safety of property.

(b) Landlord means any person entitled to receive rent for the use or occupancy of any regulated rental unit, and includes an owner, lessor, sublessor or agent thereof.

(c) Property means a parcel of real property, including buildings and improvements, containing one or more regulated rental units, which is assessed and taxed as an undivided whole.

(d) Regulated Rental Units mean all rental units in the City and County of San Francisco including all rental units constructed after the date of adoption of this ordinance except:

(i) residential rental units in hotels, motels, inns, tourist homes and rooming and boarding houses which are rented primarily to transient guests for a period of less than 14 days;

(ii) residential rental units in any hospital, convalescent, maconastery, extended medical care facility, asylum, non-profit home for the aged, or dormitory owned and operated by an institution of higher education;

(iii) residential rental units which a government unit, agency or authority owns, operates, manages or in which governmentally-subsidized tenants reside if applicable Federal and/or State law or administrative regulation specifically exempts such units from rent regulation;

(iv) non-residential units with rental agreements in which there are percentage or escalator clauses in which rent varies with the business income of the tenant or the amount of property tax paid for the property;

(v) rental units for which the tenant pays or is directly responsible for payment of the entire property tax under the terms of the rental agreement; or

(vi) property which is exempt from property taxation.

(e) Rent means any payment demanded or received for in connection with occupancy of regulated rental units or the transfer of a lease for units. Rent includes but is not limited to payments demanded or paid for parking, pets, furniture and subletting.

(f) Rental Agreement means an agreement, verbal, written or implied, between a landlord and tenant for use or occupancy of a regulated rental unit and for services.

(g) Rental Unit means any property, building, structure, or part thereof rented or offered for rent for living, dwelling or commercial purposes, together with all services connected with the use or occupancy of the property.

(h) Services mean repairs, replacement, maintenance, painting, providing light, heat, hot and cold water, elevator service, window shades and screens, storage, kitchen, bath and laundry facilities and privileges, janitorial services, refuse removal, furnishings, telephone, parking and any other benefit, privilege or facility connected with the use or occupancy of any rental unit. Services of a rental unit include a proportional part of services provided to common facilities of the building in which the rental unit is contained.

(i) Tenant means any person entitled under the terms of a rental agreement to the use or occupancy of a regulated rental unit.

Section 4. One Month Rent Stabilization, and One Year Property Tax Savings Rebate.

(a) One Month Rent Stabilization. For the month of December, 1978, a landlord may not charge a rent in excess of the base rent calculated pursuant to Section 5 of this ordinance for any regulated rental unit, except that a landlord may pass-through costs as allowed in subsections (d) and (e) of Section 6.

(b) One Year Property Tax Savings Rebate. For calendar year 1979, landlords may not charge a rent in excess of the Adjusted Base Rent calculated pursuant to Section 6 of this ordinance for any regulated rental unit.

Section 5. Establishment of Base Rent.

(a) Base Rent. A base rent shall be computed for each regulated rental unit. Except as provided in subsections (b) and (c) of this Section, the base rent for any regulated rental unit is the monthly rent in effect for that unit on June 6, 1978. If rent was not charged for any tenant-occupied unit on June 6, 1978, the base rent is the first monthly rent demanded and paid for that unit after June 6, 1978.

(b) Base Rent If Rent Not Paid Monthly. If the terms of a lease regarding payment specify a fixed sum which is paid other than on a monthly basis, rent shall be averaged for the period January 1, 1978, through August 31, 1978, to establish the monthly base rent.

Section 6. Calculation of Adjusted Base Rent.

(a) Calculation of Adjusted Base Rent. The adjusted base rent for any regulated rental unit is:
(i) the base rent as calculated under Section 5 of this ordinance minus
(ii) the unit's proportionate share of the property tax saving as described in subsection (c) of this Section plus
(iii) either a percentage adjustment for inflation or a cost pass-through for municipal taxes and fees, improvements, maintenance and repair as described in subsection (d) of this Section.

(b) Calculation of Property Tax Saving. When a landlord receives a property tax bill for tax year 1977-78, the landlord shall subtract the property tax owed in the tax year 1978-79 from the tax owed in tax year 1977-78. If the amount of tax owed in tax year 1977-78 is smaller than or equal to the amount owed in tax year 1978-79, the property is exempt from this ordinance. If the amount of tax owed in tax year 1977-78 is greater than the amount owed in 1978-79, the difference is the property tax saving for the property.

(c) Calculation of Each Regulated Rental Unit's Share of Property Tax Saving. Each regulated unit shall share in the property tax saving in a proportion which is equal to the ratio of the base rent for that unit to the sum of the base rents for all regulated units on the property. (For the purpose of calculating the total base rent for a property, a landlord may add to the total base rent for all tenant-occupied regulated rental units an estimated base rent for any manager- or owner-occupied unit, which represents the fair market rental value of the unit on June 6, 1978.)

(d) Inflation Cushion Or Cost Pass-Throughs. In order to allow landlords a just and reasonable return on their property, landlords may add to the difference between the base rent and the property tax rebate either: (1) in the months of January, April, July and October, 1979, a percentage rent adjustment for inflation which does not exceed the average percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index for Revised Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers in the San Francisco-Oakland Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area for the previous 5 bi-monthly reporting periods, multiplied by 1.5 or (2)-a sum representing costs actually paid by the landlord after June 6, 1978, for:
(i) increases in county and municipal taxes and fees related to the operation of the regulated rental property;
(ii) increases in maintenance and operating expenses; and
(iii) improvements.

(e) Cost Pass-Through Pro-Rated. If a landlord passes through the costs of maintenance and operating expenses or improvements under subsection (d) of this section, the landlord may not pass through a monthly rent increase greater than an amount equal to the cost of the expense or improvement pro-rated over the reasonably expected life of the expense or improvement, not exceeding 20 years, and pro-rated for each rental unit benefited by the expense or improvement in a ratio equal to the regulated rental unit's share of the property tax saving as calculated pursuant to subsection (c) of this Section.

(f) Rounding Off. In order to simplify bookkeeping under this ordinance, the adjusted base rent for any unit as determined by this Section shall be rounded off to the nearest dollar amount.

Section 7. Disclosure Requirements.
(a) Disclosure Of Rent Calculations. On or before January 1, 1979, a landlord shall notify the tenant occupying a regulated rental unit of the property tax saving, the property tax rebate, and the adjusted base rent for each regulated rental unit as determined according to this ordinance. Such notice shall be substantially as follows:

"Notice of Total Rental Unit Property Tax Savings and Rent Reduction"
In accordance with the City and County of San Francisco Renters' Property Tax Rebate Ordinance of 1978, this notice informs you of a required reduction in rent for the rental unit located at (address). The amount of rent reduction has been determined as follows:
The total 1977-78 property tax which was due for the property which includes your rental unit was (amount) dollars. The total 1977-78 property tax due for this property is (amount) dollars. The difference, or total property tax savings for this property, reflecting the passage of Proposition 13 on June 6, 1978, amounts to (amount) dollars.
The total Base Rent for the property which includes your rental unit, as determined by rents in effect on June 6, 1978, is (amount) dollars. (If appropriate: This total Base Rent includes an estimated Base Rent for manager- and/or owner-occupied units. This estimated Base Rent is: (amount).)
The Base Rent for your rental unit is (amount) dollars, which is equal to (number) percent of the total Base Rent for the Property. This percentage, multiplied by the total rental property tax relief for the property, is your property tax rebate for the year, of (amount) dollars.
Your adjusted monthly base rent, starting January 1, 1979, will be the base rent, (amount) minus your property tax rebate of (amount).

You may inspect the property tax bills for 1977-1978 and 1978-1979 and a list of rents for each unit on the property at (address) at the following times: (days and times), or by appointment (phone).

Date:
Signature of Owner:

(b) Disclosure of Increased Costs Resulting In Increased Rent. If, from December 1, 1978 through December 31, 1979, the landlord raises rent pursuant to the provisions of subsections (d) and (e) of Section 6 of this ordinance above the rent allowed by Section 4 of this ordinance, the landlord shall notify the tenant in writing of the nature and amount of expenses which justify the increase. The landlord shall also notify the tenant in writing of reasonable times and places when and where the tenant or the tenant's representative may examine the books, records and receipts of the landlord documenting the cost increase.

(c) Notification To New Tenants. Landlords shall provide within 15 days of the commencement of occupancy all information listed in subsections (a) and (b) of this Section to any tenant who commences occupancy of any regulated rental unit after November 30, 1978 and before December 31, 1979.
Section 8. Evictions.

(a) Just Cause for Eviction. In order to insure that tenants of regulated units do not lose benefits guaranteed under this ordinance, no landlord shall be granted recovery of possession of a regulated rental unit for the duration of this ordinance unless:

(i) the tenant has failed to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled under the terms of this ordinance;

(ii) the tenant has violated an obligation or covenant of his or her tenancy other than the obligation to surrender possession upon proper notice and has failed to cure such violation after having received written notice thereof from the landlord;

(iii) the tenant is committing or expressly permitting to exist a nuisance in or is causing substantial damage to the regulated rental unit, or is creating a substantial interference with the comfort, safety or enjoyment of the landlord or other occupants of the property;

(iv) the tenant is convicted of using or expressly permitting a regulated rental unit to be used for any illegal purpose;

(v) the tenant, who has a rental agreement which has terminated, has refused, after written request or demand by the landlord, to execute a written extension or renewal of the agreement for a further term of the same duration and in such terms as are not inconsistent with or violate any provisions of this ordinance and are materially the same as in the previous agreement;

(vi) the tenant has refused the landlord reasonable access to the regulated rental unit for the purpose of making necessary repairs or improvements required by the laws of the United States, the State of California or any subdivision thereof, or for the purpose of inspection as permitted or required by the rental agreement or by law or for the purpose of showing the rental unit to any prospective purchaser or mortgagee;

(vii) the tenant holding at the end of the term of the rental agreement is a sub-tenant not approved by the landlord;

(viii) the landlord seeks to recover possession in good faith for use and occupancy of herself or himself, or her or his child, parent, brother, sister, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, or daughter-in-law; or

(ix) the landlord seeks to recover possession to demolish or otherwise remove the regulated rental unit from use after having obtained all proper permits from the City and County of San Francisco.

(b) Protection Against Retaliatory Eviction. It shall be a defense to any action to recover possession or be granted recovery of possession of a regulated rental unit that a motive for the eviction is in retaliation for the tenant's reporting violations of this ordinance, or for exercising rights granted under this ordinance, including the right to withhold rent granted under Section 10 of this ordinance.

(c) Eviction Defense. It shall be a defense to any action to recover possession or be granted recovery of possession of any regulated rental unit on the basis of non-payment or rent that a tenant in good faith withheld rental payments under subsections (a) and (b) of Section 10, so long as the tenant is willing to pay, and does pay, any withheld rent lawfully due under the provisions of this ordinance into court during the pendency of the action, unless relieved by court order.

Section 9. Non-Waiverability. Any provision in or pertaining to a rental agreement whereby any provision of this ordinance for the benefit of a landlord or tenant is waived is against public policy and void.

Section 10. Tenant's Civil Remedies.

(a) Remedies For Unlawful Rent Increases. If a landlord demands, accepts, receives or retains any payment in excess of the maximum lawful rent permitted by this ordinance, a tenant may:

(i) upon written notification to the landlord, withhold one-quarter of the rental payments set forth in the rental agreement in effect at the time the demand for additional rent is made. After the landlord receives such notice, and in conjunction with the filing of an action by the landlord for non-payment of rent under California Civil Code Section 1161 et. seq., the landlord may request, and the court may order, the tenant to deposit the withheld rent with the court, to be held until the resolution of the action;

(ii) recover from the landlord damages plus reasonable attorney's fees and costs as determined by the court. The court may award damages in an amount up to three times the amount by which the payment or payments demanded or received exceed the maximum lawful rent under this ordinance;

(iii) seek injunctive relief for the enforcement of this ordinance.

(b) Remedies For Landlord's Failure To Notify Tenant As Required Under Section 7 Of This Ordinance. If a landlord fails to give notice to a tenant as required in Section 7 of this ordinance, a tenant may exercise the rights granted under subsections (a)(i) and (a)(iii) of this Section, in addition to any other remedies afforded by law or otherwise.

Section 11. Criminal Penalties. Any landlord who is found guilty of a willful violation of this ordinance shall be subject to up to a five hundred dollar ($500) fine for a first offense and up to a three thousand dollar ($3000) fine for any subsequent offenses.

Section 12. Partial Invalidity and Effective Date.

(a) Partial Invalidity. If any provision of this ordinance or application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, this invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this ordinance which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this extent the provisions of this ordinance are declared to be severable. This ordinance shall be liberally construed to achieve the purposes of this ordinance and to preserve its validity.

(b) Effective Date. This ordinance shall take effect immediately and shall expire on December 31, 1979.

If for any reason implementation of this ordinance is postponed, the rent rebates due to tenants shall be paid retroactively in a lump sum for all months during which the operation of the ordinance has been stayed. The landlord shall pay retroactive rent rebates within 30 days to all tenants who can establish their right to such payment and make demand for such payment. The landlord shall pay interest at the legal rate on all sums owed retroactively.

Section 13. Non-Repeatability. This ordinance may not be amended or repealed except by a vote of the people.

Financial impact: Modest cost to state and to individual local governments for purchase, installation of NO SMOKING signs in public buildings. Minor enforcement costs. Possible cost to alter public employee working facilities to accommodate smoking employees. If proposition leads to significant reduction in smoking, could result in substantial reduction in health and other smoking related government costs and would result in substantial reduction in state and local sales, cigarette tax collections.</td>

<td>Property Taxation. Legislative Constitutional Amendment. Provides for valuation of real property after decline in value or reconstruction after disaster. By Ballot Simplification Committee

Q—Who can vote?
A—You can vote at this election only if you registered to vote by October 9, 1978.

Q—Who can register to vote?
A—You can register to vote if you:
• are at least 18 years of age on election day.
• are a citizen of the United States.
• are a resident of California, and
• are not imprisoned or on parole for the conviction of a felony.

Q—How do I register?
A—Phone the Registrar of Voters at 558-3417.

Q—Do I have to belong to a political party?
A—Only if you want to. If you don’t want to tell what political party you consider yours, you can say “Independent” or “I don’t want to tell.”

Q—If I don’t tell my political party when I sign up, can I still vote in every election?
A—Yes. The only thing you cannot vote on is which candidate will be a political party’s choice in a primary election.
Example: Only people who sign up as Republicans can vote in the primary election for who will be the Republican candidate. Primary elections are held in June of even-numbered years.

Q—If I have picked a party, can I change it later?
A—Yes, but you must go and sign up again.

Q—Once I have signed up, do I have to do it again?
A—Yes, if:
• you have moved or
• you did not vote in the last General election (The last General Election was November 2, 1976).

Q—If I have been convicted of a crime, can I sign up to vote?
A—Yes, if you have served your sentence and parole.

Q—What candidates and offices will we be voting on at this election?
A—The offices are listed on the Voter Selection Coupon printed on the back cover of this pamphlet. All the candidates are listed in the Sample Ballot (Page 4).

Q—What districts are there in San Francisco?
A—San Francisco has:
• three State Assembly Districts
  (AD 16, 17, 18)
• two State Senate Districts
  (SD 5, 6)
• two United States Congressional Districts
  (CD 5, 6)
(See map elsewhere in this pamphlet)

Q—Do these districts belong just to San Francisco?
A—No. State Assembly District 18 is shared with San Mateo County.
State Senate District 6 is shared with San Mateo County.
United State Congressional District 5 is shared with Marin County.

Q—How can I tell which districts I live in?
A—See map on page 00, or you can call the Registrar of Voters at 558-3417.

Q—Where do I go to vote?
A—Your voting place is printed next to your name and address sent with this Voters Handbook (back cover).

Q—If I don’t know what to do when I get to my voting place, is there someone there to help me?
A—Yes. The workers at the voting place will help you. If they can’t help you, call 558-6161.

Q—When do I vote?
A—The election will be Tuesday, November 7, 1978. Your voting place is open from 7 A.M. to 8 P.M. that day.

Q—What do I do if my voting place is not open?
A—Call 558-6161.

Q—Can I take my sample ballot into the voting booth even if I’ve written on it?
A—Yes.

Q—Can I have someone help me in the voting booth if I need help?
A—Yes, if you are a handicapped person, or if you have language difficulties.
Q—Can I vote for someone whose name is not on the ballot?
A—Yes. This is called a “write-in.” If you want to and don’t know how, ask one of the workers to help you.

Q—What do I do if I cannot work the voting machine?
A—Ask the workers and they will help you.

Q—Can a worker at the voting place ask me to take any test?
A—No.

Q—Can I take time off from my job to go vote on election day?
A—Yes, if you do not have enough time outside of working hours. You must tell your employer 3 working days before election day that you need time off to vote. Your employer must give you up to two hours off either at the beginning or end of your working day.

Q—Can I vote if I know I will be away from San Francisco on election day?
A—Yes. You can vote early by:
- going to the Registrar of Voters office in City Hall and voting there
- mailing in the application sent with this voters’ handbook (page 143).

Q—What can I do if I do not have an application form?
A—you can send a letter or postcard asking for an absentee ballot. This letter or postcard should be sent to the Registrar of Voters, City Hall, San Francisco 94102.

Q—What do I say when I ask for an absentee ballot?
A—You must write:

WORDS YOU NEED TO KNOW
By Ballot Simplification Committee

Here are a few of the words that you will need to know:

BALLOT—A list of candidates and propositions.

ABSENTEE BALLOT—If you are going to be away on election day, or if you cannot get to the place where you vote because you are physically disabled, you can get a special ballot to fill out. This ballot is called an absentee ballot. You get this ballot from the Registrar of Voters at City Hall. See page 00.

POLL—The place where you go to vote.

CHALLENGE—Any citizen can ask an officer at the polls to challenge any voter if the citizen thinks the voter does not live at the address given on the registration form.

PROPOSITION—This means anything that you vote on, except candidates. It deals with the state government, than it will have a number — such as Proposition 1. If it deals with city government, it will have a letter — such as Proposition A.

CHARTER AMENDMENT—The charter is the basic set of laws for the city government. A charter amendment changes one of those basic laws. It takes a vote of the people to change the charter. It cannot be changed again without another vote of the people.

ORDINANCE—A law of the city and county, which is passed by the Board of Supervisors or approved by the voters.

DECLARATION OF POLICY—A declaration of policy asks a question: Do you agree or disagree with a certain idea? If a majority of the voters approve of a declaration of policy, the supervisors must carry out the policy.

INITIATIVE—This is a way for voters to put a proposition on the ballot for people to vote on. An initiative is put on the ballot by getting a certain number of voters to sign a petition.

PETITION—A list of signatures of voters who agree that a certain idea or question should be on the ballot.
CANDIDATES FOR BART

FOR BART DIRECTOR
SEVENTH DISTRICT

ROSelyn L. BALTIMORE

My name is Roslyn L. Baltimore. My age is 35. My occupation is Housing Consultant.

My education and qualifications are: I am a 35 year old business woman who lives on Potrero Hill in San Francisco and who was selected to serve on the BART Board 9 months ago by a unanimous vote of the other Board members. I own and operate a housing consulting firm which specializes in the development of housing for low and moderate income families and senior citizens. My work experience includes both social work and business. I have worked with foster children, in family relocation, on geriatric studies with handicapped and disabled persons. I have also worked as an Assistant Vice President for Wells Fargo Bank, a computer programmer for Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a business consultant for McKinsey & Co. where I consulted with troubled businesses.

I hold two Masters Degrees from Harvard University in Business and Education.

While on the BART Board, I have taken an interest in the handicapped, begun expanding the hiring and contracting policies to include all qualified persons and companies within the three Bay Area counties, maintaining present discount fares for elderly and handicapped, better service to the public including making the trains run on time and not raising the fares.

FOR BART DIRECTOR
SEVENTH DISTRICT

WILFRED T. USSERTY

My name is Wilfred T. Ussery. My age is Forty-Nine (49). My occupation is Urban Planner.

My education and qualifications are: I am a product of the Bay Area — a graduate of Berkeley public schools, and San Francisco City College. An Architectural designer and urbanologist. I have studied and lectured at University of California, Berkeley. I have worked for several major architectural firms in the Bay Area, and was founder and President of an urban consulting organization. As an early activist in the struggle for civil rights, I was National First Vice Chairman of CORE in 1966, National Chairman of CORE in 1967, 1968 and 1969, and a principle strategist in the movement to improve the economic situation of Bay Area minorities. My deep concern for societal equity has not diminished over the years, and I have extended my involvement to include support for the civil rights of all minorities, women and gays.

My planning and urban development experience and ability as a creative, innovative thinker, are needed at BART. I know how to integrate the multiple impacts of BART and help develop policy thrusts which will benefit the area economically, socially and environmentally. Through my extensive Community involvement I have earned the trust and respect of a wide variety of Bay Area residents. I am uniquely qualified to serve District 7.

ERIC A. MONCUR
My address is 1866 Great Highway.
My business or occupation is Deputy Assessor.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
I have been an appraiser for 27 years, 7 years as a Deputy Assessor. I stand for a closer scrutiny of downtown assessments. Too few appraisers have been assigned downtown and as a result, wealthy speculators have escaped millions of dollars in taxes each year. Speculators are a major cause of slums, blight, high rents and unemployment. Furthermore, business is taxed at a lower rate than homes. I will eliminate this inequity and stop subsidies to speculators. I will protect homeowners, renters and seniors on fixed incomes. I will hire women appraisers. San Francisco has none.

Services, Assessor’s office.

My qualifications for office are as follows:
My years of experience in Real Estate, Business and Public Administration qualify me to provide a positive change in the Assessor’s office through leadership, direction and dedication — Eleven years as Confidential Secretary and Director of Assessments in the Assessor’s office alerted me to the need for solutions to reverse and recent shift of taxes to the homeowners, renters, small businesses and the senior citizen — I will see that properties are evaluated fairly, with adequate research, less mistakes, less subservience, indecision, confusion and indifference to the plaint of the homeowners; and less of a protectionist attidude toward the big business interests.

San Francisco’s public schools cost more and educate less than any other school system in the state.

Seventy-five percent of San Francisco’s public high school graduates who take the Army’s standard admission test fail. Where do these kids go after high school? On welfare? Crime?

Obviously, something must be done. We need more classroom discipline, reading, writing and arithmetic, community involvement, and a bum’s rush to that group of self-serving bureaucrats.

And why shouldn’t we enjoy one of the best educational systems?

SYLVIA WEINSTEIN

My address is 489 27th St.
My business or occupation is socialist activist.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
Alioto’s school redesign has closed nine schools. The Proposition 13 school budget has slashed badly needed programs. Our school board has sacrificed quality education while the corporate landlords are reaping taxcut wind-falls. This must be reversed.

We need better education, bi-lingual bi-cultural progress, childcare, adult education, and desegregation. Stop the cutbacks. Tax the rich and the international corpoations to provide better education for ourselves and our children.

Support the teachers. End the layoffs. Defeat the Briggs initiative — No on 6.

Put human needs before profits. Vote for our own and our children’s interests. Vote socialist. Vote Sylvia Weinstein.

ROBERT E. BURTON

My address is 2727 — 41st Avenue.
My business or occupation is Member Community Release Board.

My qualifications for office are as follows:
As a board member of the Community College district for six years, I am proud of my efforts to increase student and community involvement. Without raising taxes for the past four years, the Community College has expanded facilities, completing Batmale Hall at City College and shortly completing the “downtown center”. I support expanded federal assistance to students. Twenty-two years in adult teaching has convinced me of the need and value of adult education. All, regardless of age, sex, religion, racial or ethnic background must have an opportunity to continue their education. We have made that opportunity available to all San Franciscans.

GEORGE P. TURNER

My address is 631 O'Farrell Street.

My qualifications for office are as follows:

All my life has been devoted to various phases of education and at the same time dealing personally with people who come from different ethnic backgrounds and cultures. I respect these people and their cultures. I lived in Asia and Europe and dealt continuously with people there. I was in part educated in Italy. I prefer to use the laws for progression instead of obstruction.

DUKE J. ARMSTRONG
My address is 310 Scott St. Occupation: Attorney.
As director of the Haight-Fillmore Neighborhood Association for two years I have been repeatedly frustrated by the inconsistent and irrational organization within City Hall. Recent scandals involving meter collections, the Housing Authority, and Welfare Department are primarily due to flaws in our antiquated charter which diffuses responsibility and blurs lines of authority.
As former congressional aide, attorney, and principal draftsman of San Francisco's new anti-litter ordinances sponsored by San Franciscans for a Cleaner City, I have practical experience in our governmental structure and local needs. I ask for your vote and assistance in drafting a clear, consistent and common sense charter.

KENNETH BARNES

My address is 140 Beaver.
Occupation: Physician.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
A long-time activist in the Medical Committee for Human Rights, I was a physician at San Francisco General Hospital (1971-1977) and helped find the hospital's Family Health Center. In 1976, although it cost me my job, I supported the city workers' strike and simultaneously organized home visits for patients so health care could continue. Currently I practice adult medicine at Kaiser Hospital and a community health clinic. I am committed to fighting for high levels of city services, and to applying home rule as a means of enabling the people of San Francisco to determine our city's future.

JOHN BEHANNA

Occupation: Consulting Engineer, business systems and procedures.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
I believe that my unique experience as an Industrial Engineer, working on systems related projects followed by many years of activity in the San Francisco political environment well qualifies me for this highly complex task.
The main task at hand is to see that the project is completed and is acceptable to the voters. While making the current disorder more manageable for day-to-day operations is of primary importance, some provision should be made for the public to judge the cost related benefits its government provides and modify those relationships through the democratic process.

REBECCA HAZLEWOOD BEZEMEK
My address is 1586 Shadrer.
Occupation: Research Consultant.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
I have worked as a City employee and am an independent governmental affairs researcher. I have conducted studies involving the Charter, including a detailed analysis of the City's budgeting process.
For the most part the Charter doesn't help anyone — not the Mayor, Supervisors, other elected officials, department heads, public employees, or residents of the City. It is unwieldy, old fashioned and restrictive. It should be rewritten so that elected officials accountable to the public, rather than a CAO insulated from the people, govern the City. However, prohibitions against deficit financing and limits on outstanding bonded indebtedness should be strengthened.

RICHARD DAVID BOYLE

My address is 1855 Pacific Ave.
Occupation: Teacher-Author.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
Although an author and journalist, my most recent occupation was instructor-counselor-coach with low income Mission youth. The saddest part was telling them there was no more work, yet our society spends millions helping foreign dictators. The new charter must not be a hodge podge of confusing laws aiding big corporations... but be San Francisco’s constitution. It must affirm our cherished values: Decent life for all; Protection from public poisoning for profit; freedom from oppressive taxation; Security in our homes and liberty and justice. It’s not the big corporations’ or politicians’ charter. It’s the people’s charter for us all.

CANDIDATES FOR CHARTER COMMISSION

BERNARD FINNBARR BRADY
My address is 530 - 48th Avenue. Occupation: Budget Analyst. My qualifications for office are as follows:

Our Charter, San Francisco's Constitution, must be changed. In 1932 Citizens negated the Charter Provision for a horse trough at 3rd and Market.

Likewise, in 1978, many charter provisions are so detailed as to have no place in a charter, which is supposed to set forth "organic Law". Our charter, then, must not continue to be the repository of statutory whim.

As a fourth generation San Franciscan, as a person with experience, education, youth and city-wide support; I pledge to dedicate myself to the highest quality of Charter Revision.

ROBERT J. GEARY
My address is 2578 Great Highway. Occupation: Police Officer. My qualifications for office are as follows:

As a San Francisco homeowner and policeman, I am outraged about the unresponsiveness of our City’s government to the concerns of average citizens. To name just two: Abolish the extortionary sewer tax which eats away at family budgets; end illegal “sweetheart” contracts which allow PG&E to buy the City’s Hetch Hetchy electricity at bargain rates, only to sell it back to us at a big mark-up.

SUE HESTOR

My address is 4536 20th Street.
Occupation: Attorney.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
Local government seems paralyzed. Petty politics and bureaucratic infighting dominates our civic life. This stems from a Charter that so obscures political accountability as to make democratic government an engangered species in our City. The 1932 Charter has as its heart an assumption that the people of the City cannot be trusted to govern themselves. After eight years of community problem solving I know that assumption is nonsense. If elected, I am dedicated to a new Charter that enables people to solve their own problems through a government that is both responsive to their needs and accountable to them.

LYMAN HINCKLEY
My address is 1590 Broadway.
Occupation: (Retired).
My qualifications for office are as follows:
Born in Maine; educated (with honors) in Massachusetts; in U.S. civil service 20 years. Since then, living and working in San Francisco 20 years. I am a radical with unshakable loyalty to the United States Constitution. Education largely in political subjects. San Francisco needs a people's-utterance charter of peaceful revolution, to provide three kinds of genuine rights/responsibilities — political, economic-environmental, communication-education — as the only justification for any government. Every senior, educator, and environmentalist should vote for me to represent them, our chief assets and resources. Away prejudice, immaturity with its experts, alienation, exploitation! Money power or people power?

THOMAS L. ISENBERG
My address is 3316 — 16th St.
Occupation: Business-person.
My qualifications for office are as follows:

The endorsements provided by a broad coalition representing our city's varied lifestyles prove this.

PAT JACKSON

Occupation: Training Director.
My qualifications for office, are as follows:
My name is Pat Jackson.
My occupation is Training Director for SEIU, Local 400.
Married to Dan Jackson, Teacher, S.F.U.S.D — Suzie, 18 — Clare 13.
Graduated from San Francisco State, 1950.
Worked as child development and parent education specialist in the Mission, Visitacion Valley and Oceanview.
Active in community reform — lower taxes, senior citizens rights, efficient delivery of city services.

Leo Jed

My address is 3972 19th Street. Occupation: Financial Manager, Office of the Chief Administrative Officer. My qualifications for office are as follows: The Charter is San Francisco's Constitution; it must embody who we are and how we want to be governed. Much has changed since the 1932 Charter was written; our needs are very different now. We must be able to effectively respond to changing circumstances. Proposition 13 poses this clear challenge. We have no choice. As the Financial Manager of the City's three (3) largest public projects, I understand the need for Charter reform to fix responsibility and accountability for meeting the public's trust. I will listen to all who have a stake in how our City is governed — this includes you.

NEIL E. KELLY

My address is 400 College Avenue. Occupation: Government Intern, S.F. Board of Supervisors. My qualifications for office are as follows:

- Member, Commonwealth Club of California, Ad-Hoc Committee on Proposition 13, AB Political Science, U.C. Berkeley.

On various occasions, my duties with the Board required that I decipher the Charter’s meaning in relation to governmental activities. This experience taught me that the numerous piece-meal amendments attempting to clarify the document’s meaning have left it an unintelligible bundle of words.

Today, the electorate of San Francisco must realize the historical necessity to select a representative body willing to correct the present situation. I enthusiastically offer myself as an educated and experienced person willing to seek a better government for San Francisco.

TODD S. J. LAWSON
My address is 1140 Sutter Street. Occupation: Writer. My qualifications for office are as follows: As a journalist and small-press editor for 15 years, I am conscious of the need for clear, concise language in our city charter so that all the people, not just special-interest groups and bureaucrats, can understand it. I am the author of four books including “The Empire of Howard Hughes” and “The 69 Days of Easter.” My work has appeared in over 250 journals worldwide. A strong advocate of human rights, I am the recipient of four national journalism awards and a writer-in-residence grant from the California Arts Commission. LESLEY G. LEWIS
My address is 1001 Chenery Street. Occupation: Administrative Officer. My qualifications for office are as follows: My duties require that I work with the Charter and I am aware of its limitations on effective management of City and County business. At best the present Charter is a patchwork relic of the 1930s with many special interest clauses. San Francisco needs a streamlined, efficient Charter and government organization. Unlike the Administrative Code (ordinances of the Board of Supervisors), the Charter is very rigid and difficult to amend as the demands upon its change. It should contain principles of organization and purpose like the United States Constitution, not a collection of trivia. I support public hearings and input.

My address is 2925 Van Ness Ave. Occupation: Attorney. My qualifications for office are as follows: I am a 29 year old native San Franciscan, educated in our public schools and, during my life in the city, have seen our neighborhoods grow and change.

As an attorney active in appellate cases, I would bring a talent for concise written expression, if elected. This quality is vital, for our task is not just to revise the Charter, but to produce a readable document as well.

MARJORIE D. MARTIN
My address is 182 Diamond Street.
Occupation: Real Estate.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
I am straight! I have a great love for the City of San Francisco. As a property owner I believe that every tax-dollar collected should be used to provide needed services; that a new charter should eliminate "Fat" in City Gov't not "Vital" Departments.
S.F. Hotel Tax funded Magic Theater (1977) $8,000.00.
Magic Theater at Fort Mason was little more than a "strip" show with a naked actress on stage.
S.F. Hotel Tax funded A.C.T. (1977) $200,000.00. A.C.T. production of Equus and This is an Entertainment also featured nude performers. Such misuse of public funds is inexcusable.

My qualifications for office are as follows:
I was born and raised in San Francisco, am a retired city employee, Fireman, and have owned a home in the Sunset District for 38 years.
My concern is that a new or revised charter must be workable, one that prevents any take over by power blocs or special interests. The charter must maintain proper balance of authority to guarantee fiscal stability; fair treatment, stable relations with city employees. Taxes and assessment practices must be equitable and fair to all citizens and businesses.
My 36 years as taxpayer and city employee gives me unique perspective of the need for charter reform.

THOMAS R. SWANEY
My address is 1223 Kearney, #4. Occupation: Systems/Financial Analyst. My qualifications for office are as follows:
My background in Cost Accounting and Financial Analysis is needed for the Charter revision. I have worked for a large financial institution and also for the City and County of San Francisco. Strict financial controls should be implemented so scandals such as "Metergate" cannot happen again. The new Charter should make government responsive to the community. Too many times high government officials are insulated from the public and act against the best interest of citizens. Working men and women should have the opportunity to influence how their tax dollars are spent. Good government results when citizens are encouraged to become involved.

As a homemaker, part time aide to my husband in his business, and resident of this beautiful city of San Francisco for forty years, I have decided I would try and do my part in making it a better city. There are many aspects of the City Charter that require a concerned approach.

It's time the voice of the average citizen is heard instead of special interests. In my daily contacts with voters, I have heard various helpful ideas expressed and would like to see them acted upon for the good of all.

ROBT. M. TEETS, JR.
My address is 2903 Harrison Street.
Occupation: Public Interest Lawyer.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
San Francisco is my adopted home (10 years). As a tenant (6 years) and a homeowner (4 years), I have been frustrated by the effects of our Charter. The frustration of low-income citizens with city, state, and federal bureaucracies has been my professional preoccupation as an advocate in the highest courts of this state and nation. This, I believe, is a solid starting point for the searching public inquiry which this Commission should undertake. I am eager to serve my neighbors and City in striving for reform of the maze of commissions, and unaccountable decision-makers.

PROPOSITION A
Shall City government be partially reorganized by consolidating all transportation functions under a commission including the municipal railway, street traffic, motor vehicles for hire and coordination of parking functions; consolidating all waste water, water and power functions in the public utilities commission; consolidating street lighting functions in the department of public works, establishing and adjusting compensation of commissions; protecting civil service rights and providing for certain exempt positions; and providing for legal services and other related changes?

Analysis

By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City has no Transportation Commission. The San Francisco Municipal Railway is under the Public Utilities Commission. Street traffic design and traffic control devices are under the Department of Public Works. The licensing, regulation and control of motor vehicles for hire such as taxis and jitneys, are under the Police Department. Also, street lighting is under the Public Utilities Commission and waste water disposal is under the Public Works Department.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition A would reorganize the functions of the present departments and create a new Transportation Commission. The Transportation Commission, made up of five members appointed by the Mayor, would manage the Municipal Railway, street traffic planning, and regulation of vehicles for hire. It would also coordinate all City parking functions. At the same time, the Public Utilities Commission would manage waste water disposal and the Department of Public Works would manage street lighting.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want a new Transportation Commission created to manage transportation functions within the city.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want management of city Transportation to remain under the Public Utilities Commission, Department of Public Works and Police Department.

Controller's Statement on "A"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition A:

If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, the increase in the cost of government would be a minimum of $130,000. Additional cost increases, if any, would depend on future legislative action increasing the budget of said commission.

How Supervisors Voted on "A"

On August 7th the Board of Supervisors voted 8-1 on the question of placing Proposition A on the ballot. The Supervisors voted as follows:

YES: Supervisors Dianne Feinstein (District 2), John Molinari (District 3), Ella Hill Hutch (District 4), Harvey Milk (District 5), Carol Ruth Silver (District 6), Robert Gonzales (District 7), Dan White (District 8) and Ron Pelosi (District 11).

NO: Supervisor Quentin Kopp (District 10).
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Yes on Proposition A

Improve government efficiency and effectiveness in transportation and utilities!

Proposition A consolidates all utilities under the city's Public Utilities Commission and all transportation activities under the Transportation Commission. Proposition A is the kind of reform which can work. It will reduce duplication in personnel and facilities.

Give Muni the leadership it needs!

Proposition A insures clear accountability for making our transportation system responsive to current needs and the City's Transit First policy. The Transportation Commission will be responsible for Muni, as well as parking and traffic.

Increase public participation in the sewer program!

Proposition A gives the city's Public Utilities Commission responsibility for establishing sewer rates, after adequate public notice and hearings. Consolidation of water, power and waste water under one commission creates new opportunities for reclamation and recycling, with long-range financial savings for residents.

We join with numerous City and neighborhood organizations in supporting this long overdue and badly-needed reform.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Muni and our entire transportation system need management help. The modest initial cost required for new management under Proposition A will be more than off-set by future savings from consolidation of duplicated planning, engineering and operations bureaus.

Under Proposition A management of the Wastewater construction project will remain with the Chief Administrative Officer. Continuing operations and sewer rate-setting will be overseen by the Public Utilities Commission, as with water rates and operations. Rate-setting is properly lodged with a citizen commission — not a single administrator.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

Vote “No” on Proposition A

Maybe there should be a Transit Department but not where it means more bureaucracy and more city employees, especially high paid ones. That’s what this amendment does. Not only would there still be a General Manager of Muni, (at $45,000 per year) we’d now be saddled with a “Director of Transportation” over him, at a higher salary, with an unspecified number of assistant directors and no limit on the number of other new employees. That’s one reason the Controller estimated this will cost AT LEAST $125,000 in additional taxpayers’ monies.

Having removed Muni and set up another bureaucracy of mammoth proportion, they had to add to the Public Utilities Commission’s jurisdiction to justify its continued existence. The entire Wastewater Management program and Department-of Sanitary Engineering would be shuffled to the PUC from the direct supervision of the Chief Administrative Officer.

A recent audit of the PUC illustrated major deficiencies in its oversight of both Hetch Hetchy and the Water Department. Adding Wastewater and Sanitary Engineering to the Commission’s jurisdiction before the deficiencies in their present bureaus are rectified is unwise and untimely.

The Chief Administrative Officer, by Charter, is San Francisco’s principal fiduciary administrator. He is non-partisan, independent and free from politics. Removing projects which will expend a billion and a half dollars in taxpayer’s money from the CAO’s direct supervision when he has both the expertise and mechanisms to coordinate these programs would be tremendously disruptive and foolish. It would lead to further postponements and disorganization within such departments and would require the PUC overnight to develop comparable expertness. It could also lead to politics in San Francisco’s largest public works project in history which the Charter has prevented since 1932.

Vote “No” on Proposition A.

This isn’t consolidation; THIS IS EXPANSION OF BUREAUCRACY. It will increase costs, and further complicate the present administration of all affected departments. San Francisco taxpayers have too much at stake in terms of delivery of services to support more city employees and higher salaries.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

Vote “No” on Proposition A

In light of “Prop 13” and runaway inflation, if there is one thing San Francisco does not need it is the creation of yet another commission.

Proposition A is another attempt to end the merit system in San Francisco, by creating “certain exempt positions”. It would be another step in returning City departments to the spoil system.

Under the existing rule of three, department heads are able to choose any one of the top three qualified candidates; The creation of “exempt positions” would further erode our Civil Service System and be very detrimental to our City services.

PROPOSITION B
Shall the powers and duties of the Civil Service Commission be expanded to establish procedures relating to discrimination in employment, examination evaluation, combining entrance and promotional examinations, probationary periods, dismissals and leaves?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Civil Service Commission regulates the hiring, promotion and dismissal of city employees. Among the rules are the following: Ordinarily, only existing city employees are allowed to take promotional tests. Tests cannot be scored, nor eligible candidates appointed to jobs, while tests are being protested. Probation periods are six months for all city employees, except firefighters and peace officers. A hearing officer's decision on charges against employees can be appealed to the commission. There is no anti-discrimination policy statement in the Charter.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition B would allow outside applicants to take promotional tests with city employees, but would give extra consideration to city employees. Tests could be scored and eligible employees appointed while protests are being heard. Probation periods for all city employees could be increased up to 12 months and to 24 months for executives. A hearing officer's decision on charges against an employee would be final. A policy statement to prohibit discrimination would be added to the Charter, and the Civil Service Commission would have to establish procedures for enforcing it.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to make these changes in civil service procedures.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want civil service procedures to remain as they are now.

Controller’s Statement on “B”
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition B:
If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, it would have no effect in the cost of government.

How Proposition B Got On The Ballot
Proposition B is a consolidation of what were originally two separate charter amendments, both relating to the Civil Service Commission’s powers, functions and duties. The two charter amendments were passed by the Board of Supervisors at different times and by different votes. On August 14 the Supervisors voted unanimously to combine the two in the interest of economy. The combined measure became Proposition B.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

Vote "Yes" on Proposition B

This is a civil service reform measure which will give us improved procedures within the merit system and enable the Civil Service Commission to conduct a modern personnel program. Performance evaluation will be a factor in promotion. These amendments also clarify several Charter changes to provide equitable treatment of employees in disciplinary hearings and set forth procedures to insure equal employment opportunities. This amendment also:

— clarifies language as to due process hearings for employees;

— updates and corrects language on military leaves of absence;

— provides that promotive and entrance candidates who compete in the same examination will be ranked on one eligible list in order of examination standing thus allowing more equitable consideration to be given all competitors while providing for service credits to promotive eligibles;

— provides due process appeal rights on any allegations of discrimination; and

— includes a policy statement as to equal employment opportunities in Civil Service Commission operations.

Adopt this amendment for a more effective, equitable civil service personnel program.

PROPOSITION C
Shall Tax Collector and Treasurer be consolidated under Treasurer, who shall appoint and remove Tax Collector at Treasurer's pleasure; with present Tax Collector retaining civil service status to said position; and providing that the office of County Clerk shall be placed under direction of the Superior Court?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The city's Department of Finance & Records includes the offices of tax collector, registrar of voters, recorder, county clerk and public administrator. The director of the department is appointed by the chief administrative officer.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to move the tax collector into the office of treasurer and place the county clerk under the direction of the Superior Court.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the Department of Finance and Records to remain as it is now.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition C would place the tax collector under the direction of the city treasurer and place
the county clerk under the direction of the Superior Court. The Department of Finance and Records would become the Department of Governmental Services, under the chief administrative officer.

Controller's Statement on "C"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition C:
If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, the cost of government would be decreased by approximately $45,000.

None of the Supervisors present voted "No".

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION C APPEARS ON PAGE 128
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Vote Yes on Proposition C

Proposition C consolidates the office of tax collector under the treasurer, places the county clerk under the Superior Court and eliminates the director of finance and records. It is designed to end duplication, increase efficiency and streamline the department of finance and records. It is a significant reorganization measure in the spirit of better management of city government and less bureaucracy.

Presently, 52 out of 58 counties in California have consolidated their treasurer and tax collector. Five of the remaining six have comparable pending legislation. Merging tax collections with the treasurer’s office will produce a more efficient collection of funds, speed the cash flow process, reduce delays in deposits and earn taxpayers more interest income on City funds. Instead of the tax collector transmitting revenue to the treasurer, the treasurer will be collecting and depositing himself, gaining at least one day in the deposit and investment of City money.

It is estimated that approximately 99% of the county clerk’s time is now spent on court related matters. Placing the county clerk under the Superior Court is a logical step to provide a more cohesive unit.

In the past, the Director of Finance and Records has been vacant for as long as two years. The authors of the Charter clearly intended that one of the department heads under the CAO should be assigned as director of finance and records in conjunction with his other responsibilities. They did not intend a separate position to be developed at unnecessary expense to the taxpayers. We can save over $50,000 per year eliminating the position.

The recent Metergate scandal in the Tax Collector’s office, overseen by the Director of Finance and Records, calls for reform of our entire department of finance and records. Proposition C is consistent with this goal.

Eliminating the tax collector and county clerk from the department of finance and records leaves only the public administrator and recorder. There is no good reason why the CAO cannot directly oversee these offices.

PROPOSITION D
Shall members of boards and commissions nominated or appointed by Mayor, except members of Board of Supervisors and School Boards, serve at pleasure of Mayor and be removed by Mayor?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Members of some boards and commissions appointed by the Mayor cannot be removed by the Mayor.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition D would give the Mayor the power to remove any commission or board member nominated or appointed by him except members of the Board of Supervisors and school boards.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to give the Mayor the power to remove any commission and board member he nominates or appoints, except the Board of Supervisors and school boards.

REMOVAL OF COMMISSION MEMBERS

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION D

When the people vote for a new administration at City Hall, they expect that administration to carry out its promises about new policies and new directions in San Francisco.

They expect that administration to implement new policies at all levels of government — and this includes the many Boards and Commissions of our City.

That’s the only way an administration can begin to make headway on the crucial problems of delivering better services and cutting the cost of government.

But presently in San Francisco, this is almost impossible to achieve.

When a new Mayor takes office, the Boards and Commissions set up to carry out administration policies have holdover members appointed by previous Mayors. . . lame duck appointees who may not represent the new directions which San Francisco voters have approved.

Presently a handful of holdover commission appointees can — in key instances — frustrate the policies of a new administration at City Hall, and prevent the will of the people from being expressed in local government.

Proposition D would end this intolerable situation.

It would guarantee that voters get a clean sweep at City Hall when they vote for a new administration. It would mean that the appointments of all Commission and Board members made by a previous Mayor would terminate at the inauguration of a new administration.

When you vote for a change at City Hall you expect that change to be reflected at all levels of government, and fast. That’s why your approval of Proposition D is so important.

Let’s make sure that our votes are heard loud and clear at City Hall. The lame-duck appointees of previous administration must not stand in the way of changes which voters demand.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION D

DO WE WANT INDEPENDENT COMMISSIONERS OR A RUBBER STAMP?

The commission form of government was an attempt to insure maximum citizen participation long before the Washington bureaucrats ever invented the term.

Because of their politically sensitive nature certain commissions specify fixed terms to be served by those appointed. These include the Airports and Civil Service Commissions and the Board of Permit Appeals.

Commissioners who cannot be removed from office if they offend the Mayor who appointed them are in a better position to exercise independent judgment on the matters that come before them. Removing this protection in favor of having all commissioners serve at the pleasure of the Mayor will necessarily turn them into rubber stamps for that Mayor, whomever he or she be.

• If there can be no independent citizen participation why have commissioners at all?

• Why settle for inefficiency AND a rubber stamp with no accountability, the worst of both possible worlds?

Vote “No” on Proposition D

Perhaps in these days of governmental economizing we can no longer afford the luxury of democracy. As long as we have the commission form of government, let’s give these citizen participants the opportunity to do the job they’re appointed to do.

ABSENCE FROM STATE

PROPOSITION E
Shall requirement that City officers secure permission of Mayor and Board of Supervisors to leave the State be eliminated?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: City officials must have permission of the Mayor and Board of Supervisors if they want to leave the state.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition E would allow city officials to go out of the state without having to get permission from the Mayor or the Board of Supervisors.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want city officials to be able to leave the state without having to get permission from the Mayor and Supervisors.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want city officials to get permission from the Mayor and Supervisors before leaving the state.

Controller's Statement on "E"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition E:
If the proposed Charter Amendment is adopted, in my opinion, it would have no appreciable effect in the cost of government.

How Supervisors Voted on "E"
On July 31st the Board of Supervisors voted 6-2 on the question of placing Proposition E on the ballot. The Supervisors voted as follows:

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION E APPEARS ON PAGE 130
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

Charter amendment pertaining to absence of officers from the state.

Proposition E would eliminate a time-consuming, outdated and unnecessary section of the City Charter.

Currently, city officials who travel out of the state must first secure permission from the Board of Supervisors.

At the time the Charter was written, in the 1930's, this made sense. But today, it does not.

Travel and communication was difficult then. Today, travel is fast and communication is easy. It takes the same amount of time to telephone any city in the country as it does any neighborhood in San Francisco or any other California city. And even the farthest distance in the country is within a few hours flying time of San Francisco.

There is little reason to keep this outdated requirement in our City Charter.

It takes up the time of the Board of Supervisors and other city officials, time which could be used to deal with more important matters. It costs the taxpayers money in staff time and paper shuffling.

Proposal E would change this.

Many things have changed since the 1930's. This Charter section should, too.

We urge you to vote YES on Proposition E.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION E

Vote "No" on Proposition E

Proposition "E" eliminates the Charter provision requiring all public officials, members of boards and commissions, and department heads to notify and receive approval from the Board of Supervisors and the Mayor before taking leaves of absence from the State. While the granting of these leaves of absence is usually a routine matter, it does serve a vital purpose during times of emergency when a full component of public officials would be required for the operation of all City services. By eliminating this provision from the Charter, there would no longer be any accountability for out-of-state travel by public officials.

In the past, on several occasions the Board of Supervisors has investigated the questionable use of taxpayers money for travel purposes by public officials. The Board became aware of these travel plans through this Charter provision. Further, the Board has been able to insure that a quorum for boards and commissions has been maintained by the routine notification of proposed leaves of absence. This would no longer be possible with the passage of Proposition "E".

Proposition "E" does not infringe upon the privacy of individuals nor does it impose an undue hardship on top level public officials. It does maintain a level of accountability which is vital to the responsible operation of City departments, agencies, commissions and boards. It should be maintained.

SICK LEAVE PAYMENTS

PROPOSITION F

Shall present officers and employees receive cash payment only for unused sick leave accumulated prior to effective date herein and remaining unused at retirement; and persons who become officers or employees after effective date herein shall not be entitled to cash payment for accumulated unused sick leave?

Analysis

By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: City employees can save unused sick leave up to a total of six months. They can receive cash payment for this time when they retire from city service.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition F would let present city employees get paid only for past unused sick leave. New employees will not receive any payment for unused sick leave.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you do not want city employees to be paid for sick leave they do not use.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want city employees to continue to be paid for sick leave they do not use.

Controller’s Statement on “F”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition F:

If the proposed Charter Amendment is adopted, in my opinion, there would be a future decrease in the cost of government, the amount of which will be substantial, the actual amount of which can not be determined.

How Supervisors Voted on “F”

On August 7th the Board of Supervisors voted 7-2 on the question of placing Proposition F on the ballot. The Supervisors voted as follows:

YES: Supervisors Dianne Feinstein (District 2), John Molinari (District 3), Ella Hill Hutch (District 4), Carol Ruth Silver (District 6), Robert Gonzales (District 7), Quentin Kopp (District 10) and Ron Pelosi (District 11).

NO: Supervisors Harvey Milk (District 5) and Dan White (District 8).

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote Yes on Proposition F

Giving employees sick leave pay when they're ill is fair and just. Paying cash to employees for sick leave accumulated because he or she wasn't ill is neither fair nor just.

Presently, employees are allowed 13 days a year of paid sick leave and up to six months of sick leave. Permissive rules have allowed cash payments to employees for sick leave when they weren't even sick. Employees are able to take as much as six months' salary in cash with them upon retirement over and above regular retirement benefits.

It is prohibitively expensive. This year approximately $4.5 million will be paid in cash to retiring city employees for sick leave they did not need while regularly employed. In August alone, almost $1,000,000 cash-for-unused-sick-leave benefits was paid to 139 recently retired employees. Some received as much as $25,000 in cash upon retirement. THIS MUST STOP.

The Controller has estimated that as of June 9, 1978, the cash amount of unpaid sick leave accumulated by present employees was $84,375,000.

Vote Yes on Proposition F

Proposition F allows present employees to keep the cash value of accumulated sick pay which they accrued thus far. However, in the future, they would be no longer entitled to more cash for unused sick leave and new employees would not be entitled to cash for accumulated unused sick leave. Sick leave would continue to accrue for up to six months and when an employee's illness actually kept him from work he'd be paid for his time off due to illness up to a maximum of six months. This is what's done in private industry.

The Budget Analyst for the Board of Supervisors estimates that we will save over $1.125 million annually during the next 15-20 years and $4.5 million annually afterwards with the passage of Proposition F.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Proposition F provides for leaves of absence due to illness or disability for every employee of the City of San Francisco. This policy is consistent with that found in private industry. A yes vote on Proposition F will assure that this practice continues.

It will, however, eliminate the provision that allows city employees to receive cash payment for unused sick leave upon retirement. This practice cost taxpayers in excess of $4 million last year. A yes vote on Proposition F will end this needless expenditure of your tax dollars.

Sick leave provides financial security during periods of bona fide illness. It is not meant to be a bonus for retiring city employees. Vote Yes on Proposition F and give city employees a fair benefit.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION F

Vote No on F

The current sick leave rule provides an incentive for workers of all classifications not to use sick leave unless absolutely necessary. All occupations experience absenteeism, which is very destructive to the normal flow of work and work schedules. This usually requires hiring a non-experienced person or an experienced person at time and a half, causing additional cost to the City. The current sick leave rule also provides for payment of unused sick leave (maximum 6 months) upon retirement, which has worked very well for the purposes intended.

In most City departments the incentive provided by the current sick leave rule has proven to outweigh its cost to the City many times over. Most City departments have experienced that after an employee has accumulated 6 months in unused sick leave, their employment records show LESS time lost for sickness than the average worker.

The current sick leave rule has worked well for the City in the past. Let's defeat Proposition F.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION F

As a condition of employment the employees of the City and County of San Francisco have been entitled to sick leave time. This unused accumulated sick leave, if unused, is compensated to the employee in cash at the termination of his employment. The San Francisco Labor Council urges a NO vote on Proposition F. The only reason why the Board of Supervisors is placing this initiative on the ballot is for punitive reasons, using public employees as a scapegoat for Proposition 13. The employees of the City and County of San Francisco are entitled to this benefit and the San Francisco Labor Council urges a NO vote on Proposition F.

Shall the mandatory retirement age of 65 years be eliminated for members of the City and County Employees Retirement System?

Analysis

ELIMINATES MANDATORY RETIREMENT

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

Proposition G is a charter amendment designed to bring San Francisco's Retirement System into compliance with recently enacted Federal and State laws eliminating mandatory retirement ages for employees in private industry and public service.

Public Law 95-256, signed by President Carter on April 6, 1978, eliminated the age 70 mandatory retirement provision for all Federal employees, effective September 30, 1978. This law also provides that, effective January 1, 1979, private employees and state and local governments are prohibited from requiring an employee to retire before 70 solely because of age.

On July 11, 1978, Governor Brown signed Senate Bill 130, which prohibits any public retirement system in the State of California from requiring any employee to retire prior to age 70, except active law enforcement and firefighting personnel. In addition, the new law, effective January 1, 1979, allows these public employees the right to continue in employment beyond age 70 upon certification of the employees' competence in his/her position.

Proposition G, therefore, will bring the San Francisco City Employees Retirement System into compliance with Federal and State law as it pertains to Miscellaneous Employees. Failure to enact this charter amendment would invite costly law suits compelling San Francisco to abide by the Federal and State laws.

From a fiscal standpoint, Proposition G would reduce the overall costs of the Retirement System to the taxpayers. The longer an employee works beyond age 65, the less is the Retirement System's financial liability based on current and projected mortality tables.

In the final analysis, Proposition G will achieve equity and fairness by eliminating discrimination in employment on account of age.

PROP�t\n\nPROPOSITION H
Shall City contracts for printing provide that persons performing the labor be paid not less than the highest general prevailing rate of wages in private employment?

Analysis

By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: City printing contracts are now awarded to the low bidder, who can pay any wage rate to his workers.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition H would require that city printing contracts go only to printing companies that pay at least the highest wage rate to printers in San Francisco.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want all city printing contracts to be performed by contractors paying at least the highest wage rate for printers in San Francisco.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want to allow city printing contracts to be awarded to the lowest bidder, regardless of the wage rate.

Controller’s Statement on “H”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition H:

If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, there would be a considerable increase in the cost of government, the amount of which cannot be determined.

How Supervisors Voted on “H”

On July 24th the Board of Supervisors voted 6-5 on the question of placing Proposition H on the ballot. The Supervisors voted as follows:

YES: Supervisors John Molinari (District 3), Ella Hill Hutch (District 4), Harvey Milk (District 5), Carol Ruth Silver (District 6), Dan White (District 8) and Lee Dolson (District 9).

NO: Supervisors Gordon Lau (District 1), Dianne Feinstein (District 2), Robert Gonzales (District 7), Quentin Kopp (District 10) and Ron Pelosi (District 11).

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

What Proposition H really means is JOBS for San Franciscans. The issue is whether the City of San Francisco will continue to employ printers from out-of-town and out-of-state while our own printing trades craftspeople go unemployed.

The re-binding of San Francisco's library books serves to illustrate the severity of this situation. Instead of San Francisco firms and their employees doing the re-binding of our own library books, the contract has been awarded to a firm in the State of Washington. This policy has deprived San Franciscans of salaries and jobs. People in the printing trades will continue to be unemployed if this situation persists.

Opponents of Proposition H have cited an increase in the cost of government as a reason to reject this Proposition. We feel that such a cost increase should not deprive people of deserved employment.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

San Francisco is a major center of the printing industry in the United States. Owners and operators of printing firms located in San Francisco pay taxes for the services rendered by the City and County of San Francisco. These same printing firms hire San Francisco workers who, in turn, live and pay taxes in San Francisco. Why should the City and County go out of San Francisco for printing services, even as far as Washington State? San Francisco citizens and workers can gain a return of their tax monies paid by having the printing of the City and County of San Francisco done by local printing enterprises. Proposition H will create jobs for San Franciscans. We urge a YES vote on Proposition H.

We are printing trades crafts workers who live, work, and pay taxes in San Francisco. When the City of San Francisco sends it printing work out of town to be done, we lose jobs and wages. Money earned and spent in San Francisco stimulates the city's economy.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION H

Vote “No” on Proposition H

In 1972, the voters by a resounding 2 to 1 vote, defeated Proposition “P”, which is almost identical to Proposition “H”. It is clear that the voters have spoken on this issue. In 1972, the Controller stated that there would be an annual increase in the cost of government through passage of this proposition of at least $7,400 or an increase of .03 in the tax rate. This year the Controller has stated there will be a “considerable increase in the cost of government.”

Proposition H requires that the contractor pay not less than the highest general prevailing wages in private employment or similar work. That sounds simple enough, but the City Purchaser says it is administratively unenforceable. The Purchasing Department would have no resources, facilities, or manpower to determine whether a contractor has complied with the provision. Attempts at enforcement would further complicate and delay the bid awarding process.

Proposition H would add provisions to the Charter which would, supposedly, impose working conditions and pricing preferences in contracts for printing supplies or printed products. However, it misses its objectives because it is detrimental to the general economy of San Francisco and is contrary to the objective of minimizing the cost of government by getting the most for each taxpayer’s dollar spent.

If this proposition becomes law, other business groups will request like consideration and there is reason to believe that retaliatory measures by other governmental jurisdictions in this area will be enacted and result in a substantial loss to San Francisco’s economy.

The current policy followed by the Purchasing Department is a workable, effective system. All things being equal, bids are awarded to the San Francisco bidder. Bids are not sought from out-of-town firms for commodities or services when suitable competition is available locally.

Vote “No” on Proposition H.

Proposition H should be soundly defeated if we are to preserve lower costs, better returns for City tax monies and the general economy.

PROPOSITION I
Shall all contracts and real property leases in excess of ten years and/or having anticipated revenue of one million dollars or more be subject to approval by the Board of Supervisors?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Certain city contracts and leases are now entered into by city departments, boards and commissions without approval by the Board of Supervisors.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition I would give the Board of Supervisors the power to approve or reject contracts and leases entered into by city departments, boards and commissions when the leases would last more than ten years or would produce more than one million dollars revenue for the city.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to give the Board of Supervisors authority over major city contracts and leases.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the Board of Supervisors to have more control over city contracts and leases than it has now.

Controller's Statement on "I"

REAL PROPERTY LEASES

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION I

Vote “Yes” on Proposition “I”

With an annual budget for the City and County of San Francisco which exceeds $824 million, there is presently no provision in the Charter which gives the Board of Supervisors power to review contracts which will net $1 million to the City, or real property leases which will provide income of $1 million or more in revenue or exceed ten years in duration. Thus, while the Board of Supervisors is held accountable by all San Franciscans for the setting of the annual budget and fiscal priorities, the approval of revenue producing contractual arrangements is not within its purview. Proposition “I” gives this power to the Board.

Vote “Yes” on Proposition “I”

Proposition “I” will include the Board of Supervisors in the decision-making process concerning prudent, fiscally responsible obligations of taxpayers’ assets.

For example, as the Charter presently is written, the Board of Supervisors has no authority over the important, sometimes controversial, long-term leases at Candlestick Park, Fishermen’s Wharf or Sunol Golf Club. Thus, while, for example, the Board of Supervisors must approve stadium admissions taxes and similar charges which result from commitments in the Candlestick leases, the Board has no part in the establishment or modifications of such leases. Similarly, the Board was powerless in the Sunol Golf Club lease.

Vote “Yes” on Proposition “I”

By voting “Yes”, you will place the elected representatives of all San Franciscans in a position to approve or disapprove major obligations of public assets.

PROPOSITION J
Shall Street Artists and Craftpersons be subject to regulation by an Advisory Committee, prescribing certification procedures and designated sales areas and establish a revenue fund for program and repeal present Street Artist Ordinance?

Analysis

By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: People who sell their crafts on San Francisco's streets are regulated by a Street Artists Ordinance passed by the voters in 1975. Approximately 756 street artists now have certification permitting them to sell their wares at 520 spaces set aside by the Board of Supervisors.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition J would allow the Art Commission to issue 100 new conditional street artists' certificates. Holder of a conditional certificate could occupy unused selling spaces if none holding a regular certificate is there by 12 noon.

Proposition J would permit the Art Commission to establish a limit on the total number of street artist certificates provided the limit is never less than existed January 1, 1978. It would also require the supervisors to keep the present ratio of spaces to permits, with the supervisors providing five spaces for every seven licensed street artists.

Proposition J would require street artists to renew their certificates every three months in person within 10 days of the expiration date or lose the certificates. It would be somewhat more specific than the present ordinance in defining street art.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want a new ordinance regulating street artists.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, it means you want to keep the present regulations on street artists in effect.

Controller's Statement on "J"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition J:

If the proposed proposition is approved, in my opinion, the cost of government would be increased by approximately $50,000.

How Supervisors Voted on "J"

On July 31st the Board of Supervisors voted 6-4 on the question of placing Proposition J on the ballot. The Supervisors voted as follows:

YES: Supervisors Gordon Lau (District 1), Dianne Feinstein (District 2), John Molinari (District 3), Harvey Milk (District 5), Carol Ruth Silver (District 6), and Dan White (District 8).

NO: Supervisors Ella Hill Hutch (District 4), Robert Gonzales (District 7), Quentin Kopp (District 10) and Ron Pelosi (District 11).
STREET ARTISTS ORDINANCE

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

This ordinance is based on the Art Commission's six years of experience as the agency certifying the street artists of San Francisco. For the first time, the voters are offered street artist legislation which reflects a genuine compromise and acceptance by all major parties concerned.

For the first time, a limitation of the number of certified street artists shall be established in accordance with a 7 to 5 ratio of artists to spaces. The number of artists cannot be increased except when the Board of Supervisors increases them. The existing ordinance gives no limitation; it allows the Art Commission to issue an unlimited number of permits. At present, there are over 1300 applicants.

Proposition J incorporates all of the major provisions of the present ordinance but goes farther by incorporating the necessary by-laws and regulations implemented by the Art Commission over the years, notably the procedures for renewal, revocation and appeal.

Proposition J represents no cost to the taxpayers. It legally strengthens the Art Commission, which is responsible for collecting over $60,000 in certification fees annually for the General Fund. The Art Commission's Street Artist Program is one of the few regulatory agencies that pays for itself and generates revenue for the City.

It is undeniable that the street artists are an important and colorful part of the tourist industry of the city. The Street Artists Program continues to receive compliments from tourists who claim the artists are one of the major highpoints of their interests.

San Franciscans, in previous elections, have repeatedly demonstrated their support of the street artists. Your support is needed now for Proposition J, which finally addresses the problem directly and which is being supported by artists, businesspersons, neighborhood groups and many other San Franciscans.

Supervisor Harvey Mårk
Supervisor Carol Ruth Silver
Supervisor Dan White

Supervisor Gordon J. Lau

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Vote "No" on Proposition J

Just three short years ago, the Board of Supervisors submitted to the voters a carefully drafted initiative ordinance to govern street artists. The voters adopted the ordinance overwhelmingly. Now, special interests want even more.

Proposition J compels the Board of Supervisors to set an unknown minimum number of spaces for certificate-holding street artists. It sets a complex ratio of at least five spaces to seven certificate-holders. Proposition J requires the provision of spaces for street artists, regardless of changing conditions in our city or a finding that less than such number would be advisable. No ordinance passed by the electorate should lock public officials into a system of providing a minimum of street spaces irrespective of contemporary conditions.

No other permit system in San Francisco, even those licenses for convenience and necessity, such as taxicab permits, forces a minimum. No other permit system creates a mechanism which would require the Board of Supervisors, the legislative branch of government, actively to seek more areas for the acquisition of new locations for street artists sites. Proposition J puts such obligation on the Board, along with the Art Commission, and binds them to it.

Proposition J:
— doesn't define street artists; some merchant groups may be included in it;
— contains no provision for payment of rent to the City or public liability insurance by street artists. Who will be liable if a pedestrian is injured by street artist activity?
— is incapable of being enforced by the Art Commission since there are no policing powers. The Art Commission does not have adequate inspection capability and there is no provision to require funding by street artists for proper inspection;
— contains no provision for the Planning Department or the Police to approve locations or the number of street artists at any one location.

Proposition J will be difficult, if not impossible to enforce. We just voted in 1975. There’s no need to impose new and ambiguous requirements.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Vote No on Proposition “J”

Remember when street selling in San Francisco was a chaotic mess?

Peddlers were lined up corner-to-corner on street-after-street, badgering and harassing our tourist guests with their products. They overflowed the sidewalks, blocked pedestrians, hampered traffic, endangered people’s lives. The Fire Department complained that they couldn’t get to the hydrants.

What’s more, a lot of these peddlers weren’t selling their own products at all, which is what street artists are supposed to do. They were pushing phonies, imports, which they were buying wholesale.

So, the legitimate street artists and the business community got together in support of a Proposition to regulate the business of street selling. It provided locations for legitimate street artists; it insisted that the products be genuinely home-made and not a rip-off import. It assured that there would be no interference with pedestrians and traffic. That Proposition cleaned up the situation. You voted for it. Things became a lot better.

But the phonies are trying to open the floodgates once again, with Proposition “J”.

Proposition “J” says that for every seven permits the Art Commission issues to street artists, the City must provide five selling spaces. Since the Commission can issue as many permits as it likes, this actually means almost unlimited use of the streets — and the City has to provide the spaces — checking on the legitimacy of the products would be practically impossible. There’ll be peddlers everywhere.

Don’t take this nonsense. Keep the sidewalk selling situation under control. Don’t let them roll the clock back to chaos.

Vote No on Proposition “J”

Submitted By:
Downtown Association of San Francisco
Milton Gilmore, President

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Proposition J makes the Art Commission responsible for control of street artists. This will not work, because the Commission does not have enough manpower to enforce regulations. And the Art Commission is not equipped to decide how public sidewalks and open space should be used. This is the Planning Commission’s job, yet Planning is left out of Proposition J. “J” also opens the door to peddlers of cheap, mass-produced goods, because it does not clearly define “street artist.” And it does nothing to correct the situation where neighborhood store owners have to carry liability insurance to cover street artists’ activities in front of their premises. So-called street art has become a big business in San Francisco. It needs regulation, but Proposition J is the wrong way.

PROPOSITION K

Ordinance: Shall increased rates for existing Business, Payroll and Real Property Transfer Taxes which were repealed by Board of Supervisors be re-enacted and allowing for offsetting Rebates in the form of credits for this year with authority of Board of Supervisors to extend credits?

Analysis

By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Statement Proposition 13, which passed on June 6, limited the amount of money local government could raise from property taxes. After it passed, the San Francisco Board of Supervisors, at the request of the Mayor, approved higher tax rates for business and property transfer taxes. These new rates began June 30. However, when it became clear that the state surplus would supply enough money to San Francisco to operate for this fiscal year, the Board of Supervisors repealed the increases in these taxes.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition K, which was placed on the ballot by the Mayor, would restore the increases in the business and property transfer taxes. This would overturn the Board of Supervisors' repeal and put the tax rates back up to the June 30 level. Because the state is providing funds to San Francisco for this fiscal year, Proposition K would provide for rebates on these taxes for this year only.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want business and property taxes in San Francisco to be raised back to the June 30 rates, with rebates this year.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want to keep business and property transfer taxes where they are now.

Controller's Statement on "K"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition K:

If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, there is a potential for future revenue of approximately $26,200,000 per annum from the business, payroll and real property transfer taxes. However, for fiscal year ending June 30, 1979 tax credits will be subtracted from the total tax due which will eliminate any additional revenues. For subsequent years, the tax credits can be modified by legislative action by the Board of Supervisors.

How Proposition K Got On The Ballot

Proposition K was placed on the ballot by a City Charter provision which allows the Mayor to place an Ordinance or Declaration of Policy on the ballot. On August 3rd the Registrar received a request signed by Mayor George Moscone directing that an ordinance reinstating the increased rates for business, payroll and property transfer taxes be placed on the November ballot.

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION K APPEARS ON PAGE 134
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION K

Proposition K, the Home Rule Preservation Ordinance, is nothing more than an insurance policy for San Francisco. It will protect the City against the day the State’s budget surplus diminishes and San Francisco must once again provide for itself.

It means no new taxes. It enables the Board of Supervisors, the City’s policy-making body, to reimpose a 1.5 percent property transfer tax, a 1.5 percent payroll tax paid by major businesses and not by wage earners, and a modest increase in the City’s gross receipt tax, by a simple majority vote. Reestablishing these tax rates — which were reduced after the State gave San Francisco more than $110 million in bailout money, on a one-time-only basis — would bring in some $30-million. Like any insurance policy, it won’t be collected unless it is absolutely necessary.

Dependence on the State for handouts means San Francisco cannot determine its own future. Nobody knows how long the State will continue to have a surplus, and nobody knows how large that surplus will be in years to come. The only thing we can be sure of is that the surplus will decrease year by year, and whatever money San Francisco accepts will have strings attached to it.

By accepting the $110-million this year, San Francisco had to agree to give no cost of living wage adjustments to deserving city employees. The City also had to agree to continue funding programs at higher levels than may have been desirable, given the fiscal emergency created by passage of Proposition 13.

The fact of the matter is, San Francisco lost a significant degree of home rule. Decisions that should have been made by San Franciscans were made in Sacramento, because Sacramnto was paying the bills.

Proposition K, the Home Rule Preservation Ordinance, keeps control at home, where it belongs. It’s an insurance policy we can’t afford to drop. K is OKAY. Vote Yes on K.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

Vote “No” on Proposition K

On June 6th, the voters thought that passage of Proposition 13 meant the elimination of the capricious raising of their local taxes. The voters thought they had told their public officials that they wanted government reform through streamlined municipal operations. Some of our San Francisco public officials have not gotten the message.

Proposition K is a direct attempt to circumvent the will of the people by raising the Real Estate Transfer Tax by 200%, the Payroll Expense Tax by 40%, and the Business Tax by 40%. The San Francisco Chronicle called these increased taxes “inappropriate and unnecessary.” The Board of Supervisors agreed and voted to reject these new taxes. Yet Proposition K was placed on the ballot.

Proposition K does not just affect business. These are consumer taxes. The payroll and business taxes will mean higher prices to consumers. The real property transfer tax will be passed on to every family purchasing a home in San Francisco, acting as yet another deterrent to middle income families remaining in San Francisco. It contains a complicated credit system requiring taxpayer vigilance to avoid payment of these new taxes during its first year of implementation.

Most important, Proposition K is totally unnecessary. The budget passed by the Board of Supervisors is only .8 percent lower than last year’s $831 million budget. It contains the largest surplus in San Francisco’s history. Therefore, these increased taxes are unnecessary.

In the past, politicians have decided how much money they wanted and presented the bill to taxpayers, through the property tax rate. Prop 13 changed this by giving the politicians a set amount and telling them to make the hard decisions about spending priorities. The voters want politicians to meet City needs by eliminating duplication and slothful spending. Proposition K flies in the face of this mandate and will further delay imperative governmental reforms.

VOTE “NO” ON PROPOSITION K and once again tell your public officials that government reorganization, not increased taxes, is the way to run San Francisco.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

With the passage of Proposition 13 in June, the voters made a statement in no uncertain terms that taxes were too high and that government had become too large. Proposition K is clearly an effort to increase taxes to a level above that which was in effect prior to Proposition 13 and will add to the growth of government.

Although two of the proposed increases are applied to business, they have a major impact on the general public and are considered consumer taxes.

The gross receipts tax is an excess cost of doing business in the city and a major reason why hundreds of businesses and jobs have left the city in the past seven years. This tax is also reflected in the cost of goods and services.

The payroll tax is a penalty that must be paid by an employer every time he creates a new job or gives an employee a raise.

The real estate transfer tax has a major impact on the cost of residential property and is a penalty that must be paid by everyone who purchases a home in the city.

By voting no on Proposition K you will keep these taxes at their present level and help reduce the size of government.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

VOTE NO on “K”. This is a tax increase Proposition, no matter what it’s called. A tax increase is a tax increase, no matter who pays it first. In the long run, you pay it, of course. Putting more taxes on business is putting more taxes on you. That’s what Proposition “K” does to you.

Right after Jarvis-Gann, the politicians panicked. How were they going to make up the lost funds? So these tax increases on business were hurried through. Then the air cleared. The panic passed. The Supervisors wisely voted to repeal the increases. They know that business taxes hurt the whole City, not just business. The Mayor decided to let the repeal go through.

But now he’s asking to boost your own taxes... They are your taxes, even if they do call them business taxes. You may not have to do the paperwork, but these taxes add up to the costs of doing business here in San Francisco. When business costs go up, so do prices. So do rents. And a few more businesses move out of San Francisco; many more jobs are lost.

These are stand-by taxes. They are not needed now. “We won’t use the money unless we need it,” they say. (Where have you heard that before? Can you picture them leaving any money in the till, once you fill it up for them?)

If there’s one thing we don’t need right now, it’s more taxes, or more power for the politicians to impose them.

Let the politicians feel the pinch, not you. MAKE THEM ECONOMIZE, not just find a roundabout way to tax you further.

Don’t give them the money. Vote for your job. Vote for your pocketbook.

Controller’s Statement on "L"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition L:

If the proposed position is adopted, in my opinion, the cost of government would be increased by approximately $345,000.

How Prop. L Got On The Ballot

Propositions L, M, N, O, P, Q, R and S are a result of a provision in the City Charter which was adopted by the voters in November 1976. This provision requires that unsettled contract disputes between city officials and city employees be put before the voters to decide.

In this proposition the voters will grant or reject the last demands of city workers represented by the International Federation of Professional & Technical Engineers, Local 21.

LABORERS’ SALARY DEMANDS

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION M

Only 36 of the 283 persons employed as general laborers are assigned to work with the processing of raw human sewage on a daily basis. Such work requires an extra level of dedication and skill to ensure that the water quality control process is properly and efficiently completed.

This proposition would award these few workers additional compensation when performing such odious duties, and requires that proper uniforms be provided by the City. It is only human and decent that the voters approve this measure. Our members should not be reduced to the level of poverty and degradation of untouchables merely because they are employed in the City’s sanitary waste facilities. A vote for this measure will increase morale and productivity among these critical workers at little cost to the taxpayer.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION N

San Francisco employs fewer than 15 qualified Glaziers who are responsible for replacement and repair of tens and thousands of windows and skylights, all over the City and County, including such critical and unusual installations as the City Hall Dome, the Conservatory, the Aquarium Fish Tanks and the San Francisco General Hospital. Much of this work requires costly specialized tools and duties on boom trucks which call for greater experience and skill.

Passage of this proposition will ensure that modern and proper tools are always available. The City does not make its clerks furnish their own typewriters, nor the janitors their own mops and pails and should not require the Glaziers to provide their own tools either.

This measure will also provide premium pay for higher skill boom work. Actually, very few hours of boom work is done on an annual basis and the cost to the taxpayer will be negligible.

ELECTRICIANS' SALARY DEMANDS

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION Q

San Francisco employs hundreds of qualified electrical workers of every race, ancestry and religion, in every vital public service it renders, including police communications, fire alarms, street lighting, MUNI transit, traffic signals and hospital operating room lighting and power. Many of these electricians are assigned to the Hetch Hetchy Power Generation System, which is a revenue producing City operation that competes with privately owned and operated utilities. Much of the work requires high levels of skill due to exposure to high voltage, climbing up transmission towers, and exposure to the elements and human wastes.

This measure provides that such workers will be furnished proper tools and clothing to perform their jobs in an efficient and workmanlike manner. It also provides that all those who repair MUNI transit vehicles work the same hours and enjoy the same conditions. This measure only works to increase the efficiency of the City's electrical workers, and to bring equity to and improve the morale of these employees at a minimal cost to the taxpayer.

PROPOSITION U
Initiative Ordinance: Shall there be a one month rent stabilization for December 1978 (calculated on basis of June 6, 1978 rent) and a rental reduction for calendar year 1979 (calculated on June 6, 1978 rent minus the property tax saving on the rental unit)?

Analysis

By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Rents in San Francisco are now set according to an agreement between what a landlord wants to charge and what a tenant is willing to pay.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition U would require that a landlord pass on to his or her tenants the total tax reduction received for that property from the passage of State Proposition 13. Proposition U would also prevent any rent increase through December, 1979, unless the landlord can prove that the costs on the rental unit have gone up. Rents could be raised for inflation or other increased costs, but not both. Proposition U requires that every landlord notify every tenant of how the rent reduction from Proposition 13 was calculated, and to make available for tenants a list of rents for all units in the property as well as books, records and receipts to document any reasons for a proposed rent increase.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want rents controlled in San Francisco through December, 1979 and you want to require landlords to pass on to both commercial and residential renters the full rebates mandated by Proposition 13.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want things to stay the way they are, with market conditions setting rent levels in San Francisco.

Controller's Statement on "U"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition U:

If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, it would not, of itself, affect the cost of government.

How Proposition U Got On The Ballot

On August 17th, City Registrar of Voters Thomas Kearney certified that the initiative petition containing Proposition U had qualified for the November ballot. Proposition U is an ordinance that calls for landlords to rebate to renters all of the savings attributable to Proposition 13.

San Franciscans for Renters Property Tax Relief, the proponents of the initiative, filed 24,805 signatures with Kearney on August 9th. After checking the signatures, Kearney determined that there were 18,353 valid signatures, which is more than the 10,562 names needed to put an initiative ordinance on the ballot.

10,562 represents 5% of the number of people who voted for Mayor in 1975.

RENT REBATE

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION U

Over 25,000 San Franciscans signed the petition that put Proposition U on the ballot. They were renters, homeowners, neighborhood merchants, and landlords.

Renters support Proposition U because they now pay 100% of their landlords' property taxes; and if Prop. 13 results in a property tax reduction, that reduction ought to go back to the tenants who really pay these taxes, not to their landlords as windfall profits.

Homeowners support Proposition U, because it extends to their renter friends, relatives and neighbors the same benefits they have gotten under Prop. 13, without costing homeowners a penny.

Neighborhood merchants support Proposition U, because they want to remain serving their neighbors, rather than being forced out by higher rents.

And fair-minded landlords support Proposition U, because they know tenants will be guaranteed Prop. 13 benefits only if a law is passed, rather than relying on the illusion of "voluntary rebates". In order to prevent landlords from offsetting through rent increases the rebate required under Proposition U, rents are set at the June 6, 1978 level, and increases are allowed only to cover legitimate operating cost increases.

This is not rent control.

Voters also should be warned that sometime before Election Day the Supervisors may pass an ordinance designed to give the appearance of meeting renters' needs, but which in actuality is not a rent rebate ordinance. Don't be fooled!

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION U

We are San Francisco homeowners. We fully support Proposition U. We think renters ought to get the same property tax benefits owners have just gotten under Prop. 13. We have friends, relatives and neighbors who are renters, and they need these breaks as much as we do. And besides, giving them tax justice won't cost homeowners a penny.

So let's give renters a break, too. Vote YES on Prop. U.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

MEASURE U IS RENT CONTROL FOR VIRTUALLY ALL SAN FRANCISCO RENTAL HOMES, FLATS, APARTMENTS AND COMMERCIAL BUILDINGS, PLAIN AND SIMPLE. It will have the same devastating social and economic impact on our City that such laws have had virtually everywhere they have been tried. To convince you Measure U doesn't mean rent control, proponents deliberately combined their rent control scheme with Proposition 13 issues — a clear case of deceptive packaging.

You should be aware of what rent control will do to our City, Measure U will:

1. Reduce the amount of available rental housing by forcing many owners into condominium conversion; to live there, you will have to buy — at skyrocketing prices.
2. Reduce owners' incentives to keep up their buildings.
3. Impose more laws and more government interference.
4. Congest already crowded courts by potentially making every renter/owner dispute a lawsuit.
5. Cause residential and commercial rental property assessments to drop, thus shrinking the tax base. This will cause a shift to increased homeowner taxes.

Rent control historically hurts most those who can afford it least: minorities, seniors and low-income people. Rent control reduces apartment services and maintenance. With the rental housing supply diminished, many people will be squeezed out by those with more cash and credit who are less affected by shifts in the job market.

Measure U applies the same rent control formula to highrise office buildings as to residential units, which is absurd. Because of the problems this ordinance would create, jobs and business will be driven from San Francisco.

We all have experienced "temporary" government measures. Nearly every rent control measure now in existence originally was "temporary", and Measure U will be no exception. Measure U will end the possibility of meaningful solutions to our housing problems. It is the wrong approach to tax relief. Don't be fooled by deceptive packaging.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

Let us be fair. Landlords are not Shylocks — they have monetary problems too. In any event, why penalize all for the conduct of a few? We stand only to lose by allowing rent control to pit landlords against tenants.

Rent control — Proposition U style — is a gigantic first step toward destroying San Francisco's housing market by removing the investment incentive. Without this inducement, our housing stock is certain to dwindle and deteriorate.

Rent control also threatens our freedom. A controlled society is not a free society. If rents are to be controlled, will wage and prices be next? We have done well in America operating in a free market. Preserve our freedom by rejecting rent control. Vote No on U.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

In the myriad of things done in the name of Proposition 13, Rent Control is the most diabolical. Under the guise of tax rebate sharing, this proposition deprives owners of rental property ANY tax relief. Thereby corporations, homeowners and large utilities benefit but not the owner who supplies apartment living for a large part of our City's population. The man who paid taxes even when he had vacancies must now turn over to tenants ALL of his tax rebate. This is not justice San Francisco style.

San Francisco is a rare major City, not only for its natural beauty, but because it is so loved by its residents that they have restored and rehabilitated its gracious older buildings with their own sweat and small savings, while other cities like New York, Boston and Washington worried about blocks of slums with empty, falling down buildings, broken windows and rat infesting populations. These a result of owner's default or simple abandonment because it made no economic sense to try to hold on under rent control.

Senator Proxmire summed it up well when he spoke against Federal funding to New York City because rent control caused the problem and he wanted it repealed. Undersecretary of HUD Janis underlined this on national television stating that he opposed rent control because it never works, only causes problems.

The Citizens Housing Forum, after much study, finds that the effects of rent control while devastating to other cities are suicidal for San Francisco. In our compact City where single family homes are almost always adjacent to or closeby rental units, the deterioration or abandonment of rental units, inevitable under rent control, will not only adversely affect the value of the homeowner's property but even more importantly, his safety.

We are a proud City. Let us not take the chance of reducing ourselves to the humiliation of New York or the devastation of the South Bronx. We strongly urge you to vote No on this initiative and preserve our unique environment.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

Disastrous! Misguided! Legalized Theft!

These terms describe some effects of rent control. If you find them comforting and appealing, then Proposition U deserves your vote. But, if you believe, as a noted economist has stated, that rent control is “the most efficient technique presently known to destroy a city — except for bombing,” Proposition U demands your NO vote.

Proposition U threatens San Francisco with all the ill effects rent control has produced in other communities where introduced. Intended as a cure, it is more deadly than the ailment it purports to treat. There is no need for speculative thinking on this. Hard experience testifies to the facts. Under rent control, 260,000 rental units have been lost through abandonment in New York City since 1964. Is New York’s example to be followed here? San Francisco deserves a better fate.

Rent control has also wrought havoc in Washington, D.C. Senator Eagleton (Democrat, Missouri) — not known for his conservatism — concluded, after a study of Washington rent controls, that they provide “an incentive for decay . . . (E)nacted for the best of motives to protect middle and low-income tenants, (they) actually work against the very people they were designed to aid.” The Washington Star Post, also viewing the Washington scene firsthand, has likened rent control to hard drugs: “Starting is euphoric. Trying to stop is painful. Continuing is disaster.”

We are not opposed to landlords sharing tax benefits with tenants. We encourage it whenever the facts justify, and expect it to occur when the time comes. But how can benefits be shared before realized or be evaluated before tax bills are received? Who can predict whether Proposition 13 will survive current legal attacks or when a decision will be forthcoming? Untimely actions often result in regret. Proposition U, if approved, would fit this mold.

California’s legislature recently disapproved rent rollbacks and rebates statewide. How can what was rejected for Californians serve the best interests of San Franciscans? Don’t be misled by false promises.

Spare San Francisco the ravages of rent control. Vote NO on Proposition U.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

Arguments Against Rent Control

Vote No for any rent controls.

Rent Control in any form is not needed for tenants to share in Proposition 13 savings.

Rent Control would discourage new construction, and as a result, many people in the Building Trades would be out of jobs (and this might be you.)

Rent Control is not in the best interest of tenants nor landlords, because between both parties there is a contractual relationship.

The tenant has the right to accept the rental or reject it. The landlord has the right to set a price on his rental unit. It is a fundamental right of contract between the parties.

If the Rent Control Bill is passed, landlords would not be inclined to keep up the quality of their rental units. This would accelerate the deterioration of rental units.

If we want to increase the availability and upgrade the quality of rental units, Rent Control in any form is not the answer.

PROPOSITION V
Declaration of Policy: Shall the People of the City and County of San Francisco demand that the Federal Government cease spending our tax money for wasteful military purposes and instead use it to provide the jobs and services that our people so desperately need, thereby creating jobs with peace by cutting the military budget?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: There is no city policy declaration which demands the end of “wasteful” military spending in order to provide more money for jobs and services.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition V would declare that the voters of San Francisco demand that the federal government stop spending tax money for wasteful military purposes and use it instead to provide needed jobs and services.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want it to be the policy of San Francisco to publicly oppose military spending identified as “wasteful” and use the money saved to provide jobs and services for people in this country.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want San Francisco to declare a policy against that military spending.

Controller’s Statement on ‘‘V’’
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition V:
If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, it would have no effect in the cost of government.

How Proposition V Got On The Ballot
On August 17th, City Registrar of Voters Thomas Kearney certified that the initiative petition containing Proposition V had qualified for the November ballot. Proposition V is a declaration of policy that calls for a decrease in U.S. Military spending.
Michael C. Miller, the proponent of the initiative, filed 19,397 signatures with Kearney on August 8th. After checking the signatures, Kearney determined that there were 13,760 valid signatures, which is more than 10,562 names needed to put an initiative ordinance on the ballot.
MILITARY EXPENDITURES

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION V

The Federal Government spends almost $200 billion for military and related purposes, up 10% from last year. In contrast, $38 billion is spent on housing and $10 billion on education.

The people of this country suffer under an intolerable tax burden. San Franciscans will pay $789 million in federal income taxes this year of which $435 million will go to the military. This is more than the City's total property taxes before Proposition 13.

The Proposition 13 savings went mostly to business, some to homeowners and none to tenants. The cost has been drastic cuts in schools and other cuts averted only by the State surplus, the continuation of which is tenuous at best.

The real solution to the tax burden is not Proposition 13, layoffs, cutbacks or new taxes, but to change our nation's priorities. Current military spending greatly exceeds any conceivable defensive need. The military is the greatest threat to world peace by exporting $16.3 billion in arms this year and by stationing troops around the world.

Military spending creates fewer jobs than spending in the civilian economy. The Vietnam war and foreign aid show that our tax money has been used to support dictators who suppress political and human rights. The resulting low wages in those countries has caused industry to relocate there and deprive our people of jobs. Military spending has been the major cause of deficit spending, thereby causing inflation.

JOBS WITH PEACE IS THE STRONGEST STATEMENT WE CAN NOW MAKE THAT OUR COUNTRY MOVE TOWARDS PEACE AND REDUCE THE INCREASING WAR PREPARATION AND THE POSSIBILITY OF WAR ITSELF. OUR CHILDREN NEED SCHOOLS. OUR PEOPLE NEED HEALTH CARE, HOUSING, FOOD AND JOBS. OUR NATIONAL SECURITY LIES IN THE WELL-BEING OF OUR PEOPLE. WE DEMAND JOBS WITH PEACE. YES ON V.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION V

The labor movement stands for real national security, but it recognizes that the 130 billion military budget contains much waste and fat; it is the only source for adequate funding of jobs programs, housing, health insurance, education, environmental protection and aid to cities. Furthermore, military spending creates only half as many private industry jobs as spending on peoples' programs. Also military spending is the most inflationary type of government spending. Even large defense unions (Auto workers, Machinists) favor cutting the military budget, along with many other large unions, the Industrial Union Department of AFL-CIO and sixty Bay Area local unions.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION V

"Do you really want your taxes cut? Does inflation rob you of your buying power? Then vote for Proposition V (for the transfer amendment initiative). The big tax rip off is not local but federal. High taxes and inflation, are, in the main, caused by the billions spent on a military machine that creates no consumer goods while eating up America's basic resources. Funds should be transferred from the swollen military budget to provide money for jobs, housing and necessary services to the people."

PROPOSITION W
Declaration of Policy: We, the people of San Francisco, demand that the District Attorney, along with the Chief of Police, cease the arrest and prosecution of individuals involved in the cultivation, transfer, or possession of marijuana.

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Law enforcement officials may arrest and prosecute any individuals they find who are involved in the cultivation, transfer or possession of marijuana.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition W would declare that it is the policy of the people of San Francisco to demand that law enforcement officials stop arresting and prosecuting people who cultivate, transfer or possess marijuana.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want law enforcement officials in San Francisco to stop arresting and prosecuting people who cultivate, transfer or possess marijuana.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want law enforcement officials to continue their present policy of arresting and prosecuting people for marijuana cultivation, transfer or possession.

Controller's Statement on "W"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition W:
If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, it would not, of itself, affect the cost of government.

How Proposition W Got On The Ballot
On August 17th, City Registrar of Voters Thomas Kearney certified that the initiative petition containing Proposition W had qualified for the November ballot. Proposition W is a declaration of policy that declares it to be City and County policy that persons not be arrested for Marijuana offenses.
Dennis Peron and Rick Ames, the proponents of the initiative, filed 20,800 signatures with Kearney on August 9th. After checking the signatures, Kearney determined that there were 11,840 valid signatures, which is more than the 10,562 names needed to put an initiative ordinance on the ballot.
10,562 represents 5% of the number of people who voted for Mayor in 1975.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION W

In 1972, the voters of San Francisco approved a state-wide initiative to decriminalize marijuana possession and cultivation. In 1975, San Francisco voters elected a mayor and district attorney who had campaigned against marijuana law enforcement. For several years, San Francisco voters have been electing state legislators who are strong advocates of marijuana reform.

Yet today, in 1978, the archaic marijuana laws are still being vigorously enforced in San Francisco. Violent crime has dramatically increased, yet the police still enforce a set of laws which most San Francisco voters are opposed to.

Since the passage of Proposition 13 (Jarvis-Gann) millions of dollars have been cut from city services. But no cuts have been made in the non-essential “service” of the arrest and harassment of innocent individuals.

Proposition W does not change the laws.

Proposition W is a message to the elected officials of San Francisco that the voters want to see the campaign promises of the last six years fulfilled. It leaves it up to the elected officials how to do it; but the message is clear to CHANGE OUR PRIORITIES. While marijuana laws can’t be ignored without a change in state laws, they can be put at the lowest priority.

The voters of San Francisco have this chance to tell their elected officials what they see as the proper role of city government: to protect your morals, or to protect your rights?

Vote YES on Proposition W.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION W

Proposition W is a policy statement submitted to determine the views of San Francisco voters regarding enforcement of the marijuana laws.

Proposition W calls upon the San Francisco Police Chief and District Attorney to concentrate on the enforcement and prosecution of serious and violent crimes by de-emphasizing marijuana offenses. It would help establish a rational and sensible set of law enforcement priorities.

Proposition W would neither legalize nor decriminalize marijuana in San Francisco, as such statutory changes can only be made at the state and federal levels. As a policy statement, Proposition W does not conflict with the constitutional authority of the state legislature to establish penalties and procedures for enforcement of the marijuana laws, but rather serves as an expression of the views of San Francisco voters on appropriate local guidelines.

Because of fiscal restraints imposed on all public agencies — including law enforcement — by Proposition 13 in June, it is essential that our limited law enforcement resources be concentrated on combatting truly serious crimes and not wasted on enforcement of laws against consensual conduct. Police and court time are too valuable to be needlessly expended on marijuana offenses at a time when serious crime is a real problem in San Francisco.

Proposition W is not only right; it makes fiscal sense. Vote “YES” on Proposition W.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION W

(Marijuana Initiative)

Proposition W does not stop their enforcement.

All this policy statement is meant to do is to tell the city leaders that San Franciscans don't want to see valuable police time and money spent enforcing marijuana laws. It will tell city leaders that they should work to change them.

This is a policy statement and nothing more. It says that too many lives have been wasted already because of these laws. It says that too much money has been spent on their enforcement. It says that there is no real crime or hazard in smoking marijuana.

We know from history that allowing people to drink alcohol didn't turn the entire nation into drunks. The time has come for the same sensibility to be applied to marijuana.

PROPOSITION X
Shall a Charter Commission be elected to propose a new charter or to revise the charter?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The present City Charter of San Francisco went into effect in 1932. Since then it has been amended many times, but not rewritten in its entirety.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition X would declare that it is the policy of the people of San Francisco to elect a Charter Commission which would meet to write a new or revised Charter for the City.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to have a Charter Commission elected to write a new or revised Charter for San Francisco.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want to create a Charter Commission elected for that purpose.

Controller's Statement on "X"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition X:
If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, the cost of government would be increased by approximately $375,500.

How Proposition X Got On The Ballot
Please note that the Board of Supervisors was mandated by State law to place the above measure on the ballot. The vote by the Supervisors on placing this matter on the ballot was:
“Aye” — Supervisors Dolson, Hutch, Lau, Milk, Molinari, Silver, White.
“No” — Supervisors Feinstein, Gonzales, Kopp, Pelosi.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION X

Many among us believe that San Francisco's government is expensive, inefficient and wasteful. A major cause of this is the City Charter.

The present Charter fragments the responsibility and authority of the Mayor and Board of Supervisors and grants powers to numerous boards and commissions not responsible to the voters. It makes it difficult for citizens to be heard. Most importantly, it requires obsolete budget practices which make it difficult to manage government efficiently. It is estimated that over $20,000,000 could be saved each year by improved data processing, employment practices and related reforms that are not now possible because of the present charter.

The Charter is lengthy and deals with many trivial matters that could be dealt with more effectively through ordinances. Witness the large number of charter amendments in this election.

The Charter was written to handle the problems of the 1930's, not those of today and tomorrow. It is now 47 years old and has been amended over 500 times. The amendments are expensive to print, mail and implement, costing taxpayers much more in the long run than charter modernization would. They have left us with a Charter so confusing that few people understand it.

A YES vote on Proposition X will allow the election of a Charter Commission which will write a new Charter, hold public hearings and submit it to the voters in a future election. If Proposition X passes, voters will elect 15 Charter Commissioners from among the candidates whose names appear elsewhere on this ballot.

The voters, by passing Proposition L last June, showed that they feel it is time to modernize the Charter.

Certain special interests are now saying that the people shouldn't have this opportunity to elect a Commission.

We think it is the time to bring our city government into line with the times and to make it as efficient and effective as the people demand and deserve.

We urge you to vote YES on Proposition X.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION X

It is unconscionable to obligate possibly millions of dollars for this project after Proposition 13. Every extra penny should go to child-care, health services, senior citizens' or handicapped needs, education, parks and libraries. Hopefully, the Controller will now state exact figures. Not only will costs double, but the entire Charter and revisions must be communicated in three languages. There are more satisfactory and economical ways to update our Charter. I urge your emphatic NO vote on Proposition "X".

CHARTER COMMISSION

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION X

Vote "No" on Proposition X

When things go badly in government, the easiest answer is to blame it on the system, instead of the administrators. Our Charter is a sound constitution. It separates powers between the executive (mayor) and the legislative (Board of Supervisors) branches. It contains successful fiscal restraints and checks and procedures to prevent the purloining of the public purse.

The Charter has worked well and can continue to do so, given proper administrators.

Moreover, the establishment, of yet another Charter Commission to redraft the Charter would be time consuming and expensive. You, the voter, should be aware of the costs. They will include money for research, staff salaries, office expenses, materials, printing, postage, and even transportation of witnesses. There will also be the costs of mailing any redrafted Charter PLUS the existing Charter to all voters, in at least three languages, before it is voted on. And, there is no assurance that any redrafted Charter will be approved by the voters. Regardless of the outcome, the Board of Supervisors will be asked to appropriate an undetermined amount of taxpayer's monies for this purpose. The costs will exceed $750,000.

The 1968-72 Charter Revision Commission spent over $160,000 for salaries, office supplies, transportation, repairs and Commissioners' meals. It spent over $400,000 for mailing its proposal to voters. These expenses, over $560,000, were paid by the taxpayers of San Francisco, although the end product, a revised Charter, was disapproved by the electorate.

There have been several committees to revise the Charter. All have failed. The establishment of a new charter revision commission at a time when there is a crying need for fiscal restraint is untimely and unjustified. There are budget cuts in health, education, recreation and other government services. There are sharp increases in fees and charges like the sewer service charge. Approving a proposal to expend upwards of perhaps one million dollars for an unnecessary commission with no determined end result is simply wrong.

3.661 General Powers and Duties

(a) The civil service commission shall be the employment and personnel department of the city and county and shall determine appointments on the basis of merit and fitness, as shown by appropriate tests. The commission shall classify, and from time to time may reclassify, in accordance with duties and responsibilities of the employment, and training and experience required, all places of employment in the departments and offices of the city and county not specifically exempted by this charter from the civil service provisions thereof, or which may be created hereafter by general law and not specifically exempted from said civil service provisions. The commission shall likewise classify all other positions or other places of employment in the city and county service specifically exempted from the civil service provisions of this charter, but which, by the provisions of section 8.401, thereof, are made subject to classification for salary standardization purposes on the basis of duties and responsibilities of the employment and training and experience required. The civil service commission shall be the judge of such classification.

The commission shall also, in accordance with duties and responsibilities, allocate, and from time to time may reallocate, the positions to the various classes of the classification. The allocation or re-allocation of a position shall not adversely affect the civil service rights of an occupant regularly holding such position. No person shall hold a position outside of the classification to which he has been appointed, provided that every employee of any department or office shall discharge any of the duties pertaining to such department or office to which his chief may temporarily assign him.

The classes and class numbers assigned to positions by the commission shall be used in all records, reports, statements and communications, including the compensation schedule, annual budget and salary ordinance, payrolls, and appropriation ordinances.

The commission shall adopt rules to carry out the civil service provisions of this charter and, except as otherwise provided in this charter, such rules shall govern applications; examinations; eligibility; duration of eligible lists; certification of eligibles; appointments; promotions; transfers; resignations; lay-offs or reduction in force, both permanent and temporary, due to lack of work or funds, retrenchment, or completion of work; the filling of positions, temporary, seasonal and permanent; classification; approval of payrolls; and such other matters as are not in conflict with this charter. The commission may, upon one week's notice, make changes in the rules, which change shall thereupon be printed, and be in force; provided that no such changes in rules shall affect a case pending before the commission. The secretary may certify eligibles and payrolls and conduct examinations under the rules of the commission.

The commissioners shall have power to institute and prosecute legal proceedings for violations of any of the civil service provisions of this charter.

(b) The civil service commission shall establish an inspection service for the purpose of investigating the conduct of and action of appointees in all positions and of securing records of service for promotion and other purposes. All departments shall cooperate with the commission in making its investigations and any person hindering the commission or its agents shall be subject to suspension.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Charter, the civil service commission shall by rule establish procedures to review and resolve allegations of discrimination on the basis of race, religion, sex, national origin, ethnicity, age, physical handicap, political affiliation, sexual orientation, ancestry, marital status, color, medical condition or other non-merit factors. The determination reached under civil service commission procedures shall be final and shall forthwith be enforced by every employee and officer.

8.310. Declaration of Personnel Policy
CONTINUATION OF TEXT PROPOSITION B

(a) All appointments in the public service shall be made for the good of the public service and solely upon merit and fitness, as established by appropriate tests, without regard to partisan, political, social or other considerations. No person shall in any way be favored or discriminated against in employment or opportunity for employment because of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, political affiliation, age, religion, national origin or other non-merit factors.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in subsection (a) or any other provisions of the charter, it shall be the policy of the City and County of San Francisco, consistent with a policy of acquiring qualified personnel for the service of the city and county, to encourage the hiring of blind persons. It shall further be the policy of the City and County of San Francisco that no otherwise qualified blind person shall be discriminated against in examination, re-examination, appointment, reappointment, promotion or demotion in any class, subclass or position in the civil service unless by reason of blindness is indispensable for the performance of the duties and responsibilities of the class, subclass or position. It shall be the duty of the commission to classify, and from time to time it may reclassify, places of employment in the civil service of which may be efficiently performed by qualified blind persons to conduct appropriate examinations which will fairly test the capacity of blind persons as well as sighted persons to perform such duties.

8.321. Examination of Applicants

All applicants for places in the classified service shall submit to (tests) examinations which shall be competitive provided, however, that no (test) examination (in either entrance or promotional examinations) shall be deemed to be competitive unless two or more persons shall participate, except that any such examination may be held for one qualified applicant on recommendation of the civil service commission and approval by resolution of the board of supervisors, after a finding by the board that reasonable publicity of the proposed examination has been given (by the civil service commission). Such (tests) examinations shall be without charge to the applicants. The commission shall control all examinations and may employ suitable persons in or out of the public service to act as examiners. The (tests may be written, oral, mechanical or physical, or any combination of them, practical in character and related to matters) examinations used shall measure the relative capacities of the persons examined to perform the functions, duties and responsibilities of the classification to which they seek appointment. Examinations shall consist of selection test batteries which will test fairly (to test) the relative (capacity) qualifications, merit and fitness of the applicants for the position to be filled.

Examinations may include written tests to determine job-related aptitude, knowledge, or achievements and oral tests by qualifications appraisal boards. The civil service commission shall establish rules governing the size and composition of qualification appraisal board. Qualification appraisal boards may consider, in the case of employees of the City and County of San Francisco, all prior performance evaluations completed on civil service forms and in the case of all applicants may consider prior work experience, assessment center evaluations, and work samples as a part of their evaluation of candidates for employment to any position. Appropriate rosters of eligibles established by a trade, craft or occupation joint apprenticeship committee recognized by the State of California Department of Industrial Relations, Division of Apprenticeship Standards, may be utilized to fill apprenticeship positions or as the basis for establishing apprenticeship eligibility lists. The commission shall be the sole judge of the adequacy of the tests to rate the capacity of the applicants to perform service for the city and county. The commission may, for each examination, establish a passing mark or may determine the total number of persons who shall constitute the list of eligibles. The commission shall prepare from the returns of the examiners the list of eligibles, arranged in order of relative (excellence) performance. No question submitted to applicants shall refer to political or religious opinions or fraternal affiliations.

((Applicants for positions in the mechanical trades and occupations may, in the discretion of the commission, be rated solely on experience and physical qualifications which may be demonstrated by such evidence and in such manner as the commission may direct, and such applicants may be submitted to such further tests as the commission may require.))

8.322. Protest of Written Questions and Answers

After the written portion of a civil service examination has been held, ((and prior to the scoring thereof,)) the questions used and the answers thereto shall be available for review by the participants. This review period shall not apply to questions and answers on any continuous or standardized entrance or concurrent entrance and pretest written test. During the review period, participants shall have an opportunity to protest questions or answers they believe to be incorrect or improper. ((The written portion of the examination shall not be scored until all protest items have been acted on and an official rating key has been adopted.)) After all protested items have been acted on and after the official rating key has been adopted, and the identification sheets have been opened, ((no)) further changes in the rating key shall not be made.

8.323. Protest of Tentative List of Eligibles

Following the completion of any examination, a tentative list of eligibles shall be posted for the inspection of the public and of participants. The posting period shall be for a minimum of three (3) working days for entrance examinations or five (5) working days for promotional or combined entrance and promotional examinations. During this period a fee for the inspection of the papers of each eligible shall be charged by the civil service commission. The amount of such fee shall be established by ordinance of the board of supervisors. The fee shall be waived for eligibles who wish to inspect their own papers. Inspection of papers shall include all documents supporting the eligible's rank and score, except neither the identity of the examiner giving any mark or grade in an oral examination nor the questions and answers on any continuous or standardized entrance or concurrent entrance and promotive written test, shall be provided. Only participants in the examination may review the questions used in the examination. (The civil service commission shall receive any protests concerning rating during the posting period for the purpose of correcting errors.) If no protests are received during the posting period, the eligible list is automatically adopted. If protests are received during the posting period, the investigation and action of the (civil service commission) general manager, personnel, shall be expedited so that final adoption of the eligible list is not delayed beyond sixty (60) days after the date of posting. Eligibles who, as a result of their ranking, would receive a notice of appointment regardless of the outcome of the protest(s) may be offered employment from adopted lists pending the resolution of any protest(s) and amendment to the adopted eligible list.

8.326 Promotions in General

Except as specifically provided for in section 8.327, ((whenever it deemed to be practicable, the civil service commission shall provide for promotion on the basis of such examinations and tests as the commission may deem appropriate, and shall, in addition, give consideration to ascertained merit and records of city and county service of applicants. The commission shall announce in the examination scope circular the next lower rank or ranks from which the promotion will be made.)) The Civil Service Commission shall provide for examinations on an entrance, promotive or combination entrance and promotive basis. Consideration shall be given to permanent employees in separate promotive examinations and in promotive examinations which are combined with entrance examinations for city and county service when the passing mark has been attained and may include evaluation of work performance and other credits. When an examination announcement is issued for a class on both a promotive and entrance basis, there shall be one resulting list of eligibles which shall include all successful candidates both promotive and entrance in order of relative performance.

8.340 Dismissal During Probation Period

Any person appointed to a permanent position shall ((be on probation for a period of six months)) serve a probationary period. The civil service commission shall by rule establish a probationary period of not less than six months service and up to a maximum of twelve months service for each classification, provided that the probationary period for entrance positions in the uniform rank of the police department, fire department, sheriffs department and San Francisco International Airport Police Force shall be for one year. Probationary periods of twelve months and up to a maximum of twenty-four months may be established for executive and management classifications. At any time during the probationary period the appointing officer may terminate the appointment upon giving written notice of such termination to the employee and to the civil service commission specifying the reasons for such termination. Except in the case of ((uniformed)) members of the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments the civil service commission shall ((inquire into)) review the (circumstances) termination. The civil service commission shall by rule establish the procedures for such review. If the appointment resulted from an entrance examination the commission may declare such person dismissed or may return the name to the list of eligibles under such conditions for further appointment as the commission may deem just. If the appointment resulted from a promotive examination the employee shall have the right of appeal and hearing before the civil service commission. The commission shall render a decision within thirty days after receipt of the notice of termination and (a) may declare such person dismissed; or (b) order such person reinstated in his position without prejudice, and the commission may in its discretion order that the employee be paid salary from time of the termination of his appointment; or (c) order the return of such person to (((the))) a position in the classification from which he was promoted and may reestablish the employee's eligibility to a list of eligibles for the same promotive classification under such conditions as the commission may deem just. The decision of the commission shall be final. Immediately prior to the expiration of the probationary period the appointing officer shall report to the civil service commission as to the competence of the probationer for the position, and if competent, shall recommend permanent appointment. Nothing in this section shall preclude the civil service commission from reviewing terminations for the purpose of future employability including terminations in the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments.

8.341. Dismissal for Cause

No person employed under the civil service provisions of this charter, exclusive of members of the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments as provided under section 8.343 hereof, in a position defined by the commission as "permanent" shall be removed or discharged except for cause, upon written charges, and after an opportunity to be heard in his own defense. Pending such hearing, the appointing officer may suspend the person so accused if the accusation against the accused person involves misappropriation of public funds or property, misuse or destruction of public property, drug addiction or habitual intemperance, mistreatment of persons, immorality, acts which would constitute a felony or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or acts which present an immediate danger to the public health and safety; but such suspension shall not be valid for more than thirty days, unless hearing upon the charges shall be delayed beyond such time by the act of the accused person. When charges are made, the appointing officer shall, in writing, notify the person accused of the time and place when the charges will be heard, by mailing such statement to his last known address. The hearing shall be conducted forthwith by a qualified and unbiased hearing officer employed under contract by the city and county and selected by procedures set forth in the rules of the civil service commission. The hearing officer shall publicly hear and determine the charges, and may exonerate, suspend or dismiss the accused.

If the employee is exonerated the hearing officer may,
at his discretion, remit the full period of the suspension or any portion thereof and may order payment of salary to the employee for the prescribed period of time under suspension, and the report of such period of suspension shall thereupon be expunged from the record of service of such employee.

The civil service commission shall immediately be notified of the charges when made, of the hearing, and of the finding thereon. The finding of the hearing officer shall be final, unless within thirty days thereafter the dismissed employee appeals to the civil service commission. The appeal shall be in writing and shall briefly state the grounds therefor. The civil service commission shall examine into the case and may require the hearing officer to furnish a record of the hearing and may require any additional evidence it deems material under conditions established by rule of the civil service commission, and may, thereupon, make such decision as it deems just. The order or decision of the commission upon such appeal shall be final and shall forthwith be enforced by the appointing officer. If the civil service commission shall reverse or alter the finding of the hearing officer it may, in its discretion, order that the employee affected be paid salary from the time of his discharge or suspension.

The civil service commission may hear and determine any charge filed by a citizen or by any member of or ((the)) authorized agent((s)) of the commission when the appointing officer neglects or refuses to ((act)) bring such charge against the employee within thirty days of notification to the department head of the occurrence or event given rise to the charge. Removal or discharge may be made for any ((of the following causes: incompetence, habitual intemperance, immoral conduct, insubordination, discourteous treatment of the public, dishonesty, inattention to duties, or engaging in prohibited political activities)) cause upon written charges and after the employee has had the opportunity to be heard in his own defense.

Nothing in this section shall limit or restrict rules adopted by the commission governing lay-offs or reduction in force or providing for the removal of any appointee who has abandoned his position as defined by civil service commission rule.

8.343. Fine, Suspension and Dismissal in Police and Fire Departments

Members of the uniformed ranks of the fire or the police department guilty of any offense or violation of the rules and regulations of their respective departments, shall be liable to be punished by reprimand, or by fine not exceeding one month's salary for any offense, or by suspension for not to exceed three months, or by dismissal, after trial and hearing by the commissioners of their respective departments; provided, however, that the chief of each respective department for disciplinary purposes may suspend ((a)) such member for a period not to exceed ten days for violation of the rules and regulations of his department. Any such member so suspended shall have the right to appeal such suspension to the fire commission or to the police commission, as the case may be, and have a trial and hearing on such suspension. Written notice of appeal must be filed within 10 days after such suspension and the hearing of said appeal must be held within 30 days after the filing of said notice of appeal. If the commission shall reverse or alter the finding of the chief, it shall in the case of a reversal and in other cases it may in its discretion, order that the member affected be paid salary for the time of his suspension. In the event the chief should exercise such power of suspension, the member involved shall not be subject to any further disciplinary action for the same offense.

Subject to the foregoing members of the uniformed ranks of either department shall not be subject to dismissal, nor to punishment for any breach of duty or misconduct, except for cause, nor until after a fair and impartial trial before the commissioners of their respective departments, upon a verified complaint filed with such commission setting forth specifically the acts complained of, and after such reasonable notice to them as to time and place of hearings as such commission may, by rule, prescribe. The accused shall be entitled, upon hearing, to appear personally and by counsel; to have a public trial; and to secure and enforce, free of expense, the attendance of all witnesses necessary for his defense.

8.344. Exoneration of Charges

If, as provided for in section 8.343 a member of the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments is suspended by the chief of ((police)) the respective department pending hearing before the police or fire commission for charges filed against him and subsequently takes a leave of absence without pay pending his trial before the commission, and, if after such trial he is exonerated of the charges filed against him, the commission may, at its discretion, remit the suspension and leave of absence without pay and may order payment of salary to ((the)) such member for the time under suspension and on leave of absence without pay, and the report of such suspension and leave of absence without pay shall thereupon be expunged from the record of service of such member.

8.361. Military and War Effort Leaves of Absence

Leaves of absence shall be granted to officers and employees of the City and County of San Francisco and non-certificated officers and employees of the San Francisco Unified School District for service in the armed forces of the United States or the State of California or for service on ships operated by or for the United States government in time of war and for such time thereafter as may be provided by rule of the civil service commission, but not to exceed two (2) years after the ((proclamation of peace)) cessation of hostilities, except in case of disability incurred while in active service with the armed forces or the merchant marine when such disability shall extend beyond such period.

The phrase "time of war", wherever it occurs in this section, is defined in Section 8.324 of this Charter.
Whenever any officer or employee of the City and County of San Francisco, or any non-certificated officer or employee of the San Francisco Unified School District shall, by order of the government of the United States or by lawful order of any of its departments or officers, or by lawful order of the State of California, or any of its departments or officers, be directed in time of peace to report and serve in the armed forces of the United States, or in the armed forces of the State of California, said officer or employee shall be entitled to a leave of absence from his office or position during the time of such service and for a period not to exceed three (3) months after the expiration thereof. Officers and employees entering or being inducted into any of the services requiring military leave as provided in this section shall file with the civil service commission a copy of the orders necessitating such service prior to the effective date of the leave of absence. Leaves granted pursuant to the provisions of this and the preceding paragraph of this section shall be designated "military leaves."

The board of supervisors may, on the recommendation of the civil service commission, provide by ordinance that leaves of absence shall be granted to officers and employees during time of war ((or during any emergency declared by the President of the United States,)) for other service directly connected with the prosecution of the war or national defense or preparedness. Leaves granted under authority of ordinances enacted pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph shall be designated "war effort leaves."

In time of war ((emergency declared by the President of the United States or by the Congress)), or while any act authorizing compulsory military service or training is in effect, the board of supervisors, upon recommendation of the civil service commission, may provide by ordinance that subject to rules of the civil service commission leaves of absence shall be granted to officers and employees of the City and County of San Francisco and non-certificated officers and employees of the San Francisco Unified School District for sea duty as licensed officers aboard ships operated by or for the United States government.

Any officer or employee on military leave, who, prior to such leave, has been appointed to a permanent position in the city and county service, shall be entitled to resume such position at the expiration of his leave, and in determining and fixing rights, seniority, salary and otherwise, which have accrued and shall inure to the benefit of such officer or employee, the term of military leave shall be considered and accounted a part of his service under the city and county.

Persons serving on active duty, not including reserve service, in the armed forces of the United States or the State of California during time of war ((or during any emergency lawfully declared by the President of the United States)), who have standing on an eligible list, shall retain their places thereon, and upon presenting an honorable discharge or certificate of honorable active service from such military service within the period of time and subject to the conditions as prescribed by rules of the civil service commission, shall be preferred for appointment for a period of four (4) years after the ((proclamation of peace or the termination of said emergency)) cessation of hostilities in the order of standing upon such register at the time of entering such military service and before candidates procuring standing through an examination held subsequent to the entrance of such eligibles into the military service. If while in said military service the names of such persons are reached for certification to permanent positions, appointments shall be made to serve until such persons in the military service shall present to the civil service commission an honorable discharge or certificate of honorable active service within the period of time and subject to the conditions as prescribed by rules of the civil service commission, but not more than one (1) year after the date of discharge of such eligible, when they shall be certified and assume the duties of positions in said class and their certification to said position for all purposes of seniority shall be deemed to be the date when their names on such eligible lists were reached for certification, provided that each appointee to a position shall serve such probationary period as is required in section 8,340 of this charter, and provided that such employee while serving on such probation shall be permitted to participate in any promotional examination to which his classification is eligible but shall not be entitled to certification by virtue of such promotional examination prior to satisfactory completion of such probationary period and provided further that no such persons shall be certified to entrance positions in the uniformed ranks of the police department ((and fire departments under this provision)) who are more than thirty-five (35) years of age or in the fire department who are more than thirty-two (32) years of age unless the names of such persons were reached for certification to such positions before such persons reached said age.

Persons who participate in a regular written civil service examination and who by reason of their active services in time of war in the ((Army, Navy or Marine Corps)) United States Army, United States Navy, United States Marine Corps, United States Air Force, or United States Coast Guard are unable to complete all parts of the examination and who present their orders or other competent proof of service in the same manner as is provided for of eligibles, shall acquire standing on eligible lists in accordance with the relative excellence attained by participation in the part or parts of the examinations already completed; provided that upon presenting their honorable discharges or certificates of honorable active service within the time limits specified in this section covering eligibles, they must qualify in the remainder of the examinations. When qualified they shall be certified as of the date they would have been reached for certification in accordance with the relative excellence attained by their participation in the entire examination.

The civil service commission shall adopt rules to govern the administration of leaves as herein provided and to govern lay-offs occasioned by the return of officers, employees, or eligibles who have been appointed and granted leave or certified as provided in this section.

SEC. 4. Examination. Upon receipt of an application filed pursuant to this ordinance, the Executive Director of the Art Commission shall transmit the same to the Advisory Committee. Such examination shall take place first at the regular screening meeting of the Advisory Committee, and, for the purposes of further investigation, the Advisory Committee may designate one or more of its members to visit a studio or workshop of the applicant. unit in accordance with the Screening Guidelines established by the Art Commission and referred to in paragraph (g) of Section 1 of this Ordinance. Upon completion of such review and examination, the Advisory Committee shall make a report and recommendation to the Executive Director of the Art Commission who shall fix a date for Art Commission consideration and action upon said application and shall notify the applicant of said date.

SEC. 5. Issuance of Certificate; Establishment of Waiting List; Nontransferability of Certificate. If the applicant's examination is satisfactory, the Art Commission, if it shall have no good cause for denying approval of an application, shall direct the Executive Director of the Art Commission (a) to issue a Street Artist Certificate to the applicant upon payment of the certificate fee fixed by this Ordinance or (b) to place such applicant's name on a waiting list for such a certificate. The Art Commission, within the limits provided by Section 12 of this Ordinance, is authorized to establish, if it shall deem such action appropriate, a maximum number of Street Artist Certificates which shall be outstanding at any time, provided, however, that any such maximum number shall never be less than that number of such certificates outstanding on the first day of January, 1978. In the event that such maximum number of certificates shall be outstanding, the Art Commission shall establish a waiting list of applicants whose works shall have been examined, by order of the date on which applications shall have been submitted. Whenever there is less than such maximum number of certificates outstanding, the Art Commission, if it shall have no good cause to do otherwise, shall direct the Executive Director of the Art Commission to issue a certificate to the next eligible applicant on the waiting list.

The Street Artist Certificate shall be duly signed by the Executive Director of the Art Commission and by the artist (or in the case of a Handicapped Rehabilitation Group, by a coordinator thereof) and shall show thereon that the person named therein (or the Handicapped Rehabilitation Group) passed the examination and is entitled to engage in the display and sale of the specific art or craft items set forth in said certificate in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance. Such certificate shall contain a photograph of the street artist (except in the case of a certificate issued to a Handicapped Rehabilitation Group) with the number of the certificate in figures plainly discernible. The Art Commission, or its designee, shall determine the manner and form of any other information that may be placed upon this certification card. The certification card shall be displayed in a prominent location by the Street Artist at all times when said Street Artist is selling or soliciting offers to purchase any art or craft work. The photograph shall be furnished by the street artist.

Any Street Artist Certificate issued pursuant to the terms of this Ordinance cannot be transferred to any other person as defined in this Ordinance.

SEC. 6. Conditional Street Artist Certificate. The Art Commission is authorized to establish, if it shall deem such action advisable and appropriate, no more than 100 hundred (100) Conditional Street Artist Certificates which shall entitle holders to exercise the rights, privileges and powers of Street Artists subject to the same duties, restrictions and responsibilities as those imposed on Street Artists, except that holders of the Conditional Street Artist Certificates may exercise such rights, privileges and powers on selling spaces allotted by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors for use by Street Artists only where such spaces are unoccupied by a holder of a Street Artist Certificate up to the hour of 12:00 o'clock noon of any day. After 12:00 o'clock noon of any day, no Street Artist may validly claim a selling space against a holder of a Conditional Street Artist Certificate who has earlier begun to set up his or her display. The Art Commission shall have the authority to establish whatever rules and regulations it shall deem necessary and reasonable to allot available selling areas for use by holders of Conditional Street Artist Certificates.

A Conditional Street Artist Certificate shall be substantially the same in form as the Street Artist Certificate with the insertion of the word "Conditional" appearing on the face before the word "Certificate".

The Conditional Street Artist Certificate shall require payment of the same certificate fee required for the Street Artist Certificate and shall be issued to applicants for the Street Artist Certificate in the order that such applicants shall or would be assigned to the Street Artist Waiting List, and the holder of a Conditional Street Artist Certificate and a person who refuses a Conditional Street Artist Certificate maintains, for all purposes, his or her position on such waiting list.

SEC. 7. Certificate Fee; Period. The fee for any certificate issued pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance shall be twenty dollars ($20), and said certificate shall be valid for a period of three months from the date of issuance. The Board of Supervisors is authorized to increase this fee, by ordinance, upon receiving competent information that such increase is necessary and proper. With the passage of this ordinance, the certificates of all Street Artists and Craftspersons duly certified by the Art Commission, in accordance with the provisions of Ordinance 483-75, shall remain valid until the date of expiration listed therein.

SEC. 8. Renewal of Certificate. All certificate renewals shall be made automatically upon payment of the fee, unless the Art Commission determines in its discretion that additional examination is warranted, in which case the Street Artist's Certificate in issue shall continue in full force and effect pending the outcome of such examination. All Street Artists or Craftspersons must renew certificates, in person, within ten (10) office work days prior to or after the certificate's date of expiration. Failure to renew results in forfeiture of the certificate. A Street Artist or Craftsperson who has forfeited his certificate in this manner and wishes to obtain a new certificate must reapply, and the application shall be placed at the end of the list of applicants waiting to be examined.

SEC. 9. Revocation or Denial of Certificates; Appeal. Any certificate issued pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance may be revoked by the Art Commission for good cause shown; any application for a certificate to be issued pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance may be denied by the Art Commission for good cause shown. The Street Artists Program shall advise the certificate holder or the certificate applicant of the revocation or the denial, in writing, which writing shall clearly set forth the grounds for the revocation or denial.

A Street Artist or Craftsperson aggrieved by the Advisory Committee’s action shall have the right to appeal the decision to the Art Commission. An appeal may be taken by filing with the Commission a written statement setting forth in full the grounds for appeal. The Commission is authorized to issue such regulations as may be reasonable and necessary to hear and determine such appeals. Such regulations, which shall be in writing, shall be available to any person so requesting them. A Street Artist or Craftsperson aggrieved by action of the Art Commission shall have the right to appeal to the Board of Permit Appeals.

SEC. 10. Regulating Street Artists and Craftspersons.

It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, offer for sale, expose for sale, or solicit offers to purchase, any art or craft work of his own creation on any public street or public place in a space where such activities are permitted, unless duly certified as a Street Artist or Craftsperson pursuant to the provisions of this Ordinance.

(a) The Art Commission shall establish procedures for monitoring and regulating certificate-holders pursuant to Section 10 of this ordinance and shall have the duty to enforce those regulations.

SEC. 12. Designation of Sales Areas.

(a) The Board of Supervisors, by resolution after public hearings thereon, shall designate areas in or on any public street or public place where any Street Artist or Craftsperson certified pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance may sell, offer for sale, expose for sale, or solicit offers to purchase any art or craft item of the street artist’s own creation; provided, however, that any designation of an area in a public place under the jurisdiction of an officer, board, or commission of the City and County shall be subject to the approval of such officer, board, or commission. In designating such areas, the Board of Supervisors may, by ordinance, impose such conditions and limitations as, in its discretion, are reasonable, proper and necessary to prevent any undue interference with normal pedestrian or vehicular traffic or any damage to surrounding property, including interference with use, view, or enjoyment of public parks.

(b) The Board of Supervisors shall establish a reasonable number of individual spaces for certificate-holders, not less than the number of spaces available on January 1, 1978, assuring that there is at all times a ratio of at least five spaces to seven certificate-holders. The spaces designated by the Board shall remain fixed unless altered by resolution by said Board.

In the event that the maximum number of certificates have been issued, no additional certificates shall be issued until either a certificate-holder forfeits his certificate or the Board of Supervisors designates additional sales spaces or areas, at which time the number of available certificates shall be issued to persons on the basis of their position on the waiting list and then, if there are fewer names on the waiting list than there are certificates available, to applicants satisfying the examination requirements of Section 4 of this Ordinance and whom the Art Commission shall approve.

SEC. 13. Repeal. The ordinance relative to certificates for Street Artists and Craftspersons, approved by the electorate as Proposition "L" on the ballot for the election held in the City and County of San Francisco on November 4, 1975, is hereby repealed.

TEXT OF PROPOSED ORDINANCE
PROPOSITION K

AMENDING ORDINANCE NO. 345-68 (BUSINESS TAX ORDINANCE) BY REPEALING ORDINANCE NO. 371-78 WHICH REPEALED ORDINANCE NO. 298-78 ESTABLISHING BUSINESS TAX RATES ON JUNE 30, 1978, AND BY ADDING SECTION 4.16 THERETO, PROVIDING FOR TAX CREDITS; AMENDING ORDINANCE NO. 275-78 (PAYROLL EXPENSE TAX ORDINANCE) BY REPEALING ORDINANCE NO. 369-78, WHICH REPEALED ORDINANCE NO. 297-78 ESTABLISHING THE PAYROLL TAX RATE ON JUNE 30, 1978, AND BY ADDING SECTION 3.1 THERETO, PROVIDING FOR TAX CREDITS; AMENDING ORDINANCE TO 315-67 (REAL PROPERTY TRANSFER TAX ORDINANCE) BY REPEALING ORDINANCE NO. 370-78 WHICH REPEALED ORDINANCE NO. 296-78, ESTABLISHING THE REAL PROPERTY TRANSFER TAX RATE ON JUNE 30, 1978, AND BY ADDING SECTION 2.1 PROVIDING FOR TAX CREDITS; PROVIDING PROCEDURES FOR AMENDMENT.

Be it ordained by the people of the City and County of San Francisco:

Section 1. This ordinance shall be known as the “San Francisco Home Rule Preservation Ordinance.”

Section 2. Findings: The adoption of Proposition 13 by the voters of the State of California at the June 6, 1978 primary election, placed severe limitation on the power of local governmental entities to levy and collect taxes sufficient to fund the cost of necessary municipal services. The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco has adopted various tax measures to raise revenues from non-property tax sources. In 1967 the Board of Supervisors instituted a tax on the sale of real property; in 1968 a business tax based on gross receipts was enacted; and, in 1970 a business tax based on total payroll was adopted which provided that a business pay either a tax based on gross receipts or payroll. To insure adequate income during the post-Proposition 13 adjustment period, the Board of Supervisors adopted amendments to said tax ordinances, effective June 30, 1978. However, the tax measures (Ordinances 296-78, 297-78 and 298-78) were repealed, effective August 7, 1978.

The people of the City and County of San Francisco hereby find that additional revenues may be required by the City and County of San Francisco to provide necessary municipal services during this period of national and international monetary inflation. Therefore, the rate of tax set forth in the ordinances which became effective on June 30, 1978 should be imputed. The people of the City and County of San Francisco further find that because the relief acts adopted by the State of California for the fiscal year 1978-1979 will insure sufficient levels of funding for municipal services for this fiscal year, a portion of the tax previously imposed by said tax ordinances should not be collected by the City and County of San Francisco during the 1978-1979 fiscal year and therefore taxpayers should be permitted to subtract a tax credit from their total tax liability pursuant to said ordinances.

Section 3. Incorporation By Reference: The provisions of Ordinance No. 245-68 as amended (Business Tax Ordinance), Ordinance No. 275-70 as amended (Payroll Tax Ordinances) and Ordinance No. 315-67 as amended (Real Property Transfer Tax Ordinance) are incorporated by reference herein as if fully set forth.

Section 4. Ordinance No. 245-68 (Business Tax Ordinance) is hereby amended by repealing Ordinance No. 371-78. Sections 4.01, 4.02, 4.03, 4.04, 4.05, 4.06, 4.07, 4.08, 4.09, 4.10, 4.11, 4.12, 4.13 and 4.15 as set forth in Ordinance No. 245-68 as amended, on the 30th day of June, 1978 are hereby reinstated.

Section 5. Ordinance No. 245-68 (the Business Tax Ordinance) is hereby amended by adding Section 4.16 thereto, to read as follows:

Sec. 4.16. Tax Credits. Any person paying a tax imposed by sections 4.01, 4.02, 4.03, 4.04, 4.05, 4.06, 4.07, 4.08, 4.09, 4.10, 4.11, 4.12, 4.13 and 4.15 of this ordinance shall be entitled to a tax credit, which may be subtracted from the total tax due only at the time of filing, pursuant to Section 9 hereof. TEXT OF PROPOSED ORDINANCE

PROPOSITION S

AMENDING ORDINANCE NO. 155-78, SALARY STANDARDIZATION ORDINANCE, FISCAL YEAR 1978-79, CHARTER SECTIONS 8.400, 8.401 AND 8.407, MISCELLANEOUS EMPLOYEES, PURSUANT TO CHARTER SECTION 9.108(b), TO REFLECT ADDITIONAL RATES AND WORKING CONDITIONS FOR EMPLOYEES REPRESENTED BY THE SHEET METAL WORKERS INTERNATIONAL UNION, LOCAL NO. 104, BASED UPON THE LAST DEMANDS OF SAID EMPLOYEES.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco:

Section 1. Pursuant to the provisions of Charter Section 9.108(b), Ordinance No. 155-78, Salary Standardization Ordinance, Fiscal Year 1978-79, Charter Sections 8.400, 8.401 and 8.407, Miscellaneous Employees, is hereby amended by adding Section XIX thereto, reading as follows:

Section XIX

Notwithstanding any provisions of this ordinance to the contrary, and based upon the last demand of employees represented by the Sheet Metal Workers International Union, Local No. 104, said employees shall be entitled to additional working conditions as follows:

Five (5) consecutive days Monday to Friday inclusive, a normal work day is a tour of eight (8) hours completed within eight-and-one-half (8½) hours.

A regular tour of duty may commence at a time not earlier than 6:00 a.m. and all regular tours of duty shall conclude not later than 4:30 p.m.
The people of the City and County of San Francisco do ordain as follows:

Section 1. Title. This ordinance shall be called the San Francisco Renters' Property Tax Rebate Ordinance of 1978.

Section 2. Statement of Purpose. The People of the City and County of San Francisco find that there currently exists in San Francisco a growing shortage of rental housing units, a critically low vacancy rate, rapidly rising and exorbitant rents resulting from this shortage, and a significant percentage of residential tenants paying excessive portions of their income for rent. The People also find that landlords are presently making a just and reasonable return on their property investment and that landlords receive substantial benefits from ownership of rental property through state and federal tax savings, appreciation in property values and/or rental income. The People also find that high rents constitute a serious problem affecting the health, welfare, lives and businesses of a substantial proportion of residential and commercial occupants of rental property in San Francisco. In order to alleviate this serious problem, to guarantee that both residential and commercial tenants receive their fair share of the benefits resulting from the enactment of Article XIII A of the California Constitution, to protect tenants against evictions designed to circumvent this ordinance, and to further guarantee that landlords receive a fair return on investment and charge fair rents, landlords will be required to pass on to residential and commercial tenants the reduction in real property taxes established by Article XIII A of the California Constitution.

Section 3. Definitions. In this ordinance, the following words have the meanings indicated:
(a) Improvement means a valuable addition or change in a property's condition, amounting to more than mere repairs or replacement of waste, which necessitates the expenditure of labor or capital, and which is intended to enhance the value, beauty, utility or safety of property.
(b) Landlord means any person entitled to receive rent for the use or occupancy of any regulated rental unit, and includes an owner, lessor, sublessor or agent thereof.
(c) Property means a parcel of real property, including buildings and improvements, containing one or more regulated rental units, which is assessed and taxed as an undivided whole.
(d) Regulated Rental Units mean all rental units in the City and County of San Francisco including all rental units constructed after the date of adoption of this ordinance except:
(i) residential rental units in hotels, motels, inns, tourist homes and rooming and boarding houses which are rented primarily to transient guests for a period of less than 14 days;
(ii) residential rental units in any hospital, convalescent, convalescent, extended medical care facility, asylum, non-profit home for the aged, or dormitory owned and operated by an institution of higher education;
(iii) residential rental units which a government unit, agency or authority owns, operates, manages or in which governmentally-subsidized tenants reside if applicable Federal and/or State law or administrative regulation specifically exempts such units from rent regulation;
(iv) non-residential units with rental agreements in which there are percentage or escalator clauses in which rent varies with the business income of the tenant or the amount of property tax paid for the property.
(v) rental units for which the tenant pays or is directly responsible for payment of the entire property tax under the terms of the rental agreement; or
(vi) property which is exempt from property taxation.
(e) Rent means any payment demanded or received for in connection with occupancy of regulated rental units or the transfer of a lease for units. Rent includes but is not limited to payments demanded or paid for parking, pets, furniture and subletting.
(f) Rental Agreement means an agreement, verbal, written or implied, between a landlord and tenant for use or occupancy of a regulated rental unit and for services connected with the use or occupancy of the property.
(g) Rental Unit means any property, building, structure, or part thereof rented or offered for rent for living, dwelling or commercial purposes, together with all services connected with the use or occupancy of the property.
(h) Services mean repairs, replacement, maintenance, painting, providing light, heat, hot and cold water, elevator service, window shades and screens, storage, kitchen, bath and laundry facilities and privileges, janitorial services, refuse removal, furnishings, telephone, parking and any other benefit, privilege or facility connected with the use or occupancy of any rental unit. Services of a rental unit include a proportionate part of services provided to common facilities of the building in which the rental unit is contained.
(i) Tenant means any person entitled under the terms of a rental agreement to the use or occupancy of a regulated rental unit.

Section 4. One Month Rent Stabilization, and One Year Property Tax Savings Rebate.
(a) One Month Rent Stabilization. For the month of December, 1978, a landlord may not charge a rent in excess of the base rent calculated pursuant to Section 5 of this ordinance for any regulated rental unit, except that a landlord may pass-through costs as allowed in subsections (d) and (e) of Section 6.
(b) One Year Property Tax Savings Rebate. For calendar year 1979, landlords may not charge a rent in excess of the Adjusted Base Rent calculated pursuant to Section 6 of this ordinance for any regulated rental unit.

Section 5. Establishment of Base Rent.
(a) Base Rent. A base rent shall be computed for each regulated rental unit. Except as provided in subsections (b) and (c) of this Section, the base rent for any regulated rental unit is the monthly rent in effect for that unit on June 6, 1978. If rent was not charged for any tenant-occupied unit on June 6, 1978, the base rent is the first monthly rent demanded and paid for that unit after June 6, 1978.
(b) Base Rent If Rent Not Paid Monthly. If the terms of a lease regarding payment specify a fixed sum which is paid other than on a monthly basis, rent shall be averaged for the period January 1, 1978, through August 31, 1978, to establish the monthly base rent.

Section 6. Calculation of Adjusted Base Rent.
(a) Calculation of Adjusted Base Rent. The adjusted base rent for any regulated rental unit is:
(i) the base rent as calculated under Section 5 of this ordinance minus
(ii) the unit's proportionate share of the property tax saving as described in subsection (c) of this Section plus
(iii) either a percentage adjustment for inflation or a cost pass-through for municipal taxes and fees, improvements, maintenance and repair as described in subsection (d) of this Section.

(b) Calculation of Property Tax Saving. When a landlord receives a property tax bill for tax year 1978-79, the landlord shall subtract the property tax owing in tax year 1978-79 from the tax owed in tax year 1977-78. If the amount of tax owed in tax year 1977-78 is smaller than or equal to the amount owing in tax year 1978-79, the property is exempt from this ordinance. If the amount of tax owed in tax year 1977-78 is greater than the amount owing in 1978-79 the difference is the property tax saving for the property.

c) Calculation of Each Regulated Rental Unit's Share of Property Tax Saving. Each regulated unit shall share in the property tax saving in a proportion which is equal to the ratio of the base rent for that unit to the sum of the base rents for all regulated units on the property. For the purpose of calculating the total base rent for a property, a landlord may add to the total base rent for all tenant-occupied regulated rental units an estimated base rent for any manager- or owner-occupied unit, which represents the fair market rental value of the unit on June 6, 1978. This saving is the unit's property tax rebate.

d) Inflation Cushion Or Cost Pass-Throughs. In order to allow landlords a just and reasonable return on their property, landlords may add to the difference between the base rent and the property tax rebate either: (1) in the months of January, April, July and October, 1979, a percentage rent adjustment for inflation which does not exceed the average percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index for Revised Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers in the San Francisco-Oakland Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area for the previous 5 bi-monthly reporting periods, multiplied by 1.5 or (2) a sum representing costs actually paid by the landlord after June 6, 1978, for:
(i) increases in county and municipal taxes and fees related to the operation of the regulated rental property;
(ii) increases in maintenance and operating expenses; and
(iii) improvements.

Cost Pass-Through Pro-Rated. If a landlord passes through the costs of maintenance and operating expenses or improvements under subsection (d) of this section, the landlord may not pass through a monthly rent increase greater than an amount equal to the cost of the expense or improvement pro-rated over the reasonably expected life of the expense or improvement, not exceeding 20 years, and pro-rated for each rental unit benefited by the expense or improvement in a ratio equal to the regulated rental unit's share of the property tax saving as calculated pursuant to subsection (c) of this Section.

(f) Rounding Off. In order to simplify bookkeeping under this ordinance, the adjusted base rent for any unit as determined by this Section shall be rounded off to the nearest dollar amount.

Section 7. Disclosure Requirements.
(a) Disclosure Of Rent Calculations. On or before January 1, 1979, a landlord shall notify the tenant occupying a regulated rental unit of the property tax saving, the property tax rebate, and the adjusted base rent for each regulated rental unit as determined according to this ordinance. Such notice shall be substantially as follows:

"Notice of Total Rental Unit Property Tax Savings and Rent Reduction"
In accordance with the City and County of San Francisco Renters’ Property Tax Rebate Ordinance of 1978, this notice informs you of a required reduction in rent for the rental unit located at [address]. The amount of rent reduction has been determined as follows:
The total 1977-78 property tax which was due for the property which includes your rental unit was [amount] dollars. The total 1978-79 property tax due for this property is [amount] dollars. The difference, or total property tax savings for this property, reflecting the passage of Proposition 13 on June 6, 1978, amounts to [amount] dollars.
The total Base Rent for the property which includes your rental unit, as determined by rents in effect on June 6, 1978, is [amount] dollars. (If appropriate: This total Base Rent includes an estimated Base Rent for manager- and/or owner-occupied units.
This estimated Base Rent is: [amount].)
The Base Rent for your rental unit is [amount] dollars, which is equal to [number] percent of the total Base Rent for the Property. This percentage, multiplied by the total rental property tax relief for the property, is your property tax rebate for the year of [amount] dollars.

Your adjusted monthly base rent, starting January 1, 1979, will be the base rent, [amount] minus your property tax rebate of [amount].

You may inspect the property tax bills for 1977-1978 and 1978-1979 and a list of rents for each unit on the property at [address] at the following times: [days and times], or by appointment [phone].

Date:
Signature of Owner:

(b) Disclosure of Increased Costs Resulting In Increased Rent. If, from December 1, 1978 through December 31, 1979, the landlord raises rent pursuant to the provisions of subsections (d) and (e) of Section 6 of this ordinance above the rent allowed by Section 4 of this ordinance, the landlord shall notify the tenant in writing of the nature and amount of expenses which justify the increase. The landlord shall also notify the tenant in writing of reasonable times and places when and where the tenant or the tenant's representative may examine the books, records and receipts of the landlord documenting the cost increase.

c) Notification To New Tenants. Landlords shall provide within 15 days of the commencement of occupancy all information listed in subsections (a) and (b) of this Section to any tenant who commences occupancy of any regulated rental unit after November 30, 1978 and before December 31, 1979.
Section 8. Evictions.
(a) Just Cause for Eviction. In order to insure that tenants of regulated units do not lose benefits guaranteed under this ordinance, no landlord shall be granted recovery of possession of a regulated rental unit for the duration of this ordinance unless:
(i) the tenant has failed to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled under the terms of this ordinance;
(ii) the tenant has violated an obligation or covenant of his or her tenancy other than the obligation to hold the possession upon proper notice and has failed to cure such violation after having received written notice thereof from the landlord;
(iii) the tenant is committing or expressly permitting to exist a nuisance in or is causing substantial damage to the regulated rental unit, or is creating a substantial interference with the comfort, safety or enjoyment of the landlord or other occupants of the property;
(iv) the tenant is convicted of using or expressly permitting a regulated rental unit to be used for any illegal purpose;
(v) the tenant, who has a rental agreement which has terminated, has refused, after written request or demand by the landlord, to execute a written extension or renewal of the agreement for a further term of the same duration and in such terms as are not inconsistent with or violate any provisions of this ordinance and are materially the same as in the previous agreement;
(vi) the tenant has refused the landlord reasonable access to the regulated rental unit for the purpose of making necessary repairs or improvements required by the laws of the United States, the State of California or any subdivision thereof, or for the purpose of inspection as permitted or required by the rental agreement or by law or for the purpose of showing the rental unit to any prospective purchaser or mortgagee;
(vii) the tenant holding at the end of the term of the rental agreement is a sub-tenant not approved by the landlord;
(viii) the landlord seeks to recover possession in good faith for use and occupancy of herself or himself, or her or his child, parent, brother, sister, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, or daughter-in-law; or
(ix) the landlord seeks to recover possession to demolish or otherwise remove the regulated rental unit from use after having obtained all proper permits from the City and County of San Francisco.
(b) Protection Against Retaliatory Eviction. It shall be a defense to any action to recover possession or be granted recovery of possession of a regulated rental unit that a motive for the eviction is in retaliation for the tenant's reporting violations of this ordinance, or for exercising rights granted under this ordinance, including the right to withhold rent granted under Section 10 of this ordinance.
(c) Eviction Defense. It shall be a defense to any action to recover possession or be granted recovery of possession of any regulated rental unit on the basis of non-payment or rent that a tenant in good faith withheld rental payments under subsections (a) and (b) of Section 10, so long as the tenant is willing to pay, and does pay, any withheld rent lawfully due under the provisions of this ordinance into court during the pendency of the action, unless relieved by court order.

Section 9. Non-Waiverability. Any provision in or pertaining to a rental agreement whereby any provision of this ordinance for the benefit of a landlord or tenant is waived is against public policy and void.

Section 10. Tenant's Civil Remedies.
(a) Remedies For Unlawful Rent Increases. If a landlord demands, accepts, receives or retains any payment in excess of the maximum lawful rent permitted by this ordinance, a tenant may:
(i) upon written notification to the landlord, withhold one-quarter of the rental payments set forth in the rental agreement in effect at the time the demand for additional rent is made. After the landlord receives such notice, and in conjunction with the filing of an action by the landlord for non-payment of rent under California Civil Code Section 1161 et. seq., the landlord may request, and the court may order, the tenant to deposit the withheld rent with the court, to be held until the resolution of the action;
(ii) recover from the landlord damages plus reasonable attorney's fees and costs as determined by the court. The court may award damages in an amount up to three times the amount by which the payment or payments demanded or received exceed the maximum lawful rent under this ordinance;
(iii) seek injunctive relief for the enforcement of this ordinance.
(b) Remedies For Landlord's Failure To Notify Tenant As Required Under Section 7 Of This Ordinance. If a landlord fails to give notice to a tenant as required in Section 7 of this ordinance, a tenant may exercise the rights granted under subsections (a)(i) and (a)(ii) of this Section, in addition to any other remedies afforded by law or otherwise.

Section 11. Criminal Penalties. Any landlord who is found guilty of a willful violation of this ordinance shall be subject to up to a five hundred dollar ($500) fine for a first offense and up to a three thousand dollar ($3000) fine for any subsequent offenses.

Section 12. Partial Invalidity and Effective Date.
(a) Partial Invalidity. If any provision of this ordinance or application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, this invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this ordinance which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this ordinance are declared to be severable. This ordinance shall be liberally construed to achieve the purposes of this ordinance and to preserve its validity.
(b) Effective Date. This ordinance shall take effect immediately and shall expire on December 31, 1979. If for any reason implementation of this ordinance is postponed, the rent rebates due to tenants shall be paid retroactively in a lump sum for all months during which the operation of the ordinance has been stayed. The landlord shall pay retrospective rent rebates within 30 days to all tenants who can establish their right to such payment and make demand for such payment. The landlord shall pay interest at the legal rate on all sums owed retroactively.

Section 13. Non-Repealability. This ordinance may not be amended or repealed except by a vote of the people.

Paso 2. Asegúrese de que los dos orificios que hay al final de la tarjeta coincidan con las dos cabecitas rojas.

B 第二步
请切记将选票插入时，票尾之二孔，接合於二红线之上。

STEP 3

Hold punch vertical (straight up). Punch straight down through the ballot card to indicate your choice. Do not use pen or pencil.

Para votar, sostenga el instrumento de votar y perfore con él la tarjeta de votar en el lugar de los candidatos de su preferencia. No use pluma ni lápiz.

C 第三步
请把带针之選票针，由小孔内垂直插入打孔选票。

STEP 4

After voting, withdraw the ballot card and place it inside the envelope pocket, with the stub showing.

Después de votar, saque la tarjeta del "Votomatic" y póngala bajo el cierre del sobre.

D 第四步
投票選舉之後，把選票取出，放入空封袋內，票尾凸出在外。

在封袋上，有空白格預備為投票人應用。
PUNCH OUT BALLOT CARD ONLY WITH PUNCHING DEVICE ATTACHED TO VOTE RECORDER; NEVER WITH PEN OR PENCIL.

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS:

To vote for a candidate for Chief Justice of California; Associate Justice of the Supreme Court; Presiding Justice, Court of Appeal; or Associate Justice, Court of Appeal, punch the ballot card in the hole at the point of the arrow after the word “YES.” To vote against the candidate, punch a hole at the point of the arrow after the word “NO”.

To vote for any other candidate of your selection, punch the ballot card in the hole at the point of the arrow opposite that candidate’s name. Where two or more candidates for the same office are to be elected, punch the ballot card in the hole at the point of the arrow opposite the names of all candidates for the office for whom you desire to vote, not to exceed, however, the number of candidates to be elected.

To vote for a qualified write-in candidate, write the title of the office and the person’s name in the blank space provided for that purpose on the Write-In Ballot Envelope.

To vote on any measure, punch the ballot card in the hole at the point of the arrow after the “YES” or after the word “NO”.

All distinguishing marks or erasures are forbidden and make the ballot void.

If you wrongly punch, tear, or deface the ballot card, or tear or deface the Write-In Ballot Envelope, return it to the precinct board member and obtain another.

PERFORE LA TARETA DE VOTO ÚNICAMENTE CON EL PICADOR ATADO EN LA CUERDA AL REGISTRADOR; NO USE PLUMA NI LAPIZ.

INSTRUCCIONES A LOS VOTANTES:

Para votar por un candidato para Juez Supremo de California; Juez Asociado de la Corte Suprema; Juez Presidente de la Corte de Apelación; o Juez Asociado de la Corte de Apelación, perfóre la balota en el círculo que señala la flecha después de la palabra “SÍ”. Para votar en contra del candidato, perfóre la balota en el círculo que señala la flecha después de la palabra “NO”.

Para votar por otro candidato de su selección, perfóre la balota en el círculo que señala la flecha opuesta al nombre del candidato. Cuando han de ser elegidos dos o más candidatos para el mismo cargo, perfóre la balota en el círculo que señala la flecha opuesta de los nombres de todos los candidatos para el cargo por quienes usted desea votar, sin exceder al número de candidatos que ha de ser elegido.

Para votar por un candidato (write-in) calificado, escriba el título del cargo y el nombre de la persona en los espacios en blanco provistos para este fin en el Sobre de la Balota.

Para votar sobre cualquier medida, perfóre la balota en el círculo que señala la flecha después de la palabra “SÍ” o después de la palabra “NO”.

Todas las marcas o borraduras están prohibidas e invalidan el voto. Si usted equivocadamente perfóra, rompe o estropea la balota, o rompe o estropea el sobre, devuélvalo al miembro del consejo del precinct y obtenga otra.

GENERAL ELECTION — NOVEMBER 7, 1978
STATE PROPOSITIONS

MEASURES SUBMITTED TO VOTE OF VOTERS

1 VETERANS BOND ACT OF 1978. Provides five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000) for farm and home aid for California veterans.

FOR 132 ➡️ 131
AGAINST 133 ➡️ 133

2 PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION—LEGALISTIC CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT. Deletes authorization for Public Utilities Commission member to hold hearings or issue orders. Financial impact: No direct effect on state spending or revenues; however, legislative implementation of this measure might result in relatively minor increase in state spending.

YES 135 ➡️ 134
NO 136 ➡️ 136

3 STATE SURPLUS COASTAL PROPERTY. LEGISLATIVE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT. Allows Legislature to authorize sale of state surplus coastal property for environmental purposes. Financial impact: Depends on legislative action. Any property sold below current market value would result in revenue loss to State Transportation Fund but proportionate savings to purchasing agency.

YES 138 ➡️ 137
NO 139 ➡️ 139

4 CHIROPRACTORS. LEGISLATIVE INITIATIVE AMENDMENT. Specifies chiropractic school accreditation procedures. Permits increased license fee. Expands grounds to deny, suspend, revoke licenses. Financial impact: Insignificant fiscal effect on state and local governments.

YES 140 ➡️ 141
NO 141 ➡️ 140

5 REGULATION OF SMOKING. INITIATIVE STATUTE. Makes smoking unlawful in certain enclosed areas. Requires: signs designating nonsmoking areas; restaurant nonsmoking sections. Financial impact: Modest cost to state and to individual local governments for purchase, installation of NO SMOKING signs in public buildings. Minor enforcement costs. Possible cost to alter public employee working facilities to accommodate smoking employees. If proposition leads to significant reduction in smoking, could result in substantial reduction in health and other smoking related government costs and would result in substantial reduction in state and local sales, cigarette tax collections.

YES 144 ➡️ 143
NO 145 ➡️ 146

6 SCHOOL EMPLOYEES—HOMOSEXUALITY—INITIATIVE STATUTE. Provides a system for determining fitness of school employees engaged in activities related to homosexuality. YES 149 ➡️ 148
NO 150 ➡️ 149

YES 152 ➡️ 151
NO 153 ➡️ 152

8 PROPERTY TAXATION. LEGISLATIVE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT. Provides for valuation of real property after decline in value or reconstruction after disaster. Financial impact: In the absence of a major disaster, the adoption of this proposal would have a minor impact on local property tax revenues statewide. It should have no significant impact on state revenues or costs.

YES 155 ➡️ 154
NO 156 ➡️ 156

YOUR RIGHTS AS A VOTER
By Ballot Simplification Committee

Q—Who can vote?
A—You can vote at this election only if you registered to vote by October 9, 1978.

Q—Who can register to vote?
A—You can register to vote if you:
  • are at least 18 years of age on election day.
  • are a citizen of the United States.
  • are a resident of California, and
  • are not imprisoned or on parole for the conviction of a felony.

Q—How do I register?
A—Phone the Registrar of Voters at 558-3417

Q—Do I have to belong to a political party?
A—Only if you want to. If you don’t want to tell what political party you consider yours, you can say “Independent” or “I don’t want to tell.”

Q—If I don’t tell my political party when I sign up, can I still vote in every election?
A—Yes. The only thing you cannot vote on is which candidate will be a political party’s choice in a primary election.

Example: Only people who sign up as Republicans can vote in the primary election for who will be the Republican candidate. Primary elections are held in June of even-numbered years.

Q—If I have picked a party, can I change it later?
A—Yes, but you must go and sign up again.

Q—Once I have signed up, do I have to do it again?
A—Yes, if:
  • you have moved
  • you did not vote in the last General election (The last General Election was November 2, 1976).

Q—If I have been convicted of a crime, can I sign up to vote?
A—Yes, if you have served your sentence and parole.

Q—What candidates and offices will we be voting on at this election?
A—The offices are listed on the Voter Selection Coupon printed on the back cover of this pamphlet. All the candidates are listed in the Sample Ballot (Page 4).

Q—What districts are there in San Francisco?
A—San Francisco has:
  • three State Assembly Districts (AD 16, 17, 18)
  • two State Senate Districts (SD 5, 6)
  • two United States Congressional Districts (CD 5, 6)
  (See map elsewhere in this pamphlet)

Q—Do these districts belong just to San Francisco?
A—No. State Assembly District 18 is shared with San Mateo County.
      State Senate District 6 is shared with San Mateo County.
      United State Congressional District 5 is shared with Marin County.

Q—How can I tell which districts I live in?
A—See map on page 00, or you can call the Registrar of Voters at 558-3417.

Q—Where do I go to vote?
A—Your voting place is printed next to your name and address sent with this Voters Handbook (back cover).

Q—If I don’t know what to do when I get to my voting place, is there someone there to help me?
A—Yes. The workers at the voting place will help you. If they can’t help you, call 558-6161.

Q—When do I vote?
A—The election will be Tuesday, November 7, 1978. Your voting place is open from 7 A.M. to 8 P.M. that day.

Q—What do I do if my voting place is not open?
A—Call 558-6161.

Q—Can I take my sample ballot into the voting booth even if I’ve written on it?
A—Yes.

Q—Can I have someone help me in the voting booth if I need help?
A—Yes, if you are a handicapped person, or if you have language difficulties.
Q—Can I vote for someone whose name is not on the ballot?
A—Yes. This is called a “write-in.” If you want to and don’t know how, ask one of the workers to help you.

Q—What do I do if I cannot work the voting machine?
A—Ask the workers and they will help you.

Q—Can a worker at the voting place ask me to take any test?
A—No.

Q—Can I take time off from my job to go vote on election day?
A—Yes, if you do not have enough time outside of working hours. You must tell your employer 3 working days before election day that you need time off to vote. Your employee must give you up to two hours off either at the beginning or end of your working day.

Q—Can I vote if I know I will be away from San Francisco on election day?
A—Yes. You can vote early by:
  - going to the Registrar of Voters office in City Hall and voting there or
  • mailing in the application sent with this voters’ handbook (page 143).

Q—What can I do if I do not have an application form?
A—You can send a letter or postcard asking for an absentee ballot. This letter or postcard should be sent to the Registrar of Voters, City Hall, San Francisco 94102.

Q—What do I say when I ask for an absentee ballot?
A—You must write:
  • that you need to vote early
  • your address when you signed up to vote
  • the address where you want the ballot mailed
  • then sign your name, and also print your name underneath.

Q—When do I mail my absentee ballot back to the Registrar of Voters?
A—You can mail your absentee ballot back to the Registrar of Voters as soon as you want. You must be sure your absentee ballot gets to the Registrar of Voters by 8 P.M. on election day, November 7, 1978.

Q—What do I do if I am sick on election day?
A—Call 558-6161 for information.

IF YOU HAVE OTHER QUESTIONS ON VOTING CALL THE REGISTRAR OF VOTERS AT 558-3417.

WORDS YOU NEED TO KNOW

By Ballot Simplification Committee

Here are a few of the words that you will need to know:

BALLOT—A list of candidates and propositions.

ABSENTEE BALLOT—If you are going to be away on election day, or if you cannot get to the place where you vote because you are physically disabled, you can get a special ballot to fill out. This ballot is called an absentee ballot. You get this ballot from the Registrar of Voters at City Hall. See page 00.

POLL—The place where you go to vote.

CHALLENGE—Any citizen can ask an officer at the polls to challenge any voter if the citizen thinks the voter does not live at the address given on the registration form.

PROPOSITION—This means anything that you vote on, except candidates. If it deals with the state government, than it will have a number — such as Proposition 1. If it deals with city government, it will have a letter — such as Proposition A.

CHARTER AMENDMENT—The charter is the basic set of laws for the city government. A charter amendment changes one of those basic laws. It takes a vote of the people to change the charter. It cannot be changed again without another vote of the people.

ORDINANCE—A law of the city and county, which is passed by the Board of Supervisors or approved by the voters.

DECLARATION OF POLICY—A declaration of policy asks a question: Do you agree or disagree with a certain idea? If a majority of the voters approve of a declaration of policy, the supervisors must carry out the policy.

INITIATIVE—This is a way for voters to put a proposition on the ballot for people to vote on. An initiative is put on the ballot by getting a certain number of voters to sign a petition.

PETITION—A list of signatures of voters who agree that a certain idea or question should be on the ballot.

I am a graduate of the University of California with graduate studies at USF and Stanford and hold an M.A.I. professional designation. In addition my 27 years of experience in assessment procedures and property tax administration will bring a professional rather than a political approach to the Assessor's job. I will use my expertise to represent renters, senior citizens and homeowners before the State Board of Equalization to protect them from bureaucratic red tape and unfair rulings. San Francisco needs a professional who will not make this a political office. I am that candidate.

ERIC A. MONCUR
My address is 1866 Great Highway.
My business or occupation is Deputy Assessor.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
I have been an appraiser for 27 years, 7 years as a Deputy Assessor. I stand for a closer scrutiny of downtown assessments. Too few appraisers have been assigned downtown and as a result, wealthy speculators have escaped millions of dollars in taxes each year. Speculators are a major cause of slums, blight, high rents and unemployment. Furthermore, business is taxed at a lower rate than homes. I will eliminate this inequity and stop subsidies to speculators. I will protect homeowners, renters and seniors on fixed incomes. I will hire women appraisers.
San Francisco has none.

We cut payroll red-tape so personnel can be found and promptly paid. At last we have tests for student promotion and graduation. We insist new standards be met. We demand fundamental skills and homework. I work closely with business and community leaders to insure taxes are not drained away. Good schools are good business, but public education is on trial. BILL EISEN

My address is 230-12th Avenue.
My Business or occupation is Certified Public Accountant.

My qualifications for office are as follows:
B.S. Business Administration; Graduate Studies; neighborhood businessman; President, Park Presidio Neighborhood Association.

San Francisco's public schools cost more and educate less than any other school system in the state.
Seventy-five percent of San Francisco's public high school graduates who take the Army's standard admission test fail. Where do these kids go after high school? On welfare? Crime?

Obviously, something must be done. We need more classroom discipline, reading, writing and arithmetic, community involvement, and a bum's rush to that group of self-serving bureaucrats.

And why shouldn't we enjoy one of the best educational systems?

CANDIDATES FOR SCHOOL BOARD

SYLVIA WEINSTEIN

My address is 489 27th St.
My business or occupation is socialist activist.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
Alioto's school redesign has closed nine schools. The Proposition 13 school budget has slashed badly needed programs. Our school board has sacrificed quality education while the corporate landlords are reaping tax cut windfalls. This must be reversed.

We need better education, bi-lingual bi-cultural programs, childcare, adult education, and desegregation. Stop the cutbacks. Tax the rich and the international corporations to provide better education for ourselves and our children.

Support the teachers. End the layoffs. Defeat the Briggs initiative — No on 6.

ROBERT E. BURTON

My address is 2727 — 41st Avenue.
My business or occupation is Member Community Re-lease Board.

My qualifications for office are as follows:
As a board member of the Community College district for six years, I am proud of my efforts to increase student and community involvement. Without raising taxes for the past four years, the Community College has expanded fapanded federal assistance to students. Twenty-two years in adult teaching has convinced me of the need and value of adult education. All, regardless of age, sex, religion, racial or ethnic background must have an opportunity to continue their education. We have made that opportunity available to all San Franciscans.

CANDIDATES FOR CHARTER COMMISSION

DUKE J. ARMSTRONG
My address is 310 Scott St.
Occupation: Attorney.
As director of the Haight-Fillmore Neighborhood Association for two years I have been repeatedly frustrated by the inconsistent and irrational organization within City Hall. Recent scandals involving meter collections, the Housing Authority, and Welfare Department are primarily due to flaws in our antiquated charter which distains responsibility and blurs lines of authority.
As former congressional aide, attorney, and principal draftsman of San Francisco’s new anti-litter ordinances sponsored by San Franciscans for a Cleaner City, I have practical experience in our governmental structure and local needs. I ask for your vote and assistance in drafting a clear, consistent and common sense Charter.

Occupation: Consulting Engineer, business systems and procedures.
My qualifications for office as follows:
I believe that my unique experience as an Industrial Engineer, working on systems related projects followed by many years of activity in the San Francisco political environment well qualifies me for this highly complex task.
The main task at hand is to see that the project is completed and is acceptable to the voters. While making the current disorder more manageable for day-to-day operations is of primary importance, some provision should be made for the public to judge the cost related benefits its government provides and modify those relationships through the democratic process.

RICHARD DAVID BOYLE

My address is 1855 Pacific Ave.
Occupation: Teacher-Author.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
Although an author and journalist, my most recent occupation was instructor-counselor-coach with low income Mission youths. The saddest part was telling them there was no more work, yet our society spends millions helping foreign dictators. The new charter must not be a hodgepodge of confusing laws aiding big corporations...but be San Francisco’s constitution. It must affirm our cherished values: Decent life for all; Protection from public poisoning for profit; freedom from oppressive taxation; Security in our homes and liberty and justice. It’s not the big corporations’ or politicians’ charter. It’s the people’s charter for us all.

CANDIDATES FOR CHARTER COMMISSION

BERNARD FINNBARR BRADY

My address is 530 - 48th Avenue. Occupation: Budget Analyst. My qualifications for office are as follows:

Our Charter, San Francisco's Constitution, must be changed. In 1932 Citizens negated the Charter Provision for a horse trough at 3rd and Market.

Likewise, in 1978, many charter provisions are so detailed as to have no place in a charter, which is supposed to set forth "organic Law". Our charter, then, must not continue to be the repository of statutory whim.

As a fourth generation San Franciscan, as a person with experience, education, youth and city-wide support, I pledge to dedicate myself to the highest quality of Charter Revision.

DONALD A. CASPER

My address is 447 Chestnut. Occupation: Attorney-at-law. My qualifications for office are as follows:

I am a native of San Francisco, and a graduate of St. Ignatius High School and Georgetown University. I am 30 years old. I seek a government in which lines of responsibility are clearly drawn, and in which those who are given responsibility are given authority equal to their tasks, and thus are made fully answerable. A charter ought to lay institutional foundations for accountability and responsiveness.

Occupation: Executive Director.
My qualifications for office are as follows:

Our local government does not work for a majority of our residents. The need of residents for the speedy, efficient and economical solution to the problems that face them goes unmet. I will work to develop a new Charter that is simple and flexible enough for people to use and which creates a government responsive and accountable to all San Franciscans.

ROBERT J. GEARY

My address is 2578 Great Highway. Occupation: Police Officer. My qualifications for office are as follows:

As a San Francisco homeowner and policeman, I am outraged about the unresponsiveness of our City’s government to the concerns of average citizens. During the past decade, our property taxes have risen over 60% while the quality of life and city services has deteriorated. Extensive revision of the City Charter is necessary to end present abuses. To name just two: Abolish the extortionary sewer tax which eats away at family budgets; end illegal “sweetheart” contracts which allow PG&E to buy the City’s Hetch Hetchy electricity at bargain rates, only to sell it back to us at a big mark-up.

SUE HESTOR
My address is 4536 20th Street. Occupation: Attorney. My qualifications for office are as follows: Local government seems paralyzed. Petty politics and bureaucratic infighting dominates our civic life. This stems from a Charter that so obscures political accountability as to make democratic government an engendered species in our City. The 1932 Charter has as its heart an assumption that the people of the City cannot be trusted to govern themselves. After eight years of community problem solving I know that assumption is nonsense. If elected, I am dedicated to a new Charter that enables people to solve their own problems through a government that is both responsive to their needs and accountable to them.

LYMAN HINCKLEY
My address is 1590 Broadway.
Occupation: (Retired).
My qualifications for office are as follows:
Born in Maine; educated (with honors) in Massachusetts; in U.S. civil service 20 years. Since then, living and working in San Francisco 20 years. I am a radical with unshakable loyalty to the United States Constitution. Education largely in political subjects. San Francisco needs a people's-utterance charter of peaceful revolution, to provide three kinds of genuine rights/responsibilities — political, economic-environmental, communication-education — as the only justification for any government. Every senior, educator, and environmentalist should vote for me to represent them, our chief assets and resources. Away prejudice, immaturity with its experts, alienation, exploitation! Money power or people power?

PAT JACKSON
My address is 1158 Sanchez St.
Occupation: Training Director.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
My name is Pat Jackson.
My occupation is Training Director for SEIU, Local 400.
Married to Dan Jackson, Teacher, S.F.U.S.D — Suzie, 18 — Clare 13.
Graduated from San Francisco State, 1950.
Worked as child development and parent education specialist in the Mission, Visitacion Valley and Oceanview.
Active in community reform — lower taxes, senior citizens rights, efficient delivery of city services.
I feel that we need a simple flexible charter that establishes accountability, outlines policy and clarifies the power of implementation. The Charter should serve the City, instead of the City serving the Charter.

LEO JED

My address is 3972 19th Street.
Occupation: Financial Manager, Office of the Chief Administrative Officer.

My qualifications for office are as follows:

The Charter is San Francisco's Constitution; it must embody who we are and how we want to be governed. Much has changed since the 1932 Charter was written; our needs are very different now. We must be able to effectively respond to changing circumstances. Proposition 13 poses this clear challenge. We have no choice.

As the Financial Manager of the City's three largest public projects, I understand the need for Charter reform to fix responsibility and accountability for meeting the public's trust.

I will listen to all who have a stake in how our City is governed — this includes you.

California, Ad-Hoc Committee on caused me to realize the document's

TODD S. J. LAWSON
My address is 1140 Sutter Street.
Occupation: Writer.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
As a journalist and small-press editor for 15 years, I am conscious of the need for clear, concise language in our city charter so that all the people, not just special-interest groups and bureaucrats, can understand it. I am the author of four books including "The Empire of Howard Hughes" and "The 69 Days of Easter." My work has appeared in over 250 journals worldwide. A strong advocate of human rights, I am the recipient of four national journalism awards and a writer-in-residence grant from the California Arts Commission. We need a San Francisco writer on the Charter Commission.

LESLEY G. LEWIS
My address is 1001 Chenery Street.
Occupation: Administrative Officer.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
My duties require that I work with the Charter and I am aware of its limitations on effective management of City and County business. At best the present Charter is a patchwork relic of the 1930s with many special interest clauses. San Francisco needs a streamlined, efficient Charter and government organization. Unlike the Administrative Code (ordinances of the Board of Supervisors), the Charter is very rigid and difficult to amend as the demands upon it change. It should contain principles of organization and purpose like the United States Constitution, not a collection of trivia. I support public hearings and input.

MARJORIE D. MARTIN

My address is 182 Diamond Street.
Occupation: Real Estate.
My qualifications for office are as follows:

I am straight! I have a great love for the City of San Francisco. As a property owner I believe that every tax-dollar collected should be used to provide needed services; that a new charter should eliminate “Fat” in City Gov’t not “Vital” Departments.

S.F. Hotel Tax funded Magic Theater (1977) $8,000.00.

Magic Theater at Fort Mason was little more than a “strip” show with a naked actress on stage.

S.F. Hotel Tax funded A.C.T. (1977) $200,000.00. A.C.T. production of Equus and This is an Entertainment also featured nude performers. Such misuse of public funds is inexcusable.

THOMAS F. McDONOUGH
My address is 1562-38th Ave. Occupation: Retired — San Francisco Fire Dept. My qualifications for office are as follows:

I was born and raised in San Francisco, am a retired city employee, (Fireman), and have owned a home in the Sunset District for 38 years.

My concern is that a new or revised charter must be workable, one that prevents any take over by power blocs or special interests. The charter must maintain proper balance of authority to guarantee fiscal stabilization; fair treatment, stable relations with city employees. Taxes and assessment practices must be equitable and fair to all citizens and business.

My 36 years as taxpayer and city employee gives me unique perspective of the need for charter reform.

JOHN THOMAS SPECHT
My address is 23 Graystone Terrace. Occupation: President, City Management Counsel, Inc. My qualifications for office are as follows: Managed development of financial systems for San Francisco Mayor’s Office to evaluate services offered to all City neighborhoods, promoted City management reorganization plan to federal agencies and City’s business leaders, designed and implemented a County organization personnel system. Negotiated and administered contracts for new consumer products offered by financial, insurance, and real estate corporations. KEVIN JOHN SULLIVAN
My address is 1547-21st Avenue. Occupation: Union Retail Clerk. My qualifications for office are as follows: I am a native San Francisco, graduate of Riordan High School and the University of San Francisco with a Bachelor of Art’s degree in Government. The city charter is the legal instrument of governmental authority to the city; it is also a determination of the style and type of home rule that you, the local voters will accept. As an elected Charter Commissioner I will be directly responsible to you, the voters, and not to the Board of Supervisors nor the Mayor.

THOMAS R. SWANEY
My address is 1223 Kearney. #4. Occupation: Systems/Financial Analyst. My qualifications for office are as follows: My background in Cost Accounting and Financial Analysis is needed for the Charter revision. I have worked for a large financial institution and also for the City and County of San Francisco. Strict financial controls should be implemented so scandals such as “Metergate” cannot happen again. The new Charter should make government responsive to the community. Too many times high government officials are insulated from the public and act against the best interest of citizens. Working men and women should have the opportunity to influence how their tax dollars are spent. Good government results when citizens are encouraged to become involved.

As a homemaker, part time aide to my husband in his business, and resident of this beautiful city of San Francisco for forty years, I have decided I would try and do my part in making it a better city. There are many aspects of the City Charter that require a concerned approach.

My address is 2903 Harrison Street.
Occupation: Public Interest Lawyer.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
San Francisco is my adopted home (10 years). As a tenant (6 years) and a homeowner (4 years), I have been frustrated by the effects of our Charter.
The frustration of low-income citizens with city, state, and federal bureaucracies has been my professional preoccupation as an advocate in the highest courts of this state and nation. This, I believe, is a solid starting point for the searching public inquiry which this Commission should undertake. I am eager to serve my neighbors and City in striving for reform of the maze of boards, commissions, and unaccountable decision-makers.

TRANSPORTATION COMMISSION

PROPOSITION A

Shall City government be partially reorganized by consolidating all transportation functions under a commission including the municipal railway, street traffic, motor vehicles for hire and coordination of parking functions; consolidating all waste water, water and power functions in the public utilities commission; consolidating street lighting functions in the department of public works, establishing and adjusting compensation of commissions; protecting civil service rights and providing for certain exempt positions; and providing for legal services and other related changes?

Analysis

By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City has no Transportation Commission. The San Francisco Municipal Railway is under the Public Utilities Commission. Street traffic design and traffic control devices are under the Department of Public Works. The licensing, regulation and control of motor vehicles for hire such as taxis and jitneys, are under the Police Department. Also, street lighting is under the Public Utilities Commission and waste water disposal is under the Public Works Department.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition A would reorganize the functions of the present departments and create a new Transportation Commission. The Transportation Commission, made up of five members appointed by the Mayor, would manage the Municipal Railway, street traffic planning, and regulation of vehicles for hire. It would also coordinate all City parking functions. At the same time, the Public Utilities Commission would manage waste water disposal and the Department of Public Works would manage street lighting.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want a new Transportation Commission created to manage transportation functions within the city.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want management of city Transportation to remain under the Public Utilities Commission, Department of Public Works and Police Department.

Controller’s Statement on “A”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition A:

If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, the increase in the cost of government would be a minimum of $130,000. Additional cost increases, if any, would depend on future legislative action increasing the budget of said commission.

How Supervisors Voted on “A”

YES: Supervisors Dianne Feinstein (District 2), John Molinari (District 3), Ella Hill Hutch (District 4), Harvey Milk (District 5), Carol Ruth Silver (District 6), Robert Gonzales (District 7), Dan White (District 8) and Ron Pelosi (District 11).

NO: Supervisor Quentin Kopp (District 10).

Yes on Proposition A

Improve government efficiency and effectiveness in transportation and utilities!

Proposition A consolidates all utilities under the city’s Public Utilities Commission and all transportation activities under the Transportation Commission. Proposition A is the kind of reform which can work. It will reduce duplication in personnel and facilities.

Give Muni the leadership it needs!

Proposition A insures clear accountability for making our transportation system responsive to current needs and the City’s Transit First policy. The Transportation Commission will be responsible for Muni, as well as parking and traffic.

Increase public participation in the sewer program!

Proposition A gives the city’s Public Utilities Commission responsibility for establishing sewer rates, after adequate public notice and hearings. Consolidation of water, power and waste water under one commission creates new opportunities for reclamation and recycling, with long-range financial savings for residents.

We join with numerous City and neighborhood organizations in supporting this long overdue and badly-needed reform.

Muni and our entire transportation system need management help. The modest initial cost required for new management under Proposition A will be more than off-set by future savings from consolidation of duplicated planning, engineering and operations bureaus.

Under Proposition A management of the Wastewater construction project will remain with the Chief Administrative Officer. Continuing operations and sewer rate-setting will be overseen by the Public Utilities Commission, as with water rates and operations. Rate-setting is properly lodged with a citizen commission — not a single administrator.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

Vote “No” on Proposition A

Maybe there should be a Transit Department but not where it means more bureaucracy and more city employees, especially high paid ones. That’s what this amendment does. Not only would there still be a General Manager of Muni, (at $45,000 per year) we’d now be saddled with a “Director of Transportation” over him, at a higher salary, with an unspecified number of assistant directors and no limit on the number of other new employees. That’s one reason the Controller estimated this will cost AT LEAST $125,000 in additional taxpayers’ monies.

Having removed Muni and set up another bureaucracy of mammoth proportion, they had to add to the Public Utilities Commission’s jurisdiction to justify its continued existence. The entire Wastewater Management program and Department of Sanitary Engineering would be shuffled to the PUC from the direct supervision of the Chief Administrative Officer.

A recent audit of the PUC illustrated major deficiencies in its oversight of both Hetch Hetchy and the Water Department. Adding Wastewater and Sanitary Engineering to the Commission’s jurisdiction before the deficiencies in their present bureaus are rectified is unwise and untimely.

The Chief Administrative Officer, by Charter, is San Francisco’s principal fiduciary administrator. He is non-partisan, independent and free from politics. Removing projects which will expend a billion and a half dollars in taxpayer’s money from the CAO’s direct supervision when he has both the expertise and mechanisms to coordinate these programs would be tremendously disruptive and foolish. It would lead to further postponements and disorganization within such departments and would require the PUC overnight to develop comparable expertise. It could also lead to politics in San Francisco’s largest public works project in history which the Charter has prevented since 1932.

Vote “No” on Proposition A.

This isn’t consolidation; THIS IS EXPANSION OF BUREAUCRACY. It will increase costs, and further complicate the present administration of all affected departments. San Francisco taxpayers have too much at stake in terms of delivery of services to support more city employees and higher salaries.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

Vote “No” on Proposition A

In light of “Prop 13” and runaway inflation, if there is one thing San Francisco does not need it is the creation of yet another commission.

Proposition A is another attempt to end the merit system in San Francisco, by creating “certain exempt positions”. It would be another step in returning City departments to the spoil system.

Under the existing rule of three, department heads are able to choose any one of the top three qualified candidates; The creation of “exempt positions” would further erode our Civil Service System and be very detrimental to our City services.

PROPOSITION B
Shall the powers and duties of the Civil Service Commission be expanded to establish procedures relating to discrimination in employment, examination evaluation, combining entrance and promotional examinations, probationary periods, dismissals and leaves?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Civil Service Commission regulates the hiring, promotion and dismissal of city employees. Among the rules are the following: Ordinarily, only existing city employees are allowed to take promotional tests. Tests cannot be scored, nor eligible candidates appointed to jobs, while tests are being protested. Probation periods are six months for all city employees, except firefighters and peace officers. A hearing officer's decision on charges against employees can be appealed to the commission. There is no anti-discrimination policy statement in the Charter.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition B would allow outside applicants to take promotional tests with city employees, but would give extra consideration to city employees. Tests could be scored and eligible employees appointed while protests are being heard. Probation periods for all city employees could be increased up to 12 months and to 24 months for executives. A hearing officer's decision on charges against an employee would be final. A policy statement to prohibit discrimination would be added to the Charter, and the Civil Service Commission would have to establish procedures for enforcing it.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to make these changes in civil service procedures.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want civil service procedures to remain as they are now.

Controller's Statement on "B"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition B:
If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, it would have no effect in the cost of government.

How Proposition B Got On The Ballot
Proposition B is a consolidation of what were originally two separate charter amendments, both relating to the Civil Service Commission's powers, functions, and duties.
The two charter amendments were passed by the Board of Supervisors at different times and by different votes. On August 14 the Supervisors voted unanimously to combine the two in the interest of economy. The combined measure became Proposition B.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

Vote "Yes" on Proposition B

This is a civil service reform measure which will give us improved procedures within the merit system and enable the Civil Service Commission to conduct a modern personnel program. Performance evaluation will be a factor in promotion. These amendments also clarify several Charter changes to provide equitable treatment of employees in disciplinary hearings and set forth procedures to insure equal employment opportunities. This amendment also:

— provides for the use of apprenticeship rosters to hire qualified apprentices for city employment;

— allows examination procedures to continue while any relevant objections are reviewed;

— permits qualified eligibles to receive appointments while protests that would have no effect on such appointments are being investigated;

— allows different probationary periods following hearings before the Civil Service Commission;

— clarifies language as to due process hearings for employees;

— updates and corrects language on military leaves of absence;

— provides that promotive and entrance candidates who compete in the same examination will be ranked on one eligible list in order of examination standing thus allowing more equitable consideration to be given all competitors while providing for service credits to promotive eligibles;

— provides due process appeal rights on any allegations of discrimination; and

— includes a policy statement as to equal employment opportunities in Civil Service Commission operations.

Adopt this amendment for a more effective, equitable civil service personnel program.

PROPOSITION C
Shall Tax Collector and Treasurer be consolidated under Treasurer, who shall appoint and remove Tax Collector at Treasurer's pleasure; with present Tax Collector retaining civil service status to said position; and providing that the office of County Clerk shall be placed under direction of the Superior Court?

Analysis

- By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The city's Department of Finance & Records includes the offices of tax collector, registrar of voters, recorder, county clerk and public administrator. The director of the department is appointed by the chief administrative officer.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition C would place the tax collector under the direction of the city treasurer and place the county clerk under the direction of the Superior Court. The Department of Finance and Records would become the Department of Governmental Services, under the chief administrative officer.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to move the tax collector into the office of treasurer and place the county clerk under the direction of the Superior Court.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the Department of Finance and Records to remain as it is now.

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION C APPEARS ON PAGE 128
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Vote Yes on Proposition C

Proposition C consolidates the office of tax collector under the treasurer, places the county clerk under the Superior Court and eliminates the director of finance and records. It is designed to end duplication, increase efficiency and streamline the department of finance and records. It is a significant reorganization measure in the spirit of better management of city government and less bureaucracy.

Presently, 52 out of 58 counties in California have consolidated their treasurer and tax collector. Five of the remaining six have comparable pending legislation. Merging tax collections with the treasurer’s office will produce a more efficient collection of funds, speed the cash flow process, reduce delays in deposits and earn taxpayers more interest income on City funds. Instead of the tax collector transmitting revenue to the treasurer, the treasurer will be collecting and depositing himself, gaining at least one day in the deposit and investment of City money.

It is estimated that approximately 99% of the county clerk’s time is now spent on court related matters. Placing the county clerk under the Superior Court is a logical step to provide a more cohesive unit.

In the past, the Director of Finance and Records has been vacant for as long as two years. The authors of the Charter clearly intended that one of the department heads under the CAO should be assigned as director of finance and records in conjunction with his other responsibilities. They did not intend a separate position to be developed at unnecessary expense to the taxpayers. We can save over $50,000 per year eliminating the position.

The recent Metergate scandal in the Tax Collector’s office, overseen by the Director of Finance and Records, calls for reform of our entire department of finance and records. Proposition C is consistent with this goal.

Eliminating the tax collector and county clerk from the department of finance and records leaves only the public administrator and recorder. There is no good reason why the CAO cannot directly oversee these offices.

REMOVAL OF COMMISSION MEMBERS

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION D

When the people vote for a new administration at City Hall, they expect that administration to carry out its promises about new policies and new directions in San Francisco.

They expect that administration to implement new policies at all levels of government — and this includes the many Boards and Commissions of our City.

That’s the only way an administration can begin to make headway on the crucial problems of delivering better services and cutting the cost of government.

But presently in San Francisco, this is almost impossible to achieve.

When a new Mayor takes office, the Boards and Commissions set up to carry out administration policies have holdover members appointed by previous Mayors. . . lame duck appointees who may not represent the new directions which San Francisco voters have approved.

Presently a handful of holdover commission appointees can — in key instances — frustrate the policies of a new administration at City Hall, and prevent the will of the people from being expressed in local government.

Proposition D would end this intolerable situation.

It would guarantee that voters get a clean sweep at City Hall when they vote for a new administration. It would mean that the appointments of all Commission and Board members made by a previous Mayor would terminate at the inauguration of a new administration.

When you vote for a change at City Hall you expect that change to be reflected at all levels of government, and fast. That’s why your approval of Proposition D is so important.

Let’s make sure that our votes are heard loud and clear at City Hall. The lame-duck appointees of previous administration must not stand in the way of changes which voters demand.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION D

DO WE WANT INDEPENDENT COMMISSIONERS . . . OR A RUBBER STAMP?

The commission form of government was an attempt to insure maximum citizen participation long before the Washington bureaucrats ever invented the term.

Because of their politically sensitive nature certain commissions specify fixed terms to be served by those appointed. These include the Airports and Civil Service Commissions and the Board of Permit Appeals.

Commissioners who cannot be removed from office if they offend the Mayor who appointed them are in a better position to exercise independent judgment on the matters that come before them. Removing this protection in favor of having all commissioners serve at the pleasure of the Mayor will necessarily turn them into rubber stamps for that Mayor, whomever he or she be.

• If there can be no independent citizen participation why have commissioners at all?

• Why settle for inefficiency AND a rubber stamp with no accountability, the worst of both possible worlds?

Vote “No” on Proposition D

Perhaps in these days of governmental economizing we can no longer afford the luxury of democracy. As long as we have the commission form of government, let’s give these citizen participants the opportunity to do the job they’re appointed to do.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

Charter amendment pertaining to absence of officers from the state.

Proposition E would eliminate a time-consuming, outdated and unnecessary section of the City Charter.

Currently, city officials who travel out of the state must first secure permission from the Board of Supervisors.

At the time the Charter was written, in the 1930's, this made sense. But today, it does not.

Travel and communication was difficult then. Today, travel is fast and communication is easy. It takes the same amount of time to telephone any city in the country as it does any neighborhood in San Francisco or any other California city. And even the farthest distance in the country is within a few hours flying time of San Francisco.

There is little reason to keep this outdated requirement in our City Charter.

It takes up the time of the Board of Supervisors and other city officials, time which could be used to deal with more important matters. It costs the taxpayers money in staff time and paper shuffling.

Proposition E would change this.

Many things have changed since the 1930's. This Charter section should, too.

We urge you to vote YES on Proposition E.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION E

Vote "No" on Proposition E

Proposition "E" eliminates the Charter provision requiring all public officials, members of boards and commissions, and department heads to notify and receive approval from the Board of Supervisors and the Mayor before taking leaves of absence from the State. While the granting of these leaves of absence is usually a routine matter, it does serve a vital purpose during times of emergency when a full component of public officials would be required for the operation of all City services. By eliminating this provision from the Charter, there would no longer be any accountability for out-of-state travel by public officials.

In the past, on several occasions the Board of Supervisors has investigated the questionable use of taxpayers money for travel purposes by public officials. The Board became aware of these travel plans through this Charter provision. Further, the Board has been able to insure that a quorum for boards and commissions has been maintained by the routine notification of proposed leaves of absence. This would no longer be possible with the passage of Proposition "E".

Proposition "E" does not infringe upon the privacy of individuals nor does it impose an undue hardship on top level public officials. It does maintain a level of accountability which is vital to the responsible operation of City departments, agencies, commissions and boards. It should be maintained.

Shall present officers and employees receive cash payment only for unused sick leave accumulated prior to effective date herein and remaining unused at retirement; and persons who become officers or employees after effective date herein shall not be entitled to cash payment for accumulated unused sick leave?

Analysis

By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: City employees can save unused sick leave up to a total of six months. They can receive cash payment for this time when they retire from city service.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition F would let present city employees get paid only for past unused sick leave. New employees will not receive any payment for unused sick leave.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you do not want city employees to be paid for sick leave they do not use.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want city employees to continue to be paid for sick leave they do not use.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote Yes on Proposition F

Giving employees sick leave pay when they're ill is fair and just. Paying cash to employees for sick leave accumulated because he or she wasn't ill is neither fair nor just.

Presently, employees are allowed 13 days a year of paid sick leave and up to six months of sick leave. Permissive rules have allowed cash payments to employees for sick leave when they weren't even sick. Employees are able to take as much as six months' salary in cash with them upon retirement over and above regular retirement benefits.

It is prohibitively expensive. This year approximately $4.5 million will be paid in cash to retiring city employees for sick leave they did not need while regularly employed. In August alone, almost $1,000,000 cash-for-unused-sick-leave benefits was paid to 139 recently retired employees. Some received as much as $25,000 in cash upon retirement. THIS MUST STOP.

The Controller has estimated that as of June 9, 1978, the cash amount of unpaid sick leave accumulated by present employees was $84,375,000.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote Yes on Proposition F

Proposition F allows present employees to keep the cash value of accumulated sick pay which they accrued thus far. However, in the future, they would be no longer entitled to more cash for unused sick leave and new employees would not be entitled to cash for accumulated unused sick leave. Sick leave would continue to accrue for up to six months and when an employee's illness actually kept him from work he'd be paid for his time off due to illness up to a maximum of six months. This is what's done in private industry.

The Budget Analyst for the Board of Supervisors estimates that we will save over $1.125 million annually during the next 15-20 years and $4.5 million annually afterwards with the passage of Proposition F.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote Yes on Proposition F

Proposition F provides for leaves of absence due to illness or disability for every employee of the City of San Francisco. This policy is consistent with that found in private industry. A yes vote on Proposition F will assure that this practice continues.

It will, however, eliminate the provision that allows city employees to receive cash payment for unused sick leave upon retirement. This practice cost taxpayers in excess of $4 million last year. A yes vote on Proposition F will end this needless expenditure of your tax dollars.

Sick leave provides financial security during periods of bona fide illness. It is not meant to be a bonus for retiring city employees. Vote Yes on Proposition F and give city employees a fair benefit.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION F

The current sick leave rule provides an incentive for workers of all classifications not to use sick leave unless absolutely necessary. All occupations experience absenteeism, which is very destructive to the normal flow of work and work schedules. This usually requires hiring a non-experienced person or an experienced person at time and a half, causing additional cost to the City. The current sick leave rule also provides for payment of unused sick leave (maximum 6 months) upon retirement, which has worked very well for the purposes intended.

In most City departments the incentive provided by the current sick leave rule has proven to outweigh its cost to the City many times over. Most City departments have experienced that after an employee has accumulated 6 months in unused sick leave, their employment records show LESS time lost for sickness than the average worker.

The current sick leave rule has worked well for the City in the past. Let's defeat Proposition F.

As a condition of employment the employees of the City and County of San Francisco have been entitled to sick leave time. ELIMINATES MANDATORY RETIREMENT

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

Proposition G is a charter amendment designed to bring San Francisco’s Retirement System into compliance with recently enacted Federal and State laws eliminating mandatory retirement ages for employees in private industry and public service.

Public Law 95-256, signed by President Carter on April 6, 1978, eliminated the age 70 mandatory retirement provision for all Federal employees, effective September 30, 1978. This law also provides that, effective January 1, 1979, private employees and state and local governments are prohibited from requiring an employee to retire before age 70 solely because of age.

On July 11, 1978, Governor Brown signed Senate Bill 130, which prohibits any public retirement system in the State of California from requiring any employee to retire prior to age 70, except active law enforcement and firefighting personnel. In addition, the new law, effective January 1, 1979, allows these public employees the right to continue in employment beyond age 70 upon certification of the employees’ competence in his/her position.

Proposition G, therefore, will bring the San Francisco City Employees Retirement System into compliance with Federal and State law as it pertains to Miscellaneous Employees. Failure to enact this charter amendment would invite costly law suits compelling San Francisco to abide by the Federal and State laws.

From a fiscal standpoint, Proposition G would reduce the overall costs of the Retirement System to the taxpayers. The longer an employee works beyond age 65, the less is the Retirement System’s financial liability based on current and projected mortality tables.

In the final analysis, Proposition G will achieve equity and fairness by eliminating discrimination in employment on account of age.

PROPOSITION H
Shall City contracts for printing provide that persons performing the labor be paid not less than the highest general prevailing rate of wages in private employment?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: City printing contracts are now awarded to the low bidder, who can pay any wage rate to his workers.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition H would require that city printing contracts go only to printing companies that pay at least the highest wage rate to printers in San Francisco.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want all city printing contracts to be performed by contractors paying at least the highest wage rate for printers in San Francisco.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want to allow city printing contracts to be awarded to the lowest bidder, regardless of the wage rate.

Controller’s Statement on ‘‘H’’
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition H:
If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, there would be a considerable increase in the cost of government, the amount of which cannot be determined.

How Supervisors Voted on ‘‘H’’
On July 24th the Board of Supervisors voted 6-5 on the question of placing Proposition H on the ballot. The Supervisors voted as follows:
YES: Supervisors John Molinari (District 3), Ella Hill Hutch (District 4), Harvey Milk (District 5), Carol Ruth Silver (District 6), Dan White (District 8) and Lee Dolson (District 9).
NO: Supervisors Gordon Lau (District 1), Dianne Feinstein (District 2), Robert Gonzales (District 7), Quentin Kopp (District 10) and Ron Pelosi (District 11).

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

What Proposition H really means is JOBS for San Franciscans. The issue is whether the City of San Francisco will continue to employ printers from out-of-town and out-of-state while our own printing trades craftspeople go unemployed.

The re-binding of San Francisco's library books serves to illustrate the severity of this situation. Instead of San Francisco firms and their employees doing the re-binding of our own library books, the contract has been awarded to a firm in the State of Washington. This policy has deprived San Franciscans of salaries and jobs. People in the printing trades will continue to be unemployed if this situation persists.

Opponents of Proposition H have cited an increase in the cost of government as a reason to reject this Proposition. We feel that such a cost increase should not deprive people of deserved employment.

Increased revenues from taxes on employers and employees in the printing industry will offset the cost increase to implement this policy.

The voters of San Francisco must realize that unemployment in the printing industry will continue under the present system unless you vote YES on Proposition H.

It's time we protected San Francisco jobs, workers, and employers instead of OUTSIDE printing interests.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

San Francisco is a major center of the printing industry in the United States. Owners and operators of printing firms located in San Francisco pay taxes for the services rendered by the City and County of San Francisco. These same printing firms hire San Francisco workers who, in turn, live and pay taxes in San Francisco. Why should the City and County go out of San Francisco for printing services, even as far as Washington State? San Francisco citizens and workers can gain a return of their tax monies paid by having the printing of the City and County of San Francisco done by local printing enterprises. Proposition H will create jobs for San Franciscans. We urge a YES vote on Proposition H.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

Vote "Yes" on "H".

We are printing trades crafts workers who live, work, and pay taxes in San Francisco. When the City of San Francisco sends it printing work out of town to be done, we lose jobs and wages. Money earned and spent in San Francisco stimulates the city's economy.

VOTE "NO" ON PROPOSITION H

In 1972, the voters by a resounding 2 to 1 vote, defeated Proposition "P", which is almost identical to Proposition "H". It is clear that the voters have spoken on this issue. In 1972, the Controller stated that there would be an annual increase in the cost of government through passage of this proposition of at least $7,400 or an increase of .03 in the tax rate. This year the Controller has stated there will be a "considerable increase in the cost of government."

Proposition H requires that the contractor pay not less than the highest general prevailing wages in private employment or similar work. That sounds simple enough, but the City Purchaser says it is administratively unenforceable. The Purchasing Department would have no resources, facilities, or manpower to determine whether a contractor has complied with the provision. Attempts at enforcement would further complicate and delay the bid awarding process.

Proposition H would add provisions to the Charter which would, supposedly, impose working conditions and pricing preferences in contracts for printing supplies or printed products. However, it misses its objectives because it is detrimental to the general economy of San Francisco and is contrary to the objective of minimizing the cost of government by getting the most for each taxpayer's dollar spent.

If this proposition becomes law, other business groups will request like consideration and there is reason to believe that retaliatory measures by other governmental jurisdictions in this area will be enacted and result in a substantial loss to San Francisco's economy.

The current policy followed by the Purchasing Department is a workable, effective system. All things being equal, bids are awarded to the San Francisco bidder. Bids are not sought from out-of-town firms for commodities or services when suitable competition is available locally.

VOTE "NO" ON PROPOSITION H

Proposition H should be soundly defeated if we are to preserve lower costs, better returns for City tax monies and the general economy.

REAL PROPERTY LEASES

PROPOSITION I
Shall all contracts and real property leases in excess of ten years and/or having anticipated revenue of one million dollars or more be subject to approval by the Board of Supervisors?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Certain city contracts and leases are now entered into by city departments, boards and commissions without approval by the Board of Supervisors.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition I would give the Board of Supervisors the power to approve or reject contracts and leases entered into by city departments, boards and commissions when the leases would last more than ten years or would produce more than one million dollars revenue for the city.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to give the Board of Supervisors authority over major city contracts and leases.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the Board of Supervisors to have more control over city contracts and leases than it has now.

Controller's Statement on "I"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition I:
If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, it would have no appreciable effect in the cost of government.

How Supervisors Voted on "I"

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION 1

Vote “Yes” on Proposition “I”

With an annual budget for the City and County of San Francisco which exceeds $824 million, there is presently no provision in the Charter which gives the Board of Supervisors power to review contracts which will net $1 million to the City, or real property leases which will provide income of $1 million or more in revenue or exceed ten years in duration. Thus, while the Board of Supervisors is held accountable by all San Franciscans for the setting of the annual budget and fiscal priorities, the approval of revenue producing contractual arrangements is not within its purview. Proposition “I” gives this power to the Board.

Vote “Yes” on Proposition “I”

Proposition “I” will include the Board of Supervisors in the decision-making process concerning prudent, fiscally responsible obligations of taxpayers’ assets.

For example, as the Charter presently is written, the Board of Supervisors has no authority over the important, sometimes controversial, long-term leases at Candlestick Park, Fisherman’s Wharf or Sunol Golf Club. Thus, while, for example, the Board of Supervisors must approve stadium admissions taxes and similar charges which result from commitments in the Candlestick leases, the Board has no part in the establishment or modifications of such leases. Similarly, the Board was powerless in the Sunol Golf Club lease.

Vote “Yes” on Proposition “I”

PROPOSITION J
Shall Street Artists and Craftpersons be subject to regulation by an Advisory Committee, prescribing certification procedures and designated sales areas and establish a revenue fund for program and repeal present Street Artist Ordinance?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: People who sell their crafts on San Francisco's streets are regulated by a Street Artists Ordinance passed by the voters in 1975. Approximately 756 street artists now have certification permitting them to sell their wares at 520 spaces set aside by the Board of Supervisors.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition J would allow the Art Commission to issue 100 new conditional street artists' certificates. Holder of a conditional certificate could occupy unused selling spaces if none holding a regular certificate is there by 12 noon.

Proposition J would permit the Art Commission to establish a limit on the total number of street artist certificates, provided the limit is never less than existed January 1, 1978. It would also require the supervisors to keep the present ratio of spaces to permits, with the supervisors providing five spaces for every seven licensed street artists.

Proposition J would require street artists to renew their certificates every three months in person within 10 days of the expiration date or lose the certificates. It would be somewhat more specific than the present ordinance in defining street art.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want a new ordinance regulating street artists.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, it means you want to keep the present regulations on street artists in effect.

Controller's Statement on "J"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition J:

If the proposed proposition is approved, in my opinion, the cost of government would be increased by approximately $50,000.

How Supervisors Voted on "J"
On July 31st the Board of Supervisors voted 6-4 on the question of placing Proposition J on the ballot. The Supervisors voted as follows:

YES: Supervisors Gordon Lau (District 1), Dianne Feinstein (District 2), John Molinari (District 3), Harvey Milk (District 5), Carol Ruth Silver (District 6), and Dan White (District 8).

NO: Supervisors Ella Hill Hutch (District 4), Robert Gonzales (District 7), Quentin Kopp (District 10) and Ron Pelosi (District 11).

STREET ARTISTS ORDINANCE

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

This ordinance is based on the Art Commission’s six years of experience as the agency certifying the street artists of San Francisco. For the first time, the voters are offered street artist legislation which reflects a genuine compromise and acceptance by all major parties concerned.

For the first time, a limitation of the number of certified street artists shall be established in accordance with a 7 to 5 ratio of artists to spaces. The number of artists cannot be increased except when the Board of Supervisors increases them. The existing ordinance gives no limitation; it allows the Art Commission to issue an unlimited number of permits. At present, there are over 1300 applicants.

Proposition J incorporates all of the major provisions of the present ordinance but goes farther by incorporating the necessary by-laws and regulations implemented by the Art Commission over the years, notably the procedures for renewal, revocation and appeal.

Proposition J represents no cost to the taxpayers. It legally strengthens the Art Commission, which is responsible for collecting over $60,000 in certification fees annually for the General Fund. The Art Commission’s Street Artist Program is one of the few regulatory agencies that pays for itself and generates revenue for the City.

It is undeniable that the street artists are an important and colorful part of the tourist industry of the city. The Street Artists Program continues to receive compliments from tourists who claim the artists are one of the major highpoints of their interests.

San Franciscans, in previous elections, have repeatedly demonstrated their support of the street artists. Your support is needed now for Proposition J, which finally addresses the problem directly and which is being supported by artists, businesspersons, neighborhood groups and many other San Franciscans.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Vote “No” on Proposition J

Just three short years ago, the Board of Supervisors submitted to the voters a carefully drafted initiative ordinance to govern street artists. The voters adopted the ordinance overwhelmingly. Now, special interests want even more.

Proposition J compels the Board of Supervisors to set an unknown minimum number of spaces for certificate-holding street artists. It sets a complex ratio of at least five spaces to seven certificate-holders. Proposition J requires the provision of spaces for street artists, regardless of changing conditions in our city or a finding that less than such number would be advisable. No ordinance passed by the electorate should lock public officials into a system of providing a minimum of street spaces irrespective of contemporary conditions.

No other permit system in San Francisco, even those licenses for convenience and necessity, such as taxicab permits, forces a minimum. No other permit system creates a mechanism which would require the Board of Supervisors, the legislative branch of government, actively to seek more areas for the acquisition of new locations for street artists sites. Proposition J puts such obligation on the Board, along with the Art Commission, and binds them to it.

Proposition J:
— doesn’t define street artists; some merchant groups may be included in it;
— contains no provision for payment of rent to the City or public liability insurance by street artists. Who will be liable if a pedestrian is injured by street artist activity?
— is incapable of being enforced by the Art Commission since there are no policing powers. The Art Commission does not have adequate inspection capability and there is no provision to require funding by street artists for proper inspection;
— contains no provision for the Planning Department or the Police to approve locations or the number of street artists at any one location.

Proposition J will be difficult, if not impossible to enforce. We just voted in 1975. There’s no need to impose new and ambiguous requirements.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Vote No on Proposition “J”

Remember when street selling in San Francisco was a chaotic mess? Peddlers were lined up corner-to-corner on street-after-street, badgering and harassing our tourist guests with their products. They overflowed the sidewalks, blocked pedestrians, hampered traffic, endangered people’s lives. The Fire Department complained that they couldn’t get to the hydrants.

What’s more, a lot of these peddlers weren’t selling their own products at all, which is what street artists are supposed to do. They were pushing phonies, imports, which they were buying wholesale.

So, the legitimate street artists and the business community got together in support of a Proposition to regulate the business of street selling. It provided locations for legitimate street artists; it insisted that the products be genuinely home-made and not a rip-off import. It assured that there would be no interference with pedestrians and traffic. That Proposition cleaned the situation up. You voted for it. Things became a lot better.

But the phonies are trying to open the floodgates once again, with Proposition “J”.

Proposition “J” says that for every seven permits the Art Commission issues to street artists, the City must provide five selling spaces. Since the Commission can issue as many permits as it likes, this actually means almost unlimited use of the streets — and the City has to provide the spaces — checking on the legitimacy of the products would be practically impossible. There’ll be peddlers everywhere.

Don’t take this nonsense. Keep the sidewalk selling situation under control. Don’t let them roll the clock back to chaos.

Vote No on Proposition “J”

Submitted By:

Downtown Association of San Francisco
Milton Gilmore, President

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Proposition J makes the Art Commission responsible for control of street artists. This will not work, because the Commission does not have enough manpower to enforce regulations. And the Art Commission is not equipped to decide how public sidewalks and open space should be used. This is the Planning Commission’s job, yet Planning is left out of Proposition J. “J” also opens the door to peddlers of cheap, mass-produced goods, because it does not clearly define “street artist.” And it does nothing to correct the situation where neighborhood store owners have to carry liability insurance to cover street artists’ activities in front of their premises. So-called street art has become a big business in San Francisco. It needs regulation, but Proposition J is the wrong way.

PROPOSITION K
Ordinance: Shall increased rates for existing Business, Payroll and Real Property Transfer Taxes which were repealed by Board of Supervisors be re-enacted and allowing for offsetting Rebates in the form of credits for this year with authority of Board of Supervisors to extend credits?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Statement Proposition 13, which passed on June 6, limited the amount of money local government could raise from property taxes. After it passed, the San Francisco Board of Supervisors, at the request of the Mayor, approved higher tax rates for business and property transfer taxes. These new rates began June 30. However, when it became clear that the state surplus would supply enough money to San Francisco to operate for this fiscal year, the Board of Supervisors repealed the increases in these taxes.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition K, which was placed on the ballot by the Mayor, would restore the increases in the business and property transfer taxes. This would overturn the Board of Supervisors’ repeal and put the tax rates back up to the June 30 level. Because the state is providing funds to San Francisco for this fiscal year, Proposition K would provide for rebates on these taxes for this year only.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want business and property taxes in San Francisco to be raised back to the June 30 rates, with rebates this year.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want to keep business and property transfer taxes where they are now.

Controller’s Statement on “K”
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition K:
If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, there is a potential for future revenue of approximately $26,200,000 per annum from the business, payroll and real property transfer taxes. However, for fiscal year ending June 30, 1979 tax credits will be subtracted from the total tax due which will eliminate any additional revenues. For subsequent years, the tax credits can be modified by legislative action by the Board of Supervisors.

How Proposition K Got On The Ballot
Proposition K was placed on the ballot by a City Charter provision which allows the Mayor to place an Ordinance or Declaration of Policy on the ballot.
On August 3rd the Registrar received a request signed by Mayor George Moscone directing that an ordinance reinstating the increased rates for business, payroll and property transfer taxes be placed on the November ballot.

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION K APPEARS ON PAGE 134
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION K

Proposition K, the Home Rule Preservation Ordinance, is nothing more than an insurance policy for San Francisco. It will protect the City against the day the State's budget surplus diminishes and San Francisco must once again provide for itself.

It means no new taxes. It enables the Board of Supervisors, the City's policy-making body, to reimpose a 1.5 percent property transfer tax, a 1.5 percent payroll tax paid by major businesses and not by wage earners, and a modest increase in the City's gross receipt tax, by a simple majority vote. Reestablishing these tax rates — which were reduced after the State gave San Francisco more than $110 million in bailout money, on a one-time-only basis — would bring in some $30-million. Like any insurance policy, it won't be collected unless it is absolutely necessary.

Dependence on the State for handouts means San Francisco cannot determine its own future. Nobody knows how long the State will continue to have a surplus, and nobody knows how large that surplus will be in years to come. The only thing we can be sure of is that the surplus will decrease year by year, and whatever money San Francisco accepts will have strings attached to it.

By accepting the $110-million this year, San Francisco had to agree to give no cost of living wage adjustments to deserving city employees. The City also had to agree to continue funding programs at higher levels than may have been desirable, given the fiscal emergency created by passage of Proposition 13.

The fact of the matter is, San Francisco lost a significant degree of home rule. Decisions that should have been made by San Franciscans were made in Sacramento, because Sacramento was paying the bills.

Proposition K, the Home Rule Preservation Ordinance, keeps control at home, where it belongs. It's an insurance policy we can't afford to drop. K is OKAY. Vote Yes on K.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

Vote "No" on Proposition K

On June 6th, the voters thought that passage of Proposition 13 meant the elimination of the capricious raising of their local taxes. The voters thought they had told their public officials that they wanted government reform through streamlined municipal operations. Some of our San Francisco public officials have not gotten the message.

Proposition K is a direct attempt to circumvent the will of the people by raising the Real Estate Transfer Tax by 200%, the Payroll Expense Tax by 40%, and the Business Tax by 40%. The San Francisco Chronicle called these increased taxes "inappropriate and unnecessary." The Board of Supervisors agreed and voted to reject these new taxes. Yet Proposition K was placed on the ballot.

Proposition K does not just affect business. These are consumer taxes. The payroll and business taxes will mean higher prices to consumers. The real property transfer tax will be passed on to every family purchasing a home in San Francisco, acting as yet another deterrent to middle income families remaining in San Francisco. It contains a complicated credit system requiring taxpayer vigilance to avoid payment of these new taxes during its first year of implementation.

Most important, Proposition K is totally unnecessary. The budget passed by the Board of Supervisors is only .8 percent lower than last year's $831-million budget. It contains the largest surplus in San Francisco's history. Therefore, these increased taxes are unnecessary.

In the past, politicians have decided how much money they wanted and presented the bill to taxpayers, through the property tax rate. Prop 13 changed this by giving the politicians a set amount and telling them to make the hard decisions about spending priorities. The voters want politicians to meet City needs by eliminating duplication and slothful spending. Proposition K flies in the face of this mandate and will further delay imperative governmental reforms.

VOTE "NO" ON PROPOSITION K and once again tell your public officials that government reorganization, not increased taxes, is the way to run San Francisco.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

With the passage of Proposition 13 in June, the voters made a statement in no uncertain terms that taxes were too high and that government had become too large. Proposition K is clearly an effort to increase taxes to a level above that which was in effect prior to Proposition 13 and will add to the growth of government.

Although two of the proposed increases are applied to business, they have a major impact on the general public and are considered consumer taxes.

The gross receipts tax is an excess cost of doing business in the city and a major reason why hundreds of businesses and jobs have left the city in the past seven years. This tax is also reflected in the cost of goods and services.

The payroll tax is a penalty that must be paid by an employer every time he creates a new job or gives an employee a raise.

The real estate transfer tax has a major impact on the cost of residential property and is a penalty that must be paid by everyone who purchases a home in the city.

By voting no on Proposition K you will keep these taxes at their present level and help reduce the size of government.

SUBMITTED BY THE SAN FRANCISCO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
Gregory P. Hurst
Manager Public Affairs

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

VOTE NO on “K”. This is a tax increase Proposition, no matter what it’s called. A tax increase is a tax increase, no matter who pays it first. In the long run, you pay it, of course. Putting more taxes on business is putting more taxes on you. That’s what Proposition “K” does to you.

Right after Jarvis-Gann, the politicians panicked. How were they going to make up the lost funds? So these tax increases on business were hurried through. Then the air cleared. The panic passed. The Supervisors wisely voted to repeal the increases. They know that business taxes hurt the whole City, not just business. The Mayor decided to let the repeal go through.

But now he’s asking to boost your own taxes... They are your taxes, even if they do call them business taxes. You may not have to do the paperwork, but these taxes add up to the costs of doing business here in San Francisco. When business costs go up, so do prices. So do rents. And a few more businesses move out of San Francisco; many more jobs are lost.

These are stand-by taxes. They are not needed now. “We won’t use the money unless we need it,” they say. (Where have you heard that before? Can you picture them leaving any money in the till, once you fill it up for them?)

If there’s one thing we don’t need right now, it’s more taxes, or more power for the politicians to impose them.

Let the politicians feel the pinch, not you. MAKE THEM ECONOMIZE, not just find a roundabout way to tax you further.

Don’t give them the money. Vote for your job. Vote for your pocketbook.

LABORERS’ SALARY DEMANDS

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION M

Only 36 of the 283 persons employed as general laborers are assigned to work with the processing of raw human sewage on a daily basis. Such work requires an extra level of dedication and skill to ensure that the water quality control process is properly and efficiently completed.

This proposition would award these few workers additional compensation when performing such odious duties, and requires that proper uniforms be provided by the City. It is only human and decent that the voters approve this measure. Our members should not be reduced to the level of poverty and degradation of untouchables merely because they are employed in the City’s sanitary waste facilities. A vote for this measure will increase morale and productivity among these critical workers at little cost to the taxpayer.

Propositions L, M, N, O, P, Q, R and S are a result of a provision in the City Charter which was adopted by the voters in November 1976. This provision requires that unsettled contract disputes between city officials and city employees be put before the voters to decide.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION N

San Francisco employs fewer than 15 qualified Glaziers who are responsible for replacement and repair of tens and thousands of windows and skylights, all over the City and County, including such critical and unusual installations as the City Hall Dome, the Conservatory, the Aquarium Fish Tanks and the San Francisco General Hospital. Much of this work requires costly specialized tools and duties on boom trucks which call for greater experience and skill.

Passage of this proposition will ensure that modern and proper tools are always available. The City does not make its clerks furnish their own typewriters, nor the janitors their own mops and pails and should not require the Glaziers to provide their own tools either.

This measure will also provide premium pay for higher skill boom work. Actually, very few hours of boom work is done on an annual basis and the cost to the taxpayer will be negligible.

ELECTRICIANS’ SALARY DEMANDS

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION Q

San Francisco employs hundreds of qualified electrical workers of every race, ancestry and religion, in every vital public service it renders, including police communications, fire alarms, street lighting, MUNI transit, traffic signals and hospital operating room lighting and power. Many of these electricians are assigned to the Hetch Hetchy Power Generation System, which is a revenue producing City operation that competes with privately owned and operated utilities. Much of the work requires high levels of skill due to exposure to high voltage, climbing up transmission towers, and exposure to the elements and human wastes.

This measure provides that such workers will be furnished proper tools and clothing to perform their jobs in an efficient and workmanlike manner. It also provides that all those who repair MUNI transit vehicles work the same hours and enjoy the same conditions. This measure only works to increase the efficiency of the City’s electrical workers, and to bring equity to and improve the morale of these employees at a minimal cost to the taxpayer.

RENT REBATE

PROPOSITION U
Initiative Ordinance: Shall there be a one month rent stabilization for December 1978 (calculated on basis of June 6, 1978 rent) and a rental reduction for calendar year 1979 (calculated on June 6, 1978 rent minus the property tax saving on the rental unit)?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Rents in San Francisco are now set according to an agreement between what a landlord wants to charge and what a tenant is willing to pay.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition U would require that a landlord pass on to his or her tenants the total tax reduction received for that property from the passage of State Proposition 13. Proposition U would also prevent any rent increase through December, 1979, unless the landlord can prove that the costs on the rental unit have gone up. Rents could be raised for inflation or other increased costs, but not both. Proposition U requires that every landlord notify every tenant of how the rent reduction from Proposition 13 was calculated, and to make available for tenants a list of rents for all units in the property as well as books, records and receipts to document any reasons for a proposed rent increase.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want rents controlled in San Francisco through December, 1979 and you want to require landlords to pass on to both commercial and residential renters the full rebates mandated by Proposition 13.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want things to stay the way they are, with market conditions setting rent levels in San Francisco.

Controller's Statement on "U"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition U:
If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, it would not, of itself, affect the cost of government.

How Proposition U Got On The Ballot
On August 17th, City Registrar of Voters Thomas Kearney certified that the initiative petition containing Proposition U had qualified for the November ballot. Proposition U is an ordinance that calls for landlords to rebate to renters all of the savings attributable to Proposition 13.
San Franciscans for Renters Property Tax Relief, the proponents of the initiative, filed 24,805 signatures with Kearney on August 9th. After checking the signatures, Kearney determined that there were 18,353 valid signatures, which is more than the 10,562 names needed to put an initiative ordinance on the ballot.
10,562 represents 5% of the number of people who voted for Mayor in 1975.

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION U APPEARS ON PAGE 140
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION U

Over 25,000 San Franciscans signed the petition that put Proposition U on the ballot. They were renters, homeowners, neighborhood merchants, and landlords.

Renters support Proposition U because they now pay 100% of their landlords’ property taxes; and if Prop. 13 results in a property tax reduction, that reduction ought to go back to the tenants who really pay these taxes, not to their landlords as windfall profits.

Homeowners support Proposition U, because it extends to their renter friends, relatives and neighbors the same benefits they have gotten under Prop. 13, without costing homeowners a penny.

Neighborhood merchants support Proposition U, because they want to remain serving their neighbors, rather than being forced out by higher rents.

And fair-minded landlords support Proposition U, because they know tenants will be guaranteed Prop. 13 benefits only if a law is passed, rather than relying on the illu-

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION U

We are San Francisco homeowners. We fully support Proposition U. We think renters ought to get the same property tax benefits owners have just gotten under Prop. 13. We have friends, relatives and neighbors who are renters, and they need these breaks as much as we do. And besides, giving them tax justice won’t cost homeowners a penny.

So let’s give renters a break, too. Vote YES on Prop. U.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

MEASURE U IS RENT CONTROL FOR VIRTUALLY ALL SAN FRANCISCO RENTAL HOMES, FLATS, APARTMENTS AND COMMERCIAL BUILDINGS, PLAIN AND SIMPLE. It will have the same devastating social and economic impact on our City that such laws have had virtually everywhere they have been tried. To convince you Measure U doesn’t mean rent control, proponents deliberately combined their rent control scheme with Proposition 13 issues — a clear case of deceptive packaging.

You should be aware of what rent control will do to our City. Measure U will:

1. Reduce the amount of available rental housing by forcing many owners into condominium conversion; to live there, you will have to buy — at skyrocketing prices.
2. Reduce owners’ incentives to keep up their buildings.
3. Impose more laws and more government interference.
4. Congest already crowded courts by potentially making every renter/owner dispute a lawsuit.
5. Cause residential and commercial rental property assessments to drop, thus shrinking the tax base. This will cause a shift to increased homeowner taxes.

Rent control historically hurts most those who can afford it least: minorities, seniors and low-income people. Rent control reduces apartment services and maintenance. With the rental housing supply diminished, many people will be squeezed out by those with more cash and credit who are less affected by shifts in the job market.

Measure U applies the same rent control formula to highrise office buildings as to residential units, which is absurd. Because of the problems this ordinance would create, jobs and business will be driven from San Francisco.

We all have experienced “temporary” government measures. Nearly every rent control measure now in existence originally was “temporary”, and Measure U will be no exception. Measure U will end the possibility of meaningful solutions to our housing problems. It is the wrong approach to tax relief. Don’t be fooled by deceptive packaging.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

Let us be fair. Landlords are not Shylocks — they have monetary problems too. In any event, why penalize all for the conduct of a few? We stand only to lose by allowing rent control to pit landlords against tenants.

Rent control — Proposition U style — is a gigantic first step toward destroying San Francisco’s housing market by removing the investment incentive. Without this inducement, our housing stock is certain to dwindle and deteriorate.

In the myriad of things done in the name of Proposition 13, Rent Control is the most diabolical. Under the guise of tax rebate sharing, this proposition deprives owners of rental property ANY tax relief. Thereby corporations, homeowners and large utilities benefit but not the owner who supplies apartment living for a large part of our City’s population. The man who paid taxes even when he had vacancies must now turn over to tenants ALL of his tax rebate. This is not justice San Francisco style.

San Francisco is a rare major City, not only for its natural beauty, but because it is so loved by its residents that they have restored and rehabilitated its gracious older buildings with their own sweat and small savings, while other cities like New York, Boston and Washington worried about blocks of slums with empty, falling down buildings, broken windows and rat infesting populations. These a result of owner's default or simple abandonment because it made no economic sense to try to hold on under rent control.

Senator Proxmire summed it up well when he spoke against Federal funding to New York City because rent control caused the problem and he wanted it repealed. Undersecretary of HUD Janis underlined this on national television stating that he opposed rent control because it never works, only causes problems.

The Citizens Housing Forum, after much study, finds that the effects of rent control while devastating to other cities are suicidal for San Francisco. In our compact City where single family homes are almost always adjacent to or closely rental units, the deterioration or abandonment of rental units, inevitable under rent control, will not only adversely affect the value of the homeowner’s property but even more importantly, his safety.

We are a proud City. Let us not take the chance of reducing ourselves to the humiliation of New York or the devastation of the South Bronx. We strongly urge you to vote No on this initiative and preserve our unique environment.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

Disastrous! Misguided! Legalized Theft!

These terms describe some effects of rent control. If you find them comforting and appealing, then Proposition U deserves your vote. But, if you believe, as a noted economist has stated, that rent control is "the most efficient technique presently known to destroy a city — except for bombing," Proposition U demands your NO vote.

Proposition U threatens San Francisco with all the ill effects rent control has produced in other communities where introduced. Intended as a cure, it is more deadly than the ailment it purports to treat. There is no need for speculative thinking on this. Hard experience testifies to the facts. Under rent control, 260,000 rental units have been lost through abandonment in New York City since 1964. Is New York's example to be followed here? San Francisco deserves a better fate.

Rent control has also wrought havoc in Washington, D.C. Senator Eagleton (Democrat, Missouri) — not known for his conservatism — concluded, after a study of Washington rent controls, that they provide "an incentive for decay . . . (E)nacted for the best of motives to protect middle and low-income tenants, (they) actually work against the very people they were designed to aid." The Washington Star Post, also viewing the Washington scene firsthand, has likened rent control to hard drugs: "Starting is euphoric. Trying to stop is painful. Continuing is disaster."

We are not opposed to landlords sharing tax benefits with tenants. We encourage it whenever the facts justify, and expect it to occur when the time comes. But how can benefits be shared before realized or be evaluated before tax bills are received? Who can predict whether Proposition 13 will survive current legal attacks or when a decision will be forthcoming? Untimely actions often result in regret. Proposition U, if approved, would fit this mold.

California's legislature recently disapproved rent rollbacks and rebates statewide. How can what was rejected for Californians serve the best interests of San Franciscans? Don't be misled by false promises.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

Arguments Against Rent Control

Vote No for any rent controls.

Rent Control in any form is not needed for tenants to share in Proposition 13 savings.

Rent Control would discourage new construction, and as a result, many people in the Building Trades would be out of jobs (and this might be you.)

Rent Control is not in the best interest of tenants nor landlords, because between both parties there is a contractual relationship.

The tenant has the right to accept the rental or reject it. The landlord has the right to set a price on his rental unit. It is a fundamental right of contract between the parties.

If the Rent Control Bill is passed, landlords would not be inclined to keep up the quality of their rental units. This would accelerate the deterioration of rental units.

If we want to increase the availability and upgrade the quality of rental units, Rent Control in any form is not the answer.

MILITARY EXPENDITURES

PROPOSITION V
Declaration of Policy: Shall the People of the City and County of San Francisco demand that the Federal Government cease spending our tax money for wasteful military purposes and instead use it to provide the jobs and services that our people so desperately need, thereby creating jobs with peace by cutting the military budget?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: There is no city policy declaration which demands the end of "wasteful" military spending in order to provide more money for jobs and services.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition V would declare that the voters of San Francisco demand that the federal government stop spending tax money for wasteful military purposes and use it instead to provide needed jobs and services.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want it to be the policy of San Francisco to publicly oppose military spending identified as "wasteful" and use the money saved to provide jobs and services for people in this country.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want San Francisco to declare a policy against that military spending.

Controller's Statement on "V"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition V:
If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, it would have no effect in the cost of government.

How Proposition V Got On The Ballot

On August 17th, City Registrar of Voters Thomas Kearney certified that the initiative petition containing Proposition V had qualified for the November ballot. Proposition V is a declaration of policy that calls for a decrease in U.S. Military spending.
Michael C. Miller, the proponent of the initiative, filed 19,397 signatures with Kearney on August 8th. After checking the signatures, Kearney determined that there were 13,760 valid signatures, which is more than 10,562 names needed to put an initiative ordinance on the ballot.
MILITARY EXPENDITURES

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION V

The Federal Government spends almost $200 billion for military and related purposes, up 10% from last year. In contrast, $38 billion is spent on housing and $10 billion on education.

The people of this country suffer under an intolerable tax burden. San Franciscans will pay $789 million in federal income taxes this year of which $435 million will go to the military. This is more than the City’s total property taxes before Proposition 13.

The Proposition 13 savings went mostly to business, some to homeowners and none to tenants. The cost has been drastic cuts in schools and other cuts averted only by the State surplus, the continuation of which is tenuous at best.

The real solution to the tax burden is not Proposition 13, layoffs, cutbacks or new taxes, but to change our nation’s priorities. Current military spending greatly exceeds any conceivable defensive need. The military is the greatest threat to world peace by exporting $16.3 billion in arms this year and by stationing troops around the world. Military spending creates fewer jobs than spending in the civilian economy. The Vietnam war and foreign aid show that our tax money has been used to support dictators who suppress political and human rights. The resulting low wages in those countries has caused industry to relocate there and deprive our people of jobs. Military spending has been the major cause of deficit spending, thereby causing inflation.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION V

The labor movement stands for real national security, but it recognizes that the 130 billion military budget contains much waste and fat: it is the only source for adequate funding of jobs programs, housing, health insurance, education, environmental protection and aid to cities. Furthermore, military spending creates only half as many private industry jobs as spending on people's programs. Also military spending is the most inflationary type of government spending. Even large defense unions (Auto workers, Ma-chinists) favor cutting the military budget, along with many other large unions, the Industrial Union Department of AFL-CIO and sixty Bay Area local unions.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION V

"Do you really want your taxes cut? Does inflation rob you of your buying power? Then vote for Proposition V (for the transfer amendment initiative). The big tax rip off is not local but federal. High taxes and inflation, are, in the main, caused by the billions spent on a military machine that creates no consumer goods while eating up America's basic resources. Funds should be transferred from the swollen military budget to provide money for jobs, housing and necessary services to the people."

PROPOSITION W
Declaration of Policy: We, the people of San Francisco, demand that the District Attorney, along with the Chief of Police, cease the arrest and prosecution of individuals involved in the cultivation, transfer, or possession of marijuana.

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Law enforcement officials may arrest and prosecute any individuals they find who are involved in the cultivation, transfer or possession of marijuana.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition W would declare that it is the policy of the people of San Francisco to demand that law enforcement officials stop arresting and prosecuting people who cultivate, transfer or possess marijuana.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want law enforcement officials in San Francisco to stop arresting and prosecuting people who cultivate, transfer or possess marijuana.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want law enforcement officials to continue their present policy of arresting and prosecuting people for marijuana cultivation, transfer or possession.

Controller’s Statement on “W”
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition W:
If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, it would not, of itself, affect the cost of government.

How Proposition W Got On The Ballot
On August 17th, City Registrar of Voters Thomas Kearney certified that the initiative petition containing Proposition W had qualified for the November ballot. Proposition W is a declaration of policy that declares it to be City and County policy that persons not be arrested for Marijuana offenses.

Dennis Peron and Rick Ames, the proponents of the initiative, filed 20,800 signatures with Kearney on August 9th. After checking the signatures, Kearney determined that there were 11,840 valid signatures, which is more than the 10,562 names needed to put an initiative ordinance on the ballot.
10,562 represents 5% of the number of people who voted for Mayor in 1975.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION W

In 1972, the voters of San Francisco approved a statewide initiative to decriminalize marijuana possession and cultivation. In 1975, San Francisco voters elected a mayor and district attorney who had campaigned against marijuana law enforcement. For several years, San Francisco voters have been electing state legislators who are strong advocates of marijuana reform.

Yet today, in 1978, the archaic marijuana laws are still being vigorously enforced in San Francisco. Violent crime has dramatically increased, yet the police still enforce a set of laws which most San Francisco voters are opposed to.

Since the passage of Proposition 13 (Jarvis-Gann) millions of dollars have been cut from city services. But no cuts have been made in the non-essential “service” of the arrest and harassment of innocent individuals.

Proposition W does not change the laws.

Proposition W is a message to the elected officials of San Francisco that the voters want to see the campaign promises of the last six years fulfilled. It leaves it up to the elected officials how to do it; but the message is clear to CHANGE OUR PRIORITIES. While marijuana laws can’t be ignored without a change in state laws, they can be put at the lowest priority.

The voters of San Francisco have this chance to tell their elected officials what they see as the proper role of city government: to protect your morals, or to protect your rights?

Vote YES on Proposition W.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION W

Proposition W is a policy statement submitted to determine the views of San Francisco voters regarding enforcement of the marijuana laws.

Proposition W calls upon the San Francisco Police Chief and District Attorney to concentrate on the enforcement and prosecution of serious and violent crimes by de-emphasizing marijuana offenses. It would help establish a rational and sensible set of law enforcement priorities.

Proposition W would neither legalize nor decriminalize marijuana in San Francisco, as such statutory changes can only be made at the state and federal levels. As a policy statement, Proposition W does not conflict with the constitutional authority of the state legislature to establish penalties and procedures for enforcement of the marijuana laws, but rather serves as an expression of the views of San Francisco voters on appropriate local guidelines.

Because of fiscal restraints imposed on all public agencies — including law enforcement — by Proposition 13 in June, it is essential that our limited law enforcement resources be concentrated on combatting truly serious crimes and not wasted on enforcement of laws against consensual conduct. Police and court time are too valuable to be needlessly expended on marijuana offenses at a time when serious crime is a real problem in San Francisco.

Proposition W is not only right; it makes fiscal sense. Vote “YES” on Proposition W.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION W

(Marijuana Initiative)

A great deal of money and time went into the enforcement of laws against alcohol during Prohibition. Many lives were ruined and many families put through troubled times. The laws were unenforceable, despite the expensive attempts of the government.

Eventually, the majority of people saw better and repealed the Prohibition laws.

Now, we have laws on the books against marijuana. Again, we see millions of dollars spent each year trying to control people from doing what they will do anyway. Each year, we see more states easing the penalties against the use of marijuana. Health experts are coming to the conclusion that smoking marijuana is not harmful or certainly less harmful than alcohol.

Yet we still carry on the books laws against marijuana because of political reasons. Year after year, money is wasted trying to enforce unenforceable laws, money that could be used to deal with far more important problems. Year after year, more people, especially young people, waste their lives in jail for offenses which can hardly be considered criminal.

Proposition W does not change the laws.

Proposition W does not stop their enforcement.

All this policy statement is meant to do is to tell the city leaders that San Franciscans don’t want to see valuable police time and money spent enforcing marijuana laws. It will tell city leaders that they should work to change them.

This is a policy statement and nothing more. It says that too many lives have been wasted already because of these laws. It says that too much money has been spent on their enforcement. It says that there is no real crime or hazard in smoking marijuana.

We know from history that allowing people to drink alcohol didn’t turn the entire nation into drunks. The time has come for the same sensibility to be applied to marijuana.

PROPOSITION X
Shall a Charter Commission be elected to propose a new charter or to revise the charter?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The present City Charter of San Francisco went into effect in 1932. Since then it has been amended many times, but not rewritten in its entirety.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition X would declare that it is the policy of the people of San Francisco to elect a Charter Commission which would meet to write a new or revised Charter for the City.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to have a Charter Commission elected to write a new or revised Charter for San Francisco.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want to create a Charter Commission elected for that purpose.

Controller's Statement on "X"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition X:

If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, the cost of government would be increased by approximately $375,500.

How Proposition X Got On The Ballot

Please note that the Board of Supervisors was mandated by State law to place the above measure on the ballot. The vote by the Supervisors on placing this matter on the ballot was:

"No" — Supervisors Feinstein, Gonzales, Kopp, Pelosi.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION X

Many among us believe that San Francisco's government is expensive, inefficient and wasteful. A major cause of this is the City Charter.

The present Charter fragments the responsibility and authority of the Mayor and Board of Supervisors and grants powers to numerous boards and commissions not responsible to the voters. It makes it difficult for citizens to be heard. Most importantly, it requires obsolete budget practices which make it difficult to manage government efficiently. It is estimated that over $20,000,000 could be saved each year by improved data processing, employment practices and related reforms that are not now possible because of the present charter.

The Charter is lengthy and deals with many trivial matters that could be dealt with more effectively through ordinances. Witness the large number of charter amendments in this election.

The Charter was written to handle the problems of the '30's, not those of today and tomorrow. It is now 47 years old and has been amended over 500 times. The amendments are expensive to print, mail and implement, costing taxpayers much more in the long run than charter modernization would. They have left us with a Charter so confusing that few people understand it.

A YES vote on Proposition X will allow the election of a Charter Commission which will write a new Charter, hold public hearings and submit it to the voters in a future election. If Proposition X passes, voters will elect 15 Charter Commissioners from among the candidates whose names appear elsewhere on this ballot.

The voters, by passing Proposition L last June, showed that they feel it is time to modernize the Charter.

Certain special interests are now saying that the people shouldn't have this opportunity to elect a Commission.

We think it is the time to bring our city government into line with the times and to make it as efficient and effective as the people demand and deserve.

We urge you to vote YES on Proposition X.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION X

It is unconscionable to obligate possibly millions of dollars for this project after Proposition 13. Every extra penny should go to child-care, health services, senior citizens' or handicapped needs, education, parks and libraries. Hopefully, the Controller will now state exact figures. Not only will costs double, but the entire Charter and revisions must be communicated in three languages. There are more satisfactory and economical ways to update our Charter. I urge your emphatic NO vote on Proposition "X".

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION X

Vote "No" on Proposition X

When things go badly in government, the easiest answer is to blame it on the system, instead of the administrators. Our Charter is a sound constitution. It separates powers between the executive (mayor) and the legislative (Board of Supervisors) branches. It contains successful fiscal restraints and checks and procedures to prevent the purloining of the public purse.

The Charter has worked well and can continue to do so, given proper administrators.

Moreover, the establishment, of yet another Charter Commission to redraft the Charter would be time consuming and expensive. You, the voter, should be aware of the costs. They will include money for research, staff salaries, office expenses, materials, printing, postage, and even transportation of witnesses. There will also be the costs of mailing any redrafted Charter PLUS the existing Charter to all voters, in at least three languages, before it is voted on. And, there is no assurance that any redrafted Charter will be approved by the voters. Regardless of the outcome, the Board of Supervisors will be asked to appropriate an undetermined amount of taxpayer’s monies for this purpose. The costs will exceed $750,000.

The 1968-72 Charter Revision Commission spent over $160,000 for salaries, office supplies, transportation, repairs and Commissioners’ meals. It spent over $400,000 for mailing its proposal to voters. These expenses, over $560,000, were paid by the taxpayers of San Francisco, although the end product, a revised Charter, was disapproved by the electorate.

There have been several committees to revise the Charter. All have failed. The establishment of a new charter revision commission at a time when there is a crying need for fiscal restraint is untimely and unjustified. There are budget cuts in health, education, recreation and other government services. There are sharp increases in fees and charges like the sewer service charge. Approving a proposal to expend upwards of perhaps one million dollars for an unnecessary commission with no determined end result is simply wrong.

The recommendation of such agency shall be acted upon by the board of supervisors within thirty days from the receipt thereof. For the purpose of hearing such recommendation a public hearing shall be held. If the said recommendation is disapproved by at least nine votes it shall not become effective and such services shall be continued. All proposed plans relating to street traffic control de-

(c) For the purpose of computing net income, the commission, on the basis of an appraisal of the estimated life and the then current depreciated value of the several classes of property in the operational divisions, shall determine the amount of reasonable annual depreciation for said properties. During the fiscal year 1978-79 and at least every five years thereafter, the commission shall cause an appraisal to be made or may revise the last preceding appraisal of the value and probable useful life of each of the said properties, and shall, on the basis of said appraisal, redetermine the amount of the reasonable annual depreciation for each said property.

(d) For the purpose of providing funds for reconstruction and replacements due to physical and functional depreciation of the several classes of property in the operational divisions, the commission shall create and maintain a reconsthe amount necessary to be appropriated annually to provide for said reconstruction and replacements.

PROPOSITION B

NOTE: Additions or substitutions are indicated by boldface type; deletions are indicated by ((double parentheses)).

3.661 General Powers and Duties

(a) The civil service commission shall be the employment and personnel department of the city and county and shall determine appointments on the basis of merit and fitness, as shown by appropriate tests. The commission shall classify, and from time to time may reclassify, in accordance with duties and responsibilities of the employment, and training and experience required, all places of employment in the departments and offices of the city and county not specifically exempted by this charter from the civil service provisions thereof, or which may be created hereafter by general law and not specifically exempted from said civil service provisions. The commission shall likewise classify all other positions or other places of employment in the city and county service specifically exempted from the civil service provisions of this charter, but which, by the provisions of section 8.401, thereof, are made subject to classification for salary standardization purposes on the basis of duties and responsibilities of the employment and training and experience required. No person shall hold a position outside of the classification to which he has been appointed, provided that every employee of any department or office shall discharge any of the duties pertaining to such department or office to which his chief may temporarily assign him.

The class titles and class numbers assigned to positions by the commission shall be used in all records, reports, statements and communications, including the compensation schedule, annual budget and salary ordinance, payrolls, and appropriation ordinances.

The commission may, upon one week's notice, make changes in the rules, which change shall thereafter be printed, and be in force; provided that no such changes in rules shall affect a case pending before the commission. The secretary may certify eligibles and payrolls and conduct examinations under the rules of the commission.

The commissioners shall have power to institute and prosecute legal proceedings for violations of any of the civil service provisions of this charter.

(b) The civil service commission shall establish an inspection service for the purpose of investigating the conduct of and action of appointees in all positions and of securing records of service for promotion and other purposes. All departments shall cooperate with the commission in making its investigations and any person hindering the commission or its agents shall be subject to suspension.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Charter, the civil service commission shall by rule establish procedures to review and resolve allegations of discrimination on the basis of race, religion, sex, national origin, ethnicity, age, physical handicap, political affiliation, sexual orientation, ancestry, marital status, color, medical condition or other non-merit factors. 8.310. Declaration of Personnel Policy

(a) All appointments in the public service shall be made for the good of the public service and solely upon merit and fitness, as established by appropriate tests, without regard to partisan, political, social or other considerations. No person shall in any way be favored or discriminated against in employment or opportunity for employment because of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, political affiliation, age, religion, national origin or other non-merit factors.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in subsection (a) or any other provisions of the charter, it shall be the policy of the City and County of San Francisco, consistent with a policy of acquiring qualified personnel for the service of the city and county, to encourage the hiring of blind persons. It shall further be the policy of the City and County of San Francisco that no otherwise qualified blind person shall be discriminated against in examination, re-examination, appointment, reappointment, waiver of eligibility for appointment or reappointment, promotion or demotion in any class, subclass or position in the civil service unless eyesight is indispensable for the performance of the duties and responsibilities of the class, subclass or position. It shall be the duty of the commission to classify, and from time to time it may reclassify, places of employment in the civil service the duties of which may be efficiently performed by qualified blind persons and to conduct appropriate examinations which will fairly test the capacity of blind persons as well as sighted persons to perform such duties.

8.321. Examination of Applicants

All applicants for places in the classified service shall submit to (tests) examinations which shall be competitive provided, however, that no (test) examination (in either entrance or promotional examinations) shall be deemed to be competitive unless two or more persons shall participate, except that any such examination may be held for one qualified applicant on recommendation of the civil service commission and approval by resolution of the board of supervisors, after a finding by the board that reasonable publicity of the proposed examination has been given (by the civil service commission). Such (tests) examinations shall be without charge to the applicants. The commission shall control all examinations and may employ suitable persons in or out of the public service to act as examiners. The (tests may be written, oral, mechanical or physical, or any combination of them, practical in character and related to matters) examinations used shall measure the relative capacities of the persons examined to perform the functions, duties and responsibilities of the classification to which they seek appointment. Examinations shall consist of selection techniques which will test fairly (to test) the relative (capacity) qualifications, merit and fitness of the applicants for the position to be filled.

Examinations may include written tests to determine job-related aptitude, knowledge or achievements and oral tests by qualifications appraisal boards. The civil service commission shall establish rules governing the size and composition of qualification appraisal board. Qualification appraisal boards may consider, in the case of employees of the City and County of San Francisco, all prior performance evaluations completed on civil service forms and in the case of all applicants may consider prior work experience, assessment center evaluations, and work samples as a part of their evaluation of candidates for employment to any position. Appropriate rosters of eligibles established by a trade, craft or occupation joint apprenticeship committee recognized by the State of California Department of Industrial Relations, Division of Apprenticeship Standards, may be utilized to fill apprenticeship positions or as the basis for establishing apprenticeship eligibility lists. The board shall be the sole judge of the adequacy of the tests to rate the capacity of the applicants to perform service for the city and county. The commission may, for each examination, establish a passing mark or may determine the total number of persons who shall constitute the list of eligibles. The commission shall prepare from the returns of the examiners the list of eligibles, arranged in order of relative (excellence) performance. No question submitted to applicants shall refer to political or religious opinions or fraternal affiliations.

((Applicants for positions in the mechanical trades and occupations may, in the discretion of the commission, be rated solely on experience and physical qualifications which may be demonstrated by such evidence and in such manner as the commission may direct, and such applicants may be submitted to such further tests as the commission may require.))

8.322. Protest of Written Questions and Answers

After the written portion of a civil service examination has been held, (and prior to the scoring thereof,) the questions used and the answers thereto shall be available for review by the participants. This review period shall not apply to questions and answers on any continuous or standardized entrance or concurrent entrance and promotive written test. During the review period, participants shall have an opportunity to protest questions or answers they believe to be incorrect or improper. (The written portion of the examination shall not be scored until all protested items have been acted on and an official rating key has been adopted.) After all protested items have been acted on and after the official rating key has been adopted, and the identification sheets have been opened, (no) further changes in the rating key shall not be made.

8.323. Protest of Tentative List of Eligibles

Following the completion of any examination, a tentative list of eligibles shall be posted for the inspection of the public and of participants. The posting period shall be for a minimum of three (3) working days for entrance examinations or five (5) working days for promotional or combined entrance and promotional examinations. During this period a fee for the inspection of the papers of each eligible shall be charged by the civil service commission. The amount of such fee shall be established by ordinance of the board of supervisors. The fee shall be waived for eligibles who wish to inspect their own papers. Inspection of papers shall include all documents supporting the eligible's rank and score, except neither the identity of the examiner giving any mark or grade in an oral examination nor the questions and answers on any continuous or standardized entrance or concurrent entrance and promotive written test, shall be provided. Only participants in the examination may review the questions used in the examination. (The civil service commission shall receive any protests concerning rating during the posting period for the purpose of correcting errors.) If such protests are received during the posting period, the eligible list is automatically adopted. If protests are received during the posting period, the investigation and action of the (civil service commission) general manager, personnel, shall be expedited so that final adoption of the eligible list is not delayed beyond sixty (60) days after the date of posting. Eligibles who, as a result of their ranking, would receive a notice of appointment regardless of the outcome of the protest(s) may be offered employment from adopted lists pending the resolution of any protest(s) and amendment to the adopted eligible list.

8.326 Promotions in General

Except as specifically provided for in section 8.327, (whenever it deems it to be practicable, the civil service commission shall provide for promotion in the service on the basis of such examinations and tests as the commission may deem appropriate, and shall, in addition, give consideration to ascertained merit and records of city and county service of applicants. The commission shall announce in the examination scope circular the next lower rank or ranks from which the promotion will be made.) The Civil Service Commission shall provide for examinations on an entrance, promotive or combination entrance and promotive basis. Consideration shall be given to permanent employees in separate promotive examinations and in promotive examinations which are combined with entrance examinations for city and county service when the passing mark has been attained and may include evaluation of work performance and other credits. When an examination announcement is issued for a class on both a promotive and entrance basis, there shall be one resulting list of eligibles which shall include all successful candidates both promotive and entrance in order of relative performance.

8.340 Dismissal During Probation Period

Any person appointed to a permanent position shall (be on probation for a period of six months) serve a probationary period. The civil service commission shall by rule establish a probationary period of not less than six months service and up to a maximum of twelve months service for each classification, provided that the probationary period for entrance positions in the uniform rank of the police department, fire department, sheriff's department and San Francisco International Airport Police Force shall be for one year. Probationary periods of twelve months and up to a maximum of twenty-four months may be established for executive and management classifications. At any time during the probationary period the appointing officer may terminate the appointment upon giving written notice of such termination to the employee and to the civil service commission specifying the reasons for such termination. Except in the case of (uniformed) members of the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments the civil service commission shall ((inquire into) review) the ((circumstances)) termination. The civil service commission shall by rule establish the procedures for such review. If the appointment resulted from an entrance examination the commission may declare such person dismissed or may return the name to the list of eligibles under such conditions for further appointment as the commission may deem just. If the appointment resulted from a promotional examination the employee shall have the right of appeal and hearing before the civil service commission. The commission shall render a decision within thirty days after receipt of the notice of termination and (a) may declare such person dismissed; or (b) order such person reinstated in his position without prejudice, and the commission may in its discretion order that the employee be paid salary from time of the termination of his appointment; or (c) order the return of such person to ((the)) a position in the classification from which he was promoted and may reestablish the employee's eligibility to a list of eligibles for the same promotive classification under such conditions as the commission may deem just. The decision of the commission shall be final. Immediately prior to the expiration of the probationary period the appointing officer shall report to the civil service commission as to the competence of the probationer for the position, and if competent, shall recommend permanent appointment. Nothing in this section shall preclude the civil service commission from reviewing terminations for the purpose of future employability including terminations in the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments.

8.341. Dismissal for Cause

No person employed under the civil service provisions of this charter, exclusive of members of the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments as provided under section 8.343 hereof, in a position defined by the commission as "permanent" shall be removed or discharged except for cause, upon written charges, and after an opportunity to be heard in his own defense. Pending such hearing, the appointing officer may suspend the person so accused if the accusation against the accused person involves misappropriation of public funds or property, misuse or destruction of public property, drug addiction or habitual intemperance, mistreatment of persons, immorality, acts which would constitute a felony or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or acts which present an immediate danger to the public health and safety; but such suspension shall not be valid for more than thirty days, unless hearing upon the charges shall be delayed beyond such time by the act of the accused person. When charges are made, the appointing officer shall, in writing, notify the person accused of the time and place when the charges will be heard, by mailing such statement to his last known address. The hearing shall be conducted forthwith by a qualified and unbiased hearing officer employed under contract by the city and county and selected by procedures set forth in the rules of the civil service commission. The hearing officer shall publicly hear and determine the charges, and may exonerate, suspend or dismiss the accused.

If the employee is exonerated the hearing officer may,
at his discretion, remit the full period of the suspension or any portion thereof and may order payment of salary to the employee for the prescribed period of time under suspension, and the report of such period of suspension shall thereupon be expunged from the record of service of such employee.

The civil service commission shall immediately be notified of the charges when made, of the hearing, and of the finding thereon. The finding of the hearing officer shall be final, unless within thirty days thereafter the dismissed employee appeals to the civil service commission. The appeal shall be in writing and shall briefly state the grounds therefor. The civil service commission shall examine into the case and may require the hearing officer to furnish a record of the hearing and may require any additional evidence it deems material under conditions established by rule of the civil service commission, and may thereupon, make such decision as it deems just. The order or decision of the commission upon such appeal shall be final and shall forthwith be enforced by the appointing officer. If the civil service commission shall reverse or alter the finding of the hearing officer it may, in its discretion, order that the employee affected be paid salary from the time of his discharge or suspension.

The civil service commission may hear and determine any charge filed by a citizen or by any member of or ((the)) authorized agent((s)) of the commission when the appointing officer neglects or refuses to ((act)) bring such charge against the employee within thirty days of notification to the department head of the occurrence or event given rise to the charge. Removal or discharge may be made for any ((of the following causes: incompetence, habitual intemperance, immorality, misconduct, insubordination, discourteous treatment of the public, dishonesty, inattention to duties, or engaging in prohibited political activities)) cause upon written charges and after the employee has had the opportunity to be heard in his own defense.

Nothing in this section shall limit or restrict rules adopted by the commission governing lay-offs or reduction in force or providing for the removal of any appointee who has abandoned his position as defined by civil service commission rule.

8.343. Fine, Suspension and Dismissal in Police and Fire Departments

Any such member so suspended shall have the right to appeal such suspension to the fire commission or to the police commission, as the case may be, and have a trial and hearing on such suspension. Written notice of appeal must be filed within 10 days after such suspension and the hearing of said appeal must be held within 30 days after the filing of said notice of appeal. If the commission shall reverse or alter the finding of the chief, it shall in the case of a reversal and in other cases it may in its discretion, order that the member affected be paid salary for the time of his suspension. In the event the chief should exercise such power of suspension, the member involved shall not be subject to any further disciplinary action for the same offense.

Subject to the foregoing members of the uniformed ranks of either department shall not be subject to dismissal, nor to punishment for any breach of duty or misconduct, except for cause, nor until after a fair and impartial trial before the commissioners of their respective departments, upon a verified complaint filed with such commission setting forth specifically the acts complained of, and after such reasonable notice to them as to time and place of hearings as such commission may, by rule, prescribe. The accused shall be entitled, upon hearing, to appear personally and by counsel; to have a public trial; and to secure and enforce, free of expense, the attendance of all witnesses necessary for his defense.

8.344. Exoneration of Charges

If, as provided for in section 8.343 a member of the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments is suspended by the chief of ((police)) the respective department pending hearing before the police or fire commission for charges filed against him and subsequently takes a leave of absence without pay pending his trial before the commission, and, if after such trial he is exonerated of the charges filed against him, the commission may, at its discretion, remit the suspension and leave of absence without pay and may order payment of salary to ((the)) such member for the time under suspension and on leave of absence without pay, and the report of such suspension and leave of absence without pay shall thereupon be expunged from the record of service of such member.

SEC. 4. Examination. Upon receipt of an application shall entitle holders to exercise the rights, privileges and powers of Street Artists subject to the same duties, restrictions and responsibilities as those imposed on Street Artists, except that holders of the Conditional Street Artist Certificates may exercise such rights, privileges and powers on selling spaces allotted by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors for use by Street Artists only where such spaces are unoccupied by a holder of a Street Artist Certificate up to the hour of 12:00 o'clock noon of any day. After 12:00 o'clock noon of any day, no Street Artist may validly claim a selling space against a holder of a Conditional Street Artist Certificate who has earlier begun to set up his or her display. The Art Commission shall have the authority to establish whatever rules and regulations it shall decide necessary and reasonable to allot available selling areas for use by holders of Conditional Street Artist Certificates.

A Conditional Street Artist Certificate shall be substantially the same in form as the Street Artist Certificate with the insertion of the word "Conditional" appearing on the face before the word "Certificate."

The Conditional Street Artist Certificate shall require payment of the same certificate fee required for the Street Artist Certificate and shall be issued to applicants for the Street Artist Certificate in the order that such applicants shall or would be assigned to the Street Artist Waiting List, and the holder of a Conditional Street Artist Certificate and a person who refuses a Conditional Street Artist Certificate maintains, for all purposes, his or her position on such waiting list.

SEC. 7. Certificate Fee; Period. The fee for any certificate issued pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance shall be twenty dollars ($20), and said certificate shall be valid for a period of three months from the date of issuance.
The Board of Supervisors is authorized to increase this fee, by ordinance, upon receiving competent information that such increase is necessary and proper. With the passage of this ordinance, the certificates of all Street Artists and Craftsmen duly certified by the Art Commission, in accordance with the provisions of Ordinance 483-75, shall remain valid until the date of expiration listed therein.

SEC. 8. Renewal of Certificate. All certificate renewals shall be made automatically upon payment of the fee, unless the Art Commission determines in its discretion that additional examination is warranted, in which case the Street Artist's Certificate in issue shall continue in full force and effect pending the outcome of such examination. All Street Artists or Craftsmen must renew certificates, in person, within ten (10) office work days prior to or after the certificate's date of expiration. Failure to renew results in forfeiture of the certificate. A Street Artist or Craftsper-son who has forfeited his certificate in this manner and wishes to obtain a new certificate must reapply, and the application shall be placed at the end of the list of applicants waiting to be examined.

SEC. 9. Revocation or Denial of Certificates; Appeal.
Any certificate issued pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance may be revoked by the Art Commission for good cause shown; any application for a certificate to be issued pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance may be denied by the Art Commission for good cause shown. The Street Artists Program shall advise the certificate holder or the certificate applicant of the revocation or the denial, in writing, which writing shall clearly set forth the grounds for the revocation or denial.

A Street Artist or Craftsperson aggrieved by the Advisory Committee's action shall have the right to appeal the decision to the Art Commission. An appeal may be taken by filing with the Commission a written statement setting forth in full the grounds for appeal. The Commission is authorized to issue such regulations as may be reasonable and necessary to hear and determine such appeals. Such regulations, which shall be in writing, shall be available to any person so requesting them. A Street Artist or Craftsperson aggrieved by action of the Art Commission shall have the right to appeal to the Board of Permit Appeals.

SEC. 10. Regulating Street Artists and Craftspersons.

It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, offer for sale, expose for sale, or solicit offers to purchase, any art or craft work of his own creation on any public street or public place in a space where such activities are permitted, unless duly certified as a Street Artist or Craftsperson pursuant to the provisions of this Ordinance.

(a) The Art Commission shall establish procedures for monitoring and regulating certificate-holders pursuant to Section 10 of this ordinance and shall have the duty to enforce those regulations.

SEC. 12. Designation of Sales Areas.

(a) The Board of Supervisors, by resolution after public hearings thereon, shall designate areas in or on any public street or public place where any Street Artist or Craftsperson pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance may sell, offer for sale, expose for sale, or solicit offers to purchase any art or craft item of the street artist's own creation; provided, however, that any designation of an area in a public place under the jurisdiction of an officer, board, or commission of the City and County shall be subject to the approval of such officer, board, or commission. In designating such areas, the Board of Supervisors may, by ordinance, impose such conditions and limitations as, in its discretion, are reasonable, proper and necessary to prevent any undue interference with normal pedestrian or vehicular traffic or any damage to surrounding property, including interference with use, view, or enjoyment of public parks.

(b) The Board of Supervisors shall establish a reasonable number of individual spaces for certificate-holders, not less than the number of spaces available on January 1, 1978, assuring that there is at all times a ratio of at least five spaces to seven certificate-holders. The spaces designated by the Board shall remain fixed unless altered by resolution by said Board.

In the event that the maximum number of certificates have been issued, no additional certificates shall be issued until either a certificate-holder forfeits his certificate or the Board of Supervisors designates additional sales spaces or areas, at which time the number of available certificates shall be issued to persons on the basis of their position on the waiting list and then, if there are fewer names on the waiting list than there are certificates available, to applicants satisfying the examination requirements of Section 4 of this Ordinance and whom the Art Commission shall approve.

SEC. 13. Repeal. The ordinance relative to certificates for Street Artists and Craftspersons, approved by the electorate as Proposition "L" on the ballot for the election held in the City and County of San Francisco on November 4, 1975, is hereby repealed.
CONTINUATION OF TEXT OF PROPOSITION K

income during the post-Proposition 13 adjustment period, the Board of Supervisors adopted amendments to said tax ordinances, effective June 30, 1978. However, the tax measures (Ordinances 296-78, 297-78 and 298-78) were repealed, effective August 7, 1978.

The people of the City and County of San Francisco hereby find that additional revenues may be required by the City and County of San Francisco to provide necessary municipal services during this period of national and international monetary inflation. Therefore, the rate of tax set forth in the ordinances which became effective on June 30, 1978 should be imposed. The people of the City and County of San Francisco further find that because the relief acts adopted by the State of California for the fiscal year 1978-1979 will insure sufficient levels of funding for municipal services for this fiscal year, a portion of the tax previously imposed by said tax ordinances should not be collected by the City and County of San Francisco during the 1978-1979 fiscal year and therefore taxpayers should be permitted to subtract a tax credit from their total tax liability pursuant to said ordinances.

Section 3. Incorporation By Reference: The provisions of Ordinance No. 245-68 as amended (Business Tax Ordinance), Ordinance No. 275-70 as amended (Payroll Tax Ordinances) and Ordinance No. 315-67 as amended (Real Property Transfer Tax Ordinance) are incorporated by reference herein as if fully set forth.

Section 4. Ordinance No. 245-68 (Business Tax Ordinance) is hereby amended by repealing Ordinance No. 371-78. Sections 4.01, 4.02, 4.03, 4.04, 4.05, 4.06, 4.07, 4.08, 4.09, 4.10, 4.11, 4.12, 4.13 and 4.15 as set forth in Ordinance No. 245-68 as amended, on the 30th day of June, 1978 are hereby reinstated.

Section 5. Ordinance No. 245-68 (the Business Tax Ordinance) is hereby amended by adding Section 4.16 thereto, to read as follows:

Sec. 4.16. Tax Credits. Any person paying a tax imposed by sections 4.01, 4.02, 4.03, 4.04, 4.05, 4.06, 4.07, 4.08, 4.09, 4.10, 4.11, 4.12, 4.13 and 4.15 of this ordinance shall be entitled to a tax credit, which may be subtracted from the total tax due only at the time of filing, pursuant to Section 9 hereof. Said credit shall be computed except for those persons taxed pursuant to Sections 4.05, 4.08, 4.10, 4.12 and 4.13 by subtracting twenty-six and sixty-seven hundredths percent (26.67%) of the tax due pursuant to this ordinance on gross receipts received on or after the 30th day of June, 1978 through the 30th day of June, 1979 from that portion of the annual tax liability computed at the tax rate imposed on the 30th day of June, 1978.

For those persons taxed pursuant to Section 4.05 hereof the tax credit shall be computed by subtracting twenty-five percent (25%) of the tax due pursuant to this ordinance on gross receipts received on or after the 30th day of June, 1978 through the 30th day of June, 1979 from that portion of the annual tax liability computed at the tax rate imposed on the 30th day of June, 1978.

For those persons taxed pursuant to Section 4.08 hereof the tax credit shall be computed by subtracting thirty-three and three-tenths percent (33.3%) of the tax due pursuant to this ordinance on gross receipts received on or after the 30th day of June, 1978 through the 30th day of June, 1979 from that portion of the annual tax liability computed at the tax rate imposed on the 30th day of June, 1978.

For those persons taxed pursuant to Section 4.10 or 4.13 hereof the tax credit shall be computed by subtracting twenty-five percent (25%) of the minimum tax due and twenty-six and sixty-seven hundredths percent (26.67%) of the tax due on additional gross receipts pursuant to this ordinance on gross receipts received on or after the 30th day of June 1978 through the 30th day of June 1979 from that portion of the annual tax liability computed at the tax rates imposed on the 30th day of June 1978.

For those persons taxed pursuant to Section 4.12(c) (1) hereof, the tax credit shall be computed as follows:

Where the unladen weight is 4,000 pounds or less subtract twenty-eight and six-tenths percent (28.6%) of the tax due pursuant to this ordinance for days of use on or after the 30th day of June 1978 through the 30th day of June 1979 from that portion of the annual tax liability computed at the tax rate imposed on the 30th day of June 1978.

For those persons taxed pursuant to Section 4.12(c) (2) hereof, the tax credit shall be computed by subtracting twenty-five percent (25%) of the tax due pursuant to this ordinance for days of use on or after the 30th day of June 1978 through the 30th day of June 1979 from that portion of the annual tax liability computed at the tax rate imposed on the 30th day of June 1978.

Section 6. Ordinance No. 275-70 (Payroll Expense Tax Ordinance) is hereby amended by repealing Ordinance No. 369-78. Section 3 as set forth in Ordinance 275-70 as amended, on the 30th day of June 1978, is hereby reinstated.

TEXT OF PROPOSED ORDINANCE
PROPOSITION S

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco:

Section 1. Pursuant to the provisions of Charter Section 9.108(b), Ordinance No. 155-78, Salary Standardization Ordinance, Fiscal Year 1978-79, Charter Sections 8.400, 8.401 and 8.407, Miscellaneous Employees, is hereby amended by adding Section XIX thereto, reading as follows:

Section XIX

Notwithstanding any provisions of this ordinance to the contrary, and based upon the last demand of employees represented by the Sheet Metal Workers International Union, Local No. 104, said employees shall be entitled to additional working conditions as follows:

Five (5) consecutive days Monday to Friday inclusive, a normal work day is a tour of eight (8) hours completed within eight-and-one-half (8½) hours.

A regular tour of duty may commence at a time not earlier than 6:00 a.m. and all regular tours of duty shall conclude not later than 4:30 p.m.

139
The people of the City and County of San Francisco do ordain as follows:

Section 1. Title. This ordinance shall be called the San Francisco Renters’ Property Tax Rebate Ordinance of 1978.

Section 2. Statement of Purpose. The people of the City and County of San Francisco find that there currently exists in San Francisco a growing shortage of rental housing units, a critically low vacancy rate, rapidly rising and exorbitant rents resulting from this shortage, and a significant percentage of residential tenants paying excessive portions of their income for rent. The People also find that landlords are presently making a just and reasonable return on their property investment and that landlords receive substantial benefits from ownership of rental property through state and federal tax savings, appreciation in property values and/or rental income. The People also find that high rents constitute a serious problem affecting the health, welfare, lives and comfort of a substantial proportion of residential and commercial occupants of rental property in San Francisco. In order to alleviate this serious problem, to guarantee that both residential and commercial tenants receive their fair share of the benefits resulting from the enactment of Article XIII A of the California Constitution, to protect tenants against evictions designed to circumvent this ordinance, and to further guarantee that landlords receive a fair return on investment and charge fair rents, landlords will be required to pass on to residential and commercial tenants the reduction in real property taxes established by Article XIII A of the California Constitution.

Section 3. Definitions. In this ordinance, the following words have the meanings indicated:

(a) Improvement means a valuable addition or change in a property’s condition, amounting to more than mere repairs or replacement of waste, which necessitates the expenditure of labor or capital, and which is intended to enhance the value, beauty, utility or safety of property.

(b) Landlord means any person entitled to receive rent for the use or occupancy of any regulated rental unit, and includes an owner, lessor, sublessor or agent thereof.

(c) Property means a parcel of real property, including buildings and improvements, containing one or more regulated rental units, which is assessed and taxed as an undivided whole.

(d) Regulated Rental Units mean all rental units in the City and County of San Francisco including all rental units constructed after the date of adoption of this ordinance except:

(i) residential rental units in hotels, motels, inns, tourist homes and rooming and boarding houses which are rented primarily to transient guests for a period of less than 14 days;

(ii) residential rental units in any hospital, convent, monastery, extended medical care facility, asylum, non-profit home for the aged, or dormitory owned and operated by an institution of higher education;

(iii) residential rental units which a government unit, agency or authority owns, operates, manages or in which governmentally-subsidized tenants reside if applicable Federal and/or State law or administrative regulation specifically exempts such units from rent regulation;

(iv) non-residential units with rental agreements in which there are percentage or escalator clauses in which rent varies with the business income of the tenant or the amount of property tax paid for the property.

(v) rental units for which the tenant pays or is directly responsible for payment of the entire property tax under the terms of the rental agreement; or

(vi) property which is exempt from property taxation.

(c) Rent means any payment demanded or received for in connection with occupancy of regulated rental units or the transfer of a lease for units. Rent includes but is not limited to payments demanded or paid for parking, pets, furniture and subletting.

(f) Rental Agreement means an agreement, written or implied, between a landlord and tenant for use or occupancy of a regulated rental unit and for services.

(g) Rental Unit means any property, building, structure, or part thereof rented or offered for rent for living, dwelling or commercial purposes, together with all services connected with the use or occupancy of the property.

(h) Services mean repairs, replacement, maintenance, painting, providing light, heat, hot and cold water, elevator service, window shades and screens, storage, kitchen, bath and laundry facilities and privileges, janitorial services, refuse removal, furnishings, telephone, parking and any other benefit, privilege or facility connected with the use or occupancy of any rental unit. Services of a rental unit include a proportionate part of services provided to common facilities of the building in which the rental unit is contained.

(i) Tenant means any person entitled under the terms of a rental agreement to the use or occupancy of a regulated rental unit.

Section 4. One Month Rent Stabilization, and One Year Property Tax Savings Rebate.

(a) One Month Rent Stabilization. For the month of December, 1978, a landlord may not charge a rent in excess of the base rent calculated pursuant to Section 5 of this ordinance for any regulated rental unit, except that a landlord may pass-through costs as allowed in subsections (d) and (e) of Section 6.

(b) One Year Property Tax Savings Rebate. For calendar year 1979, landlords may not change a rent in excess of the Adjusted Base Rent calculated pursuant to Section 6 of this ordinance for any regulated rental unit.

Section 5. Establishment of Base Rent.

(a) Base Rent. A base rent shall be computed for each regulated rental unit. Except as provided in subsections (b) and (c) of this Section, the base rent for any regulated rental unit is the monthly rent in effect for that unit on June 6, 1978. If rent was not charged for any tenant-occupied unit on June 6, 1978, the base rent is the first monthly rent demanded and paid for that unit after June 6, 1978.

(b) Base Rent If Rent Not Paid Monthly. If the terms of a lease regarding payment specify a fixed sum which is paid other than on a monthly basis, rent shall be averaged for the period January 1, 1978, through August 31, 1978, to establish the monthly base rent.

Section 6. Calculation of Adjusted Base Rent.

(a) Calculation of Adjusted Base Rent. The adjusted
Section 7. Disclosure Requirements.

(a) Disclosure Of Rent Calculations. On or before January 1, 1979, a landlord shall notify the tenant occupying a regulated rental unit of the property tax saving, the property tax rebate, and the adjusted base rent for each regulated rental unit as determined according to this ordinance. Such notice shall be substantially as follows:

"Notice of Total Rental Unit Property Tax Savings and Rent Reduction"

In accordance with the City and County of San Francisco Renters' Property Tax Rebate Ordinance of 1978, this notice informs you of a required reduction in rent for the rental unit located at (address). The amount of rent reduction has been determined as follows:
The total 1977-78 property tax which was due for the property which includes your rental unit was (amount) dollars. The total 1978-79 property tax due for this property is (amount) dollars. The difference, or total property tax savings for this property, reflecting the passage of Proposition 13 on June 6, 1978, amounts to (amount) dollars.
The total Base Rent for the property which includes your rental unit, as determined by rents in effect on June 6, 1978, is (amount) dollars. (If appropriate: This total Base Rent includes an estimated Base Rent for manager- and/or owner-occupied units.)

This estimated Base Rent is: (amount). The Base Rent for your rental unit is (amount) dollars, which is equal to (number) percent of the total Base Rent for the Property. This percentage, multiplied by the total rental property tax relief for the property, is your property tax rebate for the year, of (amount) dollars.

Your adjusted monthly base rent, starting January 1, 1979, will be the base rent, (amount), minus your property tax rebate of (amount).

You may inspect the property tax bills for 1977-78 and 1978-1979 and a list of rents for each unit on the property at (address) at the following times: (days and times), or by appointment (phone).

Date:
Signature of Owner:

(b)Disclosure of Increased Costs Resulting In Increased Rent. If, from December 1, 1978 through December 31, 1979, the landlord raises rent pursuant to the provisions of subsections (d) and (e) of Section 6 of this ordinance above the rent allowed by Section 4 of this ordinance, the landlord shall notify the tenant in writing of the nature and amount of expenses which justify the increase. The landlord shall also notify the tenant in writing of reasonable times and places when and where the tenant or the tenant's representative may examine the books, records and receipts of the landlord documenting the cost increase.

(e) Notification To New Tenants. Landlords shall provide within 15 days of the commencement of occupancy all information listed in subsections (a) and (b) of this Section to any tenant who commences occupancy of any regulated rental unit after November 30, 1978 and before December 31, 1979.
Section 8. Evictions.
(a) Just Cause for Eviction. In order to insure that tenants of regulated units do not lose benefits guaranteed under this ordinance, no landlord shall be granted recovery of possession of a regulated rental unit for the duration of this ordinance unless:
(i) the tenant has failed to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled under the terms of this ordinance;
(ii) the tenant has violated an obligation or covenant of his or her tenancy other than the obligation to surrender possession upon proper notice and has failed to cure such violation after having received written notice thereof from the landlord;
(iii) the tenant is committing or expressly permitting to exist a nuisance or is causing substantial damage to the regulated rental unit, or is creating a substantial interference with the comfort, safety or enjoyment of the landlord or other occupants of the property;
(iv) the tenant is convicted of using or expressly permitting a regulated rental unit to be used for any illegal purpose;
(v) the tenant, who has a rental agreement which has terminated, has refused, after written request or demand by the landlord, to execute a written extension or renewal of the agreement for a further term of the same duration and in such terms as are not inconsistent with or violate any provisions of this ordinance and are materially the same as in the previous agreement;
(vi) the tenant has refused the landlord reasonable access to the regulated rental unit for the purpose of making necessary repairs or improvements required by the laws of the United States, the State of California or any subdivision thereof, or for the purpose of inspection as permitted or required by the rental agreement or by law or for the purpose of showing the rental unit to any prospective purchaser or mortgagee;
(vii) the tenant holding at the end of the term of the rental agreement is a sub-tenant not approved by the landlord;
(viii) the landlord seeks to recover possession in good faith for use and occupancy of herself or himself, or her or his child, parent, brother, sister, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, or daughter-in-law; or
(ix) the landlord seeks to recover possession to demolish or otherwise remove the regulated rental unit from use after having obtained all proper permits from the City and County of San Francisco.

(b) Protection Against Retaliatory Eviction. It shall be a defense to any action to recover possession or be granted recovery of possession of a regulated rental unit that a motive for the eviction is in retaliation for the tenant's reporting violations of this ordinance, or for exercising rights granted under this ordinance, including the right to withhold rent granted under Section 10 of this ordinance.

(c) Eviction Defense. It shall be a defense to any action to recover possession or be granted recovery of possession of any regulated rental unit on the basis of non-payment of rent that a tenant in good faith withheld rental payments under subsections (a) and (b) of Section 10, so long as the tenant is willing to pay, and does pay, any withheld rent lawfully due under the provisions of this ordinance into court during the pendency of the action, unless relieved by court order.

Section 9. Non-Waiverability. Any provision in or pertaining to a rental agreement whereby any provision of this ordinance for the benefit of a landlord or tenant is waived is against public policy and void.

Section 10. Tenant's Civil Remedies.
(a) Remedies For Unlawful Rent Increases. If a landlord demands, accepts, receives or retains any payment in excess of the maximum lawful rent permitted by this ordinance, a tenant may:
(i) upon written notification to the landlord, withhold one-quarter of the rental payments set forth in the rental agreement in effect at the time the demand for additional rent is made. After the landlord receives such notice, and in conjunction with the filing of an action by the landlord for non-payment of rent under California Civil Code Section 1161 et seq., the landlord may request, and the court upon a civil action by the landlord,判决 the tenant to deposit the withheld rent with the court, to be held until the resolution of the action:
(ii) recover from the landlord damages plus reasonable attorney's fees and costs as determined by the court. The court may award damages in an amount up to three times the amount by which the payment or payments demanded or received exceed the maximum lawful rent under this ordinance;
(iii) seek injunctive relief for the enforcement of this ordinance.

(b) Remedies For Landlord's Failure To Notify Tenant As Required Under Section 7 Of This Ordinance. If a landlord fails to give notice to a tenant as required in Section 7 of this ordinance, a tenant may exercise the rights granted under subsections (a)(i) and (a)(ii) of this Section, in addition to any other remedies afforded by law or otherwise.

Section 11. Criminal Penalties. Any landlord who is found guilty of a willful violation of this ordinance shall be subject to a fine of five hundred dollar ($500) fine for a first offense and up to a three thousand dollar ($3000) fine for any subsequent offenses.

Section 12. Partial Invalidity and Effective Date.
(a) Partial Invalidity. If any provision of this ordinance or application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, this invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this ordinance which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this ordinance are declared to be severable. This ordinance shall be liberally construed to achieve the purposes of this ordinance and to preserve its validity.

(b) Effective Date. This ordinance shall take effect immediately and shall expire on December 31, 1979. If for any reason implementation of this ordinance is postponed, the rent rebates due to tenants shall be paid retroactively in a lump sum for all months during which the operation of the ordinance has been stayed.

The landlord shall pay retroactive rent rebates within 30 days to all tenants who can establish their right to such payment and make demand for such payment. The landlord shall pay interest at the legal rate on all sums owed retroactively.

Section 13. Non-Repealability. This ordinance may not be amended or repealed except by a vote of the people.

YOUR RIGHTS AS A VOTER
By Ballot Simplification Committee

Q—Who can vote?
A—You can vote at this election only if you registered to vote by October 9, 1978.

Q—Who can register to vote?
A—You can register to vote if you:
* are at least 18 years of age on election day.
* are a citizen of the United States.
* are a resident of California, and
* are not imprisoned or on parole for the conviction of a felony.

Q—How do I register?
A—Phone the Registrar of Voters at 558-3417

Q—Do I have to belong to a political party?
A—Only if you want to. If you don’t want to tell what political party you consider yours, you can say “Independent” or “I don’t want to tell.”

Q—If I don’t tell my political party when I sign up, can I still vote in every election?
A—Yes. The only thing you cannot vote on is which candidate will be a political party’s choice in a primary election.
Example: Only people who sign up as Republicans can vote in the primary election for who will be the Republican candidate. Primary elections are held in June of even-numbered years.

Q—If I have picked a party, can I change it later?
A—Yes, but you must go and sign up again.

Q—Once I have signed up, do I have to do it again?
A—Yes, if:
* you have moved
  or
* you did not vote in the last General election (The last General Election was November 2, 1976).

Q—If I have been convicted of a crime, can I sign up to vote?
A—Yes, if you have served your sentence and parole.

Q—What candidates and offices will we be voting on at this election?
A—The offices are listed on the Voter Selection Coupon printed on the back cover of this pamphlet. All the candidates are listed in the Sample Ballot (Page 4).

Q—What districts are there in San Francisco?
A—San Francisco has:
* three State Assembly Districts
  (AD 16, 17, 18)
* two State Senate Districts
  (SD 5, 6)
* two United States Congressional Districts
  (CD 5, 6)
(See map elsewhere in this pamphlet)

Q—Do these districts belong just to San Francisco?
A—No. State Assembly District 18 is shared with San Mateo County.
State Senate District 6 is shared with San Mateo County.
United State Congressional District 5 is shared with Marin County.

Q—How can I tell which districts I live in?
A—See map on page 00, or you can call the Registrar of Voters at 558-3417.

Q—Where do I go to vote?
A—Your voting place is printed next to your name and address sent with this Voters Handbook (back cover).

Q—If I don’t know what to do when I get to my voting place, is there someone there to help me?
A—Yes. The workers at the voting place will help you. If they can’t help you, call 558-6161.

Q—When do I vote?
A—The election will be Tuesday, November 7, 1978. Your voting place is open from 7 A.M. to 8 P.M. that day.

Q—What do I do if my voting place is not open?
A—Call 558-6161.

Q—Can I take my sample ballot into the voting booth even if I’ve written on it?
A—Yes.

Q—Can I have someone help me in the voting booth if I need help?
A—Yes, if you are a handicapped person, or if you have language difficulties.
Q—Can I vote for someone whose name is not on the ballot?

A—Yes. This is called a “write-in.” If you want to and don’t know how, ask one of the workers to help you.

Q—What do I do if I cannot work the voting machine?

A—Ask the workers and they will help you.

Q—Can a worker at the voting place ask me to take any test?

A—No.

Q—Can I take time off from my job to go vote on election day?

A—Yes, if you do not have enough time outside of working hours. You must tell your employer 3 working days before election day that you need time off to vote. Your employee must give you up to two hours off either at the beginning or end of your working day.

Q—Can I vote if I know I will be away from San Francisco on election day?

A—Yes. You can vote early by:

• going to the Registrar of Voters office in City Hall and voting there

or

• mailing in the application sent with this voters’ handbook (page 143).

Q—What can I do if I do not have an application form?

A—You can send a letter or postcard asking for an absentee ballot. This letter or postcard should be sent to the Registrar of Voters, City Hall, San Francisco 94102.

Q—What do I say when I ask for an absentee ballot?

A—You must write:

• that you need to vote early
• your address when you signed up to vote

Q—When do I mail my absentee ballot back to the Registrar of Voters?

A—You can mail your absentee ballot back to the Registrar of Voters as soon as you want. You must be sure your absentee ballot gets to the Registrar of Voters by 8 P.M. on election day, November 7, 1978.

Q—What do I do if I am sick on election day?

A—Call 558-6161 for information.

IF YOU HAVE OTHER QUESTIONS ON VOTING CALL THE REGISTRAR OF VOTERS AT 558-3417.

WORDS YOU NEED TO KNOW

By Ballot Simplification Committee

Here are a few of the words that you will need to know:

BALLOT—A list of candidates and propositions.

ABSENTEE BALLOT—If you are going to be away on election day, or if you cannot get to the place where you vote because you are physically disabled, you can get a special ballot to fill out. This ballot is called an absentee ballot. You get this ballot from the Registrar of Voters at City Hall. See page 00.

POLL—The place where you go to vote.

CHALLENGE—Any citizen can ask an officer at the polls to challenge any voter if the citizen thinks the voter does not live at the address given on the registration form.

PROPOSITION—This means anything that you vote on, except candidates. If it deals with the state government, then it will have a number — such as Proposition 1. If it deals with city government, it will have a letter — such as Proposition A.

CHARTER AMENDMENT—The charter is the basic set of laws for the city government. A charter amendment changes one of those basic laws. It takes a vote of the people to change the charter. It cannot be changed again without another vote of the people.

ORDINANCE—A law of the city and county, which is passed by the Board of Supervisors or approved by the voters.

DECLARATION OF POLICY—A declaration of policy asks a question: Do you agree or disagree with a certain idea? If a majority of the voters approve of a declaration of policy, the supervisors must carry out the policy.

INITIATIVE—This is a way for voters to put a proposition on the ballot for people to vote on. An initiative is put on the ballot by getting a certain number of voters to sign a petition.

PETITION—A list of signatures of voters who agree that a certain idea or question should be on the ballot.

ERIC A. MONCUR

My address is 1866 Great Highway.
My business or occupation is Deputy Assessor.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
I have been an appraiser for 27 years, 7 years as a Deputy Assessor. I stand for a closer scrutiny of downtown assessments. Too few appraisers have been assigned downtown and as a result, wealthy speculators have escaped millions of dollars in taxes each year. Speculators are a major cause of slums, blight, high rents and unemployment. Furthermore, business is taxed at a lower rate than homes. I will eliminate this inequity and stop subsidies to speculators. I will protect homeowners, renters and seniors on fixed incomes. I will hire women appraisers. San Francisco has none.

BILL EISEN

My address is 230-12th Avenue.

My qualifications for office are as follows:
B.S. Business Administration; Graduate Studies; neighborhood businessman; President, Park Presidio Neighborhood Association.

San Francisco's public schools cost more and educate less than any other school system in the state.

Seventy-five percent of San Francisco's public high school graduates who take the Army's standard admission test fail. Where do these kids go after high school? On welfare? Crime?

Obviously, something must be done. We need more classroom discipline, reading, writing and arithmetic, community involvement, and a bum's rush to that group of self-serving bureaucrats.

And why shouldn't we enjoy one of the best educational systems?

My qualifications for office are as follows:
I believe public schools are the foundation of our democracy. I have worked in the school district both as a professional and as a president of S.F. PTA and have intimate knowledge of the system. I will work to restore confidence in our schools, insist on long-range planning and bring special training, knowledge, dedication and leadership to this difficult job.

CANDIDATES FOR SCHOOL BOARD

SYLVIA WEINSTEIN

My address is 489 27th St.
My business or occupation is socialist activist.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
Alioto's school redesign has closed nine schools. The Proposition 13 school budget has slashed badly needed programs. Our school board has sacrificed quality education while the corporate landlords are reaping taxcut wind-falls. This must be reversed.

We need better education, bi-lingual bi-cultural programs, childcare, adult education, and desegregation. Stop the cutbacks. Tax the rich and the international corporations to provide better education for ourselves and our children.

Support the teachers. End the layoffs. Defeat the Briggs initiative — No on 6.

Put human needs before profits. Vote for our own and our children's interests. Vote socialist. Vote Sylvia Weinstein.

CANDIDATES FOR COMM. COLLEGE BOARD

ROBERT E. BURTON
My address is 2727 — 41st Avenue.
My business or occupation is Member Community Release Board.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
As a board member of the Community College district for six years, I am proud of my efforts to increase student and community involvement. Without raising taxes for the past four years, the Community College has expanded facilities, completing Batmale Hall at City College and shortly completing the “downtown” center. I support expanded federal assistance to students. Twenty-two years in adult teaching has convinced me of the need and value of adult education. All, regardless of age, sex, religion, racial or ethnic background must have an opportunity to continue their education. We have made that opportunity available to all San Franciscans.

CANDIDATES FOR CHARTER COMMISSION

DUKE J. ARMSTRONG
My address is 310 Scott St. Occupation: Attorney.
As director of the Haight-Fillmore Neighborhood Association for two years I have been repeatedly frustrated by the inconsistent and irrational organization within City Hall. Recent scandals involving meter collections, the Housing Authority, and Welfare Department are primarily due to flaws in our antiquated charter which diffuses responsibility and blurs lines of authority.
As former congressional aide, attorney, and principal draftsman of San Francisco’s new anti-litter ordinances sponsored by San Franciscans for a Cleaner City, I have practical experience in our governmental structure and local needs. I ask for your vote and assistance in drafting a clear, consistent and common sense Charter.

My qualifications for office are as follows:
A long-time activist in the Medical Committee for Human Rights, I was a physician at San Francisco General Hospital (1971-1977) and helped found the hospital’s Family Health Center. In 1976, although it cost me my job, I supported the city workers’ strike and simultaneously organized home visits for patients so health care could continue.
Currently I practice adult medicine at Kaiser Hospital and a community health clinic. I am committed to fighting for high levels of city services, and to applying home rule as a means of enabling the people of San Francisco to determine our city’s future.

My qualifications for office are as follows:
As a San Franciscan since 1958, I want her to continue as the most de-operating business. San Francisco must have the most progressive and dynamic charter possible, one which will allow her to operate at the highest level of efficiency and lowest cost possible. My background is ideally suited to helping with this important task of charter revision. I represent no special group, have no future political ambitions, and only want to represent all the people of San

My address is 63 Bluxome. Occupation: Consulting Engineer, business systems and procedures. My qualifications for office are as follows:

I believe that my unique experience as an Industrial Engineer, working on systems related projects followed by many years of activity in the San Francisco political environment well qualifies me for this highly complex task.

The main task at hand is to see that the project is completed and is acceptable to the voters. While making the current disorder more manageable for day-to-day operations is of primary importance, some provision should be made for the public to judge the cost related benefits its government provides and modify those relationships through the democratic process.

REBECCA HAZLEWOOD BEZEMEK

My address is 1586 Shadrer. Occupation: Research Consultant. My qualifications for office are as follows:

I have worked as a City employee and am an independent governmental affairs researcher. I have conducted studies involving the Charter, including a detailed analysis of the City's budgeting process.

For the most part the Charter doesn't help anyone — not the Mayor, Supervisors, other elected officials, department heads, public employees, or residents of the City. It is unwieldy, old fashioned and restrictive. It should be rewritten so that elected officials accountable to the public, rather than a CAO insulated from the people, govern the City. However, prohibitions against deficit financing and limits on outstanding bonded indebtedness should be strengthened.

RICHARD DAVID BOYLE
My address is 1855 Pacific Ave.
Occupation: Teacher-Author.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
Although an author and journalist, my most recent occupation was instructor-counselor-coach with low income Mission youth. The saddest part was telling them there was no more work, yet our society spends millions helping foreign dictators. The new charter must not be a hodgepodge of confusing laws aiding big corporations… but be San Francisco's constitution. It must affirm our cherished values: Decent life for all; Protection from public poisoning for profit; freedom from oppressive taxation; Security in our homes and liberty and justice. It's not the big corporations' or politicians' charter. It's the people's charter for us all.

BERNARD FINNBARR BRADY
My address is 530 - 48th Avenue. Occupation: Budget Analyst. My qualifications for office are as follows: Our Charter, San Francisco's Constitution, must be changed. In 1932 Citizens negated the Charter Provision for a horse trough at 3rd and Market. Likewise, in 1978, many charter provisions are so detailed as to have no place in a charter, which is supposed to set forth "organic Law". Our charter, then, must not continue to be the repository of statutory whim. As a fourth generation San Franciscan, as a person with experience, education, youth and city-wide support; I pledge to dedicate myself to the highest quality of Charter Revision.

My address is 447 Chestnut.
Occupation: Attorney-at-law.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
I am a native of San Francisco, and a graduate of St. Ignatius High School and Georgetown University. I am 30 years old. I seek a government for San Francisco which, so far as a charter can make it, is less elaborate and more cost-efficient. I seek a government in which lines of responsibility are clearly drawn, and in which those who are given responsibility are given authority equal to their tasks, and thus are made fully answerable. A charter ought to lay institutional foundations for accountability and responsiveness.

We must reform the City Charter to make it clear and simple. Our local government does not work for a majority of our residents. The need of residents for the speedy, efficient and economical solution to the problems that face them goes unmet. That experience tells me that people can solve their own problems. I am a home owner, veteran and on the Board of Directors of San Francisco Tomorrow and Keep Libraries Alive. My qualifications for office are as follows:
- Community activist for 12 years, currently as Campaign Coordinator for the San Francisco Marijuana Initiative, member of Bay Area Committee Against the Briggs Initiative, and local Director of the political party which believes in absolute individual liberty. ROBERT J. GEARY

My address is 2578 Great Highway. Occupation: Police Officer. My qualifications for office are as follows:
As a San Francisco homeowner and policeman, I am outraged about the unresponsiveness of our City’s government to the concerns of average citizens. During the past decade, our property taxes have risen over 60% while the quality of life and city services has deteriorated. Extensive revision of the City Charter is necessary to end present abuses. To name just two: Abolish the extortionary sewer tax which eats away at family budgets; end illegal “sweetheart” contracts which allow PG&E to buy the City’s Hetch-Fetch electricity at bargain rates, only to sell it back to us at a big mark-up.

I believe that the Commission must reflect the interests of communities within the City, and follow the spirit of district elections in the City. The Charter must relate to people where they live as well as where they work. That is why I seek a place on the Commission.

My address is 2300 31st Avenue. Occupation: College business teacher. My qualifications for office are as follows: The Charter must be published in a clear, readable form, up-dated to assure equal opportunityrepresentation for all residents. SUE HESTOR

My address is 4536 20th Street. Occupation: Attorney. My qualifications for office are as follows: Local government seems paralyzed. Petty politics and bureaucratic infighting dominates our civic life. This stems from a Charter that so obscures political accountability as to make democratic government an engendered species in our City. The 1932 Charter has as its heart an assumption that the people of the City cannot be trusted to govern themselves. After eight years of community problem solving I know that assumption is nonsense. If elected, I am dedicated to a new Charter that enables people to solve their own problems through a government that is both responsive to their needs and accountable to them.

LYMAN HINCKLEY
My address is 1590 Broadway. Occupation: (Retired). My qualifications for office are as follows:
Born in Maine; educated (with honors) in Massachusetts; in U.S. civil service 20 years. Since then, living and working in San Francisco 20 years. I am a radical with unshakable loyalty to the United States Constitution. Education largely in political subjects. San Francisco needs a people's-utterance charter of peaceful revolution, to provide three kinds of genuine rights/responsibilities — political, economic-environmental, communication-education — as the only justification for any government. Every senior, educator, and environmentalist should vote for me to represent them, our chief assets and resources. Away prejudice, immaturity with its experts, alienation, exploitation! Money power or people power?

THOMAS L. ISENBERG
My address is 3316 — 16th St. Occupation: Business-person. My qualifications for office are as follows:
As a long time San Francisco resident and a small business-person involved in community affairs, I feel that the city charter has neglected the plight of the single worker, middle class family and the small business-person. Among my top priorities will be the introduction of new ideas. My volunteer experience in local government will enable me to work with the commissions other members. The endorsements provided by a broad coalition representing our city's varied lifestyles prove this.

PAT JACKSON
My address is 1158 Sanchez St. Occupation: Training Director. My qualifications for office, are as follows:
My name is Pat Jackson. My occupation is Training Director for SEIU, Local 400.
Married to Dan Jackson, Teacher, S.F.U.S.D. — Suzie, 18 — Clare 13.
Graduated from San Francisco State, 1950.
Worked as child development and parent education specialist in the Mission, Visitacion Valley and Oceanview. Active in community reform — lower taxes, senior citizens rights, efficient delivery of city services.
I feel that we need a simple flexible charter that establishes accountability, outlines policy and clarifies the power of implementation. The Charter should serve the City, instead of the City serving the Charter.

CANDIDATES FOR CHARTER COMMISSION

LEO JED

My address is 3972 19th Street.
Occupation: Financial Manager, Office of the Chief Administrative Officer.

My qualifications for office are as follows:

The Charter is San Francisco's Constitution; it must embody who we are and how we want to be governed. Much has changed since the 1932 Charter was written; our needs are very different now. We must be able to effectively respond to changing circumstances. Proposition 13 poses this clear challenge. We have no choice.

As the Financial Manager of the City's three (3) largest public projects, I understand the need for Charter reform to fix responsibility and accountability for meeting the public's trust.

I will listen to all who have a stake in how our City is governed — this includes you.

CANDIDATES FOR CHARTER COMMISSION

NEIL E. KELLY

My address is 400 College Avenue. Occupation: Government Intern., S.F. Board of Supervisors. My qualifications for office are as follows:

Member, Commonwealth Club of California, Ad-Hoc Committee on Proposition 13. AB Political Science, U.C. Berkeley.

On various occasions, my duties with the Board required that I decipher the Charter's meaning in relation to governmental activities. This experience taught me that the numerous piecemeal amendments attempting to clarify the document's meaning have left it an unintelligible bundle of words.

Today, the electorate of San Francisco must realize the historical necessity to select a representative body willing to correct the present situation. I enthusiastically offer myself as an educated and experienced person willing to seek a better government for San Francisco.

ROBERT J. KENNETH

My address is 837-43rd Avenue. Occupation: Businessman. My qualifications for office are as follows:

I hold bachelors and masters degrees in business administration, and have operated my own management consulting firm for the past seven and one half years. But that's not why you should vote for me.

I feel deserving of your support because I am:
1 — Reasonably intelligent.
2 — Honest.
3 — A very, very hard worker.

I believe that the rights of all San Franciscans need to be protected through responsible charter review and recommendation. Only through the fair and full exchange of differing views and opinions can the will of the people be realized.

To the foregoing I pledge my very best efforts.

CANDIDATES FOR CHARTER COMMISSION

TODD S. J. LAWSON
My address is 1140 Sutter Street.
Occupation: Writer.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
As a journalist and small-press editor for 15 years, I am conscious of the need for clear, concise language in our city charter so that all the people, not just special-interest groups and bureaucrats, can understand it. I am the author of four books including "The Empire of Howard Hughes" and "The 69 Days of Easter." My work has appeared in over 250 journals worldwide. A strong advocate of human rights, I am the recipient of four national journalism awards and a writer-in-residence grant from the California Arts Commission. We need a San Francisco writer on the Charter Commission.

LESLEY G. LEWIS
My address is 1001 Chenery Street.
Occupation: Administrative Officer.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
My duties require that I work with the Charter and I am aware of its limitations on effective management of City and County business. At best the present Charter is a patchwork relic of the 1930s with many special interest clauses. San Francisco needs a streamlined, efficient Charter and government organization. Unlike the Administrative Code (ordinances of the Board of Supervisors), the Charter is very rigid and difficult to amend as the demands upon it change. It should contain principles of organization and purpose like the United States Constitution, not a collection of trivia. I support public hearings and input.

My qualifications for office are as follows:
I am a 29 year old native San Franciscan, educated in our public schools and, during my life in the city, have seen our neighborhoods grow and change.
As an attorney active in appellate cases, I would bring a talent for concise written expression, if elected. This quality is vital, for our task is not just to revise the Charter, but to produce a readable document as well.

MARJORIE D. MARTIN
My address is 182 Diamond Street. Occupation: Real Estate. My qualifications for office are as follows: I am straight! I have a great love for the City of San Francisco. As a property owner I believe that every tax dollar collected should be used to provide needed services; that a new charter should eliminate "Pat" in City Gov't not "Vital" Departments.

S.F. Hotel Tax funded Magic Theater (1977) $8,000.00.
Magic Theater at Fort Mason was little more than a "strip" show with a naked actress on stage.
S.F. Hotel Tax funded A.C.T. (1077) $200,000.00. A.C.T. production of Equus and This is an Entertainment also featured nude performers. Such misuse of public funds is inexcusable.

THOMAS F. MCDONOUGH
My address is 1562-38th Ave.
Occupation: Retired — San Francisco Fire Dept.
My qualifications for office are as follows:
I was born and raised in San Francisco, an army retired city employee, (Fireman), and have owned a home in the Sunset District for 38 years.
My concern is that a new or revised charter must be workable, one that prevents any take over by power blocs or special interests. The charter must maintain proper balance of authority to guarantee fiscal stability; fair treatment, stable relations with city employees. Taxes and assessment practices must be equitable and fair to all citizens and business.
My 36 years as taxpayer and city employee gives me unique perspective of the need for charter reform.

ROBERT R. SCHMIDT
My address is 4048-21st Street. Occupation: Law Librarian. My qualifications for office are as follows:
As Law Librarian with both Law and Library degrees, I use the Charter daily with its anachronistic, archaic, and ambiguous terms. I will endeavor to rewrite it in clear, concise language to protect all the People of San Francisco — homeowners, renters, business persons, Blacks, Asians, Hispanics, Women, Gays, and all diverse groups.

I believe that by promoting business and private ownership of homes, all People of San Francisco benefit with full employment. As a former Legislative Intern and Bill Drafter of the Colorado State Legislature, I am experienced and dedicated to effecting necessary change with impartiality and objectivity.

- Negotiated and administered contracts for new consumer products offered by financial, insurance, and real estate corporations. Experience with these systems and organizations is key to Charter revision. Management consultant to San Francisco Adult Probation Department and San Francisco Department of Social Services. KEVIN JOHN SULLIVAN
My address is 1547-21st Avenue. Occupation: Union Retail Clerk. My qualifications for office are as follows:
- I am a native San Franciscan, graduate of Riordan High School and the University of San Francisco with a Bachelor of Art’s degree in Government. The city charter is the legal instrument of governmental authority to the city; it is also a determination of the style and type of home rule that you the local voters will accept. As an elected Charter Commissioner I will be directly responsible to you the voters, and not to the Board of Supervisors nor the Mayor.

THOMAS R. SWANEY
My address is 1223 Kearny, #4. Occupation: Systems/Financial Analyst. My qualifications for office are as follows:
- My background in Cost Accounting and Financial Analysis is needed for the Charter revision. I have worked for a large financial institution and also for the City and County of San Francisco. Strict financial controls should be implemented so scandals such as “Metergate” cannot happen again. The new Charter should make government responsive to the community. Too many times high government officials are insulated from the public and act against the best interest of citizens. Working men and women should have the opportunity to influence how their tax dollars are spent. Good government results when citizens are encouraged to become involved.

As a homemaker, part time aide to my husband in his business, and resident of this beautiful city of San Francisco for forty years, I have decided I would try and do my part in making it a better city. There are many aspects of the City Charter that require a concerned approach.

ROBT. M. TEETS, JR.

My address is 2903 Harrison Street. Occupation: Public Interest Lawyer. My qualifications for office are as follows:

San Francisco is my adopted home (10 years). As a tenant (6 years) and a homeowner (4 years), I have been frustrated by the effects of our Charter. The frustration of low-income citizens with city, state, and federal bureaucracies has been my professional preoccupation as an advocate in the highest courts of this state and nation. This, I believe, is a solid starting point for the searching public inquiry which this Commission should undertake. I am eager to serve my neighbors and City in striving for reform of the maze of boards, commissions, and unaccountable decision-makers.

SAMPLE BALLOT FOR CHARTER COMMISSIONER CANDIDATES IS ON PAGE 138A
TRANSPORTATION COMMISSION

PROPOSITION A
Shall City government be partially reorganized by consolidating all transportation functions under a commission including the municipal railway, street traffic, motor vehicles for hire and coordination of parking functions; consolidating all waste water, water and power functions in the public utilities commission; consolidating street lighting functions in the department of public works, establishing and adjusting compensation of commissions; protecting civil service rights and providing for certain exempt positions; and providing for legal services and other related changes?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The City has no Transportation Commission. The San Francisco Municipal Railway is under the Public Utilities Commission. Street traffic design and traffic control devices are under the Department of Public Works. The licensing, regulation and control of motor vehicles for hire such as taxis and jitneys, are under the Police Department. Also, street lighting is under the Public Utilities Commission and waste water disposal is under the Public Works Department.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition A would reorganize the functions of the present departments and create a new Transportation Commission. The Transportation Commission, made up of five members appointed by the Mayor, would manage the Municipal Railway; street traffic planning, and regulation of vehicles for hire. It would also coordinate all City parking functions. At the same time, the Public Utilities Commission would manage waste water disposal and the Department of Public Works would manage street lighting.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want a new Transportation Commission created to manage transportation functions within the city.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want management of city Transportation to remain under the Public Utilities Commission. Department of Public Works and Police Department.

Controller's Statement on "A"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition A:

If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, the increase in the cost of government would be a minimum of $130,000. Additional cost increases, if any, would depend on future legislative action increasing the budget of said commission.

How Supervisors Voted on "A"
On August 7th the Board of Supervisors voted 8-1 on the question of placing Proposition A on the ballot. The Supervisors voted as follows:

YES: Supervisors Dianne Feinstein (District 2), John Molinari (District 3), Ella Hill Hutch (District 4), Harvey Milk (District 5), Carol Ruth Silver (District 6), Robert Gonzales (District 7), Dan White (District 8) and Ron Pelosi (District 11).

NO: Supervisor Quentin Kopp (District 10).
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Yes on Proposition A

Improve government efficiency and effectiveness in transportation and utilities!

Proposition A consolidates all utilities under the city's Public Utilities Commission and all transportation activities under the Transportation Commission. Proposition A is the kind of reform which can work. It will reduce duplication in personnel and facilities.

Give Muni the leadership it needs!

Proposition A insures clear accountability for making our transportation system responsive to current needs and the City's Transit First policy. The Transportation Commission will be responsible for Muni, as well as parking and traffic.

Increase public participation in the sewer program!

Proposition A gives the city's Public Utilities Commission responsibility for establishing sewer rates, after adequate public notice and hearings. Consolidation of water, power and waste water under one commission creates new opportunities for reclamation and recycling, with long-range financial savings for residents.

We join with numerous City and neighborhood organizations in supporting this long overdue and badly-needed reform.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION A

Muni and our entire transportation system need management help. The modest initial cost required for new management under Proposition A will be more than off-set by future savings from consolidation of duplicated planning, engineering and operations bureaus.

Under Proposition A management of the Wastewater construction project will remain with the Chief Administrative Officer. Continuing operations and sewer rate-setting will be overseen by the Public Utilities Commission, as with water rates and operations. Rate-setting is properly lodged with a citizen commission — not a single administrator.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

Vote “No” on Proposition A

Maybe there should be a Transit Department but not where it means more bureaucracy and more city employees, especially high paid ones. That’s what this amendment does. Not only would there still be a General Manager of Muni, (at $45,000 per year) we’d now be saddled with a “Director of Transportation” over him, at a higher salary, with an unspecified number of assistant directors and no limit on the number of other new employees. That’s one reason the Controller estimated this will cost AT LEAST $125,000 in additional taxpayers’ monies.

Having removed Muni and set up another bureaucracy of mammoth proportion, they had to add to the Public Utilities Commission’s jurisdiction to justify its continued existence. The entire Wastewater Management program and Department of Sanitary Engineering would be shuffled to the PUC from the direct supervision of the Chief Administrative Officer.

A recent audit of the PUC illustrated major deficiencies in its oversight of both Hetch Hetchy and the Water Department. Adding Wastewater and Sanitary Engineering to the Commission’s jurisdiction before the deficiencies in their present bureaus are rectified is unwise and untimely.

The Chief Administrative Officer, by Charter, is San Francisco’s principal fiduciary administrator. He is non-partisan, independent and free from politics. Removing projects which will expend a billion and a half dollars in taxpayer’s money from the CAO’s direct supervision when he has both the expertise and mechanisms to coordinate these programs would be tremendously disruptive and foolish. It would lead to further postponements and disorderization within such departments and would require the PUC oversight to develop comparable expertise. It could also lead to politics in San Francisco’s largest public works project in history which the Charter has prevented since 1932.

Vote “No” on Proposition A.

This isn’t consolidation; THIS IS EXPANSION OF BUREAUCRACY. It will increase costs, and further complicate the present administration of all affected departments. San Francisco taxpayers have too much at stake in terms of delivery of services to support more city employees and higher salaries.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION A

Vote “No” on Proposition A

In light of “Prop 13” and runaway inflation, if there is one thing San Francisco does not need it is the creation of yet another commission.

Proposition A is another attempt to end the merit system in San Francisco, by creating “certain exempt positions”. It would be another step in returning City departments to the spoil system.

Under the existing rule of three, department heads are able to choose any one of the top three qualified candidates; The creation of “exempt positions” would further erode our Civil Service System and be very detrimental to our City services.

PROPOSITION B
Shall the powers and duties of the Civil Service Commission be expanded to establish procedures relating to discrimination in employment, examination evaluation, combining entrance and promotional examinations, probationary periods, dismissals and leaves?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The Civil Service Commission regulates the hiring, promotion and dismissal of city employees. Among the rules are the following: Ordinarily, only existing city employees are allowed to take promotional tests. Tests cannot be scored, nor eligible candidates appointed to jobs, while tests are being protested. Probation periods are six months for all city employees, except firefighters and peace officers. A hearing officer's decision on charges against employees can be appealed to the commission. There is no anti-discrimination policy statement in the Charter.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition B would allow outside applicants to take promotional tests with city employees, but would give extra consideration to city employees. Tests could be scored and eligible employees appointed while protests are being heard. Probation periods for all city employees could be increased up to 12 months and to 24 months for executives. A hearing officer's decision on charges against an employee would be final. A policy statement to prohibit discrimination would be added to the Charter, and the Civil Service Commission would have to establish procedures for enforcing it.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to make these changes in civil service procedures.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want civil service procedures to remain as they are now.

Controller's Statement on "B"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition B:
If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, it would have no effect in the cost of government.

How Proposition B Got On The Ballot
Proposition B is a consolidation of what were originally two separate charter amendments, both relating to the Civil Service Commission's powers, functions and duties. The two charter amendments were passed by the Board of Supervisors at different times and by different votes. On August 14 the Supervisors voted unanimously to combine the two in the interest of economy. The combined measure became Proposition B.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION B

Vote "Yes" on Proposition B

This is a civil service reform measure which will give us improved procedures within the merit system and enable the Civil Service Commission to conduct a modern personnel program. Performance evaluation will be a factor in promotion. These amendments also clarify several Charter changes to provide equitable treatment of employees in disciplinary hearings and set forth procedures to insure equal employment opportunities. This amendment also:

— provides for the use of apprenticeship rosters to hire qualified apprentices for city employment;

— allows examination procedures to continue while any relevant objections are reviewed;

— permits qualified eligibles to receive appointments while protests that would have no effect on such appointments are being investigated;

— allows different probationary periods following hearings before the Civil Service Commission;

— clarifies language as to due process hearings for employees;

— updates and corrects language on military leaves of absence;

— provides that promotive and entrance candidates who compete in the same examination will be ranked on one eligible list in order of examination standing thus allowing more equitable consideration to be given all competitors while providing for service credits to promotive eligibles;

— provides due process appeal rights on any allegations of discrimination; and

— includes a policy statement as to equal employment opportunities in Civil Service Commission operations.

Adopt this amendment for a more effective, equitable civil service personnel program.

PROPOSITION C

Shall Tax Collector and Treasurer be consolidated under Treasurer, who shall appoint and remove Tax Collector at Treasurer's pleasure; with present Tax Collector retaining civil service status to said position; and providing that the office of County Clerk shall be placed under direction of the Superior Court?

Analysis

By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The city's Department of Finance & Records includes the offices of tax collector, registrar of voters, recorder, county clerk and public administrator. The director of the department is appointed by the chief administrative officer.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition C would place the tax collector under the direction of the city treasurer and place the county clerk under the direction of the Superior Court. The Department of Finance and Records would become the Department of Governmental Services, under the chief administrative officer.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to move the tax collector into the office of treasurer and place the county clerk under the direction of the Superior Court.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want the Department of Finance and Records to remain as it is now.

Controller's Statement on "C"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition C:

If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, the cost of government would be decreased by approximately $45,000.

How Supervisors Voted on "C"

On August 7th the Board of Supervisors voted 9-0 on the question of placing Proposition C on the ballot. The Supervisors voted as follows:

YES: Supervisors Dianne Feinstein (District 2), John Molinari (District 3), Ella Hill Hutch (District 4), Harvey Milk (District 5), Carol Ruth Silver (District 6), Robert Gonzales (District 7), Dan White (District 8), Quentin Kopp (District 10), Ren Pelosi (District 11).

None of the Supervisors present voted "No".
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION C

Vote Yes on Proposition C

Proposition C consolidates the office of tax collector under the treasurer, places the county clerk under the Superior Court and eliminates the director of finance and records. It is designed to end duplication, increase efficiency and streamline the department of finance and records. It is a significant reorganization measure in the spirit of better management of city government and less bureaucracy.

Presently, 52 out of 58 counties in California have consolidated their treasurer and tax collector. Five of the remaining six have comparable pending legislation. Merging tax collections with the treasurer's office will produce a more efficient collection of funds, speed the cash flow process, reduce delays in deposits and earn taxpayers more interest income on City funds. Instead of the tax collector transmitting revenue to the treasurer, the treasurer will be collecting and depositing himself, gaining at least one day in the deposit and investment of City money.

It is estimated that approximately 99% of the county clerk's time is now spent on court related matters. Placing the county clerk under the Superior Court is a logical step to provide a more cohesive unit.

In the past, the Director of Finance and Records has been vacant for as long as two years. The authors of the Charter clearly intended that one of the department heads under the CAO should be assigned as director of finance and records in conjunction with his other responsibilities. They did not intend a separate position to be developed at unnecessary expense to the taxpayers. We can save over $50,000 per year eliminating the position.

The recent Metergate scandal in the Tax Collector's office, overseen by the Director of Finance and Records, calls for reform of our entire department of finance and records. Proposition C is consistent with this goal.

Eliminating the tax collector and county clerk from the department of finance and records leaves only the public administrator and recorder. There is no good reason why the CAO cannot directly oversee these offices.

REMOVAL OF COMMISSION MEMBERS

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION D

When the people vote for a new administration at City Hall, they expect that administration to carry out its promises about new policies and new directions in San Francisco.

They expect that administration to implement new policies at all levels of government — and this includes the many Boards and Commissions of our City.

That's the only way an administration can begin to make headway on the crucial problems of delivering better services and cutting the cost of government.

But presently in San Francisco, this is almost impossible to achieve.

When a new Mayor takes office, the Boards and Commissions set up to carry out administration policies have holdover members appointed by previous Mayors...lame duck appointees who may not represent the new directions which San Francisco voters have approved.

Presently a handful of holdover commission appointees can — in key instances — frustrate the policies of a new administration at City Hall, and prevent the will of the people from being expressed in local government.

Proposition D would end this intolerable situation.

It would guarantee that voters get a clean sweep at City Hall when they vote for a new administration. It would mean that the appointments of all Commission and Board members made by a previous Mayor would terminate at the inauguration of a new administration.

When you vote for a change at City Hall you expect that change to be reflected at all levels of government, and fast. That's why your approval of Proposition D is so important.

Let's make sure that our votes are heard loud and clear at City Hall. The lame-duck appointees of previous administration must not stand in the way of changes which voters demand.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION D

DO WE WANT INDEPENDENT COMMISSIONERS ... OR A RUBBER STAMP?

The commission form of government was an attempt to insure maximum citizen participation long before the Washington bureaucrats ever invented the term.

Because of their politically sensitive nature certain commissions specify fixed terms to be served by those appointed. These include the Airports and Civil Service Commissions and the Board of Permit Appeals.

Commissioners who cannot be removed from office if they offend the Mayor who appointed them are in a better position to exercise independent judgment on the matters that come before them. Removing this protection in favor of having all commissioners serve at the pleasure of the Mayor will necessarily turn them into rubber stamps for that Mayor, whomever he or she be.

• If there can be no independent citizen participation why have commissioners at all?

• Why settle for inefficiency AND a rubber stamp with no accountability, the worst of both possible worlds?

Vote "No" on Proposition D

Perhaps in these days of governmental economizing we can no longer afford the luxury of democracy. As long as we have the commission form of government, let's give these citizen participants the opportunity to do the job they're appointed to do.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition E would allow city officials to go out of the state without having to get permission from the Mayor or the Board of Supervisors.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want city officials to be able to leave the state without having to get permission from the Mayor and Supervisors.

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION E APPEARS ON PAGE 130
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION E

Charter amendment pertaining to absence of officers from the state.

Proposition E would eliminate a time-consuming, out-dated and unnecessary section of the City Charter.

Currently, city officials who travel out of the state must first secure permission from the Board of Supervisors.

At the time the Charter was written, in the 1930's, this made sense. But today, it does not.

Travel and communication was difficult then. Today, travel is fast and communication is easy. It takes the same amount of time to telephone any city in the country as it does any neighborhood in San Francisco or any other California city. And even the farthest distance in the country is within a few hours flying time of San Francisco. There is little reason to keep this outdated requirement in our City Charter.

It takes up the time of the Board of Supervisors and other city officials, time which could be used to deal with more important matters. It costs the taxpayers money in staff time and paper shuffling.

Proposition E would change this.

Many things have changed since the 1930's. This Charter section should, too.

We urge you to vote YES on Proposition E.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION E

Vote “No” on Proposition E

Proposition “E” eliminates the Charter provision requiring all public officials, members of boards and commissions, and department heads to notify and receive approval from the Board of Supervisors and the Mayor before taking leaves of absence from the State. While the granting of these leaves of absence is usually a routine matter, it does serve a vital purpose during times of emergency when a full component of public officials would be required for the operation of all City services. By eliminating this provision from the Charter, there would no longer be any accountability for out-of-state travel by public officials.

In the past, on several occasions the Board of Supervisors has investigated the questionable use of taxpayers money for travel purposes by public officials. The Board became aware of these travel plans through this Charter provision. Further, the Board has been able to insure that a quorum for boards and commissions has been maintained by the routine notification of proposed leaves of absence. This would no longer be possible with the passage of Proposition “E”.

Proposition “E” does not infringe upon the privacy of individuals nor does it impose an undue hardship on top level public officials. It does maintain a level of accountability which is vital to the responsible operation of City departments, agencies, commissions and boards. It should be maintained.

SICK LEAVE PAYMENTS

PROPOSITION F
Shall present officers and employees receive cash payment only for unused sick leave accumulated prior to effective date herein and remaining unused at retirement; and persons who become officers or employees after effective date herein shall not be entitled to cash payment for accumulated unused sick leave?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: City employees can save unused sick leave up to a total of six months. They can receive cash payment for this time when they retire from city service.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition F would let present city employees get paid only for past unused sick leave. New employees will not receive any payment for unused sick leave.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you do not want city employees to be paid for sick leave they do not use.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want city employees to continue to be paid for sick leave they do not use.

Controller's Statement on "F"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition F:

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION F APPEARS ON PAGE 130
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Vote Yes on Proposition F

Giving employees sick leave pay when they’re ill is fair and just. Paying cash to employees for sick leave accumulated because he or she wasn’t ill is neither fair nor just.

Presently, employees are allowed 13 days a year of paid sick leave and up to six months of sick leave. Permissive rules have allowed cash payments to employees for sick leave when they weren’t even sick. Employees are able to take as much as six months’ salary in cash with them upon retirement over and above regular retirement benefits.

It is prohibitively expensive. This year approximately $4.5 million will be paid in cash to retiring city employees for sick leave they did not need while regularly employed. In August alone, almost $1,000,000 cash-for-unused-sick-leave benefits was paid to 139 recently retired employees. Some received as much as $25,000 in cash upon retirement. THIS MUST STOP.

The Controller has estimated that as of June 9, 1978, the cash amount of unpaid sick leave accumulated by present employees was $84,375,000.

Vote Yes on Proposition F

Proposition F allows present employees to keep the cash value of accumulated sick pay which they accrued thus far. However, in the future, they would be no longer entitled to more cash for unused sick leave and new employees would not be entitled to cash for accumulated unused sick leave. Sick leave would continue to accrue for up to six months and when an employee’s illness actually kept him from work he’d be paid for his time off due to illness up to a maximum of six months. This is what’s done in private industry.

The Budget Analyst for the Board of Supervisors estimates that we will save over $1.125 million annually during the next 15-20 years and $4.5 million annually afterwards with the passage of Proposition F.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION F

Proposition F provides for leaves of absence due to illness or disability for every employee of the City of San Francisco. This policy is consistent with that found in private industry. A yes vote on Proposition F will assure that this practice continues.

It will, however, eliminate the provision that allows city employees to receive cash payment for unused sick leave upon retirement. This practice cost taxpayers in excess of $4 million last year. A yes vote on Proposition F will end this needless expenditure of your tax dollars.

Sick leave provides financial security during periods of bona fide illness. It is not meant to be a bonus for retiring city employees. Vote Yes on Proposition F and give city employees a fair benefit.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION F

The current sick leave rule provides an incentive for workers of all classifications not to use sick leave unless absolutely necessary. All occupations experience absenteeism, which is very destructive to the normal flow of work and work schedules. This usually requires hiring a non-experienced person or an experienced person at time and a half, causing additional cost to the City. The current sick leave rule also provides for payment of unused sick leave (maximum 6 months) upon retirement, which has worked very well for the purposes intended.

In most City departments the incentive provided by the current sick leave rule has proven to outweigh its cost to the City many times over. Most City departments have experienced that after an employee has accumulated 6 months in unused sick leave, their employment records show LESS time lost for sickness than the average worker.

The current sick leave rule has worked well for the City in the past. Let’s defeat Proposition F.

As a condition of employment the employees of the City and County of San Francisco have been entitled to sick leave time. This unused accumulated sick leave, if unused, is compensated to the employee in cash at the termination of his employment. The San Francisco Labor Council urges a NO vote on Proposition F. The only reason why the Board of Supervisors is placing this initiative on the ballot is for punitive reasons, using public employees as a scapegoat for Proposition 13. The employees of the City and County of San Francisco are entitled to this benefit and the San Francisco Labor Council urges a NO vote on Proposition F.

ELIMINATES MANDATORY RETIREMENT

PROPOSITION G
Shall the mandatory retirement age of 65 years be eliminated for members of the City and County Employees Retirement System?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: City employees must retire at age 65.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition G would permit city employees to continue to work after reaching 65, if they want to. Any person already retired could not be rehired.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want City employees to be able to keep on working after reaching age 65.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want city employees to have to retire at age 65.

Controller's Statement on "G"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition G:
If the proposed Charter amendment is adopted, in my opinion, there will be a decrease in the cost of government, the amount of which cannot be determined.

How Supervisors Voted on "G"
On August 7th the Board of Supervisors voted 9-0 on the question of placing Proposition G on the ballot. The Supervisors voted as follows:
YES: Supervisors Dianne Feinstein (District 2), John Molinari (District 3), Ella Hill Hutch (District 4), Harvey Milk (District 5), Carol Ruth Silver (District 6), Robert Gonzales (District 7), Dan White (District 8), Quentin Kopp (District 10), Ron Pelosi (District 11).

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION G APPEARS ON PAGE 130
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION G

Proposition G is a charter amendment designed to bring San Francisco’s Retirement System into compliance with recently enacted Federal and State laws eliminating mandatory retirement ages for employees in private industry and public service.

Public Law 95-256, signed by President Carter on April 6, 1978, eliminated the age 70 mandatory retirement provision for all Federal employees, effective September 30, 1978. This law also provides that, effective January 1, 1979, private employees and state and local governments are prohibited from requiring an employee to retire before 70 solely because of age.

On July 11, 1978, Governor Brown signed Senate Bill 130, which prohibits any public retirement system in the State of California from requiring any employee to retire prior to age 70, except active law enforcement and firefighting personnel. In addition, the new law, effective January 1, 1979, allows these public employees the right to continue in employment beyond age 70 upon certification of the employees’ competence in his/her position.

Proposition G, therefore, will bring the San Francisco City Employees Retirement System into compliance with Federal and State law as it pertains to Miscellaneous Employees. Failure to enact this charter amendment would invite costly law suits compelling San Francisco to abide by the Federal and State laws.

From a fiscal standpoint, Proposition G would reduce the overall costs of the Retirement System to the taxpayers. The longer an employee works beyond age 65, the less is the Retirement System’s financial liability based on current and projected mortality tables.

In the final analysis, Proposition G will achieve equity and fairness by eliminating discrimination in employment on account of age.

PROPOSITION H
Shall City contracts for printing provide that persons performing the labor be paid not less than the highest general prevailing rate of wages in private employment?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: City printing contracts are now awarded to the low bidder, who can pay any wage rate to his workers.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition H would require that city printing contracts go only to printing companies that pay at least the highest wage rate to printers in San Francisco.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want all city printing contracts to be performed by contractors paying at least the highest wage rate for printers in San Francisco.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want to allow city printing contracts to be awarded to the lowest bidder, regardless of the wage rate.

Controller's Statement on "H"

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

What Proposition H really means is JOBS for San Franciscans. The issue is whether the City of San Francisco will continue to employ printers from out-of-town and out-of-state while our own printing trades craftspeople go unemployed.

The re-binding of San Francisco's library books serves to illustrate the severity of this situation. Instead of San Francisco firms and their employees doing the re-binding of our own library books, the contract has been awarded to a firm in the State of Washington. This policy has deprived San Franciscans of salaries and jobs. People in the printing trades will continue to be unemployed if this situation persists.

Opponents of Proposition H have cited an increase in the cost of government as a reason to reject this Proposition. We feel that such a cost increase should not deprive people of deserved employment.

Increased revenues from taxes on employers and employees in the printing industry will offset the cost increase to implement this policy.

The voters of San Francisco must realize that unemployment in the printing industry will continue under the present system unless you vote YES on Proposition H.

It's time we protected San Francisco jobs, workers, and employers instead of OUTSIDE printing interests.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION H

San Francisco is a major center of the printing industry in the United States. Owners and operators of printing firms located in San Francisco pay taxes for the services rendered by the City and County of San Francisco. These same printing firms hire San Francisco workers who, in turn, live and pay taxes in San Francisco. Why should the City and County go out of San Francisco for printing services, even as far as Washington State? San Francisco citizens and workers can gain a return of their tax monies paid by having the printing of the City and County of San Francisco done by local printing enterprises. Proposition H will create jobs for San Franciscans. We urge a YES vote on Proposition H.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION H

Vote "No" on Proposition H

In 1972, the voters by a resounding 2 to 1 vote, defeated Proposition "P", which is almost identical to Proposition "H". It is clear that the voters have spoken on this issue. In 1972, the Controller stated that there would be an annual increase in the cost of government through passage of this proposition of at least $7,400 or an increase of .03 in the tax rate. This year the Controller has stated there will be a "considerable increase in the cost of government."

Proposition H requires that the contractor pay not less than the highest general prevailing wages in private employment or similar work. That sounds simple enough, but the City Purchaser says it is administratively unenforceable. The Purchasing Department would have no resources, facilities, or manpower to determine whether a contractor has complied with the provision. Attempts at enforcement would further complicate and delay the bid awarding process.

Proposition H would add provisions to the Charter which would, supposedly, impose working conditions and pricing preferences in contracts for printing supplies or printed products. However, it misses its objectives because it is detrimental to the general economy of San Francisco and is contrary to the objective of minimizing the cost of government by getting the most for each taxpayer's dollar spent.

If this proposition becomes law, other business groups will request like consideration and there is reason to believe that retaliatory measures by other governmental jurisdictions in this area will be enacted and result in a substantial loss to San Francisco's economy.

The current policy followed by the Purchasing Department is a workable, effective system. All things being equal, bids are awarded to the San Francisco bidder. Bids are not sought from out-of-town firms for commodities or services when suitable competition is available locally.

Vote "No" on Proposition H.

Proposition H should be soundly defeated if we are to preserve lower costs, better returns for City tax monies and the general economy.

REAL PROPERTY LEASES

PROPOSITION I
Shall all contracts and real property leases in excess of ten years and/or having anticipated revenue of one million dollars or more be subject to approval by the Board of Supervisors?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Certain city contracts and leases are now entered into by city departments, boards and commissions without approval by the Board of Supervisors.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition I would give the Board of Supervisors the power to approve or reject contracts and leases entered into by city departments, boards and commissions when the leases would last more than ten years or would produce more than one million dollars revenue for the city.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to give the Board of Supervisors authority over major city contracts and leases.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want the Board of Supervisors to have more control over city contracts and leases than it has now.

Controller's Statement on "I"

REAL PROPERTY LEASES

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION I

Vote “Yes” on Proposition “I”

With an annual budget for the City and County of San Francisco which exceeds $824 million, there is presently no provision in the Charter which gives the Board of Supervisors power to review contracts which will net $1 million to the City, or real property leases which will provide income of $1 million or more in revenue or exceed ten years in duration. Thus, while the Board of Supervisors is held accountable by all San Franciscans for the setting of the annual budget and fiscal priorities, the approval of revenue producing contractual arrangements is not within its purview. Proposition “I” gives this power to the Board.

Vote “Yes” on Proposition “I”

Proposal “I” will include the Board of Supervisors in the decision-making process concerning prudent, fiscally responsible obligations of taxpayers’ assets.

For example, as the Charter presently is written, the Board of Supervisors has no authority over the important, sometimes controversial, long-term leases at Candlestick Park, Fishermen’s Wharf or Sunol Golf Club. Thus, while, for example, the Board of Supervisors must approve stadium admissions taxes and similar charges which result from commitments in the Candlestick leases, the Board has no part in the establishment or modifications of such leases. Similarly, the Board was powerless in the Sunol Golf Club lease.

PROPOSITION J
Shall Street Artists and Craftpersons be subject to regulation by an Advisory Committee, prescribing certification procedures and designated sales areas and establish a revenue fund for program and repeal present Street Artist Ordinance?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: People who sell their crafts on San Francisco's streets are regulated by a Street Artists Ordinance passed by the voters in 1975. Approximately 756 street artists now have certification permitting them to sell their wares at 520 spaces set aside by the Board of Supervisors.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition J would allow the Art Commission to issue 100 new conditional street artists' certificates. Holder of a conditional certificate could occupy unused selling spaces if none holding a regular certificate is there by 12 noon.

Proposition J would permit the Art Commission to establish a limit on the total number of street artist certificates, provided the limit is never less than existed January 1, 1978. It would also require the supervisors to keep the present ratio of spaces to permits, with the supervisors providing five spaces for every seven licensed street artists.

Proposition J would require street artists to renew their certificates every three months in person within 10 days of the expiration date or lose the certificates. It would be somewhat more specific than the present ordinance in defining street art.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want a new ordinance regulating street artists.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, it means you want to keep the present regulations on street artists in effect.

Controller's Statement on 'J'
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition J:

If the proposed proposition is approved, in my opinion, the cost of government would be increased by approximately $50,000.

How Supervisors Voted on 'J'
On July 31st the Board of Supervisors voted 6-4 on the question of placing Proposition J on the ballot. The Supervisors voted as follows:

YES: Supervisors Gordon Lau (District 1), Dianne Feinstein (District 2), John Molinari (District 3), Harvey Milk (District 5), Carol Ruth Silver (District 6), and Dan White (District 8).

NO: Supervisors Ella Hill Hutch (District 4), Robert Gonzales (District 7), Quentin Kopp (District 10) and Ron Pelosi (District 11).

STREET ARTISTS ORDINANCE

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION J

This ordinance is based on the Art Commission’s six years of experience as the agency certifying the street artists of San Francisco. For the first time, the voters are offered street artist legislation which reflects a genuine compromise and acceptance by all major parties concerned.

For the first time, a limitation of the number of certified street artists shall be established in accordance with a 7 to 5 ratio of artists to spaces. The number of artists cannot be increased except when the Board of Supervisors increases them. The existing ordinance gives no limitation; it allows the Art Commission to issue an unlimited number of permits. At present, there are over 1,300 applicants.

Proposition J incorporates all of the major provisions of the present ordinance but goes farther by incorporating the necessary by-laws and regulations implemented by the Art Commission over the years, notably the procedures for renewal, revocation and appeal.

Proposition J represents no cost to the taxpayers. It legally strengthens the Art Commission, which is responsible for collecting over $60,000 in certification fees annually for the General Fund. The Art Commission’s Street Artist Program is one of the few regulatory agencies that pays for itself and generates revenue for the City.

It is undeniable that the street artists are an important and colorful part of the tourist industry of the city. The Street Artists Program continues to receive compliments from tourists who claim the artists are one of the major highpoints of their interests.

San Franciscans, in previous elections, have repeatedly demonstrated their support of the street artists. Your support is needed now for Proposition J, which finally addresses the problem directly and which is being supported by artists, businesspersons, neighborhood groups and many other San Franciscans.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Vote “No” on Proposition J

Just three short years ago, the Board of Supervisors submitted to the voters a carefully drafted initiative ordinance to govern street artists. The voters adopted the ordinance, overwhelmingly. Now, special interests want even more.

Proposition J compels the Board of Supervisors to set an unknown minimum number of spaces for certificate-holding street artists. It sets a complex ratio of at least five spaces to seven certificate-holders. Proposition J requires the provision of spaces for street artists, regardless of changing conditions in our city or a finding that less than such number would be advisable. No ordinance passed by the electorate should lock public officials into a system of providing a minimum of street spaces irrespective of contemporary conditions.

No other permit system in San Francisco, even those licenses for convenience and necessity, such as taxicab permits, forces a minimum. No other permit system creates a mechanism which would require the Board of Supervisors, the legislative branch of government, actively to seek more areas for the acquisition of new locations for street artists sites. Proposition J puts such obligation on the Board, along with the Art Commission, and binds them to it.

Proposition J:
— doesn’t define street artists; some merchant groups may be included in it;
— contains no provision for payment of rent to the City or public liability insurance by street artists. Who will be liable if a pedestrian is injured by street artist activity?
— is incapable of being enforced by the Art Commission since there are no policing powers. The Art Commission does not have adequate inspection capability and there is no provision to require funding by street artists for proper inspection;
— contains no provision for the Planning Department or the Police to approve locations or the number of street artists at any one location.

Proposition J will be difficult, if not impossible to enforce. We just voted in 1975. There’s no need to impose new and ambiguous requirements.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Vote No on Proposition "J"

Remember when street selling in San Francisco was a chaotic mess?

Peddlers were lined up corner-to-corner on street-after-street, badgering and harassing our tourist guests with their products. They overflowed the sidewalks, blocked pedestrians, hampered traffic, endangered people's lives. The Fire Department complained that they couldn't get to the hydrants.

What's more, a lot of these peddlers weren't selling their own products at all, which is what street artists are supposed to do. They were pushing phonies, imports, which they were buying wholesale.

So, the legitimate street artists and the business community got together in support of a Proposition to regulate the business of street selling. It provided locations for legitimate street artists; it insisted that the products be genuinely home-made and not a rip-off import. It assured that there would be no interference with pedestrians and traffic. That Proposition cleaned the situation up. You voted for it. Things became a lot better.

But the phonies are trying to open the floodgates once again, with Proposition "J".

Proposition "J" says that for every seven permits the Art Commission issues to street artists, the City must provide five selling spaces. Since the Commission can issue as many permits as it likes, this actually means almost unlimited use of the streets — and the City has to provide the spaces — checking on the legitimacy of the products would be practically impossible. There'll be peddlers everywhere.

Don't take this nonsense. Keep the sidewalk selling situation under control. Don't let them roll the clock back to chaos.

Vote No on Proposition "J"

Submitted By:

Downtown Association of San Francisco
Milton Gilmore, President

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION J

Proposition J makes the Art Commission responsible for control of street artists. This will not work, because the Commission does not have enough manpower to enforce regulations. And the Art Commission is not equipped to decide how public sidewalks and open space should be used. This is the Planning Commission's job, yet Planning is left out of Proposition J. "J" also opens the door to peddlers of cheap, mass-produced goods, because it does not clearly define "street artist." And it does nothing to correct the situation where neighborhood store owners have to carry liability insurance to cover street artists' activities in front of their premises. So-called street art has become a big business in San Francisco. It needs regulation, but Proposition J is the wrong way.

PROPOSITION K

Ordinance: Shall increased rates for existing Business, Payroll and Real Property Transfer Taxes which were repealed by Board of Supervisors be re-enacted and allowing for offsetting Rebates in the form of credits for this year with authority of Board of Supervisors to extend credits?

Analysis

By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Statement Proposition 13, which passed on June 6, limited the amount of money local government could raise from property taxes. After it passed, the San Francisco Board of Supervisors, at the request of the Mayor, approved higher tax rates for business and property transfer taxes. These new rates began June 30. However, when it became clear that the state surplus would supply enough money to San Francisco to operate for this fiscal year, the Board of Supervisors repealed the increases in these taxes.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition K, which was placed on the ballot by the Mayor, would restore the increases in the business and property transfer taxes. This would overturn the Board of Supervisors’ repeal and put the tax rates back up to the June 30 level. Because the state is providing funds to San Francisco for this fiscal year, Proposition K would provide for rebates on these taxes for this year only.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want business and property taxes in San Francisco to be raised back to the June 30 rates, with rebates this year.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want to keep business and property transfer taxes where they are now.

Controller’s Statement on “K”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition K:

If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, there is a potential for future revenue of approximately $26,200,000 per annum from the business, payroll and real property transfer taxes. However, for fiscal year ending June 30, 1979 tax credits will be subtracted from the total tax due which will eliminate any additional revenues. For subsequent years, the tax credits can be modified by legislative action by the Board of Supervisors.

How Proposition K Got On The Ballot

Proposition K was placed on the ballot by a City Charter provision which allows the Mayor to place an Ordinance or Declaration of Policy on the ballot.

On August 3rd the Registrar received a request signed by Mayor George Moscone directing that an ordinance reinstating the increased rates for business, payroll and property transfer taxes be placed on the November ballot.

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION K APPEARS ON PAGE 134
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION K

Proposition K, the Home Rule Preservation Ordinance, is nothing more than an insurance policy for San Francisco. It will protect the City against the day the State’s budget surplus diminishes and San Francisco must once again provide for itself.

It means no new taxes. It enables the Board of Supervisors, the City’s policy-making body, to reimpose a 1.5 percent property transfer tax, a 1.5 percent payroll tax paid by major businesses and not by wage earners, and a modest increase in the City’s gross receipt tax, by a simple majority vote. Reestablishing these tax rates — which were reduced after the State gave San Francisco more than $110 million in bailout money, on a one-time-only basis — would bring in some $30-million. Like any insurance policy, it won’t be collected unless it is absolutely necessary.

Dependence on the State for handouts means San Francisco cannot determine its own future. Nobody knows how long the State will continue to have a surplus, and nobody knows how large that surplus will be in years to come. The only thing we can be sure of is that the surplus will decrease year by year, and whatever money San Francisco accepts will have strings attached to it.

By accepting the $110-million this year, San Francisco had to agree to give no cost of living wage adjustments to deserving city employees. The City also had to agree to continue funding programs at higher levels than may have been desirable, given the fiscal emergency created by passage of Proposition 13.

The fact of the matter is, San Francisco lost a significant degree of home rule. Decisions that should have been made by San Franciscans were made in Sacramento, because Sacramento was paying the bills.

Proposition K, the Home Rule Preservation Ordinance, keeps control at home, where it belongs. It’s an insurance policy we can’t afford to drop. K is OKAY. Vote Yes on K.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

Vote “No” on Proposition K

On June 6th, the voters thought that passage of Proposition 13 meant the elimination of the capricious raising of their local taxes. The voters thought they had told their public officials that they wanted government reform through streamlined municipal operations. Some of our San Francisco public officials have not gotten the message.

Proposition K is a direct attempt to circumvent the will of the people by raising the Real Estate Transfer Tax by 200%, the Payroll Expense Tax by 40%, and the Business Tax by 40%. The San Francisco Chronicle called these increased taxes “inappropriate and unnecessary.” The Board of Supervisors agreed and voted to reject these new taxes. Yet Proposition K was placed on the ballot.

Proposition K does not just affect business. These are consumer taxes. The payroll and business taxes will mean higher prices to consumers. The real property transfer tax will be passed on to every family purchasing a home in San Francisco, acting as yet another deterrent to middle income families remaining in San Francisco. It contains a complicated credit system requiring taxpayer vigilance to avoid payment of these new taxes during its first year of implementation.

Most important, Proposition K is totally unnecessary. The budget passed by the Board of Supervisors is only .8 percent lower than last year’s $831 million budget. It contains the largest surplus in San Francisco’s history. Therefore, these increased taxes are unnecessary.

In the past, politicians have decided how much money they wanted and presented the bill to taxpayers, through the property tax rate. Prop 13 changed this by giving the politicians a set amount and telling them to make the hard decisions about spending priorities. The voters want politicians to meet City needs by eliminating duplication and slothful spending. Proposition K flies in the face of this mandate and will further delay imperative governmental reforms.

VOTE “NO” ON PROPOSITION K and once again tell your public officials that government reorganization, not increased taxes, is the way to run San Francisco.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

With the passage of Proposition 13 in June, the voters made a statement in no uncertain terms that taxes were too high and that government had become too large. Proposition K is clearly an effort to increase taxes to a level above that which was in effect prior to Proposition 13 and will add to the growth of government.

Although two of the proposed increases are applied to business, they have a major impact on the general public and are considered consumer taxes.

The gross receipts tax is an excess cost of doing business in the city and a major reason why hundreds of businesses and jobs have left the city in the past seven years. This tax is also reflected in the cost of goods and services.

The payroll tax is a penalty that must be paid by an employer every time he creates a new job or gives an employee a raise.

The real estate transfer tax has a major impact on the cost of residential property and is a penalty that must be paid by everyone who purchases a home in the city.

By voting no on Proposition K you will keep these taxes at their present level and help reduce the size of government.

SUBMITTED BY THE SAN FRANCISCO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
Gregory P. Hurst
Manager Public Affairs

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION K

VOTE NO on “K”. This is a tax increase Proposition, no matter what it’s called. A tax increase is a tax increase, no matter who pays it first. In the long run, you pay it, of course. Putting more taxes on business is putting more taxes on you. That’s what Proposition “K” does to you.

Right after Jarvis-Gann, the politicians panicked. How were they going to make up the lost funds? So these tax increases on business were hurried through. Then the air cleared. The panic passed. The Supervisors wisely voted to repeal the increases. They know that business taxes hurt the whole City, not just business. The Mayor decided to let the repeal go through.

But now he’s asking to boost your own taxes... They are your taxes, even if they do call them business taxes. You may not have to do the paperwork, but these taxes add up to the costs of doing business here in San Francisco. When business costs go up, so do prices. So do rents. And a few more businesses move out of San Francisco; many more jobs are lost.

These are stand-by taxes. They are not needed now. “We won’t use the money unless we need it,” they say. (Where have you heard that before? Can you picture them leaving any money in the till, once you fill it up for them?)

If there’s one thing we don’t need right now, it’s more taxes, or more power for the politicians to impose them.

Let the politicians feel the pinch, not you. MAKE THEM ECONOMIZE, not just find a roundabout way to tax you further.

Don’t give them the money. Vote for your job. Vote for your pocketbook.

Controller's Statement on "L"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition L:

If the proposed position is adopted, in my opinion, the cost of government would be increased by approximately $345,000.

How Prop. L Got On The Ballot

Propositions L, M, N, O, P, Q, R and S are a result of a provision in the City Charter which was adopted by the voters in November 1976. This provision requires that unsettled contract disputes between city officials and city employees be put before the voters to decide.

In this proposition the voters will grant or reject the last demands of city workers represented by the International Federation of Professional & Technical Engineers, Local 21.

Even if Propositions L through S are approved by the voters they will not necessarily go into effect because the ordinance they amend was repealed earlier this year as a result of Proposition 13.
LABORERS' SALARY DEMANDS

PROPOSITION M
Shall a schedule of compensation based upon the last demand of employees represented by the Laborers’ International Union of North America, Local No. 261, be approved?

Analysis

By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Laborers and related workers employed by the city receive certain working conditions and benefits, in addition to their wages. Their union asked for certain improvements in the contract for this year, but was turned down by city officials. A partial comparison of the demands with the present conditions and benefits is provided below.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition M would provide the improved working conditions and benefits listed below to laborers and related classes working for the city.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to provide the improved benefits listed below.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want to keep the present working conditions and benefits for this group of city workers.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION M

Only 36 of the 283 persons employed as general laborers are assigned to work with the processing of raw human sewage on a daily basis. Such work requires an extra level of dedication and skill to ensure that the water quality control process is properly and efficiently completed.

This proposition would award these few workers additional compensation when performing such odious duties, and requires that proper uniforms be provided by the City. It is only human and decent that the voters approve this measure. Our members should not be reduced to the level of poverty and degradation of untouchables merely because they are employed in the City’s sanitary waste facilities. A vote for this measure will increase morale and productivity among these critical workers at little cost to the taxpayer.

GLAZIERS' SALARY DEMANDS

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION N

San Francisco employs fewer than 15 qualified Glaziers who are responsible for replacement and repair of tens and thousands of windows and skylights, all over the City and County, including such critical and unusual installations as the City Hall Dome, the Conservatory, the Aquarium Fish Tanks and the San Francisco General Hospital. Much of this work requires costly specialized tools and duties on boom trucks which call for greater experience and skill.

Passage of this proposition will ensure that modern and proper tools are always available. The City does not make its clerks furnish their own typewriters, nor the janitors their own mops and pails and should not require the Glaziers to provide their own tools either.

This measure will also provide premium pay for higher skill boom work. Actually, very few hours of boom work is done on an annual basis and the cost to the taxpayer will be negligible.

ELECTRICIANS' SALARY DEMANDS

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION Q

San Francisco employs hundreds of qualified electrical workers of every race, ancestry and religion, in every vital public service it renders, including police communications, fire alarms, street lighting, MUNI transit, traffic signals and hospital operating room lighting and power. Many of these electricians are assigned to the Hetch Hetchy Power Generation System, which is a revenue producing City operation that competes with privately owned and operated utilities. Much of the work requires high levels of skill due to exposure to high voltage, climbing up transmission towers, and exposure to the elements and human wastes.

This measure provides that such workers will be furnished proper tools and clothing to perform their jobs in an efficient and workmanlike manner. It also provides that all those who repair MUNI transit vehicles work the same hours and enjoy the same conditions. This measure only works to increase the efficiency of the City's electrical workers, and to bring equity to and improve the morale of these employees at a minimal cost to the taxpayer.

RENT REBATE

PROPOSITION U

Initiative Ordinance: Shall there be a one month rent stabilization for December 1978 (calculated on basis of June 6, 1978 rent) and a rental reduction for calendar year 1979 (calculated on June 6, 1978 rent minus the property tax saving on the rental unit)?

Analysis

By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Rents in San Francisco are now set according to an agreement between what a landlord wants to charge and what a tenant is willing to pay.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition U would require that a landlord pass on to his or her tenants the total tax reduction received for that property from the passage of State Proposition 13. Proposition U would also prevent any rent increase through December, 1979, unless the landlord can prove that the costs on the rental unit have gone up. Rents could be raised for inflation or other increased costs, but not both. Proposition U requires that every landlord notify every tenant of how the rent reduction from Proposition 13 was calculated, and to make available for tenants a list of rents for all units in the property as well as books, records and receipts to document any reasons for a proposed rent increase.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want rents controlled in San Francisco through December, 1979 and you want to require landlords to pass on to both commercial and residential renters the full rebates mandated by Proposition 13.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want things to stay the way they are, with market conditions setting rent levels in San Francisco.

Controller’s Statement on “U”

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition U:

If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, it would not, of itself, affect the cost of government.

How Proposition U Got On The Ballot

On August 17th, City Registrar of Voters Thomas Kearney certified that the initiative petition containing Proposition U had qualified for the November ballot. Proposition U is an ordinance that calls for landlords to rebate to renters all of the savings attributable to Proposition 13.

San Franciscans for Renters Property Tax Relief, the proponents of the initiative, filed 24,805 signatures with Kearney on August 9th. After checking the signatures, Kearney determined that there were 18,353 valid signatures, which is more than the 10,562 names needed to put an initiative ordinance on the ballot.

10,562 represents 5% of the number of people who voted for Mayor in 1975.

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF PROPOSITION U APPEARS ON PAGE 140
RENT REBATE

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION U

Over 25,000 San Franciscans signed the petition that put Proposition U on the ballot. They were renters, homeowners, neighborhood merchants, and landlords.

Renters support Proposition U because they now pay 100% of their landlords’ property taxes; and if Prop. 13 results in a property tax reduction, that reduction ought to go back to the tenants who really pay these taxes, not to their landlords as windfall profits.

Homeowners support Proposition U, because it extends to their renter friends, relatives and neighbors the same benefits they have gotten under Prop. 13, without costing homeowners a penny.

Neighborhood merchants support Proposition U, because they want to remain serving their neighbors, rather than being forced out by higher rents.

And fair-minded landlords support Proposition U, because they know tenants will be guaranteed Prop. 13 benefits only if a law is passed, rather than relying on the illusion of “voluntary rebates”. In order to prevent landlords from offsetting through rent increases the rebate required under Proposition U, rents are set at the June 6, 1978 level, and increases are allowed only to cover legitimate operating cost increases.

This is not rent control.

Voters also should be warned that sometime before Election Day the Supervisors may pass an ordinance designed to give the appearance of meeting renters’ needs, but which in actuality is not a rent rebate ordinance. Don’t be fooled!

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION U

We are San Francisco homeowners. We fully support Proposition U. We think renters ought to get the same property tax benefits owners have just gotten under Prop. 13. We have friends, relatives and neighbors who are renters, and they need these breaks as much as we do. And besides, giving them tax justice won’t cost homeowners a penny.

So let’s give renters a break, too. Vote YES on Prop. U.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

MEASURE U IS RENT CONTROL FOR VIRTUALLY ALL SAN FRANCISCO RENTAL HOMES, FLATS, APARTMENTS AND COMMERCIAL BUILDINGS, PLAIN AND SIMPLE. It will have the same devastating social and economic impact on our City that such laws have had virtually everywhere they have been tried. To convince you Measure U doesn’t mean rent control, proponents deliberately combined their rent control scheme with Proposition 13 issues — a clear case of deceptive packaging.

You should be aware of what rent control will do to our City, Measure U will:

1. Reduce the amount of available rental housing by forcing many owners into condominium conversion; to live there, you will have to buy — at skyrocketing prices.
2. Reduce owners’ incentives to keep up their buildings.
3. Impose more laws and more government interference.
4. Congest already crowded courts by potentially making every renter/owner dispute a lawsuit.
5. Cause residential and commercial rental property assessments to drop, thus shrinking the tax base. This will cause a shift to increased homeowner taxes.

Rent control historically hurts most those who can afford it least: minorities, seniors and low-income people. Rent control reduces apartment services and maintenance. With the rental housing supply diminished, many people will be squeezed out by those with more cash and credit who are less affected by shifts in the job market.

Measure U applies the same rent control formula to highrise office buildings as to residential units, which is absurd. Because of the problems this ordinance would create, jobs and business will be driven from San Francisco.

We all have experienced “temporary” government measures. Nearly every rent control measure now in existence originally was “temporary”, and Measure U will be no exception. Measure U will end the possibility of meaningful solutions to our housing problems. It is the wrong approach to tax relief. Don’t be fooled by deceptive packaging.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

In the myriad of things done in the name of Proposition 13, Rent Control is the most diabolical. Under the guise of tax rebate sharing, this proposition deprives owners of rental property ANY tax relief. Thereby corporations, homeowners and large utilities benefit but not the owner who supplies apartment living for a large part of our City’s population. The man who paid taxes even when he had vacancies must now turn over to tenants ALL of his tax rebate. This is not justice San Francisco style.

San Francisco is a rare major City, not only for its natural beauty, but because it is so loved by its residents that they have restored and rehabilitated its gracious older buildings with their own sweat and small savings, while other cities like New York, Boston and Washington worried about blocks of slums with empty, falling down buildings, broken windows and rat infesting populations. These a result of owner’s default or simple abandonment because it made no economic sense to try to hold on under rent control.

Senator Proxmire summed it up well when he spoke against Federal funding to New York City because rent control caused the problem and he wanted it repealed. Undersecretary of HUD Janis underlined this on national television stating that he opposed rent control because it never works, only causes problems.

The Citizens Housing Forum, after much study, finds that the effects of rent control while devastating to other cities are suicidal for San Francisco. In our compact City where single family homes are almost always adjacent to or closeby rental units, the deterioration or abandonment of rental units, inevitable under rent control, will not only adversely affect the value of the homeowner’s property but even more importantly, his safety.

We are a proud City. Let us not take the chance of reducing ourselves to the humiliation of New York or the devastation of the South Bronx. We strongly urge you to vote No on this initiative and preserve our unique environment.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

Disastrous! Misguided! Legalized Theft!

These terms describe some effects of rent control. If you find them comforting and appealing, then Proposition U deserves your vote. But, if you believe, as a noted economist has stated, that rent control is “the most efficient technique presently known to destroy a city — except for bombing,” Proposition U demands your NO vote.

Proposition U threatens San Francisco with all the ill effects rent control has produced in other communities where introduced. Intended as a cure, it is more deadly than the ailment it purports to treat. There is no need for speculative thinking on this. Hard experience testifies to the facts. Under rent control, 260,000 rental units have been lost through abandonment in New York City since 1964. Is New York’s example to be followed here? San Francisco deserves a better fate.

Rent control has also wrought havoc in Washington, D.C. Senator Eagleton (Democrat, Missouri) — not known for his conservatism — concluded, after a study of Washington rent controls, that they provide “an incentive for decay... (E)nacted for the best of motives to protect middle and low-income tenants, (they) actually work against the very people they were designed to aid.” The Washington Star Post, also viewing the Washington scene firsthand, has likened rent control to hard drugs: “Starting is euphoric. Trying to stop is painful. Continuing is disaster.”

We are not opposed to landlords sharing tax benefits with tenants. We encourage it whenever the facts justify, and expect it to occur when the time comes. But how can benefits be shared before realized or be evaluated before tax bills are received? Who can predict whether Proposition 13 will survive current legal attacks or when a decision will be forthcoming? Untimely actions often result in regret. Proposition U, if approved, would fit this mold.

California’s legislature recently disapproved rent rollbacks and rebates statewide. How can what was rejected for Californians serve the best interests of San Franciscans? Don’t be misled by false promises.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION U

Arguments Against Rent Control

Vote No for any rent controls.

Rent Control in any form is not needed for tenants to share in Proposition 13 savings.

Rent Control would discourage new construction, and as a result, many people in the Building Trades would be out of jobs (and this might be you.)

Rent Control is not in the best interest of tenants nor landlords, because between both parties there is a contractual relationship.

The tenant has the right to accept the rental or reject it. The landlord has the right to set a price on his rental unit. It is a fundamental right of contract between the parties.

If the Rent Control Bill is passed, landlords would not be inclined to keep up the quality of their rental units. This would accelerate the deterioration of rental units.

If we want to increase the availability and upgrade the quality of rental units, Rent Control in any form is not the answer.

PROPOSITION V
Declaration of Policy: Shall the People of the City and County of San Francisco demand that the Federal Government cease spending our tax money for wasteful military purposes and instead use it to provide the jobs and services that our people so desperately need, thereby creating jobs with peace by cutting the military budget?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: There is no city policy declaration which demands the end of "wasteful" military spending in order to provide more money for jobs and services.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition V would declare that the voters of San Francisco demand that the federal government stop spending tax money for wasteful military purposes and use it instead to provide needed jobs and services.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want it to be the policy of San Francisco to publicly oppose military spending identified as "wasteful" and use the money saved to provide jobs and services for people in this country.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want San Francisco to declare a policy against that military spending.

Controller's Statement on "V"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition V:
If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, it would have no effect in the cost of government.

How Proposition V Got On The Ballot
On August 17th, City Registrar of Voters Thomas Kearney certified that the initiative petition containing Proposition V had qualified for the November ballot. Proposition V is a declaration of policy that calls for a decrease in U.S. Military spending.
Michael C. Miller, the proponent of the initiative, filed 19,397 signatures with Kearney on August 8th. After checking the signatures, Kearney determined that there were 15,760 valid signatures, which is more than 10,562 names needed to put an initiative ordinance on the ballot.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION V

The Federal Government spends almost $200 billion for military and related purposes, up 10% from last year. In contrast, $38 billion is spent on housing and $10 billion on education.

The people of this country suffer under an intolerable tax burden. San Franciscans will pay $789 million in federal income taxes this year of which $435 million will go to the military. This is more than the City's total property taxes before Proposition 13.

The Proposition 13 savings went mostly to business, some to homeowners and none to tenants. The cost has been drastic cuts in schools and other cuts averted only by the State surplus, the continuation of which is tenuous at best.

The real solution to the tax burden is not Proposition 13, layoffs, cutbacks or new taxes, but to change our nation's priorities. Current military spending greatly exceeds any conceivable defensive need. The military is the greatest threat to world peace by exporting $16.3 billion in arms this year and by stationing troops around the world.

Military spending creates fewer jobs than spending in the civilian economy. The Vietnam war and foreign aid show that our tax money has been used to support dictators who suppress political and human rights. The resulting low wages in those countries has caused industry to relocate there and deprive our people of jobs. Military spending has been the major cause of deficit spending, thereby causing inflation.

JOBS WITH PEACE IS THE STRONGEST STATEMENT WE CAN NOW MAKE THAT OUR COUNTRY MOVE TOWARDS PEACE AND REDUCE THE INCREASING WAR PREPARATION AND THE POSSIBILITY OF WAR ITSELF. OUR CHILDREN NEED SCHOOLS, OUR PEOPLE NEED HEALTH CARE, HOUSING, FOOD AND JOBS. OUR NATIONAL SECURITY LIES IN THE WELL-BEING OF OUR PEOPLE. WE DEMAND JOBS WITH PEACE. YES ON V.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION V

The labor movement stands for real national security, but it recognizes that the 130 billion military budget contains much waste and fat; it is the only source for adequate funding of jobs programs, housing, health insurance, education, environmental protection and aid to cities. Furthermore, military spending creates only half as many private industry jobs as spending on peoples' programs. Also military spending is the most inflationary type of government spending. Even large defense unions (Auto workers, Machinists) favor cutting the military budget, along with many other large unions, the Industrial Union Department of AFL-CIO and sixty Bay Area local unions.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION V

"Do you really want your taxes cut? Does inflation rob you of your buying power? Then vote for Proposition V (for the transfer amendment initiative). The big tax rip off is not local but federal. High taxes and inflation, are, in the main, caused by the billions spent on a military machine that creates no consumer goods while eating up America's basic resources. Funds should be transferred from the swollen military budget to provide money for jobs, housing and necessary services to the people."

PROPOSITION W

Declaration of Policy: We, the people of San Francisco, demand that the District Attorney, along with the Chief of Police, cease the arrest and prosecution of individuals involved in the cultivation, transfer, or possession of marijuana.

Analysis

By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: Law enforcement officials may arrest and prosecute any individuals they find who are involved in the cultivation, transfer or possession of marijuana.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition W would declare that it is the policy of the people of San Francisco to demand that law enforcement officials stop arresting and prosecuting people who cultivate, transfer or possess marijuana.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want law enforcement officials in San Francisco to stop arresting and prosecuting people who cultivate, transfer or possess marijuana.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you want law enforcement officials to continue their present policy of arresting and prosecuting people for marijuana cultivation, transfer or possession.

Controller's Statement on "W"

City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition W:

If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, it would not, of itself, affect the cost of government.

How Proposition W Got On The Ballot

On August 17th, City Registrar of Voters Thomas Kearney certified that the initiative petition containing Proposition W had qualified for the November ballot. Proposition W is a declaration of policy that declares it to be City and County policy that persons not be arrested for Marijuana offenses.

Dennis Peron and Rick Ames, the proponents of the initiative, filed 20,800 signatures with Kearney on August 9th. After checking the signatures, Kearney determined that there were 11,840 valid signatures, which is more than the 10,562 names needed to put an initiative ordinance on the ballot.

10,562 represents 5% of the number of people who voted for Mayor in 1975.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION W

In 1972, the voters of San Francisco approved a state-wide initiative to decriminalize marijuana possession and cultivation. In 1975, San Francisco voters elected a mayor and district attorney who had campaigned against marijuana law enforcement. For several years, San Francisco voters have been electing state legislators who are strong advocates of marijuana reform.

Yet today, in 1978, the archaic marijuana laws are still being vigorously enforced in San Francisco. Violent crime has dramatically increased, yet the police still enforce a set of laws which most San Francisco voters are opposed to.

Since the passage of Proposition 13 (Jarvis-Gann) millions of dollars have been cut from city services. But no cuts have been made in the non-essential “service” of the arrest and harassment of innocent individuals.

Proposition W does not change the laws.

Proposition W is a message to the elected officials of San Francisco that the voters want to see the campaign promises of the last six years fulfilled. It leaves it up to the elected officials how to do it; but the message is clear to CHANGE OUR PRIORITIES. While marijuana laws can't be ignored without a change in state laws, they can be put at the lowest priority.

The voters of San Francisco have this chance to tell their elected officials what they see as the proper role of city government: to protect your morals, or to protect your rights?

Vote YES on Proposition W.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION W

Proposition W is a policy statement submitted to determine the views of San Francisco voters regarding enforcement of the marijuana laws.

Proposition W calls upon the San Francisco Police Chief and District Attorney to concentrate on the enforcement and prosecution of serious and violent crimes by deemphasizing marijuana offenses. It would help establish a rational and sensible set of of law enforcement priorities.

Proposition W would neither legalize nor decriminalize marijuana in San Francisco, as such statutory changes can only be made at the state and federal levels. As a policy statement, Proposition W does not conflict with the constitutional authority of the state legislature to establish penalties and procedures for enforcement of the marijuana laws, but rather serves as an expression, of the views of San Francisco voters on appropriate local guidelines.

Because of fiscal restraints imposed on all public agencies — including law enforcement — by Proposition 13 in June, it is essential that our limited law enforcement resources be concentrated on combatting truly serious crimes and not wasted on enforcement of laws against consensual conduct. Police and court time are too valuable to be needlessly expended on marijuana offenses at a time when serious crime is a real problem in San Francisco.

Proposition W is not only right; it makes fiscal sense. Vote “YES” on Proposition W.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION W

(Marijuana Initiative)

A great deal of money and time went into the enforcement of laws against alcohol during Prohibition. Many lives were ruined and many families put through troubled times. The laws were unenforceable, despite the expensive attempts of the government.

Eventually, the majority of people saw better and repealed the Prohibition laws.

Now, we have laws on the books against marijuana. Again, we see millions of dollars spent each year trying to control people from doing what they will do anyway. Each year, we see more states easing the penalties against the use of marijuana. Health experts are coming to the conclusion that smoking marijuana is not harmful or certainly less harmful than alcohol.

Yet we still carry on the books laws against marijuana because of political reasons. Year after year, money is wasted trying to enforce unenforceable laws, money that could be used to deal with far more important problems. Year after year, more people, especially young people, waste their lives in jail for offenses which can hardly be considered criminal.

Proposition W does not change the laws.

Proposition W does not stop their enforcement.

All this policy statement is meant to do is to tell the city leaders that San Franciscans don’t want to see valuable police time and money spent enforcing marijuana laws. It will tell city leaders that they should work to change them.

This is a policy statement and nothing more. It says that too many lives have been wasted already because of these laws. It says that too much money has been spent on their enforcement. It says that there is no real crime or hazard in smoking marijuana.

We know from history that allowing people to drink alcohol didn’t turn the entire nation into drunks. The time has come for the same sensibility to be applied to marijuana.

CHARTER COMMISSION

PROPOSITION X
Shall a Charter Commission be elected to propose a new charter or to revise the charter?

Analysis
By Ballot Simplification Committee

THE WAY IT IS NOW: The present City Charter of San Francisco went into effect in 1932. Since then it has been amended many times, but not rewritten in its entirety.

THE PROPOSAL: Proposition X would declare that it is the policy of the people of San Francisco to elect a Charter Commission which would meet to write a new or revised Charter for the City.

A YES VOTE MEANS: If you vote yes, you want to have a Charter Commission elected to write a new or revised Charter for San Francisco.

A NO VOTE MEANS: If you vote no, you do not want to create a Charter Commission elected for that purpose.

Controller’s Statement on "X"
City Controller John C. Farrell has issued the following statement on the fiscal impact of Proposition X:
If the proposed proposition is adopted, in my opinion, the cost of government would be increased by approximately $375,500.

How Proposition X Got On The Ballot
Please note that the Board of Supervisors was mandated by State law to place the above measure on the ballot. The vote by the Supervisors on placing this matter on the ballot was:
"No" — Supervisors Feinstein, Gonzales, Kopp, Pelosi.
ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSITION X

Many among us believe that San Francisco’s government is expensive, inefficient and wasteful. A major cause of this is the City Charter.

The present Charter fragments the responsibility and authority of the Mayor and Board of Supervisors and grants powers to numerous boards and commissions not responsible to the voters. It makes it difficult for citizens to be heard. Most importantly, it requires obsolete budget practices which make it difficult to manage government efficiently. It is estimated that over $20,000,000 could be saved each year by improved data processing, employment practices and related reforms that are not now possible because of the present charter.

The Charter is lengthy and deals with many trivial matters that could be dealt with more effectively through ordinances. Witness the large number of charter amendments in this election.

The Charter was written to handle the problems of the 1930’s, not those of today and tomorrow. It is now 47 years old and has been amended over 500 times. The amendments are expensive to print, mail and implement, costing taxpayers much more in the long run than charter modernization would. They have left us with a Charter so confusing that few people understand it.

A YES vote on Proposition X will allow the election of a Charter Commission which will write a new Charter, hold public hearings and submit it to the voters in a future election. If Proposition X passes, voters will elect 15 Charter Commissioners from among the candidates whose names appear elsewhere on this ballot.

The voters, by passing Proposition L last June, showed that they feel it is time to modernize the Charter.

Certain special interests are now saying that the people shouldn’t have this opportunity to elect a Commission.

We think it is the time to bring our city government into line with the times and to make it as efficient and effective as the people demand and deserve.

We urge you to vote YES on Proposition X.

ARGUMENT AGAINST PROPOSITION X

It is unconscionable to obligate possibly millions of dollars for this project after Proposition 13. Every extra penny should go to child-care, health services, senior citizens’ or handicapped needs, education, parks and libraries. Hopefully, the Controller will now state exact figures. Not only will costs double, but the entire Charter and revisions must be communicated in three languages. There are more satisfactory and economical ways to update our Charter. I urge your emphatic NO vote on Proposition “X”.

Vote "No" on Proposition X

When things go badly in government, the easiest answer is to blame it on the system, instead of the administrators. Our Charter is a sound constitution. It separates powers between the executive (mayor) and the legislative (Board of Supervisors) branches. It contains successful fiscal restraints and checks and procedures to prevent the purloining of the public purse.

The Charter has worked well and can continue to do so, given proper administrators.

Moreover, the establishment, of yet another Charter Commission to redraft the Charter would be time consuming and expensive. You, the voter, should be aware of the costs. They will include money for research, staff salaries, office expenses, materials, printing, postage, and even transportation of witnesses. There will also be the costs of mailing any redrafted Charter PLUS the existing Charter to all voters, in at least three languages, before it is voted on. And, there is no assurance that any redrafted Charter will be approved by the voters. Regardless of the outcome, the Board of Supervisors will be asked to appropriate an undetermined amount of taxpayer's monies for this purpose. The costs will exceed $750,000.

The 1968-72 Charter Revision Commission spent over $160,000 for salaries, office supplies, transportation, repairs and Commissioners' meals. It spent over $400,000 for mailing its proposal to voters. These expenses, over $560,000, were paid by the taxpayers of San Francisco, although the end product, a revised Charter, was disapproved by the electorate.

There have been several committees to revise the Charter. All have failed. The establishment of a new charter revision commission at a time when there is a crying need for fiscal restraint is untimely and unjustified. There are budget cuts in health, education, recreation and other government services. There are sharp increases in fees and charges like the sewer service charge. Approving a proposal to expend upwards of perhaps one million dollars for an unnecessary commission with no determined end result is simply wrong.

The Hetch Hetchy project shall not be deemed completed until a specific finding of completion thereof has been made by the public utilities commission and approved by the board of supervisors by a two-thirds vote of all members.

NOTE: Additions or substitutions are indicated by boldface type; deletions are indicated by ((double parentheses)).

3.661 General Powers and Duties

(a) The civil service commission shall be the employment and personnel department of the city and county and shall determine appointments on the basis of merit and fitness, as shown by appropriate tests. The commission shall classify, and from time to time may reclassify, in accordance with duties and responsibilities of the employment, and training and experience required, all places of employment in the departments and offices of the city and county not specifically exempted by this charter from the civil service provisions thereof, or which may be created hereafter by general law and not specifically exempted from said civil service provisions. The commission shall likewise classify all other positions or other places of employment in the city and county service specifically exempted from the civil service provisions of this charter, but which, by the provisions of section 8.401 thereof, are made subject to classification for salary standardization purposes on the basis of duties and responsibilities of the employment and training and experience required. The civil service commission shall be the judge of such classification.

The commission shall also, in accordance with duties and responsibilities, allocate, and from time to time may reallocate, the positions to the various classes of the classification. The allocation or re-allocation of a position shall not adversely affect the civil service rights of an occupant regularly holding such position. No person shall hold a position outside of the classification to which he has been appointed, provided that every employee of any department or office shall discharge any of the duties pertaining to such department or office to which his chief may temporarily assign him.

The class titles and class numbers assigned to positions by the commission shall be used in all records, reports, statements and communications, including the compensation schedule, annual budget and salary ordinance, payrolls, and appropriation ordinances.

The commission shall adopt rules to carry out the civil service provisions of this charter and, except as otherwise provided in this charter, such rules shall govern applications; examinations; eligibility; duration of eligible lists; certification of eligibles; appointments; promotions; transfers; resignations; lay-offs or reduction in force, both permanent and temporary, due to lack of work or funds, retrenchment, or completion of work; the filling of positions, temporary, seasonal and permanent; classification; approval of payrolls; and such other matters as are not in conflict with this charter. The commission may, upon one week's notice, make changes in the rules, which change shall thereupon be printed, and be in force; provided that no such changes in rules shall affect a case pending before the commission. The secretary may certify eligibles and payrolls and conduct examinations under the rules of the commission.

The commissioners shall have power to institute and prosecute legal proceedings for violations of any of the civil service provisions of this charter.

(b) The civil service commission shall establish an inspection service for the purpose of investigating the conduct and action of appointees in all positions and of securing records of service for promotion and other purposes. All departments shall cooperate with the commission in making its investigations and any person hindering the commission or its agents shall be subject to suspension.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Charter, the civil service commission shall by rule establish procedures to review and resolve allegations of discrimination on the basis of race, religion, sex, national origin, ethnicity, age, physical handicap, political affiliation, sexual orientation, ancestry, marital status, color, medical condition or other non-merit factors. The determination reached under civil service commission procedures shall be final and shall forthwith be enforced by every employee and officer.

8.310. Declaration of Personnel Policy
(a) All appointments in the public service shall be made for the good of the public service and solely upon merit and fitness, as established by appropriate tests, without regard to partisan, political, social or other considerations. No person shall in any way be favored or discriminated against in employment or opportunity for employment because of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, political affiliation, age, religion, national origin or other non-merit factors.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in subsection (a) or any other provisions of the charter, it shall be the policy of the City and County of San Francisco, consistent with a policy of acquiring qualified personnel for the service of the city and county, to encourage the hiring of blind persons. It shall further be the policy of the City and County of San Francisco that no otherwise qualified blind person shall be discriminated against in examination, re-examination, appointment, reappointment, waiver of eligibility for appointment or reappointment, promotion or demotion in any class, subclass or position in the civil service unless eyesight is indispensable for the performance of the duties and responsibilities of the class, subclass or position. It shall be the duty of the commission to classify, and from time to time it may reclassify, places of employment in the civil service the duties of which may be efficiently performed by qualified blind persons and to conduct appropriate examinations which will fairly test the capacity of blind persons as well as sighted persons to perform such duties.

8.321. Examination of Applicants

All applicants for places in the classified service shall submit to ((tests)) examinations which shall be competitive provided, however, that no ((test)) examination ((in either entrance or promotional examinations)) shall be deemed to be competitive unless two or more persons shall participate, except that any such examination may be held for one qualified applicant on recommendation of the civil service commission and approval by resolution of the board of supervisors, after a finding by the board that reasonable publicity of the proposed examination has been given ((by the civil service commission)). Such ((tests)) examinations shall be without charge to the applicants. The commission shall control all examinations and may employ suitable persons in or out of the public service to act as examiners. The ((tests may be written, oral, mechanical or physical, or any combination of them, practical in character and related to matters)) examinations used shall measure the relative capacities of the persons examined to perform the functions, duties and responsibilities of the classification to which they seek appointment. Examinations shall consist of selection techniques which will test fairly ((to test)) the relative ((capacity)) qualifications, merit and fitness of the applicants for the position to be filled.

Examinations may include written tests to determine job-related aptitude, knowledge, or achievements and oral tests by qualifications appraisal boards. The civil service commission shall establish rules governing the size and composition of qualification appraisal board. Qualification appraisal boards may consider, in the case of employees of the City and County of San Francisco, all prior performance evaluations completed on civil service forms and in the case of all applicants may consider prior work experience, assessment center evaluations, and work samples as a part of their evaluation of candidates for employment to any position. Appropriate rosters of eligibles established by a trade, craft or occupation joint apprenticeship committee recognized by the State of California Department of Industrial Relations, Division of Apprenticeship Standards, may be utilized to fill apprenticeship positions or as the basis for establishing apprenticeship eligibility lists. The commission shall be the sole judge of the adequacy of the tests to rate the capacity of the applicants to perform service for the city and county. The commission may, for each examination, establish a passing mark or may determine the total number of persons who shall constitute the list of eligibles. The commission shall prepare from the returns of the examiners the list of eligibles, arranged in order of relative ((excellence)) performance. No question submitted to applicants shall refer to political or religious opinions or fraternal affiliations.

(Applicants for positions in the mechanical trades and occupations may, in the discretion of the commission, be rated solely on experience and physical qualifications which may be demonstrated by such evidence and in such manner as the commission may direct, and such applicants may be submitted to such further tests as the commission may require.)

8.322. Protest of Written Questions and Answers

After the written portion of a civil service examination has been held, ((and prior to the scoring thereof,)) the questions used and the answers thereto shall be available for review by the participants. This review period shall not apply to questions and answers on any continuous or standardized entrance or concurrent entrance and promotive written test. During the review period, participants shall have an opportunity to protest questions or answers they believe to be incorrect or improper. ((The written portion of the examination shall not be scored until all protested items have been acted on and an official rating key has been adopted.) After all protested items have been acted on and after the official rating key has been adopted, and the identification sheets have been opened, ((no)) further changes in the rating key shall not be made.

8.323. Protest of Tentative List of Eligibles

Following the completion of any examination, a tentative list of eligibles shall be posted for the inspection of the public and of participants. The posting period shall be for a minimum of three (3) working days for entrance examinations or five (5) working days for promotional or combined entrance and promotive examinations. During this period a fee for the inspection of the papers of each eligible shall be charged by the civil service commission. The amount of such fee shall be established by ordinance of the board of supervisors. The fee shall be waived for eligibles who wish to inspect their own papers. Inspection of papers shall include all documents supporting the eligible’s rank and score, except neither the identity of the examiner giving any mark or grade in an oral examination nor the questions and answers on any continuous or standardized entrance or concurrent entrance and promotive written test, shall be provided. Only participants in the examination may review the questions used in the examination. (The civil service commission shall receive any protests concerning rating during the posting period for the purpose of correcting errors.) If no protests are received during the posting period, the eligible list is automatically adopted. If protests are received during the posting period, the investigation and action of the civil service commission general manager, personnel, shall be expedited so that final adoption of the eligible list is not delayed beyond sixty (60) days after the date of posting. Eligibles who, as a result of their ranking, would receive a notice of appointment regardless of the outcome of the protest(s) may be offered employment from adopted lists pending the resolution of any protest(s) and amendment to the adopted eligible list.

8.326 Promotions in General

Except as specifically provided for in section 8.327, (whenever it deems it to be practicable, the civil service commission shall provide for promotion in the service on the basis of such examinations and tests as the commission may deem appropriate, and shall, in addition, give consideration to ascertain merit and records of city and county service of applicants. The commission shall announce in the examination scope circular the next lower rank or ranks from which the promotion will be made.) The Civil Service Commission shall provide for examinations on an entrance, promotive or combination entrance and promotive basis. Consideration shall be given to permanent employees in separate promotive examinations and in promotive examinations which are combined with entrance examinations for city and county service when the passing mark has been attained and may include evaluation of work performance and other credits. When an examination announcement is issued for a class on both a promotive and entrance basis, there shall be one resulting list of eligibles which shall include all successful candidates both promotive and entrance in order of relative performance.

8.340 Dismissal During Probation Period

Any person appointed to a permanent position shall ((be on probation for a period of six months)) serve a probationary period. The civil service commission shall by rule establish a probationary period of not less than six months service and up to a maximum of twelve months service for each classification, provided that the probationary period for entrance positions in the uniform rank of the police department, fire department, sheriff’s department and San Francisco International Airport Police Force shall be for one year. Probationary periods of twelve months and up to a maximum of twenty-four months may be established for executive and management classifications. At any time during the probationary period the appointing officer may terminate the appointment upon giving written notice of such termination to the employee and to the civil service commission specifying the reasons for such termination. Except in the case of ((uniformed)) members of the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments the civil service commission shall ((inquire into)) review the ((circumstances)) termination. The civil service commission shall by rule establish the procedures for such review. If the appointment resulted from an entrance examination the commission may declare such person dismissed or may return the name to the list of eligibles under such conditions for further appointment as the commission may deem just. If the appointment resulted from a promotional examination the employee shall have the right of appeal and hearing before the civil service commission. The commission shall render a decision within thirty days after receipt of the notice of termination and (a) may declare such person dismissed; or (b) order such person reinstated in his position without prejudice, and the commission may in its discretion order that the employee be paid salary from time of the termination of his appointment; or (c) order the return of such person to (((the)) a position in the classification from which he was promoted and may reestablish the employee’s eligibility to a list of eligibles for the same promotive classification under such conditions as the commission may deem just. The decision of the commission shall be final. Immediately prior to the expiration of the probationary period the appointing officer shall report to the civil service commission as to the competence of the probationer for the position, and if competent, shall recommend permanent appointment. Nothing in this section shall preclude the civil service commission from reviewing terminations for the purpose of future employability including terminations in the uniform ranks of the police and fire departments.

8.341. Dismissal for Cause

No person employed under the civil service provisions of this charter, exclusive of members of the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments as provided under section 8.343 hereof, in a position defined by the commission as “permanent” shall be removed or discharged except for cause, upon written charges, and after an opportunity to be heard in his own defense. Pending such hearing, the appointing officer may suspend the person so accused if the accusation against the accused person involves misappropriation of public funds or property, misuse or destruction of public property, drug addiction or habitual intemperance, mistreatment of persons, immorality, acts which would constitute a felony or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or acts which present an immediate danger to the public health and safety; but such suspension shall not be valid for more than thirty days unless hearing upon the charges shall be delayed beyond such time by the act of the accused person. When charges are made, the appointing officer shall, in writing, notify the person accused of the time and place when the charges will be heard, by mailing such statement to his last known address. The hearing shall be conducted forthwith by a qualified and unbiased hearing officer employed under contract by the city and county and selected by procedures set forth in the rules of the civil service commission. The hearing officer shall publicly hear and determine the charges, and may exonerate, suspend or dismiss the accused.

If the employee is exonerated the hearing officer may,
at his discretion, remit the full period of the suspension or any portion thereof and may order payment of salary to the employee for the prescribed period of time under suspension, and the report of such period of suspension shall thereupon be expunged from the record of service of such employee.

The civil service commission shall immediately be notified of the charges when made, of the hearing, and of the finding thereon. The finding of the hearing officer shall be final, unless within thirty days thereafter the dismissed employee appeals to the civil service commission. The appeal shall be in writing and shall briefly state the grounds therefor. The civil service commission shall examine into the case and may require the hearing officer to furnish a record of the hearing and may require any additional evidence it deems material under conditions established by rule of the civil service commission, and may, thereupon, make such decision as it deems just. The order or decision of the commission upon such appeal shall be final and shall forthwith be enforced by the appointing officer. If the civil service commission shall reverse or alter the finding of the hearing officer it may, in its discretion, order that the employee affected be paid salary from the time of his discharge or suspension.)

The civil service commission may hear and determine any charge filed by a citizen or by any member of or ((the)) authorized agent((s)) of the commission when the appointing officer neglects or refuses to ((act)) bring such charge against the employee within thirty days of notification to the department head of the occurrence or event given rise to the charge. Removal or discharge may be made for any ((of the following causes: incompetence, habitual intemperance, immoral conduct, insubordination, discourteous treatment of the public, dishonesty, inattention to duties, or engaging in prohibited political activities)) cause upon written charges and after the employee has had the opportunity to be heard in his own defense.

Nothing in this section shall limit or restrict rules adopted by the commission governing lay-offs or reduction in force or providing for the removal of any appointee who has abandoned his position as defined by civil service commission rule.

8.343. Fine, Suspension and Dismissal in Police and Fire Departments

Members of the uniformed ranks of the fire or the police department guilty of any offense or violation of the rules and regulations of their respective departments, shall be liable to be punished by reprimand, or by fine not exceeding one month's salary for any offense, or by suspension for not to exceed three months, or by dismissal, after trial and hearing by the commissioners of their respective departments; provided, however, that the chief of each respective department for disciplinary purposes may suspend ((a)) such member for a period not to exceed ten days for violation of the rules and regulations of his department. Any such member so suspended shall have the right to appeal such suspension to the fire commission or to the police commission, as the case may be, and have a trial and hearing on such suspension. Written notice of appeal must be filed within 10 days after such suspension and the hearing of said appeal must be held within 30 days after the filing of said notice of appeal. If the commission shall reverse or alter the finding of the chief, it shall in the case of a reversal and in other cases it may in its discretion, order that the member affected be paid salary for the time of his suspension. In the event the chief should exercise such power of suspension, the member involved shall not be subject to any further disciplinary action for the same offense.

Subject to the foregoing members of the uniformed ranks of either department shall not be subject to dismissal, nor to punishment for any breach of duty or misconduct, except for cause, nor until after a fair and impartial trial before the commissioners of their respective departments, upon a verified complaint filed with such commission setting forth specifically the acts complained of, and after such reasonable notice to them as to time and place of hearings as such commission may, by rule, prescribe. The accused shall be entitled, upon hearing, to appear personally and by counsel; to have a public trial; and to secure and enforce, free of expense, the attendance of all witnesses necessary for his defense.

8.344. Exoneration of Charges

If, as provided for in section 8.343 a member of the uniformed ranks of the police and fire departments is suspended by the chief of ((police)) the respective department pending hearing before the police or fire commission for charges filed against him and subsequently takes a leave of absence without pay pending his trial before the commission, and, if after such trial he is exonerated of the charges filed against him, the commission may, at its discretion, remit the suspension and leave of absence without pay and may order payment of salary to ((the)) such member for the time under suspension and on leave of absence without pay, and the report of such suspension and leave of absence without pay shall thereupon be expunged from the record of service of such member.

8.361. Military and War Effort Leaves of Absence

Leaves of absence shall be granted to officers and employees of the City and County of San Francisco and non-certificated officers and employees of the San Francisco Unified School District for service in the armed forces of the United States or the State of California or for service on ships operated by or for the United States government in time of war and for such time thereafter as may be provided by rule of the civil service commission, but not to exceed two (2) years after the ((proclamation of peace)) cessation of hostilities, except in case of disability incurred while in active service with the armed forces or the merchant marine when such disability shall extend beyond such period.

The phrase "time of war", wherever it occurs in this section, is defined in Section 8.324 of this Charter.
Whenever any officer or employee of the City and County of San Francisco, or any non-certificated officer or employee of the San Francisco Unified School District shall, by order of the government of the United States or by lawful order of any of its departments or officers, or by lawful order of the State of California, or any of its departments or officers, be directed in time of peace to report and serve in the armed forces of the United States, or in the armed forces of the State of California, said officer or employee shall be entitled to a leave of absence from his office or position during the time of such service and for a period not to exceed three (3) months after the expiration thereof. Officers and employees entering or being induced into any of the services requiring military leave as provided in this section shall file with the civil service commission a copy of the orders necessitating such service prior to the effective date of the leave of absence. Leaves granted pursuant to the provisions of this and the preceding paragraph of this section shall be designated "military leaves."

The board of supervisors may, on the recommendation of the civil service commission, provide by ordinance that leaves of absence shall be granted to officers and employees during time of war (or during any emergency declared by the President of the United States,) for other service directly connected with the prosecution of the war or national defense or preparedness. Leaves granted under authority of ordinances enacted pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph shall be designated "war effort leaves."

In time of war (emergency declared by the President of the United States or by the Congress), or while any act authorizing compulsory military service or training is in effect, the board of supervisors, upon recommendation of the civil service commission, may provide by ordinance that subject to rules of the civil service commission leaves of absence shall be granted to officers and employees of the City and County of San Francisco and non-certificated officers and employees of the San Francisco Unified School District for sea duty as licensed officers aboard ships operated by or for the United States government.

Any officer or employee on military leave, who, prior to such leave, has been appointed to a permanent position in the city and county service, shall be entitled to resume such position at the expiration of his leave; and in determining and fixing rights, seniority, salary and otherwise, which have accrued and shall inure to the benefit of such officer or employee, the term of military leave shall be considered and accounted a part of his service under the city and county.

Persons serving on active duty, not including reserve service, in the armed forces of the United States or the State of California during time of war (or during any emergency lawfully declared by the President of the United States), who have standing on an eligible list, shall retain their places thereon, and upon presenting an honorable discharge or certificate of honorable active service from such military service within the period of time and subject to the conditions as prescribed by rules of the civil service commission, shall be preferred for appointment for a period of four (4) years after the ((proclamation of peace or the termination of said emergency)) cessation of hostilities in the order of standing upon such register at the time of entering such military service and before candidates procuring standing through an examination held subsequent to the entrance of such eligibles into the military service. If while in said military service the names of such persons are reached for certification to permanent positions, appointments shall be made to serve until such persons in the military service shall present to the civil service commission an honorable discharge or certificate of honorable active service within the period of time and subject to the conditions as prescribed by rules of the civil service commission, but not more than one (1) year after the date of discharge of each such eligible, when they shall be certified and assume the duties of positions in said class and their certification to said position for all purposes of seniority shall be deemed to be the date when their names on such eligible lists were reached for certification. Provided that each appointee to a position shall serve such probationary period as is required in section 8.340 of this charter, and provided that such employee while serving on such probation shall be permitted to participate in any promotional examination to which his classification is eligible but shall not be entitled to certification by virtue of such promotional examination prior to satisfactory completion of said probationary period and provided further that no such persons shall be certified to entrance positions in the uniformed ranks of the police department (and fire departments under this provision) who are more than thirty-five (35) years of age or in the fire department who are more than thirty-two (32) years of age unless the names of such persons were reached for certification to such positions before such persons reached said age.

Persons who participate in a regular written civil service examination and who by reason of their active services in time of war in the (Army, Navy or Marine Corps) United States Army, United States Navy, United States Marine Corps, United States Air Force, or United States Coast Guard are unable to complete all parts of the examination and who present their orders or other competent proof of service in the same manner as is required of eligibles, shall acquire standing on eligible lists in accordance with the relative excellence attained by participation in the part or parts of the examinations already completed; provided that upon presenting their honorable discharges or certificates of honorable active service within the time limits specified in this section covering eligibles, they must qualify in the remainder of the examinations. When qualified they shall be certified as of the date they would have been reached for certification in accordance with the relative excellence attained by their participation in the entire examination.

The civil service commission shall adopt rules to govern the administration of leaves as herein provided and to govern lay-offs occasioned by the return of officers, employees, or eligibles who have been appointed and granted leave or certified as provided in this section.

In the event a vacancy occurs during the term of office of any member, the Mayor shall appoint, for the unexpired term of the office vacated, a successor in a manner similar to that described herein for the initial members.

The Advisory Committee shall elect from its members a chairman and a secretary to hold office for one year, or until their successors are duly elected and qualified. The Secretary shall keep an accurate record of all proceedings of the Advisory Committee which shall be open to inspection by the public at all times.

The members serving on the Advisory Committee established by Ordinance 483-75 are authorized to continue their respective terms with the passage of this Ordinance, but shall be reappointed or replaced at the expiration of their terms by successors appointed pursuant to the provisions of this Ordinance.

SEC. 3. Application. Every person desiring certification as a Street Artist or Craftsperson pursuant to this Ordinance shall file an application with the Art Commission upon a form provided by said Commission. Except as otherwise provided for herein, said application shall specify:

(a) The applicant's residence address and telephone number, the address of the place where the work of art or craft is produced, and the mailing address of a person through whom the applicant may always be reached.

(c) A declaration under penalty of perjury that the art or craft for which the applicant seeks certification has been designed and handmade by the applicant or by the applicant's family unit, and that the applicant neither employs other persons nor is employed by another person in the production of the art or craft item for which the applicant seeks certification.

SEC. 4. Examination. Upon receipt of an application filed pursuant to this ordinance, the Executive Director of the Art Commission shall transmit the same to the Advisory Committee. All applications shall be acted upon in the order in which they have been or shall be filed with the Art Commission pursuant to this ordinance or its predecessor legislation.

In its review of an application the Advisory Committee shall examine representative samples of the applicant's work. Such examination shall take place first at the regular screening meeting of the Advisory Committee, and, for the purposes of further investigation, the Advisory Committee may designate one or more of its members to visit a studio or workshop of the applicant. The purposes of such examination shall be to verify the information set forth in the application, and to evaluate the item or items to determine that they are, in fact, designed and handmade by the individual Street Artist or Craftsperson or his family.
shall entitle holders to exercise the rights, privileges and powers of Street Artists subject to the same duties, restrictions and responsibilities as those imposed on Street Artists, except that holders of the Conditional Street Artist Certificates may exercise such rights, privileges and powers on selling spaces allotted by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors for use by Street Artists only where such spaces are unoccupied by a holder of a Street Artist Certificate up to the hour of 12:00 o’clock noon of any day. After 12:00 o’clock noon of any day, no Street Artist may validly claim a selling space against a holder of a Conditional Street Artist Certificate who has earlier begun to set up his or her display. The Art Commission shall have the authority to establish whatever rules and regulations it shall deem necessary and reasonable to allot available selling areas for use by holders of Conditional Street Artist Certificates.

A Conditional Street Artist Certificate shall be substantially the same in form as the Street Artist Certificate with the insertion of the word “Conditional” appearing on the face before the word “Certificate”.

The Conditional Street Artist Certificate shall require payment of the same certificate fee required for the Street Artist Certificate and shall be issued to applicants for the Street Artist Certificate in the order that such applicants shall or would be assigned to the Street Artist Waiting List, and the holder of a Conditional Street Artist Certificate and a person who refuses a Conditional Street Artist Certificate maintains, for all purposes, his or her position on such waiting list.

SEC. 7. Certificate Fee; Period. The fee for any certificate issued pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance shall be twenty dollars ($20), and said certificate shall be valid for a period of three months from the date of issuance. The Board of Supervisors is authorized to increase this fee, by ordinance, upon receiving competent information that such increase is necessary and proper. With the passage of this ordinance, the certificates of all Street Artists and Craftsmen duly certified by the Art Commission, in accordance with the provisions of Ordinance 483-75, shall remain valid until the date of expiration listed therein.

SEC. 8. Renewal of Certificate. All certificate renewals shall be made automatically upon payment of the fee, unless the Art Commission determines in its discretion that additional examination is warranted, in which case the Street Artist’s Certificate in issue shall continue in full force and effect pending the outcome of such examination. All Street Artists or Craftsmen must renew certificates, in person, within ten (10) office work days prior to or after the certificate’s date of expiration. Failure to renew results in forfeiture of the certificate. A Street Artist or Craftsman who has forfeited his certificate in this manner and wishes to obtain a new certificate must reapply, and the application shall be placed at the end of the list of applicants waiting to be examined.

SEC. 9. Revocation or Denial of Certificates; Appeal. Any certificate issued pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance may be revoked by the Art Commission for good cause shown; any application for a certificate to be issued pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance may be denied by the Art Commission for good cause shown. The Street Artists Program shall advise the certificate holder or the certificate applicant of the revocation or the denial, in writing, which writing shall clearly set forth the grounds for the revocation or denial.

A Street Artist or Craftsperon aggrieved by the Advisory Committee's action shall have the right to appeal the decision to the Art Commission. An appeal may be taken by filing with the Commission a written statement setting forth in full the grounds for appeal. The Commission is authorized to issue such regulations as may be reasonable and necessary to hear and determine such appeals. Such regulations, which shall be in writing, shall be available to any person so requesting them. A Street Artist or Craftsperon aggrieved by action of the Art Commission shall have the right to appeal to the Board of Permit Appeals.

SEC. 10. Regulating Street Artists and Craftsersons.

It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, offer for sale, expose for sale, or solicit offers to purchase, any art or craft work of his own creation on any public street or public place in a space where such activities are permitted, unless duly certified as a Street Artist or Craftsperon pursuant to the provisions of this Ordinance.

(a) The Art Commission shall establish procedures for monitoring and regulating certificate-holders pursuant to Section 10 of this ordinance and shall have the duty to enforce those regulations.

SEC. 12. Designation of Sales Areas.

(a) The Board of Supervisors, by resolution after public hearings thereon, shall designate areas in or on any public street or public place where any Street Artist or Craftsperon certified pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance may sell, offer for sale, expose for sale, or solicit offers to purchase any art or craft item of the street artist's own creation; provided, however, that any designation of an area in a public place under the jurisdiction of an officer, board, or commission of the City and County shall be subject to the approval of such officer, board, or commission. In designating such areas, the Board of Supervisors may, by ordinance, impose such conditions and limitations as, in its discretion, are reasonable, proper and necessary to prevent any undue interference with normal pedestrian or vehicular traffic or any damage to surrounding property, including interference with use, view, or enjoyment of public parks.

(b) The Board of Supervisors shall establish a reasonable number of individual spaces for certificate-holders, not less than the number of spaces available on January 1, 1978, assuring that there is at all times a ratio of at least five spaces to seven certificate-holders. The spaces designated by the Board shall remain fixed unless altered by resolution by said Board.

In the event that the maximum number of certificates have been issued, no additional certificates shall be issued until either a certificate-holder forfeits his certificate or the Board of Supervisors designates additional sales spaces or areas, at which time the number of available certificates shall be issued to persons on the basis of their position on the waiting list and then, if there are fewer names on the waiting list than there are certificates available, to applicants satisfying the examination requirements of Section 4 of this Ordinance and whom the Art Commission shall approve.

SEC. 13. Repeal. The ordinance relative to certificates for Street Artists and Craftsersons, approved by the electorate as Proposition “L” on the ballot for the election held in the City and County of San Francisco on November 4, 1975, is hereby repealed.
income during the post-Proposition 13 adjustment period, the Board of Supervisors adopted amendments to said tax ordinances, effective June 30, 1978. However, the tax measures (Ordinances 296-78, 297-78 and 298-78) were repealed, effective August 7, 1978.

The people of the City and County of San Francisco hereby find that additional revenues may be required by the City and County of San Francisco to provide necessary municipal services during this period of national and international monetary inflation. Therefore, the rate of tax set forth in the ordinances which became effective on June 30, 1978 should be imposed. The people of the City and County of San Francisco further find that because the relief acts adopted by the State of California for the fiscal year 1978-1979 will insure sufficient levels of funding for municipal services for this fiscal year, a portion of the tax previously imposed by said tax ordinances should not be collected by the City and County of San Francisco during the 1978-1979 fiscal year and therefore taxpayers should be permitted to subtract a tax credit from their total tax liability pursuant to said ordinances.

Section 3. Incorporation By Reference: The provisions of Ordinance No. 245-68 as amended (Business Tax Ordinance), Ordinance No. 275-70 as amended (Payroll Tax Ordinances) and Ordinance No. 315-67 as amended (Real Property Transfer Tax Ordinance) are incorporated by reference herein as if fully set forth.

Section 4. Ordinance No. 245-68 (Business Tax Ordinance) is hereby amended by repealing Ordinance No. 371-78. Section 5. Ordinance No. 245-68 (the Business Tax Ordinance) is hereby amended by adding Section 4.16 thereto, to read as follows:

For those persons taxed pursuant to Section 4.12(c) (1) hereof, the tax credit shall be computed as follows:

For those persons taxed pursuant to Section 4.12(c) (2) hereof, the tax credit shall be computed by subtracting twenty-five percent (25%) of the tax due pursuant to this ordinance for days of use on or after the 30th day of June 1978 through the 30th day of June 1979 from that portion of the annual tax liability computed at the tax rate imposed on the 30th day of June 1978.

Section 6. Ordinance No. 275-70 (Payroll Expense Tax Ordinance) is hereby amended by repealing Ordinance No. 369-78. Section 3 as set forth in Ordinance 275-70 as amended, on the 30th day of June 1978, is hereby reinserted.

TEXT OF PROPOSED INITIATIVE ORDINANCE
PROPOSITION U

The people of the City and County of San Francisco do ordain as follows:

Section 1. Title. This ordinance shall be called the San Francisco Renters’ Property Tax Rebate Ordinance of 1978.

Section 2. Statement of Purpose. The People of the City and County of San Francisco find that there currently exists in San Francisco a growing shortage of rental housing units, a critically low vacancy rate, rapidly rising and exorbitant rents resulting from this shortage, and a significant percentage of residential tenants paying excessive portions of their income for rent. The People also find that landlords are presently making a just and reasonable return on their property investment and that landlords receive substantial benefits from ownership of rental property through state and federal tax savings, appreciation in property values and/or rental income. The People also find that high rents constitute a serious problem affecting the health, welfare, lives and businesses of a substantial proportion of residential and commercial occupants of rental property in San Francisco. In order to alleviate this serious problem, to guarantee that both residential and commercial tenants receive their fair share of the benefits resulting from the enactment of Article XIIIA of the California Constitution, to protect tenants against evictions designed to circumvent this ordinance, and to further guarantee that landlords receive a fair return on investment and charge fair rents, landlords will be required to pass on to residential and commercial tenants the reduction in real property taxes established by Article XIIIA of the California Constitution.

Section 3. Definitions. In this ordinance, the following words have the meanings indicated:

(a) Improvement means a valuable addition or change in a property’s condition, amounting to more than mere repairs or replacement of waste, which necessitates the expenditure of labor or capital, and which is intended to enhance the value, beauty, utility or safety of property.

(b) Landlord means any person entitled to receive rent for the use or occupancy of any regulated rental unit, and includes an owner, lessor, sublessor or agent thereof.

(c) Property means a parcel of real property, including buildings and improvements, containing one or more regulated rental units, which is assessed and taxed as an undivided whole.

(d) Regulated Rental Units mean all rental units in the City and County of San Francisco including all rental units constructed after the date of adoption of this ordinance except:

(i) residential rental units in hotels, motels, inns, tourist homes and boarding houses which are rented primarily to transient guests for a period of less than 14 days;

(ii) residential rental units in any hospital, convent, monastery, extended medical care facility, asylum, non-profit home for the aged, or dormitory owned and operated by an institution of higher education;

(iii) residential rental units which a government unit, agency or authority owns, operates, manages or in which governmentally-subsidized tenants reside if applicable Federal and/or State law or administrative regulation specifically exempts such units from rent regulation;

(iv) non-residential units with rental agreements in which there are percentage or escalator clauses in which rent varies with the business income of the tenant or the amount of property tax paid for the property;

(v) rental units for which the tenant pays or is directly responsible for payment of the entire property tax under the terms of the rental agreement; or

(vi) property which is exempt from property taxation.

(c) Rent means any payment demanded or received for in connection with occupancy of regulated rental units or the transfer of a lease for units. Rent includes but is not limited to payments demanded or paid for parking, pets, furniture and subletting.

(d) Rental Agreement means an agreement, verbal, written or implied, between a landlord and tenant for use or occupancy of a regulated rental unit, and for services.

(e) Rental Unit means any property, building, structure, or part thereof rented or offered for rent for living, dwelling or commercial purposes, together with all services connected with the use or occupancy of the property.

(f) Services means repairs, replacement, maintenance, painting, providing light, heat, hot and cold water, elevator service, window shades and screens, storage, kitchen, bath and laundry facilities and privileges, janitorial services, refuse removal, furnishings, telephone, parking and any other benefit, privilege or facility connected with the use or occupancy of any rental unit. Services of a rental unit include a proportionate part of services provided to common facilities of the building in which the rental unit is contained.

(g) Tenant means any person entitled under the terms of a rental agreement to the use or occupancy of a regulated rental unit.

Section 4. One Month Rent Stabilization, and One Year Property Tax Savings Rebate.

(a) One Month Rent Stabilization. For the month of December, 1978, a landlord may not charge a rent in excess of the base rent calculated pursuant to Section 5 of this ordinance for any regulated rental unit, except that a landlord may pass-through costs as allowed in subsections (d) and (e) of Section 6.

(b) One Year Property Tax Savings Rebate. For calendar year 1979, landlords may not charge a rent in excess of the Adjusted Base Rent calculated pursuant to Section 6 of this ordinance for any regulated rental unit.

Section 5. Establishment of Base Rent.

(a) Base Rent. A base rent shall be computed for each regulated rental unit. Except as provided in subsections (b) and (c) of this Section, the base rent for any regulated rental unit is the monthly rent in effect for that unit on June 6, 1978. If rent was not charged for any tenant-occupied unit on June 6, 1978, the base rent is the first month’s rent demanded and paid for that unit after June 6, 1978.

(b) Base Rent If Not Paid Monthly. If the terms of a lease regarding payment specify a fixed sum which is paid other than on a monthly basis, rent shall be averaged for the period June 1, 1978, through August 31, 1978, to establish the monthly base rent.

Section 6. Calculation of Adjusted Base Rent.

(a) Calculation of Adjusted Base Rent. The adjusted
CONTINUATION OF TEXT OF PROPOSITION U

base rent for any regulated rental unit is:

(i) the base rent as calculated under Section 5 of this ordinance minus
(ii) the unit's proportionate share of the property tax saving as described in subsection (c) of this Section plus
(iii) either a percentage adjustment for inflation or a cost pass-through for municipal taxes and fees, improvements, maintenance and repair as described in subsection (d) of this Section.

(b) Calculation of Property Tax Saving. When a landlord receives a property tax bill for tax year 1978-79, the landlord shall subtract the property tax owing in tax year 1978-79 from the tax owed in tax year 1977-78. If the amount of tax owed in tax year 1977-78 is smaller than or equal to the amount owing in tax year 1978-79, the property is exempt from this ordinance. If the amount of tax owed in tax year 1977-78 is greater than the amount owing in 1978-79 the difference is the property tax saving for the property.

(c) Calculation of Each Regulated Rental Unit’s Share of Property Tax Saving. Each regulated unit shall share in the property tax saving in a proportion which is equal to the ratio of the base rent for that unit to the sum of the base rents for all regulated units on the property. (For the purpose of calculating the total base rent for a property, a landlord may add to the total base rent for all tenant-occupied regulated rental units an estimated base rent for any manager- or owner-occupied unit, which represents the fair market rental value of the unit on June 6, 1978.) This saving is the unit’s property tax rebate.

(d) Inflation Cushion Or Cost Pass-Throughs. In order to allow landlords a just and reasonable return on their property, landlords may add to the difference between the base rent and the property tax rebate either: (1) in the months of January, April, July and October, 1979, a percentage rent adjustment for inflation which does not exceed the average percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index for Revised Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers in the San Francisco-Oakland Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area for the five bi-monthly reporting periods, multiplied by 1.5 or (2) a sum representing costs actually paid by the landlord after June 6, 1978, for:

(i) increases in county and municipal taxes and fees related to the operation of the regulated rental property;
(ii) increases in maintenance and operating expenses; and
(iii) improvements.

(e) Cost Pass-Through Pre-Rated. If a landlord passes through the costs of maintenance and operating expenses or improvements under subsection (d) of this section, the landlord may not pass through a monthly rent increase greater than an amount equal to the cost of the expense or improvement pro-rated over the reasonably expected life of the expense or improvement, not exceeding 20 years, and pro-rated for each rental unit benefited by the expense or improvement in a ratio equal to the regulated rental unit's share of the property tax saving as calculated pursuant to subsection (c) of this Section.

(f) Rounding Off. In order to simplify bookkeeping and according to this ordinance, the adjusted base rent for any unit as determined by this Section shall be rounded off to the nearest dollar amount.

Section 7. Disclosure Requirements.

(a) Disclosure Of Rent Calculations. On or before January 1, 1979, a landlord shall notify the tenant occupying a regulated rental unit of the property tax saving, the property tax rebate, and the adjusted base rent for each regulated rental unit as determined according to this ordinance. Such notice shall be substantially as follows:

"Notice of Total Rental Unit Property Tax Savings and Rent Reduction"

In accordance with the City and County of San Francisco Renters’ Property Tax Rebate Ordinance of 1978, this notice informs you of a required reduction in rent for the rental unit located at (address). The amount of rent reduction has been determined as follows: The total 1977-78 property tax which was due for the property which includes your rental unit was (amount) dollars. The total 1978-79 property tax due for this property is (amount) dollars. The difference, or total property tax savings for this property, reflecting the passage of Proposition 13 on June 6, 1978, amounts to (amount) dollars.

The total Base Rent for the property which includes your rental unit, as determined by rents in effect on June 6, 1978, is (amount) dollars. (If applicable: This total Base Rent includes an estimated Base Rent for manager- and/or owner-occupied units. This estimated Base Rent is: (amount).)

The Base Rent for your rental unit is (amount) dollars, which is equal to (number) percent of the total Base Rent for the Property. This percentage, multiplied by the total property tax relief for the year, is your property tax rebate for the year, of (amount) dollars.

Your adjusted monthly base rent, starting January 1, 1979, will be the base rent, (amount) minus your property tax rebate or (amount).

You may inspect the property tax bills for 1977-1978 and 1978-1979 and a list of rents for each unit on the property at (address) at the following times: (days and times), or by appointment (phone). Date:

(b) Disclosure of Increased Costs Resulting In Increased Rent. If, from December 1, 1978 through December 31, 1979, the landlord raises rent pursuant to the provisions of subsections (d) and (e) of Section 6 of this ordinance above the rent allowed by Section 4 of this ordinance, the landlord shall notify the tenant in writing of the nature and amount of expenses which justify the increase. The landlord shall also notify the tenant in writing of reasonable times and places when and where the tenant's representative may examine the books, records and receipts of the landlord documenting the cost increase.

(c) Notification To New Tenants. Landlords shall provide within 15 days of the commencement of occupancy all information listed in subsections (a) and (b) of this Section to any tenant who commences occupancy of any regulated rental unit after November 30, 1978 and before December 31, 1979.

Section 8. Evictions.
(a) Just Cause for Eviction. In order to insure that tenants of regulated units do not lose benefits guaranteed under this ordinance, no landlord shall be granted recovery of possession of a regulated rental unit for the duration of this ordinance unless:
(i) the tenant has failed to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled under the terms of this ordinance;
(ii) the tenant has violated an obligation or covenant of his or her tenancy other than the obligation to surrender possession upon proper notice and has failed to cure such violation after having received written notice thereof from the landlord;
(iii) the tenant is committing or expressly permitting to exist a nuisance in or is causing substantial damage to the regulated rental unit, or is creating a substantial interference with the comfort, safety or enjoyment of the landlord or other occupants of the property;
(iv) the tenant is convicted of using or expressly permitting a regulated rental unit to be used for any illegal purpose;
(v) the tenant, who has a rental agreement which has terminated, has refused, after written request or demand by the landlord, to execute a written extension or renewal of the agreement for a further term of the same duration and in such terms as are not inconsistent with or violate any provisions of this ordinance and are materially the same as in the previous agreement;
(vi) the tenant has refused the landlord reasonable access to the regulated rental unit for the purpose of making necessary repairs or improvements required by the laws of the United States, the State of California or any subdivision thereof, or for the purpose of inspection as permitted or required by the rental agreement or by law or for the purpose of showing the rental unit to any prospective purchaser or mortgagee;
(vii) the tenant holding at the end of the term of the rental agreement is a sub-tenant not approved by the landlord;
(viii) the landlord seeks to recover possession in good faith for use and occupancy of herself or himself, or her or his child, parent, brother, sister, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, or daughter-in-law; or
(ix) the landlord seeks to recover possession to demolish or otherwise remove the regulated rental unit from use after having obtained all proper permits from the City and County of San Francisco.
(b) Protection Against Retaliatory Eviction. It shall be a defense to any action to recover possession or be granted recovery of possession of a regulated rental unit that a motive for the eviction is in retaliation for the tenant's reporting violations of this ordinance, or for exercising rights granted under this ordinance, including the right to withhold rent granted under Section 10 of this ordinance.
(c) Eviction Defense. It shall be a defense to any action to recover possession or be granted recovery of possession of any regulated rental unit on the basis of non-payment or rent that a tenant in good faith withheld rental payments under subsections (a) and (b) of Section 10, so long as the tenant is willing to pay, and does pay, any withheld rent lawfully due under the provisions of this ordinance into court during the pendency of the action, unless relieved by court order.

Section 9. Non-Waiverability. Any provision in or pertaining to a rental agreement whereby any provision of this ordinance for the benefit of a landlord or tenant is waived is against public policy and void.

Section 10. Tenant's Civil Remedies.
(a) Remedies For Unlawful Rent Increases. If a landlord demands, accepts, receives or retains any payment in excess of the maximum lawful rent permitted by this ordinance, a tenant may:
(i) upon written notification to the landlord, withhold one-quarter of the rental payments set forth in the rental agreement in effect at the time the demand for additional rent is made. After the landlord receives such notice, and in conjunction with the filing of an action by the landlord for non-payment of rent under California Civil Code Section 1161 et seq., the landlord may request, and the court may order, the tenant to deposit the withheld rent with the court, to be held until the resolution of the action;
(ii) recover from the landlord damages plus reasonable attorney's fees and costs as determined by the court. The court may award damages in an amount up to three times the amount by which the payment of payments demanded or received exceed the maximum lawful rent under this ordinance;
(iii) seek injunctive relief for the enforcement of this ordinance.
(b) Remedies For Landlord's Failure To Notify Tenant As Required Under Section 7 Of This Ordinance. If a landlord fails to give notice to a tenant as required in Section 7 of this ordinance, a tenant may exercise the rights granted under subsections (a)(i) and (a)(iii) of this Section, in addition to any other remedies afforded by law or otherwise.

Section 11. Criminal Penalties. Any landlord who is found guilty of a willful violation of this ordinance shall be subject to up to a five hundred dollar ($500) fine for a first offense and up to a three thousand dollar ($3000) fine for any subsequent offenses.

Section 12. Partial Invalidity and Effective Date.
(a) Partial Invalidity. If any provision of this ordinance or application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, this invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this ordinance which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this ordinance are declared to be severable. This ordinance shall be liberally construed to achieve the purposes of this ordinance and to preserve its validity.
(b) Effective Date. This ordinance shall take effect immediately and shall expire on December 31, 1979. If for any reason implementation of this ordinance is postponed, the rent rebates due to tenants shall be paid retroactively in a lump sum for all months during which the operation of the ordinance has been stayed. The landlord shall pay retroactive rent rebates within 30 days to all tenants who can establish their right to such payment and make demand for such payment. The landlord shall pay interest at the legal rate on all sums owed retroactively.

Section 13. Non-Repealability. This ordinance may not be amended or repealed except by a vote of the people.
